Dear Molly:

I have a horrid feeling that the lovely handkerchiefs were acknowledged -- probably by Louis Howe! I just want you to know that I always appreciate handkerchiefs and yours are particularly nice ones. Thanks

March 1, 1933

Dear Mr. President:

Long before the election last fall, I made a promise by myself. Namely, that in case you will be elected, I shall do something for you.

I am just a plain working woman, one of the millions, one who does not talk much about politics, neither does she belong to any of the prominent women's organizations. But my inner conviction is, that you will be one of the greatest leaders, in this greatest country of all.

Only one single word is decorating my little work, and this is the sigh of our present time. The letters of this word make an incomplete impression, but our hope is, that you will be able to complete this word for us, to realize this distant sigh and faraway dream of the millions, "Prosperity."

Today millions of my fellow laborers will join me in the silent prayer, that God might bless you, and strengthen you in the enormous task in the coming years.

Respectfully yours

Letter of Blessing to the Honorable President of the United States
Hon Franklin D Roosevelt

Before actually penning this blessing the emotions therein were carefully meditated upon so that all so vitally felt will be expressed concisely and accurately

My heart and thoughts are deeply filled with prayer that I cannot refrain from putting them in writing and only beg of the Almighty that He heed these sincere most earnest beseechings

May the Almighty Father fatten thy fields and may He prolong thy years for veritably thou art a prince of God among us, and may He heed thy blessings on those who appear before thee

Here I pause and recollect that I have taken upon myself a privilege not granted, a liberty to address one so highly exalted at this vital hour that I become filled with awe and esteem, for after all who am I to take upon myself this honor of addressing you

I have so been prompted, not because this prayer is individual, but because it embodies the hopes of all Jews We, Jews, have respected all presidents of these great United States and while I have sent a similar message to the late great Democratic president Woodrow Wilson, we wish to make this special prayer to God Almighty for the successful administration of one of our greatest sons, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, that he be blessed with health and determination to lead us out of these depressive times into the greatest prosperity this country has even known

A SONG FOR REPEAL

Our President-elect's manifesto you know too well,
The happiness of us New Yorkers is more than words can tell.

Quite possible it is that Prosperity will reign
once again
With wines and beer with us: no cause there will be to complain.

Without wines and beer for so many years! Yet we missed them greatly,
Our Port and Lager we did without, with upright heads and sedately!
And who could venture such highly expensive drinks
to imbibe?
Them to obtain is so difficult to describe!

But now, there is no real cause for sorrow,
Our deliverance is so near, as though it were to come tomorrow!
Formerly all were sure to carry, concealed, a flask
But soon! Our drinks shall flow as from a cask!

All wines and beer shall be drunk so freely
For our liberty once again we shall treasure so dearly.

Our happiness is so great beyond compare,
Great hopes we have already, so why despair?
A truly honest God-send it is for young and old
So precious is it: it is worth its weight in gold,

Beverages to get, all with hope greatly tried
But of no avail! for it was always denied,
And now our President-elect their wish will fulfill,
And Congress shall say, "Drink all you can and will"!

Now let us all drink to Roosevelt's good health
For his manifesto from heaven did come! such wealth!
We, Jews, shall certainly send him our blessings!
Great may his success be! And all his undertakings!

May all his actions prove for us a boon,
So that peace and good-will may be with us, really soon.

AMEN,

Jacob Gerstein

Sir:-

Pardon my insistence; but the last section (Loose Ends Bound) of "Continuous Prosperity", a copy of which I am sending you, may be helpful in the present emergency.

Closed banks; non-redemption; embargo; searching for gold with flash-lights; dictatorial power: these are fine if they are leading to devaluation.

But God help us if they are looking to the restoration of the gold standard. Gold standard practices froze the banks and will keep them frozen indefinitely. And modern banks are the source of modern progress. They should be carefully fostered and developed, not sterilized.

Books
A cow kicked over a lantern and burned Chicago: a governor to save one bank, closed every bank in the nation.

March 14, 1933

To His Excellency
The President of the United States,
Washington, D.C.

My Dear Mr. President:

Some time before Christmas I asked a relative of mine in Greece to provide me with a wreath made of Amaranth flowers. The Amaranth flower was once considered the imaginary flower of the poets because of its rarity. It grows, however, on a certain inaccessible mountain of "Sunny" Greece.

It was my original intention to present it to you upon your inauguration. Since it arrived late I am mailing it to-day with the sincere hope that both you and your lady will like it.

In sending it to you, may I predict that the perpetual fragrance of its flowers and their unfading color will be significant of the eternity through which your fame will travel. In that world history in which your achievements will be written in golden letters, each page will add honor to your illustrious name.

Circumstances have provided you, Mr. President, with a terrific task, but I prophesy that the place made for you beside the other great ones who have loved their country better than themselves, will be worth all the toil you now put into solving our national problems.

With sincerest good wishes for a gloriously successful administration I am,

Venerably yours,

P. N. Gatsos M.D.

My dear Mr. Howe:

I acknowledge with thanks, your letter of January 23, wherein you extend appreciation on behalf of Governor Roosevelt for the gavel received from me.

Undoubtedly there has been some misunderstanding regarding this matter. I wrote the Governor some time prior to receiving your letter, that I was making a gavel for him, but it has not been delivered as yet.

This gavel is now ready to be forwarded and I would appreciate your advising me relative to shipping directions. The gavel is made of wood from the old Tontine Hotel that formerly stood where the New Haven Post Office Building now stands. The gavel is provided with a mahogany case and the plate on the head of the gavel is of historic origin, appropriately engraved.

Thanking you for your kind attention and awaiting the pleasure of your reply by return mail, as I desire to forward this gift by March first.

Very truly yours,

Charles E. Griffiths.

Gavel of Confidence

For the Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States.

The wood in this gavel is American walnut, taken from the old Tontine Hotel that formerly stood where the United States Post Office Building now stands in New Haven, Connecticut.

The plate on the gavel is of metal that was part of a turbine taken from the U.S.S. Maine which was destroyed in Havana Harbor.

This gavel, made by Charles E. Griffiths of New Haven, Connecticut is his gift to the President of the United States, as a token of confidence and admiration for his unfaltering faith and courage in the great cause of American Democracy.

April 14, 1933.

This will acknowledge the receipt of your letter of March twenty-first. The gavel you mention has now come to hand and the President has asked me to assure you of his grateful appreciation of the kindly thought which prompted you to send it to him.

To The Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt,
President of the United States
Washington, D.C.

My Dear Mr. President:

My dear Mr. Giglio: It affords me a great pleasure to ask you to accept a piece of my work.

The President has received your letter of March eighteenth and asks me to thank you heartily for your courtesy in sending him the profile likeness of himself, a product of your own handiwork. He is pleased to accept it and deeply appreciates the sentiment which prompted your writing him in this way.

Sincerely yours,

Very truly yours,
Peter C. Giglio,

My Dear Mr. President;

It affords me a great amount of pleasure in asking you to accept a piece of my hand-craft, that of a profile likeness of your honored self.

May you find a space somewhere in your abode, where it might be placed, and please accept with the compliments of its maker.

I voice the sentiments of a very large number of the Torrington electorate, in acclaiming the success you have already attained in your high office, and it is the prayer of all, that your ideas shall prevail and advance, and that your health shall remain equal to your great task.

With kind and sincere regards, believe me
to remain,

Very truly yours,

Peter C. Giglio

Mr. Lewis McH. Howe,
The White House,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. Howe:

Thanks for your courteous note about my telegram of the 16th to the President.

I am sending you under separate cover a copy of Harpers Magazine for April and am going to beg you to bring to Mr. Roosevelt's attention, when he has a moment's leisure, Frank Simonds' leading article. Mr. Simonds' knowledge of European affairs is possibly greater than that of any other American, so that I think his remarks on foreign policies of the United States extremely interesting and I am sure they will interest Mr. Roosevelt, should he have the leisure to read them.

I recently spent a year in Central Europe and made contacts with men in authority there and I think Mr. Simonds' statements are true.

Please present my warm regards to the President.

Very sincerely yours,

Alfred Granger

My dear President Roosevelt,

I am taking the liberty of writing you in reference to the Lucky Rabbits foot charm which I had the pleasure of sending you thru Governor A. Harry Moore.

I hope you liked the little token of good luck as it carries every sincere wish for a happy and successful administration,
