My dear Mr. Hunter:

The President has received your letter of August twenty-eighth and read it with interest. He requests me to convey to you his hearty appreciation of your courtesy in sending him the water-melon which you say was grown on the farm that belonged to the first Governor of Tennessee. The melon arrived in fine condition and you may be sure it has been greatly enjoyed by the President and his family.

Very sincerely yours,

M. A. LeHand,

President Franklin D. Roosevelt,
Hyde Park, New York

My Dear President:

I have before me communication from your Secretary dated August 24th, saying that you will remain in Hyde Park until the first day of September. If you will wire me upon receipt of this note, I shall send you the melon to Hyde Park or at the White House I will be glad to carry out your wishes.

May I say that this melon grew on the farm that belonged to John Sevier, the first Governor of Tennessee, when it was the State of Franklin. Of course you know the history without me telling you.

With regards, I am

Dear Mr President

Please accept this gift from one sailor to another. I having served as an Ensign on the U.S.S. Frederick during the World war. Knowing you expect to go on a cruise shortly I thought this might be usefull. If so and your son who I know generally cruises with you, should want one I will gladly send one to him.

Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt

Dear Mr. President:

Under separate cover I am mailing to you with my best wishes two sets of N.R.A. plates designed for motor car display. The mounted one is attached to the rear license plate; the round one can be either wired to the radiator or bolted at either corner of the front license plate.

I am also mailing a set of plates to General Hugh S. Johnson, quoting my selling price.

The idea of using the N.R.A. insignia in this way, affording as it does another durable and attractive way of keeping "N.R.A." before the public, originated with my wife. I promptly got in touch with a manufacturer who specializes in this type of work with the result as shown.

The success of the idea means everything to me. Circumstances over which I had no control resulted in my losing every dollar I possessed. I have been out of work for a year but still have my wife, four sons and a daughter so after all I am rich. Thank God for you and your reconstructive policies.

If I but knew that you and Mrs. Roosevelt would attach these plates I would be exceedingly happy.

Most cordially,

C. B. Hill

President Roosevelt,
White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

I am sending you under separate cover a complimentary copy of my recent book, entitled: "The Struggle for Democracy or the Fight for Right", also pamphlet, entitled: "Original Sin or the Doctrine of the Fall of Man, refuted."

I take it for granted that you are aware of the fact that under Christendom the whole social fabric, political, religious and moral is founded upon Jewish Monotheism. This I do not hesitate to say, is the foulest and most inconsistent doctrine ever perpetrated upon the human mind. It only gives a tentative solution to two great questions, namely: Origin and Destiny.

All ancient peoples (with the exception of the Jews and Mohammedians) had a Trinity in their Theology this made me study the Trinity. I now want to go on record as saying the Drama between Might and Right is a handicap race between the Physical and the Intellectual sides of a Triune God. The outcome is EQUATION, by changing the stage from Monotheism to Pantheism. The Doctrine that has for its tenet the intellectual conquest of the world so as to make it a fit place to live in.

In changing the subject, I will take it upon myself to say: You are blazing the trail for the Pantheistic Road with your governing programme. Man, whether civilized or savage, is only governed by but two strings, one is Mandate the other is Law. In an ideal state these strings must be equally adjusted, if they are to hold Justice in the Balance.

In your Home Owners' Loan plan, however there is an awful kink, which must be ironed out before this theory can become an operative utility, in the fact that the Government of the United States does not stabilize the Home Loan Bonds by guaranteeing the payment of the principal at maturity. Why not, is there a safer security than Real Estate, when the lender gets a first Mortgage, a Bond which is a first cousin to a Judgement Note, and the Fire Insurance Policy?

I am personally interested in this part of the so-called new deal; I have made application toward refunding my property, but the hitch lies in finding the investor in Bonds which are not bona-fide.

In the last few years three Banks failed here in Allentown, the Ridge Avenue Bank, the Jordan Bank and the Allentown Trust Company. Four more merged with the older Banks; the Citizens with the Merchants National, the Penn Counties with the Allentown National, the Dime Savings with the Lehigh Valley Trust Co., and the Liberty Trust with Second National.

What has happened in Allentown to Banks and Finances in the last few years, transpired all over the United States in the same period of time. This is one reason why, money (which is not lost through funny finance and wild-cat speculations) is tied up in safe deposit boxes, and other places, the other reason is, no safe investment in the money market, at the present time.

According, to a recent report in the daily paper, 700 applications (for refunding homes) have already been filed in the Home Loan Office in Allentown, and not one has been consummated thus far.

I am quite sure that the Home Loan Bonds will work miracles in restoring confidence in the financial world by bringing money automatically into circulation again, if they carry with them a redemption clause; for the Federal Government, by throwing a blanket over all encumbrances on a home, by wiping out first and second Mortgages, and delinquent Taxes, removes the risk of second Mortgage money, which, aside from the Home Loan Plan would be the only factor that would save from fore-closure an encumbered home. Second Mortgage money is not in the financial market at the present time, but the Home Loan Bond will once more bring it to the fore, by placing it on a par with the first, providing the Bond is stable and negotiable.

In order to catch fish one must have a rod, line and hook, this is Law, and of course bait or lure, which belongs to the Mandatory side of fishing. In your Home Loan Bonds, the issue comes by Law, but Mandate must come from a free and untrammelled Will, and this will not come as long as the Security hovers between an asset and a liability; the land sharks simply will not bite on such bait.

In conclusion, let me say, here and now: Your Home Loan Plan is a marvel, FOR GOOD INTENT, but there is one kink in the construction, WHICH IS AN AWFUL HANDICAP! namely: No guarantee for the Principal, the rectification of this fault, will be the TRIUMPH OF TRUTH OVER ERROR.

There never, (since its inception) was a more opportune time, for the Democratic Party to vindicate itself of the malicious diatribe, hurled from time to time from the Republican Ranks, viz: "Not able to govern", than now. This can not be accomplished through chicanery and subterfuge, which would be adding HANDICAP TO HANDICAP, (the first and last CAUSE OF THIS INFERNAL PANIC) but through open warfare on all UNTENABLE THEORIES. So in the name of the ETERNAL, guarantee the PRINCIPAL ON THE HOME LOAN BONDS, THEREBY MAKING THEM BONA-FIDE, and you will once more restore confidence in the monetary world, thus driving ^{me} for all, this funeral pall, from the face of the earth. For a Government Bond that is backed up by a Mortgage on Real Estate, that does not Guarantee The Principal, is inferior as Security to a Promissory Note.

Yours for the Triumphs of Democracy.

His Excellency:
President F. D. Roosevelt,
The White House,
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. Roosevelt:

Am sending under separate cover, copies of "World Economic Depression" (Ram Wager); and "The way out of Depression" (Hermann F. Arndt). The first contains a thesis in regard to the "consumer" as a member of an adjustment board, the second contains an opinion on the attempt to put India on a gold basis.

Inrespective of the conclusions of either, it is my opinion, that, over-manipulation of industrial bonds and "securities" - coupled with irresponsible gold guaranters, and equally irresponsible management of holding companies and investment trusts ("Swedish Match" manipulation and "Insull" are fair examples) - these, and other tricks made possible by the wide open opportunities of "easy incorporation laws" in some of the States (see

v. g. Ripley: "Main Street and Wall St") give the scenic background of the depression.

While Mr Mac Donald was in Washington, I wrote him, in care of the British Embassy, enclosing part copy of a letter to a Dr. Harper of Woburhampton Royal Hospital, England:

This letter to the doctor contained information given to me about 1924, relative to 20,000 "German Officers of The Front Line" being in Russia. This Dr. Harper may have been a spy - my letter to him was never acknowledged.

Mr Mac Donald on his return to England refused to see even man Hitler's representative (Dr. Rosenberg, or Rosenthal).

My compliments to counsel to the N. R. A., General Johnson, Miss Perkins, and God's Blessing to all of you.

The accompanying gavel was made from a fallen branch of the General Sherman Tree growing in Sequoia National Park. As you know, this ancient tree is the largest living thing in the world and probably the oldest since its age has been estimated to be between three and four thousand years. The gavel was made expressly for you by Captain J. L. Harrod of the Sheriff's Office of Los Angeles. Captain Harrod's hobby is cabinet making, and I am told by the Director of the Office of National Parks, Buildings, and Reservations that he is a frequent and welcome visitor to Sequoia Park where he is considered an authority on police matters.

The National Reconstruction Association, founded by public-spirited, liberty-loving, law-abiding American citizens using their Constitutional rights under the Constitution of the United States to organize and work for National Legislation for unemployment relief.

The Association is circulating, by personal contact, a National Petition to Congress to have legislation enacted for a six-hour day and a five-day week and the appointment by Congress of a National Labor Commission to enforce and make any adjustments necessary in order to eliminate unemployment.

"An economic revolution has come upon us. Our immediate problem is to master the machine. There is little economic gain in attacks on markets, as in stock exchange investigations; in fact, there is a distinct loss. There is little gain in attacking consumers by pay cuts; in fact, there is an economic loss."

—Rep. Loring M. Black, New York.

"The hours of work must be reduced materially, if we are to believe there are now nearly 10,000,000 unemployed. At the same time, however, the rate of pay must not be reduced."

—L. N. Gross, Mfrs., Cleveland, Ohio.

"The Government at Washington is trying to cure the evils by helping the people at the top, but nothing has been done, as yet, that relieves the misery of the millions at the bottom."

—Claude G. Bowers, Author.

"The principle of sharing work in a depression such as this is comparable to what is done by civilized people in a famine situation. If there is but a limited amount of food to go around, no one suggests four-fifths fully and letting the other fifth starve. The available food is rationed. That is what we now recommend be done with work, because there is a partial famine in jobs, which are basic to obtaining the necessities of life."

—Walter Teagle, Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

The National Reconstruction Assn.

ITS PURPOSE, MOTIVE AND GOAL OF ACHIEVEMENT

* * *

The National Reconstruction Association is non-political, and non-sectarian for the service of humanity, without opposition to any fraternity, church, order or organization.

The National Reconstruction Association has been founded by liberty-loving, law-abiding Americans whose one and only desire is to see that the great mass of unorganized American citizens be given an equal and equitable opportunity to earn an honest living and enjoy the liberty and happiness guaranteed to them by the Constitution of the United States.

To curb reasonably and sanely the pronounced tendencies to excessive concentration of power and wealth, in order to secure justice to all and to prevent radical and perhaps ever revolutionary propensities that would shake the foundations of government and society.

The Association, thru personal contact, is organizing throughout the United States the right thinking public-spirited citizens who realize the time has come for them to act in an organized front against the organized racketeering corruption and graft that is striking at the root of the foundation of our country and even our homes.

The Association proposes thru the power of public opinion, backed by organization, to provide an equitable distribution of available work at once, followed by an intensive campaign for an equal distribution of the profits of labor and farmer through the Rational Reconstruction of our Economic System.

The greater the membership of the Association the quicker we can realize the goal and the greater will be its influence, the better can it serve the helpless masses.

If the principles and proposed activities meet your approval, lend your support to this movement by joining the Association at once and assisting actively in its program.

Forget unsound economic theories, inane promises, get down to fundamentals, conquer the machine; put men to work—sign the petition—join the Association. Dues, one dollar yearly. The Association desires to present to Congress the petition signed by 20,000,000 citizens, backed by an enrollment of 1,000,000 members.

2. The Association does not solicit contributions or donations. The only source of income to propagate its purpose and object is the small membership fee, which is not compulsory but voluntary. The income received through membership fees is spent in the National campaign to rid the country of unemployment, poverty and to give the individual his Constitutional right to earn an honest living.

If the voter and taxpayer is interested and anxious to help himself and help to free the United States from the present wave of unemployment and depression, he may co-operate by joining the Association, which is his Association and which is fighting his battle, the only way is through organization.

FIRST HONORS TO HARRIS IN KITE CONTEST

Thirty Entries Still in En- durance Event at Midnight

Young Enid kite fliers placed 40 or more models in the air late yesterday afternoon in the start of a three-day contest sponsored by the American Business club, on some vacant lots east of Enid cemetery.

Today the events are distance and the smallest kite.

Club members said the contest had been shortened to three days to let the young fliers attend the circus which visits Enid Thursday.

Of those who started the endurance race, some thirty or more remained in the air near midnight. Charles Andrews and R. R. Vosburg, judges, made their bed on the field of battle and stayed with the boys last night.

ance competition, some thirty or more remained in the air near midnight. Charles Andrews and R. R. Vosburg, judges, made their bed on the field of battle and stayed with the boys last night.

Award to Harris

An auto was converted into sleeping quarters for a few contestants, some set up tents north of the large billboards, and a few chose the bare ground with only blankets to cover them. The boy whose kite remains in the air the longest will be declared winner of this event.

At the same time the novelty contest was concluded with Clyde Harris winning first award, and giving him fifteen points toward the grand award. He had a five-pointer star kite, covered with red, white and blue paper, in the center of which was a "Blue Eagle and NRA." It was about 2½ feet by 3 feet. Judges were particularly impressed by the shape of the kite and the ingenuity of the young builder in adopting the patriotic emblem for it.

Second place honors, and ten points toward the grand award, was awarded Carl Miller whose box kite with wings of novel design, attracted the attention of the judges. Miller kept the same kite up in the endurance competition.

Kenneth Weaber ranked third with a straight box kite and received five points toward the grand award. He did not receive an award for third place.

During the early evening the searchlight from an Enid mill played upon the kites which were floating high in the sky and to the northwest of Enid. There was a good breeze from the southeast.

Boys were so interested in the contest that many of them were on the grounds and had their entries flying at 6 o'clock. Competition did not officially begin until 6:30 o'clock.

Last night more than three fourths of the large number of kites to take the air were still in the endurance race, and young owners were "bedded" down with a guard watching their entries.

Dear Mr. Early,

I am sending under separate cover the first artist proof etching of Franklin D. Roosevelt by William Stevens, and I would greatly appreciate it if you would present it to the President. Mr. Stevens is one of our best known engravers and has been located in Chicago for the last thirty years.

I have submitted this etching to several of our important business men in Chicago, some of whom know the President personally. They all spoke highly of the proof and suggested that it be sent to President Roosevelt.

The copper plate was made from a photograph taken of the President in July, 1932 at the Wide World Studios in New York. I have had this proof framed in a simple, but dignified walnut frame.

I trust that this will not be too great a favor to ask of you.

About four months ago I had the pleasure of sending to you the first artist proof etching published of Franklin D. Roosevelt by William Stevens, and I took the liberty of asking you to present this to the President at your pleasure. The possibility occurs to me that you may never have received the proof, and although I do not wish to encroach upon your valuable time, I would be greatly pleased to know definitely if you received it safely, and if so, what disposition you have made of it. I am enclosing a small folder of the etching for your convenience, in the event that you may not remember the picture to which I refer.

We read with great interest, the other day, of the fact that a garment was made in Texas by some college students and presented to you, and we are writing to inquire if we could present you with an end of a Fleece Overcoating made in the State of Michigan from the raw stock to the finished product.

This fabric is of knitted construction and is very pliable and a wonderful fabric to wear. We enclose a sample and would consider it a great honor if you would permit us to send you enough yardage for a garment.

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON

September 1, 1933

Received

The Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt
President of the United States
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. President:

One year ago I decided to close the Ornamental Cedar Fence Co. because of the depression. This, however, did not meet with the approval of my employees who ordinarily received from ten to twelve dollars per day each, and, after holding a meeting, they requested that I allow them to operate the business themselves. Rather than put them out of work or carry them at a reduced wage, I turned the business over to them. With commerce failing throughout the country, business melted away each month until the Ornamental Cedar Fence Co. was finally buried.

At that time, I felt the necessity of a change of Government, so I prepared to migrate to the mountains to get away from the Revolution that was certainly about to come.

On the first of March of this year when the banks were all closing, I visited the Chamber of Commerce in this city for a recommendation as to where I might locate until our new President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, had time to straighten out the affairs of the country. A circular on Whidby Island, which is located on Puget Sound and of which I am enclosing a copy, was given to me, and I immediately packed my car with provisions and with fishing and hunting gear I repaired to this Paradise of the Northwest.

Alone in my cabin, isolated from the rest of the world, I listened to your voice on the radio, and also heard of the progress in the great work you were doing toward rebuilding our country. A thought came to me that, because of your initiative, diligence and perseverance the country was indeed lucky; therefore, what would be more fitting and appropriate than the face of our President peering through a horseshoe, the symbol of good luck.

This thought gave me the inspiration to have a souvenir made, which I am forwarding to you. I sincerely wish you the greatest success, and I am sure you shall have in your brave fight to put this nation in its proper place.

WHIDBY ISLAND

WHIDBY ISLAND is the second in size of the islands in continental United States, being surpassed only by Long Island. It covers thirty-six miles in latitude, though because of the irregular shore line it is, by road, about sixty miles long. It is ten miles across at the widest place, but no point on the island is more than three miles from salt water. It lies in Puget Sound between the mainland of Washington on the east and the Olympic Peninsula on the west. It is about two miles from the mainland at the nearest point on the southern end. On the north it is separated from Fidalgo island by Deception Pass, which at the narrowest place is but 400 feet wide. A bridge connects Fidalgo island with the mainland. The Olympic Peninsula is about seven miles from Whidby island.

A LAND OF BEAUTY

No pen picture can do justice to the scenery. Good gravel roads, winding through forest, farms and prairie, skirt Port Gardner Bay, Holmes Harbor, Saratoga Passage and Penn's Cove on the east and Admiralty Inlet and the Straits of San Juan de Fuca on the west, giving beautiful glimpses first of the majestic Cascades to the east and the snow clad Olympics to the west, with beautiful bays and coves in the foreground. From one point at Glendale Mt. Rainier and Mt. Baker, with the Cascade Range between, may both be seen. All these beauties of nature may be seen in a leisurely one-day trip.

VACATION LAND

Words fail to express the delights offered to the tourist or camper who has more time to spend. A bracing climate, warm days, cool evenings, fine sandy bathing beaches, good water, beautiful camping places, convenient camps with cabins, or hotels in nearby towns for those who prefer to sleep under a roof, an abundance of clams and crabs, the best of salt water fishing—salmon, sea-run trout, rock cod, ling cod, sole—and lakes stocked with trout, bass and perch.

Fishing camps on lakes and Sound are well supplied with good boats, many of them having outboard motors for trolling, and rates are reasonable. Fishing tackle suitable to the particular locality is on sale at most camps or the stores in the vicinity. Fresh vegetables, milk, eggs and chickens can be purchased from the farmers. Practically no fog and very little rain during the summer months, with clear, pure air which sweeps in from the Pacific Ocean, combine with these other advantages to make Whidby island a wonderful vacation land.

DECEPTION PASS PARK

Any Whidby Island booklet would be incomplete without mention of Deception Pass State Park. This park embraces 1,986 acres of one of the most scenic regions in the Northwest, and is second in size of the state parks. Virgin forests, sheltered harbors, sandy beaches and a fine fresh water lake afford recreational opportunities for tens of thousands. Some of its more than ten miles of shore line is at times swept by the storm tossed waters of the straits, rolling in from the broad Pacific, while its inner harbors are as glasslike as a mill pond on a quiet summer evening. A view of Deception Pass, which cuts through the park, is worth a trip of many miles. This narrow gorge (400 feet at the narrowest point) with precipitous rocky walls, through which the tide waters of a large portion of Puget Sound boil in whirlpool, tide-rip and undertow, making the passage dangerous at times for any but the stoutest vessels. A strong effort is being made to span the Pass by a bridge, 150 feet above high tide, and there is little doubt but that this will be done within the next few years.

INFORMATION FOR THE HOMESEAKER

Whidby Island in general is rolling, the average height being about 75 feet above sea level. There are no mountains or high hills and no large streams. Freshets and floods are impossible, no part of the island being subject to inundation except some reclaimed tidelands of small area. The general nature of the soil is a mixture of clay, gravel and decomposed vegetation, varying in its proportions ac-

It has about 4,700 people, and three incorporated towns, Coupeville, Langley and Oak Harbor, with populations ranging between 250 and 400. In each of these towns there is a fully accredited high school in addition to the grade school. High school pupils are brought to these schools by busses which cover the island. Good rural schools care for the grades in some districts, while in others all pupils are brought to the central schools.

Good gravel roads traverse the island, and most sections enjoy telephone and electric service.

WHIDBY HAS WONDERFUL CLIMATE

Known as Western Washington is for its rainy weather, Whidby island has less rainfall than the states of Kansas and Nebraska and less than one-half as much as Chicago. It has only two-thirds that of Everett or Seattle. Not only is the rainfall slight, but there are practically no fogs and the number of cloudy days is considerably less than on any part of the mainland. This remarkable difference is explained by the government in the Soil Survey Report for 1910 as follows: "A large part of the moisture has been removed from the southerly winds and the northerly winds do not cause such heavy precipitation." This same report gives the islands almost one-third more clear days than any other point in the district. Concurrent with the slight rainfall is an evenness of temperature not excelled anywhere in the Northwest. The average is 49.7 degrees, with a variation between 39.5 in January and 61.3 in August. The temperature is usually about four degrees higher in winter and several degrees lower in summer than on the adjacent mainland. Killing frosts are rare and an average over a period of seven years gives April 12 as the date of the last and November 23 as the first killing frost. One factor which is not stressed as it merits is the healthfulness of the climate. Aside from contagious diseases there is very little sickness and it is very seldom that a young person is taken by death. A large majority of deaths are of people over 60 years of age. A comparison of children on the Island with those of other sections will convince you that it is the place of places to raise children.

LEADS IN AGRICULTURE

Perhaps no better evidence of its wonderful agricultural possibilities could be cited than the fact that in 1929 Island County (which in this case means Whidby Island) captured first prize by its exhibit at the Western Washington Fair at Puyallup, in competition with the big mainland

Berry growing is a major industry which is rapidly coming to the front. Whidby island straw-in the Northwest, which means the finest in the world. Immense yields of these as well as gooseberries, raspberries, blackberries and cherries are

TRANSPORTATION

WHIDBY ISLAND is easily reached by passenger steamer and by auto ferry. The steamer Atalanta makes daily trips carrying passengers and freight from Seattle to Oak Harbor, calling at Possession, Glendale, Clinton, Langley, Coupeville and San de Fuca. A stage line runs from Columbia Beach through Langley, Greenbank, Prairie Center, Coupeville and San de Fuca to Oak Harbor. There is also a summer stage line between Keystone ferry and Anacortes touching all way points.

At the south end the Puget Sound Navigation Co. operates a ferry line from Mukilteo to Columbia Beach and one from Langley to Everett. This company also operates on a summer schedule from Keystone to Port Townsend on the Olympic Peninsula.

Olson Bros. operate a ferry across Deception Pass, and another from a point east of Oak Harbor to Utsalady, on Camano island. Camano is connected with the mainland, via Stanwood, by a bridge. The Deception Pass ferry is reached from the road to Anacortes.

Supplying a Service That Builds

Wherever steel towers bear the golden thread of electricity, a new prosperity arises. Farms become greener and more productive, cities flourish, homes grow more pleasant and comfortable.

Throughout Western and Central Washington there is a growing demand for this profitable power and light service that works so tirelessly for such a little wage. With wise consideration of future needs the Puget Sound Power & Light Company is expending new millions of dollars in this state to supply the increasing requirements of its ever-growing family of 145,000 satisfied customers.

My dear Mr. Hubert:

Your letter of October seventh, to the President, has been received and I wish to thank you for your kindness in writing. You may be sure he appreciates your thought of him.

Everything sent to the Patent Office is considered in accordance with the laws covering patents and it is not necessary to secure permission to send your product there. Executive permission is never given to any one manufacturer for the production of an article bearing the President's likeness and it is impossible to do so in this case. I am sure you will understand.

Very sincerely yours,

In order to get the benefit of my efforts, it is necessary that the plaque receive direct light. STEPHEN EARLE, Assistant Secretary to the President, has the plaque in a place above and a little to the right of the picture in the angle of light under which the plaque is laid on a table the top of the plaque towards the viewer and produce a good effect. Strong lights give a strong picture and dim the reverse. Different colored lights give different colors to the picture produced. This plaque is just as it came from the works of the foundry except, that it was sand blasted to remove the adhering working sand, the edges polished and the whole lacquered.

I intended to commercialize these plaques and I would beg your permission to do so. I am legally informed that in order to secure protection from the U. S. Patent or Copyright Office

Mr. President:

Please accept in separate inclosure a bronze plaque with my compliments. This plaque represents my efforts to portray the greatest President in my 55 years of recollection, modeled from photographs gathered from newspapers and magazines. It is more difficult to portray a frontal view, in low relief, than in profile, but we came to know you from your published photographs with a face to face view so well that the customary profile view could hardly do.

In order to get the benefit of my efforts, it is necessary that the plaque receive some direct light from above, to cast shadows over the subject. If it is convenient to hang the plaque in a place with a light above it or above and a little in front and a little to the right of the picture it will represent the angle of light under which the plaque was modeled. It can also be laid on a table or desk with the top of the plaque towards the window and produce a good effect. Strong lights cast a strong picture and dim the reverse. Different colored lights give different colors to the picture produced. This plaque is just as it came from the molds at the foundry except, that it was sand blasted to remove the adhering molding sand, the edges polished and the whole lacquered.

I intended to commercialize these plaques and I would beg your permission to do so. I was also legally informed that in order to procure protection from the U. S. Patent or Copyright Office it is necessary that I obtain your permission to use your portrait.

I believe I should tell you Mr. President, so long as I solicit your consent, that after I have paid the foundrier for the bronze castings and other work, the cartage and a reasonable commission to salesmen I will still be able to sell the plaque for $5.00.

Best wishes to our President.

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt, President,
"White House",
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. President:

Nothing happens in the Universe that is not from a cause. There are many who claim to be analysts - but few who actually are - hence few people understand cause and effect. Most Doctors are treating effects and know nothing of the cause. I know of no banker who knows "Scientific Finance".

Our rather selfish Banking System is the cause of the present state of affairs, in this country.

I am a close observer and for fifty years I have been correctly informed of the causes of the effects produced. We, in most happenings, have to analyze the motive actuating the cause to know why?

I am familiar with the Federal Reserve and who influenced its structure and also the League of Nations and the World Court, and who had the uterior motive behind them.

I admire your honesty, your courage and ability and I think, you have arrived at the point where you do not allow your wish to control your thought. I hope and think you are 100% American.

I am attaching to this a book, privately published by an honest American gentleman, who possessed, in my estimation, the best brain since Alexander Hamilton.

I know there is nothing but truth between its covers. Read it, believe it, digest it, let Col. Howe do the same. Act on its information and this countries troubles will dissolve.

Wishing you health, happiness and success, I remain,

Sincerely,

Nelson Hiss

The President
Washington, D.C.

Sir:

Please find enclosed plaque in bronze with bust of yourself, made in our factory under
N. R. A. labor.

Apologies for the likeness as it is the best the sculptor was able to do, but the spirit is there, and we have had very favorable comments on same.

We have made several gifts to our customers, and if there is not any objection in Washington, it is our intention to commercialize same, as we have already applied for design patent and copyright.

Your comments will be very much appreciated.

I have the honor to remain,

My Dear Mr. Roosevelt:-

I want to thank you for the reply to my letter by your Secretary, Mr. Louis McH. Howe, for which I am very grateful.

I know that you, and your program for recovery, should have the undivided support of every Red Blooded American Citizen I am proud to say that I am for you 100%.

If you will allow me the honor, I will be very glad to send you the best Tennessee turkey gobbler I can get, however this may be asking too much as I bear the name Hoover but please note that I also have the names Thomas and Smith attached.

Thanking you again for this consideration, I am,

Faithfully yours,
