President Franklin D. Roosevelt
Washington, D.C.,

Our dear Mr. President:

We are sending you this letter, and after it will come a magazine named, "Around the Room". It is published by the pupils of Room 304, Grade Five, Keberle School. We hope that you will enjoy it. We publish this magazine every month. All the work is done by the pupils who average ten years of age. Since the flood we are going to have a combined number, February and March. If you would like to have it, we would be glad to send it to you, also.

We are sending you this magazine because you had a birthday in January. This is our January issue as well as a birthday message to you. We intended to write to you for your birthday, but the flood held us back. Our schools were closed for two weeks. Then we had half-day sessions for two weeks and a half.

Please accept our best wishes for many more happy birthdays.

Yours faithfully,
The Pupils of Room 301

My Dear President:

I am taking this privelege of writing you after reading in the daily papers the good things about you and listening patiently to you talks over the radio I decided that I would draw a picture of you. My personal opinion is to me one of our best Presidents the nation has ever known. Still I am quite young in age I am only thirteen and attend the Wendell Phillips High School in the eight grade. And my ambition is to complete the study of Art. I am mailing you today a copy of your photograph for your approval. May I make this request to you. That you furnish this copy to the news press, just as is.
Thanking you in advance. Yours for higher achievements.

Dear Mr.Roosevelt:

I am mailing you today a box of Camellia-Japonica blooms which we consider the aristocrats of the flower kingdom-and going to the aristocrat of the political kingdom.Hope they reach you in good condition.

Believe it or not they have been blooming right out in the open for over two months without protection of any kind or greenhouse.The season is just about ended and the blooms may shatter soon,but in the middle of the season the blooms last for two weeks if kept in water.

Kindest personal regards and a thousand good wishes.

Dear Mr. President;

Under separate cover I am sending you with my compliments a copy of "Outposts Of History In Orange County", which I am certain you will find highly interesting and from which I hope you will recieve a great deal of pleasure in the reading.

Knowing that you are of Orange County origin and that anything pertaining to Orange County holds your interest I am sure that the book will come up to your expectations and feel that our Historian Mr. Dwight Akers deserves great credit.

In short this book is true history that reads like fiction plus stories of your home County. It might be of interest to you to know that this book was not published under high pressure methods but on a hand fed press and in a limited edition of five-hundred (500) copies.

From a loyal Democrat.

Dear Sir:

Your letter just to hand. I had hoped my book would reach The President before he left for his Warm Springs trip--but I am afraid it did not. Read this letter to him,wont you?

Wont you see that he gets it on his return, so he can take it on his fishing trip? But before giving it to him will you please correct the word follower--I have a faint fear that I spelled it 'follerer'. No matter how I spelled it I am an ardent follower of his, and as a voter I approve of his plan whereby he will stand a fair chance of cooperation from The S. C. He will carry us through this time of strife I know, but we all have to work with him.

I would rather see compulsory retirement of The Justices at Seventy rather than new members added. That law made if possible so it could not be repealed, except by the people. That would give President Roosevelt the reappointment of six new Justices (wouldn't it) it would be all right to let him do that with the approval of the House and Senate, for we are perfectly safe in his brilliant hands. But a thought should be given to the future.

If President Roosevelt enjoys my novel "The White Cowl" wont you ask him to write me a line saying a good word and let me use it? I hope to have other notable's praise to add to it.

Please tell him I think he is doing wonderful work for this great country of ours.

Yours truly.

March 24,1937

His Excellency, The President;
The Little White House;
Warm S prings, Georgia;

Dear Mr. Roosevelt;

We had so hoped and prayed that you might be able to come by to see us on this trip. For many weeks we looked forward to the time. We are still hoping for another day.

THe "Treasure Album" which you will receive with this letter, was made up specially for you, Our President. The Album came off the press last August, but friends thought it best for me to delay sending you one. I had been appointed to hand this copy to you in person,when you thought the chance good to come by our way.But it may be that by sending it on to you now, you will become so eager to visit our historic old capital, that next fall a special day will be provided for you to come over from Warm Springs. We are just living for that day.

So, this copy, bound specially for you, is in your hands. It takes with it, from us to you, all the appreciation and admiration that we hold in our hearts for you. Let it speak for us, and we know you will decide that you cannot afford NOT to come to see us this fall.

Is it too much to ask that " The Album" receive a letter from YOU, sent to its editor?

You are used to seeing many flags waving, but you have YET to see our White-Way posts decorated with Old Glory. You have that to live for, Mr. President. We got them specially for you r visit. We will use them when you come in the fall.

With all the best wishes in the world for you, your family, and our United States. We are behind you down in Georgia.

Yours Appreciatively,

Nelle Womack Hines

Dear Mr. President:

I intended having some fruit awaiting your arrival at Warm Springs but some National Emergency Council work keeping me at the State Capitol prevented and I am only able to send it today, to reach you Monday.

May I ask that you give instructions that this fruit, particularly the oranges, be served to you between meals, or whenever you would like it. These particular oranges are of such excellent flavor that I am anxious for you to know when you get the juice from this lot. These are seedless and I am sure you would enjoy the orange meat, have the orange peeled as you would an apple and cut it in half cross grain, and then eat it as you would an apple. After eating two or three of these at one sitting you will probably want a wash-bowl.

It is good to know that you are so nearby, so close to us, and hope that your stay there will be a real rest stay.

Respectfully,
Walter Hawkins

Here & There

Remember, friend, we are counting on your support in every way for our hearing May 11 before the Federal Communications Commission, Washington, D. C., when we shall apply for authorization to purchase and install a new 5,000-watt transmitter and to use half time.

The Lutheran Laymen's League has definitely announced that the Lutheran Hour will be resumed in the fall.

There has been an unavoidable delay in mailing the Letter Week souvenirs; we hope to receive them soon from the manufacturer.

The time of our Sunday afternoon programs from April 25 until the end of June will be: 3.30, Shut-in Hour; 4, German Program.

Dr. Arthur Carl Piepkorn, who conducted the feature "Salute to the Morning" at 7.30 A. M. daily, except Sunday, during the first half of April is now serving a congregation in Cleveland, O.

How do you like the five new features which we have inaugurated at 7.30 A. M.? Beginning May 1, the Rev. H. F. Gerecke, author of "Moments of Comfort," Friday, 3 P. M., will also broadcast "The Family Altar" at 3.30 P. M. on the same day.

If a coin-card, a subscription blank, and a self-addressed envelope are enclosed with your copy of our radio bulletin, it means that your subscription has expired. We trust you will renew it immediately. All donations above the regular subscription price will be gratefully received. Or perhaps you want to subscribe not only for yourself, but also for a friend.

Excerpts from fan mail: Butler, Wisconsin: "KFUO is a missionary agency for future members of the church." — Chaffee, Mo.: "KFUO is of personal benefit to me; I also use it as a method of approach to the unchurched and other prospects." — Kirkwood, Mo.: "I am not a member of your Church, but I surely enjoy the messages given over your station. The depth of spirituality in many of them is very impressive and helpful." — Red Bud, Ill.: "I want to write and tell you about your wonderful broadcasts. KFUO has brought religion into homes which never knew the wonders and blessings of our Lord and Master, here in our vicinity. The Morning Meditation gives us all the blessing for the day and renews our spirit for the day's toil." — St. Louis, Mo.: "I am happy to tell you that your devotional radio service, especially the German, was greatly enjoyed and appreciated by my sister's mother-in-law, who lived in a little Ohio town. The little old mother was a member of the Reformed Church, but received strength and courage for seven long years of invalidism from your service. She has now gone to her reward. The reception was good, for my sister often wrote about the patient's having heard the daylight program." — East St. Louis, Ill.: "I wish to express my appreciation of the programs you are broadcasting daily, both sermon and music. It would please me greatly if you had more time on the air at hours when I can listen to them. It is especially gratifying to hear sound Gospel-messages so clearly broadcast. Many of our people are glad to hear them." — St. Charles, Mo.: "I enjoy your interesting programs very much. They give me such comfort. I listen to KFUO in the morning, at noon, and sometimes in the evening. I can't do any work, but sit at my radio and enjoy the music and the preaching. Your poems are very beautiful and sweet. By means of your programs I can go all through the day without worrying." — Maplewood, Mo.: "On my visits to the unchurched in the interest of our mission society I frequently call attention to your broadcasts. Many non-Lutherans have told me that they tune in." — Clayton, Ill.: "I know you have many listeners from other church denominations around here." — Mount Olive, Ill.: "The angel of the Lord called my mother home a year ago last June; she greatly appreciated your services. Prayer for Guidance Answered

For several years an optician had in his show-window a printed card, about 11 by 21 inches, bearing a Scripture-message. One day an esteemed business friend engaged him in earnest conversation, trying to persuade him that such a card was incongruous in a business house and would repel people. He mentioned the names of half a dozen Christian business men whom he asked him to consult as to the advisability of his scheme. At an early date the optician interviewed one of them. His reply was that he had no advice to give; that it was a matter to be decided by the individual for himself. The next person visited was the cashier of a national bank. In answer to his inquiry the cashier said: "You have asked my advice. I will tell you frankly that I do not care much for the plan. You do not need to put up a card to let people know about your Christianity. Your way of dealing shows that. My opinion is that your action will be misconstrued and that such a card will do more harm than good."

As the optician returned to his store with a heavy heart, he thought it would be best to displace the card; but before doing so, he finally decided, he would consult the Lord. Although in the past he had only seldom heard any comment regarding the card, yet within an hour from his interview with his friend

Farm Power News

Have you ever thought of the farmer as an investor? He is one of our greatest investors. He invests in land, buildings, animals, equipment, and services. On the whole, these are pretty shrewd investments because the farmer usually succeeds in making them pay.

Electricity on the farm is one of the investments he must make. And as such it must stand the same tests as any other investment. It must win or lose on merit. So let us for a minute analyze the investment for electricity by examining the returns.

For example, take a few common farm jobs on which electricity is used. Our figures are average; they probably show some variation from district to district. Here are some of them.

A can of milk can be cooled for three cents. Five to ten cows may be milked for one cent. One hotbed sash may be electrically heated for $1.00 per season. 100 baby chicks may be brooded for $3.00. Light may be used on 100 laying hens for 1 cent per day. A thousand gallons of water may be pumped for a nickel.

These are some of the things that power will do. Compare them with other methods. And we cannot forget the improvement in the resulting products because of electricity. For instance, the milk will always be properly cooled. One man with a machine can milk twice as many cows as he could before. The plants in the hotbed will be stronger, and they will be earlier. The brooder is fully automatic. There is no fire hazard, and the percentage of healthy chicks is greater. And with electricity the water-supply is automatic and under pressure.

Few of us would care to work for the same wages that electricity receives for doing this work. We cannot afford to take time from more profitable jobs to do the things that electricity does so cheaply.

But look at another side of this investment. You are buying for the farmer's wife relief from tiresome drudgery, which wastes energy and health. You are purchasing the most dependable help that you can find. You are assured of a better product, which means that you can get the best possible market price. You make your home brighter, more cheerful. And you buy additional happiness for yourself and your family.

It seems to me that electricity as an investment stacks up pretty well with the rest of them. It is a sound investment.

Mail Early and Often

The advantages of early mailing were interestingly set forth recently by Postmaster W. Rufus Jackson of St. Louis, who initiated a Mail Early and Often Campaign. He stated that the vastly increasing volume of mail received and dispatched by the St. Louis post-office, with the steady upward trend of business, is producing a peak of mailings between the hours of 5 and 7 P. M. This peak can be leveled out only by earlier and more frequent deposits by mailers.

It is pointed out that during the twenty-four hours of each working-day there are approximately ninety mail trains leaving St. Louis. Thirty-nine of these trains leave between the hours of 8.55 A. M. and 6.15 P. M. and twenty-six between 7.10 P. M. and 2 A. M. A survey recently conducted indicates that approximately 77 per cent. of all mail dispatched reaches the post-office after 5 P. M. The limited time between the hours of 5 and 7 P. M. makes it impossible for the post-office to work up this great volume of mail for early dispatch. By depositing mail several hours earlier, a gain in delivery time at destination point of from eight to twenty-four hours may be effected.

A Strange Experience of One of Our Missionaries with a Jewish Rabbi

Concluding a service over the radio, I was called to the telephone and heard the voice of a man with a pronounced Jewish accent, who introduced himself as a Jewish Rabbi and said that he had enjoyed the sermon very much. He requested a meeting with me. The meeting was arranged, and he promptly appeared at the designated place of meeting, my parsonage. Upon entering the parsonage, he again stated that he had been much impressed with the sermon. He added: "That's the kind of sermon that will convert people." When I quickly responded: "And should this sermon concerning the Messiah not mean something to you?" he said: "I'm a Jew, seventy years old. The Jewish religion is part of my flesh and blood. But such a sermon as you preached will convert others." It was sad. For a while it appeared as though this man had been drawn to Christ, and perhaps he had been. God has His chosen and elect children also among the Jews, and it is possible that this man was not far from the kingdom of God when he listened to the Gospel which came to him over the radio. A long discussion followed on the Messianic prophecies of the Old Testament. The Rabbi confessed that Ps. 22 and Is. 53 are chapters which seem to point to Christ; but he would not admit that they have actually found their fulfilment in Him. In spite of the examples of the fulfilment of the Messianic prophecies in the Savior Jesus Christ which I cited, he tenaciously clung to the rabbinical teaching that the Messiah has not yet appeared. When this hope was shown to be vain in the light of passages such as Gen. 49, 10, he simply ignored the argument. The situation was unspeakably sad. He had confessed that the Gospel of Christ had made an impression upon him; but when it was presented to him in all its glory, it proved to be a stumbling-block to him.

But sad as the incident may be, it is also a cause for rejoicing. The very fact that a Jewish Rabbi intently listened to the Gospel of Christ, was moved to seek further information concerning the Christian faith, and then was urged to read the New Testament, where he may find Him of whom Moses and the prophets have testified, assuredly is cause for rejoicing. That is our real joy — to gain a hearing among Jews and Gentiles when we preach Christ, and Him crucified. This is our real joy; for we know that the Word of the Lord shall not return unto Him void, but shall accomplish that which He pleases and shall prosper in the thing whereunto He sent it.

Donations

Were the whole realm of nature mine,
That were a tribute far too small;
Love so amazing, so divine,
Demands my soul, my life, my all.
WATTS

From March 23 to April 16, inclusive, donations totaling $1,812.62 were received at the KFUO office. Heartiest thanks to every contributor! May the Lord graciously bless you for your gifts!

Donations of $5 or more are regarded as memberships in the KFUO League. The various memberships are: Patron, $5; Associate, $10; Sustaining, $25; Promotional, $50; Special, $100 or more. All members of the KFUO League receive a membership card, a year's subscription to the GOSPEL VOICE, and the annual report on the work of KFUO. All donations less than $5 are of course also appreciated very much.

From March 23 to April 16, inclusive, KFUO received $2,653 in Memorial Wreaths and bequests. KFUO furnishes attractive Memorial Wreath cards to persons who intend to donate in this manner.

in the bank, and while he was engaged with a patron, an assistant came to him, saying that a gentleman wished to see him about the Scripture card in the window. Going towards the front of the store, he was met by a man who proved to be a wide-awake drummer from a New York firm with a French name and in a line of business foreign to his own. He said earnestly, "You are a busy man, and I am a busy man, but I just want to shake hands with the man who has the nerve to put that card up in the window." He added a few words as to the possibilities of good in such a card. The optician said: "Well, that is wonderful," relating the fact of his several conversations. He replied: "Don't let anybody tell you to take that down."

The optician was awed by the character and timeliness of the message, and the card has remained in its place to this day.

Do you know that bequests toward KFUO are like rivers of water which flow along after we are dead and gone?

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt,

Dear Mr. President:

It was most kind of you to have Mr. McIntyre telephone me at the Cosmos Club your words of friendly greeting when I was in Washington last week attending the Chamber of Commerce Convention.

Most assuredly I hope that you have returned bronzed and refreshed from your fishing in the Gulf, ready for the great tasks that are before you.

Under another cover I am sending you a little Memory Book of Agnes True Houston that has just come from the press. I was so glad to have it contain your message of comfort and appreciation. The little book is full of a deep spirit of friendship that found expression in all parts of the world.

I have just booked passage for June 11th to go to the International Chamber of Commerce Convention in Berlin. Our mutual friend, Tom Watson, has appointed me Chairman of the News and Radio Committee and I have arranged a great international broadcast for June 28th, the opening day of the Berlin convention. The subject I have selected for the broadcast is "World Peace Through World Trade" and I hope it will tend to further the great economic policies that you and Secretary Hull have done so much to advance.

With my warmest regards, believe me to be

Yours faithfully,

My dear Mr. Kartzke:

Your letter of May fourteenth has been received. The President is very glad indeed to have the books, and asks if you will not be good enough to convey to Professor Haertl his sincere appreciation.

The President thanks you for your courtesy in the matter.

Very sincerely yours,

To the President of the United States

Dear Mr. President:-

Professor Haertl of Kissingen has asked me to present you with the two books:

" Pelzjaeger, Praerien und Praesidenten "
"Was ich bei den Olympischen Spielen 1936 sah".

As I had to leave for Germany sooner than I expected, I cannot bring them to the White House personally. I therefore beg to send them to you by separate mail.

Yours very sincerely,

Georg Kartzke

May 25, 1937

My dear Mr. McIntyre:

Reference is made to your memorandum of May 17, 1937, forwarding a letter addressed to the President by Mr. E. Marshall Hardy, Editor of the magazine Angling, together with a copy of that magazine.

In view of informal advice from the White House that the President accepted the previous issues of this magazine sent to him in December of last year by Mr. Hardy, the Consular Officer in charge at London has been requested to acknowledge the receipt of the communication and its enclosure, and to advise Mr. Hardy that the President is unable to comply with the request for a message, as to do so would be contrary to his established practice.

I am enclosing the publication in question as well as a copy of Mr. Hardy's letter as enclosures to this letter.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. President,

In England as in America, those editors who will have the best for their readers must work for it.

It was my pleasure to write you on the 29th December last year. At that time I sent you two copies of this journal. I now give myself the pleasure of sending you the third and renewing my earnest request that you will write a short message to British Anglers.

I was honoured recently to meet your Ambassador in London and he would tell you of the goodwill which exists towards the United States among the business men with whom he found himself on that occasion. I tell you now of the goodwill which exists mongst anglers in the United Kingdom. They call themselves "Brethren of the Rod". Will you address a few words of greeting to them please?

Thanking you sincerely in anticipation.

Gentlemen:

The President asks me to express his cordial thanks to you for those fine cotton suits which you presented to him through the courtesy of Congressman Fulmer. He deeply appreciates the friendly thought which prompted your act.

I need hardly say that these suits can be accepted only with the understanding that there will be no publicity in connection with their presentation.

Very sincerely yours,

My dear Mr. McIntyre:

I am this day forwarding to you three beautiful cotton suits manufactured by Haspel Bros., Inc., New Orleans, La., and given by them to President Roosevelt, which I trust the President will enjoy wearing this summer.

also In acknowledging receipt of these suits to Haspel Bros., I would be very glad if you will send a copy of your letter to Mr. Harold C. Booker, Jr., Columbia, S.C., because of his interest in the new uses of cotton.

If for any reason they do not fit, please return same to my Office with information.

With best wishes, I am

Yours very sincerely,
