The President
The White House
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. President:

In a recent issue of Life magazine there appeared a picture of your desk. From this photograph it seems that you use ordinary safety matches. Inferring from your pictures that you are a somewhat more than occasional smoker and realizing how invaluable your time is, I am taking the liberty of forewarding to you a little idea that I have found most useful.

Being a country doctor and constantly on the go, I was forever having trouble in keeping up with my matches. Often, after fishing through all my pockets, I'd find that no matches were at hand. One day it occurred to me that by fastening a paper pad of matches to each pack of cigarettes with scotch tape my match troubles would be solved. Since there are 20 matches to a pad it usually works out fine. Only by using this device a few days can one appreciate what a convenience it really is.

The attached package contains 3 packs of cigarettes (I hope one is your brand) with taped on pads of matches. There is also a small supply of scotch tape and a few extra pads of matches in the event that you use a brand of cigarettes other than those enclosed. If the cellophane jacket is left on after the pack is opened it is a good idea to apply an additional strip of tape over the end from front to back to keep the jacket from slipping off (one pack is fixed this way as an illustration).

I hope that this tiny time-saver will prove of some service to you in these troubled days when so many of the world's problems are resting on your shoulders.

Respectfully yours,

Jesse Bruce Hopkins

My dear Mr. President:

I am taking the liberty of sending you under another cover a copy of THEY WERE EXPENDABLE by W. L. White, which we shall publish on September 14th. This is the story of Bulkeley, Kelly, Akers, and Cox, four surviving officers of the Motor Torpedo Boat Squadron which took General MacArthur out of Bataan. It is a stirring document and I believe an important one, and I venture to hope that you will be glad to have this early copy.

Dear Mr. President:

I am taking the liberty of mailing to you a copy of the book "The Coming Battle of Germany" by William B. Ziff because I feel that it is so full of stimulating ideas that if you find the time to read it I am sure you will feel that you have found something that is worth your trouble.

It is unlikely that you will agree with all of the thoughts he expresses. I am sure that I did not. However, there are so many sound ideas advanced, that the book is well worth reading.

I fully realize how terribly busy you are; however, I wanted to take the opportunity of bringing to your attention a copy of the September issue of "What's New in Home Economics", in which we are launching a twelve months National Food and Nutrition Program, starting on page 33, in the interests of the United States' government nutrition program.

On page 33, you will note a letter from Dr. M. L. Wilson. For the past year, we have been working to develop this program so as to run it as cooperative measure in further being of service to our government and in further cooperating with Director Mc Nutt of the Federal Security Agency; Dr. M. L. Wilson, Assistant Director in charge of Nutrition; and Dr. Gunderson, Executive Secretary of the National Research Council.

On page 53, you will note the Calendar Order of the Government Food Groups of the Month, as we will treat them in a Nutrition Section each month.

We are mighty proud to have the opportunity of being of service to you as our commander-in-chief, and you may be assured that we will do everything in our power to cooperate with the government's desires and needs in helping to direct the activities of the home economists of America in the excellent work they are doing with the American homemakers in a combined effort to win the war on the home front.

Please accept my congratulations on the fine progress you are making in our national war effort, which in the end will assure a permanent world peace.

Dear Mr. President!

By same mail I am sending you a terra cotta donkey, which I made a while ago. I named him „Theodore" - but you can give him any other name you like. I hope you will enjoy him.

For the last 15 years I have been creating and teaching pottery - during the past 6 years I have studied sculpture seriously. But now, I feel, there are more important things to do.

So I shall give up my artwork for the duration and instead try to get a job in the war industry. We should all work hard and help win this war as quickly as possible.

Your Excellency,

Captain Pollard of the Coast Guard Cutter NORTHLAND has very graciously agreed to take you a small gift from us of Scoresby Sound, East Greenland. We are sending you some musk ox meat. This animal is peculiar to far northerly climates, and while it may taste different from the beef of your country, we hope that itwill not compare unfavorably and that you and your family may enjoy a few meals from it.

The NORTHLAND came to us yesterday with our year's provisions. The ice conditions have been such this year that we had lost hope of seeing our supplies, and to see this ship from your country come to us removed the shadow of severe privation from our village. For this kind and daring action we thank you, Captain Pollard, The NORTHLAND, and the people of your country.

Please accept this gift as expressive of our appreciation and our continued hopes for your success in the mighty job you are facing.

Wrote to the President recalling their recent conversation re Wisconsin cheese. -- Stated when he got back to the capitol he discussed with his Dept. of Agriculture expert the different varieties of cheese that are produced in the State of Wisconsin. Stated they produce 25 varieties, and starting this week are going to send President different variety once a week for 25 weeks, and that he might select whatever would like to have sent in the future. Attached is letter of Oct. 1, from A. T. Bruhn, Dairy Division, Dept. of Agriculture, Madison, Wisc., to the Chef of the White House stating he is sending the cheese as per the Governor's instructions and would appreciate it if the Chef would send his name with proper shipping instructions so that in the future may address it in a more formal way. --- Oct. 7, Miss Tully wrote to Mr. Bruhn suggesting that in future he address the cheese to Mr. Frank J. Murray, 2117 E St. N.W., Washington, D.C., to insure direct delivery. --- The President wrote to Governor Heil, Oct. 7, thanking for the cheese, also saying, "It was a great pleasure to have seen you on my recent trip and this note takes to you my grateful thanks and every best wish."

Dear Mrs. President,-

I am sending you a small picture of the boats we are building for our Government at Alexandria Bay N.Y. Hutchenson Boat Works. I was born and raised where this boat yard is to-day, as my Dad owned it at one time, so its home to me. In the first world war I worked in the Clayton ship yard, at that time we built sub-marine chasers. Thought perhaps you would like to have some idea of what we are doing down on the St. Lawrence

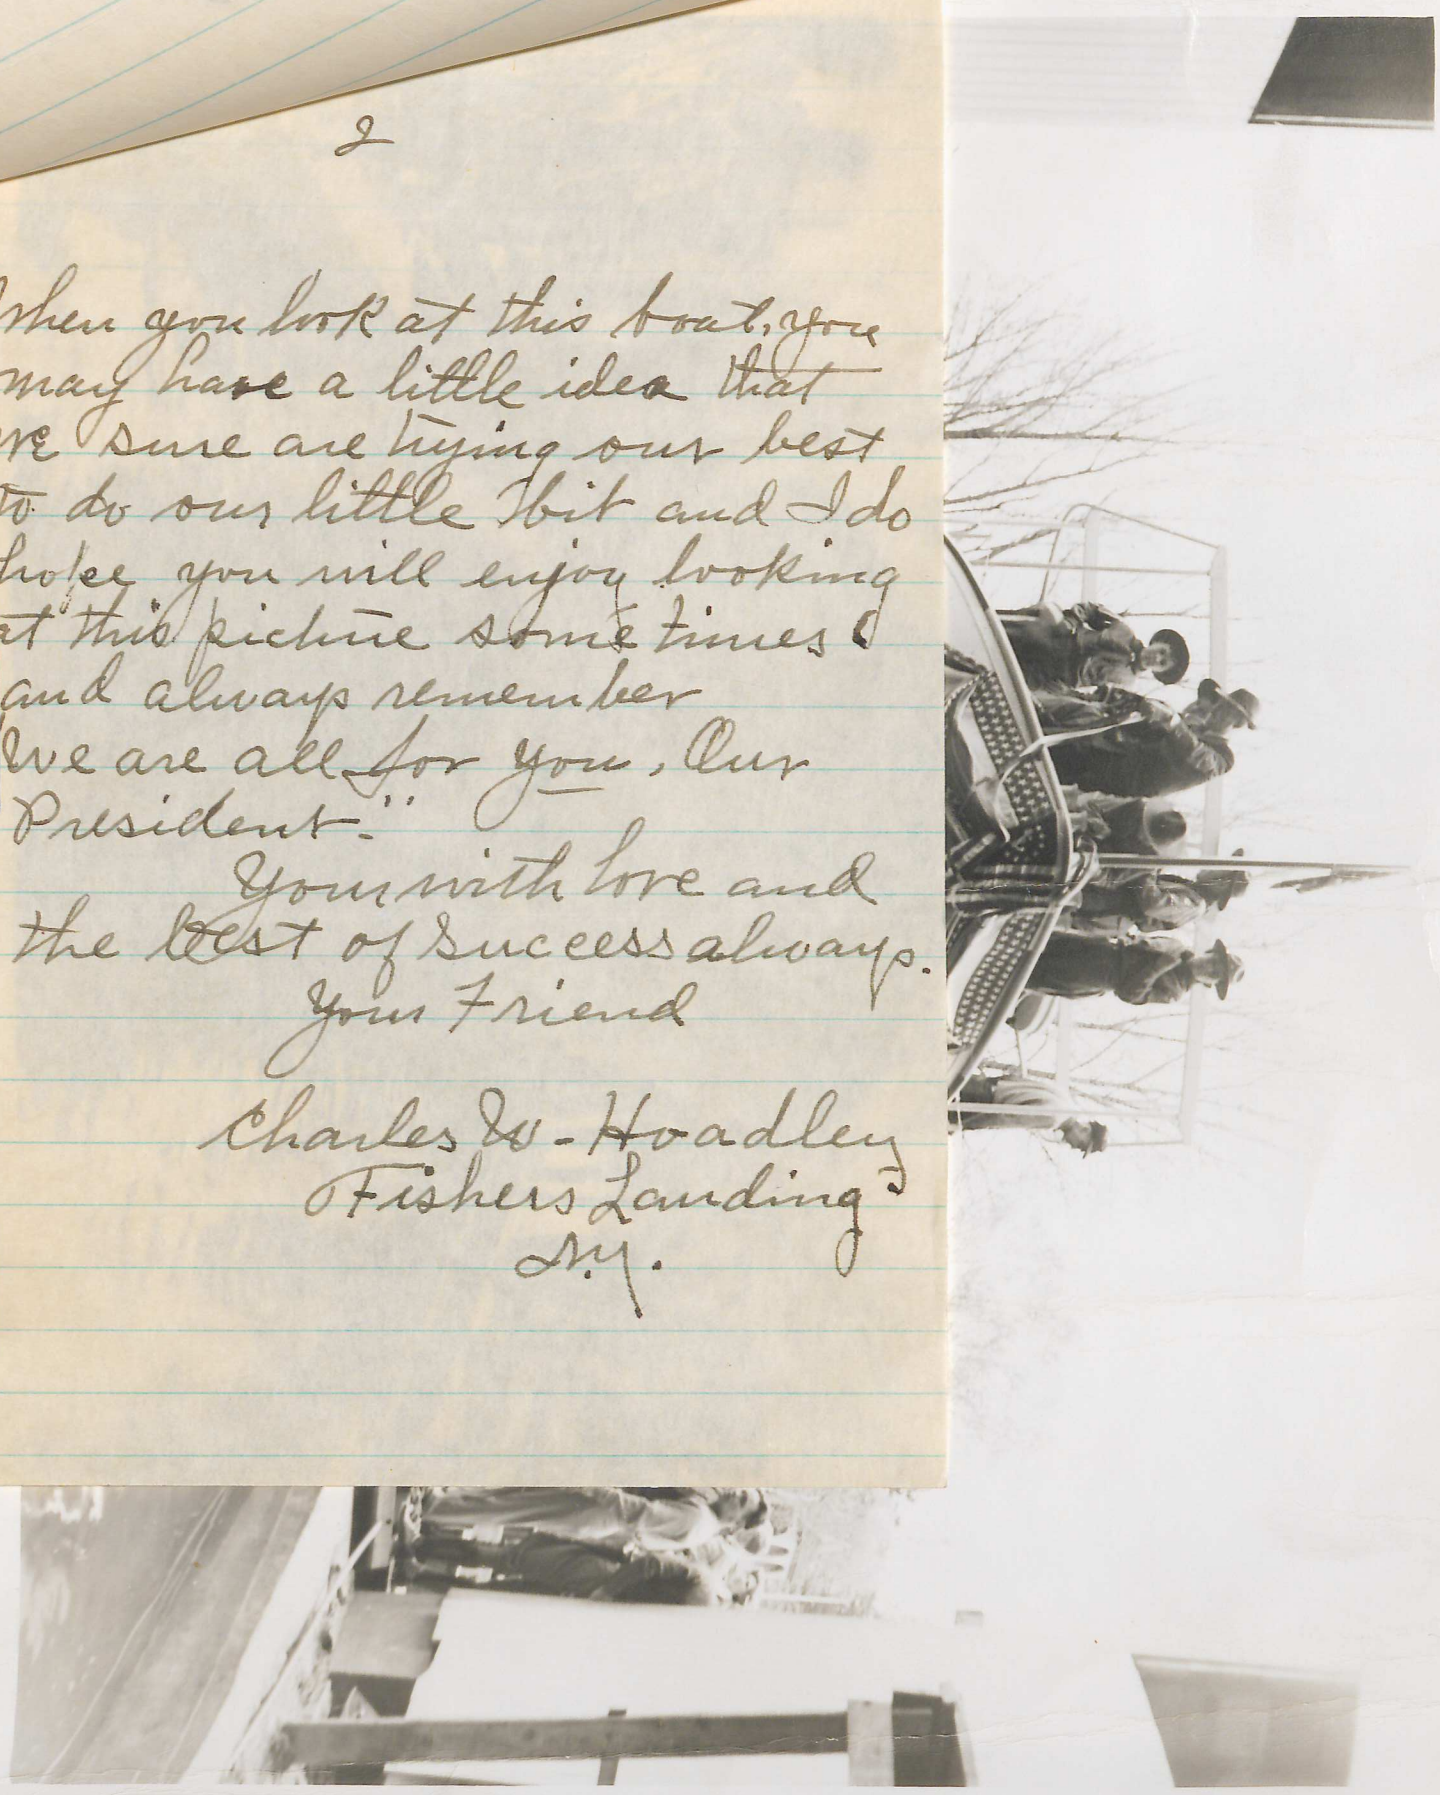

When you look at this boat, you may have a little idea that we sure are trying our best to do our little bit and I do hope you will enjoy looking at this picture sometimes and always remember "We are all for you, Our President."

Yours with love and the best of success always.

Foreword

Twenty-three years ago I started compiling "Brace Up Thoughts". They have met with such a warm reception that I feel encouraged to continue.

In this time of world-wide upheaval only the prayer of faith, backed with deeds, can make us win the victory over greed, selfishness and hatred. We must all come to the realization that "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble".

May these thoughts bring fresh hope and courage to my friends in near and distant places.

EMILY V. HAMMOND

O LITTLE TOWN OF BETHLEHEM

How silently, how silently,
The wondrous gift is given!
So God imparts to human hearts
The blessings of His Heaven.
No ear may hear His coming,
But in this world of sin,
Where meek souls will receive Him, still
The dear Christ enters in.

O Holy Child of Bethlehem!
Descend to us, we pray;
Cast out our sin and enter in,
Be born to us to-day.
We hear the Christmas angels
The great glad tidings tell;
O come to us, abide with us,
Our Lord Emmanuel! Amen.

Phillips Brooks

If I stoop into a dark tremendous sea of cloud,
It is but for a time; I press God's lamp
Close to my breast; its splendor, soon or late
Will pierce the gloom; I shall emerge one day.

HIGH FLIGHT

Oh! I have slipped the surly bonds of earth
And danced the skies on laughter-silvered wings;
Sunward I've climbed, and joined the tumbling mirth
Of sun-split clouds — and done a hundred things
You have not dreamed of — wheeled and soared and swung
High in the sunlit silence. Hov'ring there,
I've chased the shouting wind along, and flung
My eager craft through footless halls of air.

Up, up the long, delirious, burning blue
I've topped the wind-swept heights with easy grace
Where never lark, or even eagle flew—
And, while with silent lifting mind I've trod
The high untrespassed sanctity of space,
Put out my hand and touched the face of God.

John G. Magee, Jr.

Go forth to meet Him bravely
The New Year all untried
The things the Old Year left with us,
Faith, Hope, and Love, abide.

Anon.

PRAYER FOR THE MEN IN THE AIR FORCE

Almighty God, Who makest the clouds Thy chariot and walkest upon the wings of the wind; have mercy, we beseech Thee, on our Airmen, and when they are amidst the clouds and wonders of the sky, give unto them the assurance of Thy protection, that they may do their duty with prudence and with fearlessness, confident that in life or in death the eternal God is their refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

From the Scottish Prayer Book

KEEP ON THE BEAM

Today most commercial flying is done on a radio beam. A directional beam is produced to guide the pilot to his destination, and as long as he keeps on this beam he knows that he is safe, even if he cannot see around him for fog, or get his bearings in any other way.

As soon as he gets off the beam in any direction he is in danger, and he immediately tries to get back on to the beam once more.

Those who believe in the All-ness of God, have a spiritual beam upon which to navigate on the voyage of life.

As long as you have peace of mind and some sense of the Presence of God you are on the beam, and you are safe, even if outer things seem to be confused or even very dark; but as soon as you get off the beam you are in danger.

You are off the beam the moment you are angry or resentful or jealous or frightened or depressed; and when such a condition arises you should immediately get back on the beam by turning quietly to God in thought, claiming His Presence, claiming that His Love and Intelligence are with you, and that the promises in the Bible are true today. If you do this you are back on the beam, even if outer conditions and your own feelings do not change immediately. You are back on the beam and you will reach port in safety.

Keep on the beam and nothing shall by any means hurt you.

Emmet Fox

It is a comfort to realize that we are now living in eternity and that but a thin veil separates the seen from the unseen. Death is not a finality but only a bridge over which we must each pass until we reach the understanding that life is without beginning and without end.

E. V. H.

For I dipt into the future, far as human eye could see,
Saw the vision of the world, and all the wonder that would be;

Saw the heavens filled with commerce, argosies of magic sails,
Pilots of the purple twilight, dropping down with costly bales;

Heard the heavens fill with shouting, and there rained a ghastly dew
From the nations' airy navies grappling in the central blue;

Far along the world-wide whisper of the south wind rushing warm,
With the standards of the people plunging thro' the thunder-storm:

Till the war-drum throbb'd no longer, and the battle-flags were furled
In the Parliament of man, the Federation of the world.

There the common-sense of most shall hold a fretful realm in awe,
And the kindly earth shall slumber, lapt in universal law.

From "Locksley Hall"
by Alfred Tennyson

It is impossible to govern the world without God. He must be worse than an infidel that lacks faith, and more than wicked that has not gratitude enough to acknowledge his obligation.

Providence has at times been my only dependence, for all other resources seemed to have failed us.

To persevere in one's duty and be silent is the best answer to calumny.

George Washington

Washington, the brave, the wise, the good,
Supreme in war, in council, and in peace.
Valiant without ambition, discreet without fear, confident without assumption.
In disaster calm; in success moderate; in all, himself.
The hero, the patriot, the Christian.
The father of nations, the friend of mankind,
Who, when he had won all, renounced all, and sought in the bosom of his family and of nature, retirement, and in the hope of religion, immortality.

Inscription on George Washington's tomb at Mount Vernon

With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan — to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations.

From Abraham Lincoln's Second Inaugural Address, March 4, 1865

America must awaken to the fact that through this war we are entering not merely a new, but a world age. Its greatest need is incorruptible and courageous manhood with clear vision and the spirit of sacrifice. Laws and political devices will not solve our present problems nor create a new order of society acceptable to God. These will be accomplished only by the release of spiritual forces through men of moral high-mindedness and that patriotism which breathes an unselfish devotion to the public good.

George Paull T. Sargent

He who cannot forgive others breaks the bridge over which he himself must pass.

Anon.

Today, as America faces her supreme test, we need a burning conviction in the hearts of our people — a way of life more dynamic and compelling than the "isms". Our ancestors were courageous men with simple virtues who built this nation on the foundations of their faith in God, their love of the land, their loyalty to their homes. We must recapture this spirit if we are to secure total victory.

John W. Bricker,
Governor of Idaho

God give us bases to guard or beleaguer,
Games to play out, whether earnest or fun,
Fights for the fearless and goals for the eager,
Twenty and thirty and forty years on.

From an English School Song

This hour of agony in human history is a challenge to us all to develop that gift of "reach" . . . to open our consciousness wide in order that the new horizons may become real to us. Only then shall confusion vanish, and what we call chaos refashion itself into a beautiful and radiant pattern of living for all mankind.

Angela Morgan

From the murmur and subtlety of suspicion
With which we vex one another
Give us rest.
Make a new beginning
And mingle again the kindred of the nations in
The alchemy of love,
And with some finer essence of forbearance
Temper our mind.

Aristophanes

Love of right will win the war. We are carrying the torch for love and understanding. Freedom is loving your fellowman, and seeing him as a friend in no matter what station.

From Letter of Alfred Wagstaff to his Mother from Lockheed Aircraft Plant

FAITHFUL FUTURE

I have not seen, I may not see
My hopes for man take form in fact,
But God will give the victory
In due time; in that faith I act.
And he who sees the future sure,
The baffling present may endure.

Whittier

TOMORROW AND TOMORROW

Tomorrow and tomorrow
Stretch forward to the sun—
A new day ever dawning
For every day that's done.

And though you stand defeated
When evening sunset dies,
Defeat is never final
As long as suns shall rise.

The dawn of a tomorrow
Is challenge to the mind,
A chance to win to victory
And leave defeat behind.

Tomorrow and tomorrow—
How infinite the way
That lies for just the taking—
Though you have lost today.

Helen Howland Prommel

It makes little difference who wins the war unless Christ wins the peace.

Anon.

When you hear an unpleasant rumor let it come in one ear and go out the other, strictly détouring the mouth.

Anon.

Dear Brothers and Sisters in China: Though a million times I should ask pardon it would not be enough to cover the sins of Japan, which cause me intolerable shame. I ask you to forgive my nation. And there are uncounted numbers of souls in Japan who, like myself, are asking for pardon. I beg you to forgive us, especially because we Christians were not strong enough to restrain the militarists. Forgive us as we work and pray that the day will come when our two nations will be harmonious in the name of Christ.

From Kagawa to his Christian colleagues in China

NO EAST OR WEST

In Christ there is no East or West,
In Him no South or North,
But one great Fellowship of Love
Throughout the whole wide Earth.

In Him shall true hearts everywhere
Their high communion find.
His service is the golden cord
Close-binding all mankind.

Join hands then, Brothers of the Faith,
Whate'er your race may be!
Who serves my Father as a son
Is surely kin to me.

John Oxenham

He liked to like people, therefore people liked him.

From "Joan of Arc"
by Mark Twain

Always do right. This will gratify some people, and astonish the rest.

On Fly Leaf of
"Mark Twain in Eruption"

The calibre of a man is found in his ability to meet disappointment successfully, enriched rather than narrowed by it.

Too many well-intentioned people are so preoccupied with the clatter of effort to do something for God that they don't hear Him asking that He might do something through them.

From "A Testament of Devotion"
by Thomas R. Kelly

This music (Fidelio) tells us that happiness is deeper than unhappiness. There is joy to be had even through grief. In the depths of my heart I know it, and I know that ignorance of this may lead ultimately to defeat.

Bruno Walter

When we sing, through our emotions the door of our understanding is opened to things far beyond the meaning of words. We sing ourselves into the grace of believing; too often we talk ourselves into doubt. So then, let us once in a while be filled with the freedom and the ecstasy of singing. The reward will be great.

David McK. Williams

YOUTH

Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years; people grow old only by deserting their ideals.

Years wrinkle the skin, but to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul.

Worry, doubt, self-distrust, fear and despair—these are the long long years that bow the head and turn the growing spirit back to dust.

Whether seventy or seventeen, there is in every being's heart the love of wonder, the sweet amazement of the stars and the star-like things and thoughts, the undaunted challenge of events, the unfailing childlike appetite for what next, and the joy and the game of life.

S. Ulman

Age is a quality of the mind;
If you have left your dreams behind,
If hope is cold,
If you no longer look ahead
If your ambitious fires are dead
Then you are old.

But if from life you take the best,
And if for life you keep the zest,
If love you hold,
No matter how the years go by,
No matter how the birthdays fly,
You are not old.

From Frontier Nursing Service

Count your garden by the flowers,
Never by the leaves that fall,
Count your days by golden hours,
Don't remember clouds at all.
Count your nights by stars, not shadows,
Count your life with smiles, not tears,
And with joy through all your lifetime,
Count your age by friends, not years.

Dixie Lee

The function of the artist is to shed light into the darkness of men's souls.

Robert Schumann

As we realize our own shortcomings it makes it easier for us to overlook the shortcomings of our friends.

When power goes to the head it produces a dictator; when it goes to the heart it produces spiritual leadership.

It is a good thing to operate well, but the best thing is to cooperate wholeheartedly with no sense of jealousy.

The time has come when all the forces of righteousness must get together to offset the forces of evil which seem so rampant in the world today.

The only way to get rid of inhibitions is to face them fearlessly and overcome them—come over them with courage and persistence. Each victory we gain will strengthen our confidence.

A poet has been defined as the maker of beautiful things. Why cannot each one of us become a poet? We can make the home beautiful by practising the law of kindness, we can make our work beautiful by doing it in a spirit of loving service, and we can make the world beautiful by interpreting people to each other.

E. V. H.

There's Beauty for the seeker and there's Truth,
Though now submerged by hatreds and by lies,—
When resurrected in the hearts of youth
They will the Souls of men immortalize.
Christus the Truth, to know is to be free,
And Beauty dwells in Truth, these two supreme,
In these all knowledge, valiance and power
Far greater than the tyrant's loftiest dream.

* * *

Show true compassion for thy fellow man,
Encourage those who bravely strive and fail,
Give succor to the falterer on his way,
Who finds the going hard along the trail.
Stretch forth the hand to aid the halt and blind,
Let loving thoughts accompany generous dole,
And then will Truth and Beauty dwell in thee,
And fill the vacant spaces of thy soul.

From Poem Dedicated to the Class of

by Floyd W. Jefferson, 1902

Of all the things you wear, the most important is your expression. And you are never really dressed, until you wear a smile.

We cannot all be great leaders, but we can do our part. America has a few leaners who make life hard for themselves and the lifters too. Anybody can be a leaner, but it takes a person with determination, faith, and character to be a lifter.

Lloyd Browder (Berry student)

There is so much beauty, so much love in the world, that everyone must be made to feel it. There is no end to kindness and God's graciousness.

Martha Berry

ON THE DEATH OF AN AGED FRIEND

You are not dead—Life has but set you free!
Your years of life were like a lovely song,
The last sweet poignant note of which,
held long,
Passed into silence while we listened, we
Who loved you, listened still expectantly!
And we about you whom you moved among
Would feel that grief for you were surely wrong—
You have but passed beyond where we can see!

For us who knew you, dread of Age is past!
You took Life, tiptoe, to the very last;
It never lost for you its lovely look,
You kept your interest in its thrilling book;
To you Death came, no conqueror, in the end—
You merely smiled to greet another friend!

Roselle Mercier Montgomery

We can prove the reality of prayer only by praying.

Sherwood Eddy

What life have you if you have not life together?
There is no life that is not in community,
And no community not lived in praise of God.

T. S. Eliot

The praying man must make his venture, scorning all insinuating doubts. He must believe that man is free, that God is coworking. He must cleave to the faith that any good thing is too good to be untrue, and that God will bring it to pass.

Faith is inward truth daring the unknown.

It is a rule that ignorance and indifference see men in the mass, while knowledge and love resolve the mass into remembered friends. The Good Shepherd "calleth his own sheep by name".

The light welds all life, and makes us, though timebound, citizens and friends of the Eternal.

Thank God every morning when you get up that you have something to do that day, which must be done whether you like it or not. Being forced to work, and forced to do your best, will breed in you temperance and self-control, diligence and strength of will, cheerfulness and content, and a hundred virtues which the idle will never know.

Charles Kingsley

Grant us brotherhood, not only for this day but for all our years—a brotherhood not of words, but of acts and deeds. Grant us a common faith that man shall know bread and peace—that he shall know justice and righteousness, freedom and security, an equal opportunity and an equal chance to do his best, not only in our own lands, but throughout the world. And in that faith let us march toward the clean world our hands can make. Amen.

Stephen Benet

A HOME PRAYER

O Lord, grant that each one who has to do with me today may be the happier for it.

Let it be given me each hour today what I shall say, and grant me the wisdom of a loving heart that I may say the right thing rightly.

Help me to enter into the mind of everyone who talks with me, and keep me alive to the feelings of each one present. Give me a quick eye for little kindnesses that I may be ready in doing them and gracious in receiving them. Give me a quick perception of the feelings and needs of others, and make me eager-hearted in helping them. Amen.

From "Prayers, New and Old"

A MORNING PRAYER

The day returns and brings us the petty round of irritating concerns and duties.

Help us to play the man, help us to perform them with laughter and kind faces.

Give us to go blithely on our business all this day, bring us to our resting beds weary and content and undishonored, and grant us in the end, the gift of sleep.

Robert Louis Stevenson

Our Father, anoint us with Thy Spirit, that we shall be truly inspired of Thee. Think through us, speak through us, act through us. But above all give us the gift of common sense and self-control that all things may be done to Thy glory and Thy honor from the greatest that we do unto the least.

Turn our disappointments into Thy appointments. May we create from our very limitations, achievements to do Thee honor. May we turn ashes into roses, turmoil into peace, and patience into joy. Amen.

O God, give us serenity to accept what cannot be changed, courage to change what can be changed, and Thy wisdom to know the one from the other.

Reinhold Niebuhr

Southey, in his Life of Nelson, tells us of a high moment in Lord Nelson's career, how on the morning of October 21, 1805, before the Battle of Trafalgar, Nelson gave the signal to bear down on the enemy. Southey says: "Having seen that all was as it should be, Nelson retired to his cabin and wrote the following prayer:

"May the Great God, Whom I worship, grant to my country and for the benefit of Europe in general, a great and glorious victory, and may no misconduct in any one tarnish it; and may humanity after victory be the predominant feature in the British fleet! For myself individually, I commit my life to Him that made me; and may His blessing alight on my endeavors for serving my country faithfully! To Him I resign myself, and the just cause which is entrusted to me to defend. Amen!"

From "Life of Nelson" by Southey

A PRAYER FOR COURAGE

God, make me brave for life,
Or braver than this!
Let me straighten after pain
As a tree straightens, after the rain,
Shining and lovely again.

God, make me brave for life,
Much braver than this!
As the blown grass lifts let me rise
From sorrow with quiet eyes,
Knowing Thy way is wise.

God, make me brave, Life brings
Such blinding things,
Help me to keep my sight,
Help me to see aright
That out of the dark comes light.

THE GOLDEN GATE

Love is by far the most important thing of all. It is the Golden Gate of Paradise. Pray for the understanding of love, and meditate upon it daily. It casts out fear. It is the fulfilling of the Law. It covers a multitude of sins. Love is absolutely invincible.

Emmet Fox

PRAYER FOR 1942

For us who lie awake all night
Dear Father, set thy stars alight.
Send us whose days are loud with wars
The benediction of the stars.

We are not sure of anything;
Pledge us the safe return of spring.
Despite the booted feet that pass
Let there be flowers in the grass.

Lighten the burden of our grief
With every small uncurling leaf;
Bring back the birds once more, to sing
At twilight for our comforting.

Remind us, Father, that the earth
Finds every spring a green new birth.
Remind us that the living rose
Lay prisoner once beneath the snows.

By Frances Brown
From "The Washington Post"

They that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought. For I the Lord thy God, will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee.

Isaiah 41: 12, 13

God's life never changes; but it changes our life. God's life is fullness, and if we want the fullness of life we must appropriate it by letting it use us. We must give ourselves to it.

Never seek to obtain anything through self-planned contact.

The only contacts worth embracing are those which God plans and executes. Against all others shines a big red light, or the yellow light of caution. I know now that God's light is green, and that when I get this light I have an unerring divine guidance to move. . . . When God does the thing, He does it right. When man does it in the absence of God, he is compelled to labor in competition with opposing forces. Thus his very success is failure, and what is more, his deeper self tells him so. No man could ever fail in anything on the basis of the Golden Rule, providing the Golden Rule and the man were one and the same thing.

GOD OF THE GRAY GULL'S WING

God of the Gray gull's wing,
God of the restless sea,
Grant us to rest above the waves,
Poised in eternity!

Horizons misty gray
Where sky and waters merge . . .
Grant us to dare the farthest rim
And trust the outward urge!

Like kelp upon the tide
Our faith swings to and fro;
Grant us the will to keep our course
Though all the wild winds blow!

God of the endless quest
Of truth to make men free,
Grant us the undefeated zest,
The challenge of the sea!

Allen Eastman Cross

Spiritual life is like electricity. No current passes through unless the wire is connected at the sending end, as well as the receiving end. Christ's way for us is first to get a spiritual truth and then to give it away.

From "You are my Friends"
by Frank C. Laubach
with kind permission of Harper & Brothers

The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear, The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid.

When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell. Though an host shall encamp against me, my heart shall not fear, though war should rise against me in this will I be confident . . .

For in the time of trouble He shall hide me in His pavilion; in the secret of His tabernacle shall He hide me; He shall set me up upon a rock. And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me; therefore will I offer in His tabernacle sacrifices of joy; I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the Lord.

Teach me thy way, O Lord, and lead me in a plain path, because of mine enemies . . .

I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living.

Wait on the Lord; be of good courage, and He shall strengthen thine heart; wait, I say, on the Lord.

Love Mrs Haubt,

If this card could only tell you
All the wishes on my mind
It would surely be a dandy,
A super-special kind,
But no greeting card is perfect--
There are things they just can't do;
And one of these is tell you
Quite how much I'm wishing you
