Letter to Orson

Newberry, South Carolina
August. 24th. 1933

The Hon. Pres. of the U.S.,
Washington, District of Col.

Dear Mr. President;

At our annual convention, recently held at Greenville, South Carolina, we were instructed to send you a box of Carolina gladiolus as a small token of our appreciation for your efforts to bring back prosperity and to encourage you in your great N R A campaign.

We are not only "saying it with flowers" but in deeds, as well, We want you to know that the florists of this good state are backing you one hundred percent, in word and in deed.

May your efforts be crowned with the success they deserve.

September 5, 1933.

Mr. Louis McH. Howe
Secretary to the President
The White House
Washington, D.C.

My dear Mr. Howe;

Let me thank you for your cordial acknowledgment of my letter with the enclosed clipping on the "Prevention of Insanity" in which I mentioned that the NRA will give more leisure to people and ipso facto, prevent nervous and mental unrest which so often leads to chronic mental derangement.

On August 30th, a specially bound copy of my Report to the Government on my two European details of last year had been mailed with first class postage and addressed to the Secretary of the President of the United States, The White House, Hyde Park, N.Y. I hope that the little volume has been forwarded to you and thru your kindness brought to the attention of the President by this time. While, as I stated in my last letter, I do not expect to have the busy President take the time to read the technical and purely medical portion of my "Report on Tuberculosis with Some Therapeutic and Prophylactic Suggestions", I beg you, however, to ask the President to glance at pages 33 and 34, and should he have a few minutes to spare, he may perhaps care to read the Conclusion of my Report. I shall feel personally indebted to you, dear Mr. Howe, for handing my work to the President at a convenient moment. I was so happy to be able to pay my tribute to him in my little volume and of course, I took the liberty of autographing it to him.

I am embracing this opportunity to send you under separate cover, a copy for your personal library. I beg you to accept it as a token of my esteem and gratitude for the perhaps important service you are rendering - important at any rate to me, for I feel that I have done my duty.

Most respectfully yours,

S. A. Knopf

Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

May I have the honor of presenting you with this first porcelain reproduction of a "portrait

The study was made from a number of photographs, and I trust you and your associates will find it a good likeness. Needless to say, I would deeply appreciate receiving your comment on this portrait.

LADIES' & GENTS' TAILOR

1537 N. WASHINGTON ST.

BALTIMORE, September 7th, 1933

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt,
White House,
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. President:

I take great pleasure in sending you, under separate cover, a bas relief of you fashioned in German Silver, as a meagre evidence of my esteem of you. While I am just a merchant tailor who has never studied art, the manner in which you have endeared yourself to the people of the United States inspired me to attempt this piece of work, which I humbly trust you will accept.

As one of your innumerable admirers, I have watched, first with anxiety and then with a feeling of renewed confidence and faith, the inception of your destined to be historical National Industrial Recovery Act. The spirit of Nationalism which has always been prevalent in our people, but which for the last four years has been dormant, has been revived beyond our most optimistic hopes — your untiring and unselfish efforts on behalf of the American people have inculcated in all of us a desire to give unstintingly of our support and co-operation to this gigantic movement.

Sincerely and respectfully,

Israel Kravetz

My dear Mr. Keohane:

SEPTEMBER 11, 1933

Your letter of September fourteenth has been received and the President requests me to thank you for the two etchings which you were good enough to send him. He appreciates your thoughtfulness and is indeed grateful to you for your kind expressions and good wishes.

Very sincerely yours,

M. A. LeHand,
PRIVATE SECRETARY

Artist Here Wins Acclaim For Roosevelt Etching

Friends of President Swamp Harry Moskowitz With Requests for Copies—Sketch Shows Resemblance to Washington and Lincoln.

By J. GOODMAN, JR.

An etching of Franklin D. Roosevelt at work has won for Harry S. Moskowitz, Philadelphia artist, nationwide appreciation.

The work, in the opinion of the Print Club of Philadelphia, is the best and most natural likeness of Roosevelt yet made. Friends of the President regard the sketch so highly that Moskowitz has been swamped with letters requesting copies.

After seeing the original, Governor Herbert H. Lehman, of New York; Postmaster General James J. Farley and Joseph Guffey, of Pennsylvania, wrote to Moskowitz asking for copies.

The etching shows the President from the full-face angle. It was sketched in the White House offices while the President was carrying out his executive duties and, consequently, is free from the rigidity of a formal pose.

In telling of his work, Moskowitz, whose studio is at 1533 Chestnut st., said:

"I received permission from the President to make preliminary sketches at the White House on May 18.

"Fascinating Subject.

"It was my objective to include in my sketch the delicate facial characteristics of the President that are not possible to record in a photograph.

The President was a most fascinating subject. His deep, reflective eyes, particularly appealed to me, and I tried to capture their profound mood as I sketched.

"After I completed the work I was amazed to notice a remarkable likeness Roosevelt bears in part to Washington and Lincoln. The President's forehead is very similar in size, contour and expression to the Great Emancipator's. His mouth and chin, especially in full-face view, are like Stuart's Washington.

"Although my etching shows these analogies they were coincidental and not planned."

Original Autographed.

So pleased was the President with the completed work that he autographed the original. Moskowitz said he has been offered handsome sums for it, but indicated he did not intend to sell.

Moskovitz lives with his parents at 6023 Christian st. He studied art at the Graphic Sketch Club and the Academy of Fine Arts. Last April he gave a one-man exhibition at the McClees Galleries that attracted city-wide attention.

He is by no means a novice at portrait sketching. In recent years he has made drawings of Leopold Stokowski, director of the Philadelphia Orchestra; Samuel Fleisher, philanthropist; Dr. Herbert Tily, general of the local N. R. A. movement, Cardinal Dougherty, and others.

Family Is Talented.

Harry's sister, Sophia, was the youngest girl ever to graduate from Girls' High School. She won her diploma at 14.

Lillian, another sister, is the author of many dramatic sketches produced by local little theaters.

Another sister, Ethel, finds expression in singing. She was a winner in one of the contests at the Mastbaum Theater.

A brother, Phillip, began his art career as a director of amateur theatricals, and is now a commercial decorator.

 looks a little like Lincoln and Washington, but without a profile it is hard to copy.),

Under the statue is inscribed August 1933 and I mean the and President of the United States.

The eagle with the flag represents the U. S. A.

The angel with a bow and arrow,

the boat with a man and woman

Secretary to the President,
"The White House",
Washington,
D. C.

Dear Sir:

This book and the enclosed letter are addressed to the President personally in the belief, founded upon what I have heard from others, that he does know my work as an artist and an author and is interested in it.

I beg you to consider this in deciding whether or not you may so far encroach upon his time as to even give them to him.

Very truly yours,

Rockwell Kent

Rec'd

Dear Mr. President :-

It is your own repeated interest in art, and my own hope that your wide interests may embrace my art, that prompts me to the extraordinary act of sending an art book to a president. It is, however, less to the president than to yourself that I address my art. I beg you to accept it.

Yet to the President, whose interests must include - and do, today - all the activities of American life, I do not hesitate to send what I have written about art. For I hold the integrity of American art to be as essential to our cultural well-being as economic independence is to our material prosperity.

I only wish that it lay in the power of any man to do for art what you will do for industry.

I am,

Your obedient servant

Rockwell Kent

The Honorable Stephen Early,
White House,
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. Early--

We are very happy to send you under separate cover a finished plaque of President Roosevelt, concerning which we have had repeated correspondence.

It has taken more time than we had first believed necessary, in as much as all instructions for its completion had to be sent long range. We believe, however, that the final reproduction is commercially suitable, even though the President is made to look, so we believe, more youthful.

Our main object was to incorporate a gentle, kindly, sympathetic countenance, strengthened with the acknowledged sincerity universally associated with our esteemed President.

You may be interested to know that many stores have already ordered reproductions of this plaques, but full marketing has been delayed, pending the receipt of this last and final plaque which, incidentally, came in this morning.

When we receive more, we shall be glad to send you such additional copies as you may desire.

Respectfully yours,

H. G. RAMSPERGER & CO.

My dear Mr. Kilborn:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for your letter of September 18th, enclosing a statement by you to which has been attached a dollar bill and the endorsements of twenty-five individuals through whose hands it passed in the course of ten days.

It was very interesting as a demonstration of the floating power of the dollar in terms of commerce moved, and might I also say that it is likewise instructive.

I hope I shall find some means of making use of your gift. In any event, I certainly appreciate your spirit of cooperation.

Want for President's signature

September 18, 1933.

Dear Mr. President:

¶ Enclosed is a paper which may interest you or be of some service in your propaganda plans for N.R.A. success.

¶ I put this dollar bill into circulation on September 5 and it was returned to me on September 15 after having passed thru twenty-five different hands in the purchase of various commodities, as indicated on the paper.

¶ In ten days' time this one dollar bill represented Twenty Five Dollars worth of purchases, and if it had remained in circulation and changed hands at the same frequency, at the end of a year it would be responsible for Nine Hundred Dollars worth of purchases.

¶ While we read in the newspapers and periodicals and listen to radio speeches that we should spend money, I do not think it is as impressive as a visual object, which the enclosed paper is.

¶ I am sending this to you as a token, and trust the idea will be useful to you in some way or other.

¶ I am, dear Mr. President,

Yours faithfully,

Orson Kilborn

KEMP, Robert
3711 - 84th St.,
Jackson Heights N.Y. 11-1-33 to the President

Recalls having talked with the President in 1931 with N.Y. State Commissioner of Canals; in response to President's request for Mr. Kemp's ideas latter sends to the President two books, in which he says his ideas are embodied -viz: "Equality" by and "Looking Backward" both by Edward Bellamy; these he suggests that the Pres. read in times of greatest need.

Has been in Soviet Russia for some time but health prevented his staying.

Urges that the Government eliminate private engraving and printing of all negotiable paper together with the operation of all private printing and engraving companies.

have these books and I am sure will be interested in looking through them at a favorable opportunity.

Very sincerely yours,

Perhaps you remember the Fall of 1931, a younger man, (the writer), much in earnest, introduced to you by Mr. Ralph Hayes, N.Y. State Commissioner of Canals, to whom you courteously gave twenty (20) minutes of your time in your office one afternoon in Albany, and who, with his pencil, drew circles within circles, in an attempt to explain his direct responsibility for many of the problems at hand at that time.

Later, through your assistant secretary, Mr. James Robert Kemp, Esq., I met for the writer's thoughts in writing. 3711 - 84th St., Jackson Heights, New York.

That the writer's most constructive plan might be, (if it had not been previously anticipated completely), is enclosed herewith in two (2) volumes: - "Looking Backward" and "Equality" written up in the Berkshire in Stamford, Mass., by Edward Bellamy.

In your hours of greatest difficulty may the writer suggest that Your Excellency read these two books for new ideas.

The good three (300) hundred years have found my ancestor living in the "New York State - New England" land of the world.

ROBERT KEMP

3711 - 84th Street,
Jackson Heights, N.Y.,
November 1, 1933.

Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt,
President of United States of America,
The White House,
Washington, D. C.

Excellency,

The methods and results of your many achievements and of the present administration under your leadership, have gained the respect and admiration of most people everywhere.

Perhaps you will remember, back in the Fall of 1931, a younger man, (the writer), much in earnest, introduced to you by Mr. Ralph Hayes, N.Y. State Commissioner of Canals, to whom you courteously gave twenty (20) minutes of your time in your office one afternoon in Albany, and who, with his pencil, drew circle within circle, in an effort to locate and fix direct responsibility for many of the world's ills, at least as he saw them, at that time.

Later, through your assistant secretary, Mr. James Mahoney, you kindly asked for the writer's thoughts in writing. At that time they had not become clearly defined. Since then they have.

What the writer's most constructive plan might be, (if it had not been previously anticipated completely), is enclosed herewith in two (2) volumes; - "Looking Backward" and "Equality" written up in the Berkshires in Blanford, Mass., by Edward Bellamy.

In your hours of greatest difficulty may the writer suggest that Your Excellency read these two books for new ideas.

The past three (300) hundred years have found my ancestors living in the "New York State - New England" part of the world. Like Your Excellency, the writer of this letter was born and reared, during most of his boyhood, on the east bank of and overlooking the Hudson River, descended from public spirited people who were well liked in their communities, Lansingburgh and Troy, N. Y.

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

November 1, 1933.

Consequently, during the formative periods of our respective lives, our background and outlook may have been somewhat similar, and our talk in Albany seemed to indicate we were on common ground on some subjects.

At any rate, shortly after our talk in September, 1931, the writer went to Moscow, in the Soviet Union, for the purpose of working there.

International psychological tension at that time was terrific. It was the worst time to have gone there. Nevertheless, with practically no money, they generously allowed me to stay there, living with the people and experimenting (since invention is my work) with communism as I found it.

The nerve and emotional strain of the trip nearly cost me my life and it was several months before I returned to normal. Please bear in mind, I no longer need a job. This letter and these books are merely partial repayment for one of your many kindnesses to millions of people.

This is my complete report to you,- that is, that what Edward Bellamy, pictured, in "Looking Backward" and "Equality" is exactly the life people are now beginning to live in Moscow.

People have struggled against royalty, and won. They have struggled against the domination of the church, and won. Now, in a large section of the world, they have struggled against the landholders and money lenders (who live upon and deal in, stolen real estate and other property), and have won.

But privately printed money is still a menacing power, hanging like a Sword of Damocles over all efforts toward good government.

Therefore may the writer offer, along with these books, the following further suggestion to Your Excellency; that is, kindly arrange that the United States Government, eliminate the private engraving and/or printing of all negotiable paper, including stocks, bonds and money in all its forms together with the operation of all private printing and engraving companies, and mints of all kinds.

Such a move, especially if accomplished in co-operation with all other governments, will further increase your power to see to it that justice is done to all people by all people.

With much esteem and good wishes,

Respectfully,

Robert Kemp
Robert Kemp.

Dear Mr. President:

We are enclosing a photograph of the background of our fruit show held with the Kentucky State Fair in September.

The Kentucky State Horticultural Society takes this means of saying to you and our people that we are most heartily back of your movement to place the country on an upward grade.

This design was formed of apples and grapes. We used something over three hundred bushels of apples and about twenty-five bushels of grapes in building it. It was thirty feet high and fifty-six feet long, and consequently attracted the attention of every one visiting the State Fair.

We felt that we would like for you to know that we are in sympathy with your movement, and consequently are taking the liberty of forwarding this photograph to you.

Very truly yours,

Ben E. Niles

Dear Sir:

Under separate cover I have sent you a booklet entitled "Water Conservation", containing material gathered during my years' study of the domestic water supply of the Town of Winchester, Massachusetts. It occurred to me that this data might be of some interest to you in view of your well-pronounced ideas relating to reforestation and the conservation of our natural waterways.

Trusting that this important subject may receive added attention in the future, and thankful of the opportunity to make some small contribution toward that end, I beg to remain

Dear Mr. President:

I send you, under separate cover, with my compliments, a copy of a book I have recently published, which seems to me to be of sufficient importance to command your attention.

THE BROWN BOOK OF THE HITLER TERROR has already attracted widespread notice in the English and American press but the facts set forth in it are by no means so widely known as they should be. Even if you do not find time to read the whole of this volume, will you please note what is quoted from the correspondent of the Manchester Guardian on pages 248 and 249 and the statement quoted at the top of page 278?

Then look through the Appendix, which gives an authenticated list of murders committed by the Nazis, bearing in mind the following words from Lord Marley's foreword: "Every statement made in this book has been carefully verified and is typical of a number of similar cases. We would have been able to publish even worse individual cases but we have not done this just because they were individual cases. Not a single one of the cases published in this book is an exceptional case."

No one recognizes better than those who have had part in its production that THE BROWN BOOK OF THE HITLER TERROR is not an example of the most perfect historical documentation. Such a work could hardly be produced under a well organized Terror and much of the material in the book has been furnished at the risk of the lives of those who have furnished it. Nevertheless, so conservative a journal as Barron's (issue of November thirteenth) concludes a notice of THE BROWN BOOK OF THE HITLER TERROR with these words: "The Committee's stories of Nazi savagery would be well nigh unbelievable were they not so fully and convincingly documented." (Italics mine).

I would like very much indeed to have an expression of opinion from you regarding this book. I will not publish what you write me unless you grant me specific permission for its release.

Yours sincerely,

Alfred A. Knopf

My dear President Roosevelt:-

Thank you so much for your kind letter to your attention.

How, in your busy life, you had time even this small token of my admiration for you and your work, is beyond me to understand.

If, as Aymar has promised me that you do read the Last Slaver, when you have read it, you can it as a sea story, it will give me more pleasure than anything I know of.
