Dear Mr. President:

Under separate cover we are sending with our complements an old Indian relic which we feel would be a most interesting addition to your collection of Americana in Hyde Park.

We picked up this relic from an old Indian Gentleman in East Dennis, Mass. It is an ancient tribal piece which was used by the tribe Medicine Man for extracting teeth.

We hope this tooth extractor will find a place among the many fine pieces you already have.

MEMORANDUM

April 8, 1941.

PULVERMACHER, O. J.
The Daily Telegraph and Morning Post,
135 Fleet St.,
London, England.
11/22/40.

Wrote to the President sending him a little guide book to Washington, published in the capital in 1826, states that the President has never heard of him, but can find out about him from Denys Smith, if at all interested. Letter and guide referred to the State Dept. 12/20/40. 5/21/41 Mr. Summerlin sent memo to Miss LeHand returning the ltr. from Mr. Pulvermacher, together with guide, states he has checked with Mr. Denys Smith, Washington correspondent of the Daily Telegraph and he says Mr. Pulvermacher is very responsible person whom he knows very well and is in charge of Manchester edition of the Daily Telegraph; since there would appear to be no reason why the President should not accept this interesting volume, the American Amb. at London has been requested to thank Mr. Pulvermacher. -- 4/5/41 the President sent memo to Mr. Early asking him to thank him. 4/8/41. THE WHITE HOUSE

Dear Mr President: APR 11 11 24 AM '41

May I write to say my warmest thanks for the forty-five minutes you were good enough to give me last Monday. The talk I was privileged to have with you made a perfect climax to my long trip through the American republics. I am infinitely glad that you found time to receive me, and thank you very much.

I am sending you today copies of my "Inside Europe" and "Inside Asia" with a little inscription describing my emotions on being "inside" the White House. When the Latin American book is ready, some time in late summer or autumn, it will follow, of course.

With deepest homage and admiration, I beg to remain,

Dear Mr. President:

Here is a book right down your alley.

It puts into type and pictures the old American Spirit in about as clear and convincing a way as you could find in a day's journey. And in the modern style...no time lost on phrases.

I got interested in the book by having it introduced to me by Frank Buchman, the Oxford Group leader...Moral Re-Armament, you know. It appealed to me as something to be boosted, talked about, distributed. Hence I am doing my part. I've spoken of it on the air; sent copies to leaders and have tried to help work out a way to get it into the hands of EVERYBODY...Millions of them.

As far as I know, this is a purely patriotic move; no profit; no high priced press agents; and so I leave a copy with you.

From your friend,

Earl Godwin

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT
May 13, 1941

Gen. Watson wrote memo to the effect that Congressman John W. McCormack said that the Catholic Church has just completed the first revision of the Bible in 191 years. Father Graham of New York was one of the commission to revise it. He wants to come down from New York and present the President with the first copy of the revised Bible and the second copy to the Apostolic Delegate. Asks if the President would receive this Bible on Thursday or Friday.

Dear Mr. President:

I am taking the liberty of sending you under separate cover a picture of Miss Gladys Smith of our school. ||

Miss Smith is nineteen years of age and has been a victim of Infantile Paralysis since about the age of six. She is now completing a course in Trade Dressmaking.
Gladys is one of the most cheerful and likeable girls in the school in spite of her great handicap.

It has occurred to me that you might like to have a picture of this courageous young sufferer and that she would appreciate an acknowledgment and a word of encouragement from yourself. Miss Smith's address is 446 Willard Ave., Toronto, Ontario.

Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

It is a sure sign that there is still some hope left for this bewildered world when the inspiration to write poetry can still be found alive.

Under separate cover I have sent you a complimentary copy of "FACE TO THE WIND" - in which I have attempted to express some of the common idioms of thought in America and the rest of the civilized world.

Of course, there are other, lighter themes, in this little but compact volume.

At any rate, I do hope you find many minutes of real enjoyment in the forty pages!

With kindest regards and best wishes for your continued good health, I remain,

Sincerely and respectfully yours,

Dear Sir:-

We take pleasure in sending you, under separate cover, a copy of DEATH AND TAXES, a new mystery story by David Dodge of San Francisco. We hope it will interest and entertain you. Time magazine called it "the find of the month."

Very truly yours,

Leslie Grinnell
