My dear Harris:

The President was deeply touched by your letter of January twenty-ninth and has asked me to thank you heartily for the birthday gift which you were good enough to send him and to say that he likes it very much. He appreciates your kind thought of him.

my dear Miss Le Band - ^{Sketch - likes it very much,}
I know that the Chief will receive many birthday gifts, and most likely, he won't even know about half of them. Therefore, I am going to ask you to pin this little remembrance on his favorite fireside chair, and tell him that it's from the little Ohio boy, who prays every night for him. I send loads of birthday greetings and wishes for at least a dozen birthdays, in the White House.

I certainly will be very much in your debt if you will do this for me, but I think that I can rest in peace, if I know that this love is on his chair. Would it be asking too much for you to let me know how he likes it and if he liked
the sketch I sent before?

You have been very kind
to me, Miss Le Band, and I appreciate it very much. Sincerely 4240 Webster Rd.

My dear Jim Mead:

As a sincere expression of our good-will and high esteem, The Roycrofters wish to present to President Roosevelt on his birthday, a very specially bound copy of Elbert Hubbard's "Little Journey to the Home of Thomas Jefferson." This particular volume is selected because of the fitness of its title. Jefferson and Roosevelt are from the same great mold of American Statesmen.

This book is one of only sixty copies printed in 1906 by Elbert Hubbard on imperial Japan vellum. It is numbered (#16) and signed by Elbert Hubbard - a truly great book - and - a rare volume.

I am sure that my father would be highly pleased to have it become a treasured item in our President's collection of choice editions.

Moreover, it would give us great joy to present it to him - as an example of the outstanding work of this group of internationally known craftsmen. You know there are about a hundred and seventy of us here who are standing squarely behind the President and the Administration.

What I would like you to do is make the presentation for us - in your own inimitable way. ~~It won't take much of your time and it might get you a chance to have your "picture book" with the President. Will you do this for us?~~

We are putting the finishing touches on the book and enriching it with our blessings and good-will, and can send it to you the last of the week.

~~Let me know if you can do it and we will act at once.~~

With high regard and best wishes,

Very sincerely yours,

My dear Mr. Hanauer:

Your thoughtful and generous offer to the President which was received on the occasion of his fifty-second birthday anniversary, touched the President deeply.

He has asked me to write and thank you and, at the same time, to explain to you why it is impossible for him to accept the gift you tender.

The District of Columbia, because of legislative prohibition measures, is still dry, except for beverages not exceeding 3.2 in alcoholic content. Because of this situation it is not legal for the President to accept your gift and I am returning the warehouse certificate to you.

I hope you will understand.

My dear Mr. President, - many happy returns of the day. I send you a warehouse receipt for some 1916 Bridgeport Pure Rye Whiskey
the finest extant, & when it is gone simply irreplaceable. You may desire to use it for medicinal use for your family. I was Chairman of the Co. that distilled it & know its record to be, G. K. There is nothing like it on earth & you will find a real whiskey. It is at Bundes bonded concentration warehouse N. Y. City. By paying the taxes & charges you can when you can legally do so have it tax paid & expressed to any place where it is lawful to receive it. I would gladly tax pay it & have it shipped but might inadvertently embarrass you. So I had better let you do as you please about it & when you please, and if one of your Secretaries will let me know I will gladly & preferably pay the charges.
May God bless you & strengthen you to enable you to again bring our beloved country into the sunshine of prosperity & contentment. An order for release will follow in another letter

Dear Mr. President:

I will try to be as brief as possible.

This picture was taken by a member of Michigan's Conservation Department.

The picture is called "The Orphan Fawn".

This doe was shot last hunting season and the fawn was found, as shown, in a starving condition. The fawn was taken to headquarters & is being raised there.

This picture is suitable for framing and I suggest a silver frame.

Happy birthday to you,

Dear Senator McAdoo:

On Wednesday, January 24th, we are sending by American Railway Express to President Roosevelt, a 250 pound Birthday Cake. This cake is made exclusively from the finest of California fruits. The cake is good to be used any time during the year.

With the cake we are enclosing a scroll on which Birthday Greetings appear from our four hundred (400) co-workers.

Our entire Organization is greatly thrilled over sending the President a remembrance.

We do a strictly house to house business, and our men call on forty thousand (40,000) homes a day in Los Angeles, contacting at least two hundred thousand (200,000) of the people who live here.

I would appreciate more than I can express, and I know our entire Organization would appreciate, a personal letter acknowledging the receipt of this cake from the President. It would mean so much more if his name was on it rather than one of his Secretaries.

The cake is packed in a unique box, which is shaped like a three tier cake so that it will arrive there in the very finest of condition. The Express Company assures me it will be delivered to the White House, Monday, January 29th.

You and I have many mutual friends, although I do not know whether you remember having personally met me.

I don't know whether anything can be done or not about his idea. Try and see what you can do. Enclosed also is a copy of a letter which he wrote the Senator. I am sending the copy to you in order that it may not be overlooked.

If there is anything that you can do, I believe it would be a nice gesture if his idea can be carried out.

I also suggest that the Senator send a telegram to George I. Cochran, chairman of the Roosevelt birthday dinner at the Biltmore Hotel in commemoration of the President's birthday.

Dear Mr. Neblett:

I am enclosing copy of a letter to Senator McAdoo in reference to a Roosevelt Birthday Cake which we are furnishing, and being sent to President Roosevelt on Wednesday, January 24th, which the American Railway Express guarantees will be delivered in Washington at the White House on January 29th.

Dr. Cochran, who is Chairman of the Committee for the Roosevelt Dinner here at the Biltmore on Tuesday, January 30th, is being furnished with a duplicate of the same Cake to be served at the Biltmore.

With the Cake going to President Roosevelt is a scroll signed by all of our employees -about four hundred (400) in number. I am very anxious that President Roosevelt acknowledges the receipt of this cake, because the very fact that he signed the letter or telegram would mean so much to our employees, and I know it would be more than appreciated.

We contact about two hundred thousand (200,000) people a day in Los Angeles through the forty thousand (40,000) homes we serve.

If you could take this matter up with Senator McAdoo's Secretary in Washington, I am sure it would be a great help.

Dear President

Happy birthday Mr

President on your 52nd birthday

I'm sending you a picture it isn't much just a picture of yourself. My father isn't working and I couldn't send you much more of a present. I'm fourteen years old and in the eight grade
and attend Bedford Junior High School. I'm trying to get much of an education as I could I'd like to go through college and become a artist. But I don't think I can't do it unless I work
my^{way} through. My whole family thinks a lot of you Mr. President My dad thinks the country will be back on its feet long as

Mr. President in the White House.
Mr. Hoover sort of put this country in its grave but the living comes from the dead. I'm expressing my thoughts to you Mr. President because I haven't no one else to talk to about.
So Happy Birthday.

Please answer my letter and tell me what you think of my pictures

Yours truly
Edward Hodelick.

Please answer me?
Thank you.

Dear Mr. President:

Quite the most important book which this House has to offer you in the way of information which bears directly upon your work and policies is Katherine Mayo's SOLDIERS WHAT NEXT which is to be published on February 7th and which I suspect will cause great comment throughout our Press.

I hate to burden you with another book, although many of our offerings have been of a light nature which I hoped would serve as a diversion.

This is very different. This is the real thing and I sincerely hope you will have a chance to dip into it pretty thoroughly. I feel very sure it is going to be helpful and I know Miss Mayo's intent has been constructive, and she has been endless in her endeavors to seek the truth.

Title: SOLDIERS WHAT NEXT!

Author: Katherine Mayo

Size and Price: Large Cr. 8vo $3.75

For Publication: January, 1934

In the fiscal year 1931-32 the United States spent more money on her ex-service men than England, France, and Germany together! Yet these countries had forty-four times as many men disabled in the War. What becomes of this vast sum, which grows larger year by year? Is it serving the purpose intended by the American people?

In the year 1934, when Government expenditures must be drastically cut, these questions will probably loom larger than ever before. A decisive answer is needed, and to find this answer Katherine Mayo conducted an intense investigation, not only of our own pension system, but of those in England, France, Germany and Italy. Each government actively and liberally aided the work, believing it to be of immense interest and value. The four foreign studies in SOLDIERS WHAT NEXT! have been examined and pronounced correct as to the facts by the governments concerned. They naturally carry much color and incident apart from the statistical skeleton, and the four national characters stand out as distinct as Mussolini is different from Ramsay MacDonald or Hindenburg from Poincaré.

Having studied the policies of these four great powers and their effects upon their ex-soldiers, Miss Mayo returned to America, there to ask again what the truth may be concerning our own ex-service men. Has the case of the veteran been misstated in the heat of the battle for economy? The issue of the approaching struggle will depend on the understanding of the American people. In SOLDIERS WHAT NEXT! they will find vividly stated all the facts essential for a sound judgment on this difficult problem. It is a great human document - dramatic, unbiased, authentic.

The Author: Katherine Mayo, author of "Mother India," "Slaves of the Gods," "The Standard-Bearers" and other powerful books, is outstanding among living writers for her great ability to combine vivid, forceful writing with a solid and carefully prepared base of fact.

Mr. M. A. LeHand
Private Secretary
White House
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. LeHand:

Your letter of the 6 th., inst., is deeply appreciated.

Will you kindly convey my respects to our President and inform him that I have today sent a supply of "Teach-U-Arithmetic" games to the Foundation at Warm Springs for the twenty children which you inform me are there. It is, in deed, a pleasure for me to do this.
I only hope they will do as much good there as they have in other places.

The game which you have at the White House, I hope will prove entertaining and helpful to the grandchildren.

A little later I shall have a novel and unique dissected map of the United States which teaches youngsters to know each and every State by its comparative size and its shape, to know its correct location, to see the name of the State appear only when it has been correctly played or placed, and to also learn the names of the Capitals and Principal Cities of each and every State through association of the name of the State, its size, shape and location.

May I have the pleasure of presenting one
as I have the Teach-U-Arithmetic?

Very sincerely yours,

Eugene B. Hamilton
