Kindness During Life

I would rather have one little rose
From the garden of a friend,
Than to have the choicest flowers
When my stay on earth must end.

I would rather have one pleasant word
In kindness said to me,
Than flattery when my heart is still
And life has ceased to be.

I would rather have a loving smile
From friends I know are true,
Than tears shed round my casket
When this world I've bid adieu.

Bring me all your flowers today—
Whether pink, or white, or red;
I'd rather have one blossom now
Than a truckload when I'm dead.

My Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

It gives Mrs. Hart and myself great pleasure in presenting to you upon this, the eve of your re-election to office a Caproni casting of the original bronze bust (now in Boston) of Theodore Roosevelt which was modeled by Mrs. Hart some years ago.

We both wish to take this opportunity to congratulate you upon your re-election to the presidency of the United States, for in our minds it is a foregone conclusion without question that this will take place, for we sincerely believe that a sane majority of the people cannot and will not fail to remember what you have meant to and done for this country, and we feel sure that such a majority must manifest its appreciation upon Tuesday.

Yours very truly

John J. Hart.

The Cuckoo

CUCKOO

Home Made Candies.

Absolutely Fresh and Pure

Made at Cuckoo, Va., by Miss Mary K. Hankins

Pendleton R. #1, Va.

Nov. 10th, 1936.

President Roosevelt,

Washington, D.C.

Dear Sir;

pardon this liberty I am taking in writing to you, but before when I wrote you I was in desperate need, and in some-way, I was helped, now I am asking that if you could give this enterprise of candy making (home) a boost, it would mean much not only to me, but to the help I have to make it, and to those who sell it. I am what would be termed an old woman, ^{yrs} 73, but I do not want to lay on the shelf and wait for the end to come, but I want to live and help others to live, the candy I make is considered good, particularly my Peanut Brittle, would you like to have a box? - this is only good in cold weather, and all of my candy should be eaten, as all home-made candy should, when fresh - This is a very small place, and few people know about this candy business. Could I get some orders from our representatives in Washington for Christmas candy, this would be a big send off for me. I have 1-lb- 2 lb. and 3 lb- and 5 lb boxes for my fancy Christmas candy - and 1/2 lb. 1 lb and 2 lb. boxes for Peanut Brittle.

Again I ask your pardon, but your help in this enterprise for me. Sincerely yours,

Mary K. Hankins

Herewith is a small clipping book which we sent to President Roosevelt.

That of course the President is always that sometime in the future he may have an glancing through this book.

The book contains only clippings from the Hannibal Courier-Post and photographs made locally. We made the book up in this style thinking that the President might be interested in just what the local community does when they learn that "The President is coming to town".

And now for my personal request. I am building a scrap book covering the subject of the Mark Twain Memorial Bridge from the inception of the idea in our office several years ago to the opening of the bridge. I would like very much to place in this book an autographed photograph of the President. I know you are forever bothered with autograph seekers, but if you could arrange this for me, I would be delighted. You may use the enclosed photograph for autographing if desired; however, I would prefer a small bust portrait worded "Kindest regards to F. T. Russell - Franklin D. Roosevelt".

I know you will think that I never get through asking for things, but somehow I have found that this is the way to get things done.

My dear President:

A few weeks ago Indianapolis enjoyed your visit immensely and we believe it is the first time in the history of Indianapolis that the people in the southern part of the city had the privilege of having the President of our country pass through this community. We were indeed very happy at this occasion and rejoice with the rest of the country at the outcome of our recent election.

The people of our country have indicated beyond any doubt that our government is being taken through this severe crisis in a very able manner.

We are taking the liberty at this time through our mutual friend, Walter Myers, to deliver you a Hilgemeier Product, an Indiana cured ham. We hope you enjoy it. Our entire group extend to you our best wishes.

understanding of Universal Consciousness and God's ideas of life. With this knowledge you will surely pilot these United States into the Harbor of Success.

May I impose upon your valuable have compiled. I send this booklet to you with kind thoughts and meditations for your health, happiness

When I woke up this morning and heard that you were re-elected, I jumped for joy, because I think you a better man for president than Mr. Landon. I have prayed every night that you would be re-elected.

I am ten years old, and in the fifth grade Seward School, Auburn N. Y. I am sending a Thanksgiving picture I have painted just for you. I hope you like it. I am the happiest girl in the U. S. A.

Today because you won the election. I have cut out all the pictures of you that have been in the paper for my scrapbook, but I should like a letter from you to keep.

The Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Roosevelt:-

Please note enclosure---my little Christmas present to you---and the magnificent Cause of which you are the head---the President of the greatest 'Business Concern' on earth.

-o-

I'll try to be brief: Following, by regular mails instead of AIR, is a package containing a framed, glass-covered placard neatly printed, with Old English caption-line, though body of text is in bold-faced Italics so as to give maximum readability, a replica of the matter upon said enclosure.

-o-

I believe that a thoughtful consideration of the lines will disclose that they cover about "everything", and doing it without offense to any one. FACTS should not be frowned upon, even by those whom they do not favor.

-o-

I have this thought: During the late World War the slogan was going its rounds: "They who remain at home ALSO serve---by WORK". I'll parallel that by saying: "They who remain at home also serve---if they WRITE."

-o-

I see this hour as the right one in which to get into high-gear in taking advantage of the tremendous, even staggering, lead of Democratic sentiment and votes just now, mostly because of the high strategic value in aiding in all ways, large or small, to bring about a degree of DEMOCRATIC SOLIDARITY heretofore unattainable---a cementing of the great nation of sentiment in line with your ideas and work, into an impregnable WALL that can neither be shot through nor scaled by, the opposition. The time to do it is NOW! Blacksmiths hit hard and fast---while the time is RIGHT---yes, and the CONDITIONS, too.

-o-

Am sending letter to the Hon. Jas. A. Farley by this mail, I asking for suggestions as to wide-spread of my little effort in the Cause mentioned in the above. If I can get in touch with an army of Democrats to aid in distribution of the placard upon a reasonable basis of compensation to me, I'd like to do it---but with the workers well-paid out of collections offered by those wishing the souvenir.

For two years I have slept either out in the Mojave Desert---out in the open---or else in my car, in any one of the six states and Canada where I've been, the condition I had to contend with having been brought on from over-work in the early part of the Depression while I was trying to make a dollar or two. But by my careful and "by rule" sort of living, I'm about all right again---and expect before long to be "all rarin' to go", for I do well in earnings when I'm normal.

The little item above is given merely to show that while I've been down, I'm not as yet "licked". I'll get on top again, for this old Depression is being whipped so that even its own mother would not know it pretty soon. I travel a great deal and so have rather a wide survey of folks and things and conditions. And are the "common people" happy about the return of normal times again! Highly so.

Which reminds me to say that the enclosed matter is written in seven movements or scenes, ranging from the opening jubilee to the soul-felt salute at the close.

Most respectfully Yours,

Ernest Kingdon Hutchinson

ROOSEVELT'S ELECTION DAY

By

Ernest Kinyoun Hutchison

-o-

The Avalanche! Like mountains thund'ring down tow'rd roaring Sea!
Such rabid voting ne'er was done in all of History!
Democracy well meant to hold what it had fought so hard
To gain four years ago. And so the people dance and shout
In joy unbounded, by TEN MILLION LEAD in Victory!

Of Roosevelt, in '32, I had the presses say:
"This man now rises grandly as a tribune and a king
To heed the all-impelling call to lead, inspire and win---
The same who's fit for regal scepter, crown and royal robe."

The earth was cluttered up with Business-Sag and Brainlessness.
A Master-Mind and Will of Iron were needed at the helm---
A Great Physician on the Staff to heal a sicken'd World.

Our Franklin's Vision saw beyond the hour. The times were dread.
Full PEACE! All INDUSTRY made strong to go! High USEFULNESS
To Young and Old! World-wide GOOD-WILL to MEN---these things the PLAN!

Then came our '36. The People honor him who TRIES---
And ACTION takes, e'en though mistakes sometimes, unwished, are made.
You know the story of the fight. Our Neighbor's IN!
The scandal-sheets, well ochred with their Special Priv'lege clay,
Could not o'er-pow'r nor keep him OUT! Democracy has said:
"The World's not yet entirely well from twelve l-o-n-g years of waste
And 'Nothing-Do'. We'll keep the Great Physician on the job."

Our Man is big enough to clasp Survivors of the Shock
And say: "I quite forgive you, for you did not understand.
Henceforth it is my wish that all may join and work as one."

-o-

Gone with the wind the rest---the recalcitrant's palsied lies;
The rankling and accursed venom of their sland'rous speech!
Their place shall know them not again. Their day is done.
They're swallowed up in River Styx or swirls of Charbydis.

-o-

Sometimes a darkened scene was silhouetted 'gainst the sky
Upon a sort of Hill of Calvary: Our Franklin shown
Upon a Cross. But ev'ry time, his genius and voice
Of radiance would cut him down, and he'd go on again
With added militancy in his moves of rhythmic Pow'r.

-o-

So shall he work unto the end---a happy end for ALL.
Throughout, he's matchlessly HUMANE! But this, above all else:
He is the seasoned, true and ample measure of a MAN!
Our hats are off to Roosevelt---and to Old Glory's Flag!
Election's o'er! We're now ONE HUNDRED THIRTY MILLION STRONG!

MEMO FOR MR.

My dear Congressman:

Thank you very much for your courtesy in sending us the letter from Mr. Alexander Hudgins of Blackstone, Virginia. I am returning it herewith for your files.

The President will be glad if you will convey to Mr. Hudgins his sincere appreciation for his thoughtfulness in wishing to send him the interesting cane. However, in view of the fact that he is quite accustomed to his own cane and furthermore it is exactly the right height for him which Mr. Hudgins' cane may not be, the President does not feel that he can avail himself of this very kind offer.

Your good offices in this matter are very much appreciated.

Sincerely yours,

M. H. McINTYRE

Subject: The Merits and Scope of Surplus Money Taxation

Dear Mr. President -

As an earnest student of progressive economics you will be interested in the enclosed publication entitled, "The Capitalistic System and the Nature of Unemployment", by Alfred Alsaker.

This work approaches impartially and scientifically the problems your administration is now confronted with. On many occasions in your radio addresses you have made it clear that all constructive ideas dealing with our fundamental economic problems - particularly unemployment - will be welcome and given all due consideration. This book was not written by an economist but by a practical engineering executive who had for many years been vitally interested in the economic causes underlying our great social problems. The book itself is the result of five years of careful analysis, using a new dynamic method devised by the author which avoids the pitfalls of conclusions based on dead statistical information.

Undoubtedly the subject of corporate surplus taxation will be of particular concern during the coming session of Congress. Few economists agree that the present legislation has any direct connection with the elimination of unemployment - yet this was its primary purpose, as is now being demonstrated. The author has shown that this principle has much wider application and in fact contains a lasting solution for unemployment and other evils of an uncontrolled and avoidable business cycle.

The author has, by logical methods of analysis, shown how and why the surplus tax should be extended to the individual and geared automatically to eliminate existing unemployment. This solution simplifies and predetermines the planning and avoids the necessity for a detailed supervision of the intricate processes of production and distribution.

The author had planned to send you a copy of the book but unfortunately met death in a traffic accident shortly before its recent private publication. The writer was associated with the author in preparing the manuscript and feels it an honor and a duty to carry out the author's wishes in presenting you with this copy. It is hoped you will find it possible to give the book the consideration which many now feel it deserves.

Respectfully yours,

W. O. Hampton
