Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

If one man can love another, then my love for you must be genuine, for I feel that way about you, I admire you very much and to show it in a small way, I wish to present to you a token, in person, This token is a copy of the Blue Eagle, flanked by our flag and shield and named "Guardian"

This work is done in Indian arrows, on a nice framed wall board approximately three and half by two feet, nicely painted and is highly prized by me. People from all parts of the country have come here to see my work and all of them pick the NRA as one of my best.

I tell everyone that sees it that it is the only eagle that has never been 'killed' and I do not fear the Supreme Court. It is made of material hewn out by the first people of our country and they made a living with it so why can't we.

I am agent for the Seaboard Air Line here and have spent my spare time in the last fifteen years collecting Indian lore along the banks of the Catawba. I have one of the best collections in the state and am the only person that mounts my artifacts in the manner used. Some of my work is now being shown in the Library of a nearby city.

Will you make it possible for me to realize one of my ambitions, that is, meet and shake your hand and present you the only piece of work of its kind.

I would like to drive the 250 miles to Warm Springs, arrive early Sunday morning March 20th. leave immediately and be back for my work Monday morning.

Will you grant me this privilege and honor, if so, what hour?

All power and success to you in your fight for a Supreme Court to represent the people.

Devotedly yours, ~~one of the common people,~~

C.E. Gatlin.

Dear Mr. President:

At the suggestion of Father Neville, our Altamont Priest, I am sending you a copy of my book "Old Hellebergh", with the hope that a glance at a chapter here and there may bring back memories of the days you used to wipe away care and gain new strength by a drive over this same "bright mountain".

May I call particular attention to page fifty-four where the "Flagler" letter I sent you several years ago is reprinted.

Perhaps, too, page one hundred thirty-nine will be of interest - the record of a little Dutch church in the wilderness of West Manor contributing a special collection to help ransom United States citizens held in bondage by the Barbary Pirates.

Miss Margaret Lehand,
Secretary to His Excellency
President Roosevelt,

Warm Springs, Ga.

Dear Miss Lehand:-

Please pardon our apparent imprudence in addressing these writings to you, but because of the fact of its importance in moments of chaos and which seem apparent by the attitude taken by Labor, and your unquestionable understanding of the contents and circumstances, we have decided that the best course to pursue, so that Our President would personally become in possession of the enclosed booklet, was to address it to you.

We have previously endeavored to deliver one to him at Washington, and after two or three days stay for that purpose and with the same hope, we were unable to accomplish it and was told to mail him a copy.

Although we have received an acknowledgment from the Labor department, the intention was that of secrecy in its delivery to Our President, and than leave it with his own direction.

It is needless to mention that the contents of the enclosed booklet, no matter how important, is too much to present to him for reading and perusal, especially while he is on his vacation, and under these views we do know that you may kindly be the one to go over it, criticize its principles and use your own discretion, because we know faithfully that it will be useful in your care.

With Sincere Good wishes,

Very truly yours,

Dear Mister President:

Thanks for

With many millions of grateful Americans, I have for years entertained a desire to show my appreciation in some material way for all you have done and are endeavoring to do for your countrymen.

Having a little natural artistic talent, I decided to find a picture which I felt was a true likeness and do it on black paper with white ink and send it to you. This picture, which represents approximately one hundred hours that my wife and daughter were (picture) widow and orphan, ha! ha! is on its way by Parcel Post to you.

The many millions of little white dots which went into the making do not equal in numbers the many millions of us who, in one form or another wish you a daily "God bless you, Mr. President".

There are of course no strings with this little gift. You may wish to give it to someone, or keep it yourself, or destroy it. My pleasure was in the making and giving.

Yours very sincerely

DEAR PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT,

You may never read what I am writing and sending you but they are sent as tokens of assurance that millions are praying for you that you may indeed prove to be "the anointed of GOD" to lead this Nation onward and upward.

The inclosed is a copy of a letter which I sent to every Member of Congress from Michigan. The sending of this letter may not mean much one way or another but it was the "mite" that I could do and I feel strongly the urge to do something.

"Right is Might" when GOD is directing.

Most sincerely,

Dear Sir;

The only criticism I have for the President's judicial policy is that it is not drastic enough and does not strike at the root of the evil. This can only be done by a fearless Constitutional Amendment. But as an emergency measure, to enable the President within the next three years to carry out the mandate voted him by the people last November, I heartily endorse his plan and trust that Congress will get behind the President and back him up in his courageous fight for the uplift of the "under privileged".

But I do not endorse the measure which allows the judges (at their option) to retire on full pay, unless this privilege is granted to every citizen in the United States. Many of them would need this provision far more than the judges who have been years on high salaries. A worker finds it hard to secure a job after forty no matter what family obligations he has to meet. Such favoritism to judges is a farce on our sense of JUSTICE.

If there must be a "dictator" (?) in this Democracy let us have one that is elected by the people and who can be deposed by the people, rather than "nine old men" whom the people have had no voice in choosing and with no power to remove. It is high time that the people awake from their hypnotic sleep and cast off their real "dictator" by constitutional amendment that will strip the courts of their assumed power to dictate to the will of the people. The opposition prates about "packing" the courts when they know that they are already "packed" against the well-fare of LABOR, WOMAN, and CHILDREN as every court decision proves. They really mean that they do not want the "packing" changed. It is the nature of "appointed courts" to be packed and if the packing is left unchanged it often becomes so rotten that it "smells to high heaven" as in the present case.

How preposterous it is for a DEMOCRACY (?) to arrange to have a few men selected without the consent of the people, dress them up in black robes and ermine, place them in a vast marble nich and say to the people: "The words of these men are infalable and they can interpret the CONSTITUTION better than any other citizen of the UNITED STATES". We all know that they are human "all too human" and their exalted isolation unfits them to interpret a living CONSTITUTION for our nation even more than a common citizen who has "caught the vision" of unselfish service. These judges do not pretend to go to the CONSTITUTION for their authority but they "mess around" in the maze of past decisions and while doing so spin another web to better hold this "fluttering Democracy".

There is proof in historical files that the Supreme Court was the "joker" or "monkey wrench" which the adverse forces threw into the machinery of the New Republic in the hope of wrecking it in the future and this has been near-accomplished several times. (The Dred Scott Decision for instance.) If the "web" continues to grow and strengthen the job of destruction will finally be accomplished. But the people are beginning to "rub their eyes."

Most sincerely,

M. Alice Gordon.

My dear Mr. President:

I am sending under separate cover the volume just from the press, published by the State of North Carolina, containing my papers and letters while Governor of North Carolina.

I know you have the time to give but ~~scant~~ ^{scant} attention to the contents of this book, but as it deals contemporaneously with your four years in the Governor's office I know you will be interested in this period.

I respectfully request that you turn to page 622 and read the letter addressed to you on July 22, 1932 in which I undertake to deal with the issues of the campaign and make reference to the fact that we are in the day of a new deal and that many of our preconceived ideas and formulas are going to be thrown into discard as we try to solve and give outlet to the pent-up emotions of mankind everywhere. I was rather pleased when I read this sentence in my letter to you: "The campfires of the past are being abandoned and the frontiers of thinking have extended beyond the limits heretofore held sacred by the conservative minds of this country".

I would also like for you to read on page 469 the paragraph dealing with the Pharisees.

If you have time I would appreciate your perusal of the interpretation of my administration and its philosophy by Allen Jay Maxwell.

I am going to speak Thursday, March 26, before the South Carolina Bar Association in Columbia and have selected as my subject "Trends in the Reorganization of State Government". In this speech I am going to enlarge upon the basic reason underlying the determination of the American people to find a way to break through the fetters of constitutional limitation upon the products of agriculture, mines and manufacture.

In 1930, as Governor of North Carolina, I called a conference of the Governors of the Southeastern States to meet with me in Asheville for the purpose of discussing uniform regional legislation for this area. My object was to see if

*ackd
4/2/37
O.S.*

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt - 2

March 19, 1937

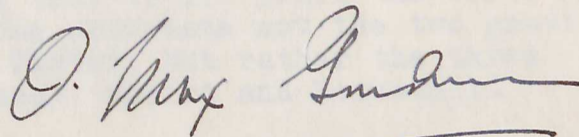

we could not come to some agreement dealing with hours of labor, and with the work of women and children involving maximum hours and minimum wages. Everyone present agreed that this was most desirable as the laws of each state on these subjects were diverse, competitive and highly conflicting. At that time and at the present time the State of Georgia had no statute limiting the hours of labor in industry. Alabama in its bid for new industry offered cheap labor and a sixty-six hour week, South Carolina had a fifty-five hour week, and North Carolina a fifty-five hour week. There was no uniformity anywhere.

My conference in Asheville, with all of its firm resolves, completely collapsed when the Governors returned to their states and came in conflict with the selfish interests who would yield nothing to uniformity or regional welfare. I made up my mind at that time that we would never be able to secure imperative reforms until we equipped the national government with the initiative and the authority to police our poverty and subordinate our selfish instincts.

I had no idea of lapsing into this philosophy and I beg your pardon for the transgression.

With every good wish, believe me

Sincerely yours,

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt

Dear Mr. President:

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I send you this portrate of Moses, Christ and yourself.

I have put you in the same category with Moses and Christ because both of these characters were not only the greatest men of their ages, but they were also saviors and benefactors of their people.

Previous to 1932, these two great men were the only ones of their kind. However, the overwhelming vote by which you were reelected to the highest post in the land, and the great things that you have already accomplished for us gave me the thought that the American people now in the twentieth century have recognized the fact that they are now being guided by a hand as mighty and honest as the hand of either Moses or Christ; namley the modern Messiah-- Franklin D. Roosevelt.

For centuries the great names of Moses and Christ have lived on, and I am positive that after your span of a long life of 120 years the world will for centuries to come associate not the two great names of Moses and Christ, but rather the three greater names of Moses, Christ and Roosevelt.

Yours very truly,

Dear President Roosevelt:

With this I send you a copy of a work I feel you will find a source of interest and value. It is John E. Dalton's recent case history and study of Government control in industry titled "Sugar", just published. Dalton, you will recall was head of the Sugar Section of the Dept. of Agriculture, recently resigned to head up the Statistical and Research Division of the United States Cane Sugar Refiners Association of which Ellsworth Bunker is the Chairman. The basic material was written and compiled while Dalton was on the faculty of the Harvard School of Business and with the Department of Agriculture and not as propaganda for the Refiners.

Inasmuch as I too, as you know, represent the Refiner's position professionally my recommendation might not appear to be too unbiased or objective therefore I take extreme pleasure in quoting a recent unsolicited letter from Charles A. Beard: "Thanks for Dalton's book. I read every line of it at once, with genuine pleasure, and added several inches to my mental stature. You may quote me as saying: 'Mr. Dalton's book is a real contribution to our knowledge of contemporary economy and is, in my opinion, worth a ton of books on economic theory and political philosophy.' "

With kindest regards to yourself and Mrs. Roosevelt,

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. President:

Will you please accept this homely book with the compliments of the writer, who is an ardent admirer (with occasional fleeting moments of disagreement) of your brilliant, dynamic and outstandingly successful career.

This private edition of "Success Book" was issued among friends and business acquaintances of the writer, as a good-will gesture at Christmas time.

But the response of readers has been so enthusiastic, and requests for the book so numerous, (to my own surprise and amazement) I have decided to revise and reprint it.

I hope you will not consider me presumptuous, Mr. President, but it occurs to me that the book would not be complete without one of your own favorite maxims or success brevities. If you will send one to me, I will be humbly grateful, and would deem it a great honor and a rare privilege to print it.

Sincerely,

The President,

MEMO TO ALL NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENTS

PPF

7-5/8/37

THE citizens of Galveston, Texas will present to Roosevelt, Monday, beautiful hand painted oil picture of the "Franklin Delano Roosevelt Oleander".

This oleander, the 31st variety which has been found here, has been named in honor of the President's vacation visit to the Oleander City.

The 1937 Oleander Festival will be held in Galveston on May 21, 22 and 23. It is planned that the reigning queen, Miss Kalita Humphreys, a debutante of this year and a Vassar graduate, will make the presentation. Miss Margaret Harris, Junior Queen, will present to the president a huge basket of oleanders containing all 31 varieties, the President Roosevelt to be placed in the center.

The portrait is being painted by Mrs. E. Richardson Cherry, of Houston, she is one of the foremost portrait and flower artist in the South. The inscription on the picture will read:

"The Franklin Delano Roosevelt oleander. To our president-in appreciation from the citizens of the Oleander City (Galveston, Texas, May, 1937)."

The painting will have several types of oleanders in it with the beautiful colored Franklin Delano Roosevelt oleander above all of them.

Mrs. Cherry is well known in Texas. She has pictures hanging in the ~~the~~ Texas art museums as well as Denver and in New York. When the problem of finding an artist to paint the president's oleander came up, her name was the first to be recommended.

Picture now being done at the home of Mrs. Fred M. Burton, ~~323~~ 323 Avenue I. This Thursday at 2 p.m. we are to take pictures of the queens that the government belonged to the people, and if it did not suit them, they had a right to change it.

Dear Mr. Roosevelt,
I'm sending just a little token of appreciation for all the good things I know you are doing for our country. The little gift enclosed within is some of my own handwork made especially for you. You will also find a poem which I wrote just to open the eyes of those who find fault. I hope that these two gifts may help you to know how much I appreciate the kind things you are doing in order to make our America a real success once again. I read in the papers every day articles on some good turn you have proposed. I know that our homes would have been ruins had you not put out your good hand and helped the needy, who now look upon you as a gallant leader. I am only a little girl of seventeen, surrounded by music and interest in the out-door world, but I realize that the conditions around me are far better than they were five years ago.

I shall never forget the day you passed through our town, a pleasant smile lighting up your face, and your hat waving a greeting to all who stood watching. You are the only president I have ever seen, and I think I am very fortunate to see just the one I longed to see.

Three students from my school were among the ones who won the trips to Washington D. C. through writing prize essays. I thought it was wonderful.

My father is a real true cowpuncher from the Rocky mountains of Colorado and I am sure he would immensely enjoy a long talk with you.

over the radio, but a real cowboy. When Theodore Roosevelt went to Colorado on a lion hunt, "Daddy" was employed on the ranch where the President stayed. They had one grand talk which "Daddy" never forgot, for it was like an old friends' reunion. I hope to visit Washington some time, but as I cannot now, I would treasure nothing more than an answer to this letter in your own handwriting & would keep it all my life. May your "reign" be long and successful.

I am forever your admirer and true friend,

Lest They Forget.

*He stood by us thro' all the storms
Of staring poverty,
And helped the poor redeem their homes
So starvation could not be.*

*Some gabbled, some crabbled and other growled
About the president,
And many made an awful fuss
About the money spent.*

*But after all, I wonder what
A flop this country'd be,
If in the whole United States
There weren't such men as he?*

*If some old codgers got his way,
He'd sure have one hard time
A' fixing up this jobless land
With just his one thin dime.*

*Like they wanted Roosevelt to do
With his own pocket money,
And because he had to use some more
They thought strange or funny.*

*Ask me, - I'll stay by Roosevelt
Like he has stayed by me,
And his few faults I'll overlook
And his good instead I'll see.*

My dear Colonel:

I explained to Mr. Kannee on the telephone that one of my old friends and a great admirer of the President had sent us by prepaid express a bushel of beautiful Baldwin County, Alabama potatoes, to be delivered to the White House. I suggested to Mr. Kannee that the President write a letter, or if that is not possible, that you write a letter, thanking our friend for this little present, at the same time mentioning the two presents which were sent up to the President from Mobile over a year ago, which I don't believe were ever acknowledged.

Mr. Kannee suggested that I advise you the kind of letter I would like to have written. This of course I am glad to do. I would like to have something along the following lines.

"Mr. D. Z. Grove
R. F. D. #1
Summerdale, Alabama

Dear Mr. Grove:

"Our mutual friend, Congressman Frank Boykin, has just delivered the bushel of beautiful Baldwin County, Alabama potatoes to the White House, and I want you and your friend Mr. W. T. Myrick, who I understand raised these potatoes, to know how very much we appreciate not only the gift, but the thought which prompted their being sent.

"Last year Congressman Boykin delivered us a 14-point white-tailed Alabama buck which Governor Bibb Graves killed on the Boykin game preserve on the Tombigbee River at McIntosh, Alabama. At the same time he also sent us a beautiful wild turkey gobbler, with a ten-inch beard, which he had himself killed at the same place and on the same day that Governor Graves killed the buck. So you see I already know of some of the wonderful things which you grow in your great State.

Hon. Marvin H. McIntyre

"I had suggested that we might stop over on our recent visit and fishing trip in Texas for a day at Mobile, to try out luck at fishing, but we were advised by Congressman Boykin that this was not the proper season for good fishing there. I am still looking forward to being in Alabama at some future time.

Cordially yours,

Franklin D. Roosevelt -- or Marvin H. McIntyre"

I would appreciate your sending me a copy of whatever you write to Mr. Grove, as I want to send copies to Governor Graves and several of the other fine gentlemen who were with us on this hunting trip at the time the Governor killed the big buck. On the two-day hunt at our game preserve at McIntosh we killed 22 deer and 19 turkeys. This is the spot I have always begged you to come to when you really wanted to rest. You have a standing invitation, you know.

With kindest regards, I am

Sincerely your friend
