"BILL'S 13" PORK RIND
VALDOSTA, GA.

March 14th 1935

President Franklin D. Roosevelt,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:-

I notice from the papers that you contemplate making a fishing trip this month to the land of flowers, and being the manufacturer of "BILL'S 13" PORK RIND, I am anxious that your fishing kit be complete, so am sending you under separate cover, four jars each of the four sizes that I make in the PORK RIND strips.

You will find these PORK RIND strips very effective when used in connection with many of the most popular lures and I trust they will prove so with you.

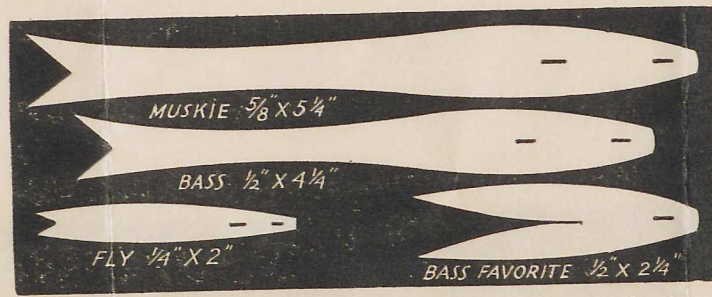

We never get over the fishing fever, it's a delightful disease, and thank the Lord there is no cure.

With very best wishes, I am,

Yours very truly,

Will L. Holder

Dear Mr. President:

A little while ago an artist here painted a picture in which he endeavored to catch the spirit of the Service which a motion picture really renders.

We were so pleased with the job that we had the attached reproduction made, and I want you to have one. I know you will get pleasure out of all these happy faces, as I have.

With best wishes always, I am

WHAT THE MOTION PICTURE MEANS

One stands on a high mountain and sees long lines of men, women, and children moving slowly forward. They come from everywhere. They are rosy-cheeked girls from the farms, and their paler-faced sisters from the cities whose feet ache from long hours of standing behind bargain counters. There are plow boys, and sons of millionaires, and boys with the sallow cheeks of the tenements. There are old women with hands reddened and coarsened by work, and with eyes grown listless with long waiting. There are old men who hobble on crooked sticks, and children with the flash of the sun's gold in their hair and the happy laughter of innocence in their voices. There are the schoolboy, and the savant, and the man of no learning at all. There are men and women of every race and of every tongue, moving slowly forward, seeking something, seeking, searching, yearning--asking for a place to dream. All about them is the roar of the cities, the confused, jangling noises of life that is hurried, rushed, propelled forward at a breathless speed. Every minute of every hour of every day they come--millions of them. And over and above them, and in front of them, attracting them on, offering that which they desire, are billions of flickering shadows--the motion picture. Who shall estimate its importance? Who shall attempt to say what it means to the world?

Dear Colonel Howe:

I have had several chart weights made from the bronze as used on the hull of our successful Defender of the America's Cup, "RAINBOW", and am presenting these to a few people whom I know are interested in yachting and especially in the race against the British Contender, "ENDEAVOUR", last Summer.

It was natural, in selecting the few recipients, that the name of President Roosevelt should head the list. I realized that the President is constantly receiving mementos and tokens of all sorts and descriptions, and I therefore hesitated in annoying him by my small remembrance. However, in considering the matter further, I decided inasmuch as the President is a dyed-in-the-wool sailor, bona fide-ly fond of the sea, and an eye witness at the race off Newport last season, that I, through your good offices, would take the liberty of forwarding the chart weight. I am therefore sending out today, under separate cover via Special Delivery, Registered Mail, two chart weights, one which has been inscribed with your name and another with that of President Roosevelt. I would appreciate if you would bring this to his attention some day when he has a rest from the affairs of the Nation and has time to give a thought to his own pleasure. THURSDAY, MARCH

President, Arrayed In Soiled Sweater, Fishes Off Yacht

His Staff of Secretaries in Miami Hotel Keeps Contact With Capital

Miami, March 28 (AP)—President Roosevelt cruised aboard the yacht Nourmahal in the clear, blue waters of the Bahama Islands group today on his annual fishing trip.

Reaching the Bahamas yesterday, he received the Duke and Duchess of Kent, members of the British royal family, honeymooning in this region, who were introduced by Sir Bede Clifford, Governor of the Bahamas, and Lady Clifford.

Mr. Roosevelt kept contact today with Washington through temporary headquarters, at the Miami Biltmore Hotel, where Marvin H. McIntyre, a secretary, was established with a staff.

On meeting the yacht Nourmahal of Vincent Astor at Cat Cay yesterday the President left the destroyer Farragut for the fishing ship he has used in Southern waters for the last two years.

He was garbed today in clothes which included a somewhat spotted white sweater and a fisherman's hat, ready to try his luck for the game fish of this region.

With McIntyre at the Miami headquarters was Harry L. Hopkins, Federal Relief Administrator, who has the last-minute instructions on the $4,000,000,000 work program before Congress.

Last night they witnessed the operetta "Pirates of Penzance," presented by a Fera Company from Key West.

THIS BOOK IS AWAKENING THINKING
AMERICANS TO A PLAN OF ACTION

Now You Can Act...
TO PROTECT YOUR

AGAINST INFLATION — PRINTING PRESS MONEY — FASCISM — COMMUNISM — BILLION DOLLAR DEBTS—CONFISCATION

THINKING Americans know that the time has come to act. Every man with a job

Large item - scanned in parts

... every business man . . . every property holder . . . every bank depositor . . . every farmer . . . every parent realizes that the endless piling up of tax burdens must eventually destroy their properties, their rights, and their children's future! But until now there has been no plan of action that the average man can use. Now, at last, the knowledge about money which we need for self-preservation is available in a new book, "Money Creators." A number of leading Chicago business men consider that thinking people must read this book . . . and have therefore assumed the cost of making it available. These men even guarantee that if, after reading "Money Creators," you do not feel it is worth at least a hundred times its slight cost . . . you may return the book and your money will be refunded!

HON. ROBERT L. OWEN, former chairman Banking and Currency Committee, United States Senate, and co-author of the Federal Reserve Bill, says: "This book is worthy of careful study . . . the information is sound. It contains scientific truths, not quackery . . . and it conveys to the American people truths of the very first magnitude."

What "Money Creators" Tells You

"Money Creators" answers the questions that have been in the minds of millions of Americans. What really caused the tremendous shrinkage in the value of securities, land, real estate? Why must millions be destitute in a land of overproduction? What became of the money which every one had in 1929? Why has there always been a "conspiracy of silence and mystery" regarding the operation of our money system? What did President Roosevelt really mean when he talked about "Driving Money-Changers Out of the Temple"? Is the country actually being driven toward destructive inflation by a minority group for their own selfish advantages? Will America fall into the hands of a tyrannical dictatorship just as every other country has done after its currency has been debased? Just what will happen to you as an individual when or if this occurs in your America?

You do not want to see the value of your savings, of your life insurance wiped out. You do not want to see the confiscation of your property through excessive taxation. You do not want to see the country overrun by the frenzied followers of politically ambitious demagogues. You may have felt helpless in the face of such eventualities before—but you will not feel this way after reading "Money Creators."

Return to Legal Money Will End the Depression

"Money Creators" was written by a woman—prominent for many years in Chicago banking circles. This keen woman analyst has had the courage to tell the full truth about banking and money, and she has told it so clearly, so utterly simple and plain that there is no longer any excuse for anyone to say he does not understand money.

Gertrude M. Coogan has had many years of experience in all forms of banking and investments. She spent 8 years collecting and arranging material which was secured from all over the world for this book. The reading of the story as she has presented it is more interesting than the most fascinating fiction. She has had the courage to tell the full truth—the astounding facts that are never found in school text books. What she says about a "return to constitutional money" will amaze you.

What will this book be worth to you? It is difficult to estimate . . . perhaps a $1,000, perhaps many thousands of dollars. The understanding gained may result in insuring your future welfare—the security of your children and your family. Its value may transcend anything that can be designated in dollars.

You will want to read this book immediately. Because the prominent Chicago business men mentioned above have read this book, and know how you will feel about it . . . it will be sent to you with the understanding that the purchase price of $2.00 will be refunded if you are dissatisfied with it and return book in five days. No time is to be lost—mail the coupon immediately.

MEMORANDUM FOR SECRETARY EARLY:

After reviewing this case very thoroughly, it is my opinion that paragraph 5 of the Acting Secretary of War's letter sums the situation up accurately:

"The record of the soldier has been excellent both before and after the commission of the crime of which he was convicted, and the Philippine authorities have interposed no objection to the granting of his request for a pardon to restore him to citizenship."

There is nothing more to be said for or against the soldier that I can find and, in view of the fact that it is totally a Philippine question, I recommend that he be given the pardon.

Dear Mr. President:

I am a Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway switchman at Cicero, Illinois and am the proud owner of the only Democratic cat that the world has ever produced.

My family listened to Al Smith's campaign speeches and also to yours. While we listened to these speeches, this cat - whose name is Mickey - got up on the radio and seemed to listen attentively while Al Smith talked and later got up there again when you were making your speeches. But when Mr. Hoover talked, he refused to stay on the radio at all, though we even tried to hold him
there; this is an absolute fact.

I am a staunch admirer of yours (have voted Democratic for many, many years) and am sending you a picture of this yellow, sixteen pound cat with your own photograph in the background. I would be pleased to hear if you and your family enjoy the picture.

Respectfully yours,
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Haley

Sir:

As a little token of our esteem and affection, would like to have you accept a very choice piece of Spring overcoating material made from the choicest fleeces of Mr. Garner's State of Texas and woven by some of our sturdy New England weavers.

In our opinion there is no finer piece of cloth made in the world and is the product of the finest type of American citizen, the Texas wool grower, who, by the utmost diligence in breeding and tending his flocks has produced a wool second to none with its fine quality and softness of handle. It was woven in a small New England town, whose inhabitants are so typically American, with a skill and care and pride of workmanship that the true artist feels for his work. Both the humble wool grower and the skilful weaver are so typical of the many small towns covering our country and so typical of America that we felt you would appreciate this little symbol of true Americanism.

May we again express to you our sincere appreciation of your efforts and results in bringing the country out of the slough of despond.

With all the best wishes for your continued success and happiness, we are

Dear Mr. President:

May the undersigned have the honor and privilege of presenting to you a token of their deep regard, emblematic both as a sign of man's redemption, and as our country's complete union in the citadel of love which you have built from the hearts of the common people.

The figure of Our Blessed Lord is made from the fusing of Confederate musket balls and Federal bullets fired in the Battle of Arkansas Post in January, 1863; the wood of the cross from an ancient tree that was born and grew old under the four flags of Spain, France, the Confederacy and the Union. These bullets and musket balls, once the emblem of hate, are now united in the figure of the Prince of Peace.

May this Holy symbol be an evidence of our love and appreciation of the bonds you have forged uniting all our Nation in a true union of perfect Christian charity.

We address you from the Holy Rosary Church, Stuttgart, Arkansas, December 22, 1934, through the kind courtesy of our trusted friend, Congressman John L. McClellan.

 The President of the United States,

I am writing this letter for two purposes; first the above, - and now secondly, please let your secretary write me a note saying when you will be at home with your family in Washington, around June 1 - 5 - 10, somewhere during that time
I want to send you a box of late fruit, half Oranges and half Grapefruit, some of my own production. There are just a few boxes of this particular variety, and there are just two people in Washington who are going to get a box of it, and that's the President, and you, - and I hope when you see the President some convenient time soon you will tell him that you and he will receive, each, a box of fruit about June 5th. which I am keeping especially on the tree as late as I think it will be good and very particularly for this purpose.

Very kindest good wishes.

Sincerely,
Walter Hawkins

Secretary:

It was good to hear you over the radio today. I had the pleasure of hearing you through the courtesy of your Mr. C. Roy Munde, whose office is next to mine. Your every word was clear, and the entire program came over splendidly; it was certainly good to hear you, and I could feel that you were happy in sending this splendid message throughout the land.

My dear Mr. Hutchings:

The President is indeed pleased to have the engraving of the U. S. S. Gettysburg, with the accompanying historical data, which you left at the Office for him. He wishes me to express his sincere thanks to you and to say that he deeply appreciates your courtesy in presenting the engraving to him.

Very sincerely yours,

MEMORANDUM FOR MISS LE HAND:

Mr. Henry M. Hutchings, 14 Beacon Street, Boston, Massachusetts, left the attached for the President. He was such a sweet old man I took it, as he had asked for Mr. Early, rather than to shift him around. Will you see that the proper kind of acknowledgment is sent to him?
