Miss Lehand,
Secretary to Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt,
President of the United States,
Washington, D. C.

My dear Miss Lehand:-

My friend, Mr. Aymar Johnson, has spoken so much about you and his friend, The President, that I feel almost acquainted enough to be personal.

The enclosed photograph is a photograph of my private office, which is a replica of the after cabin of an old clipper ship.

Practically every ornament and article in it is hundreds of years old and I have collected them from all parts of the world.

I know the President's hobby is ships and ship lore, and thought perhaps he might be interested in this old ship's cabin, which has finally become the office of a surgeon.

The painted photograph indistinctly shown, of the ship on the wall, is a picture of the four-masted bark "Hussar", Mr. Edward F. Hutton's private yacht, upon which I have sailed many leagues, and upon which it is my hope as well as Aymar Johnson's hope that our worthy President will be able to take a cruise some day.

If at some time, the President is relaxing enough from carrying the burden of the world, I should appreciate it very much if you would give him this photograph with my sincere good wishes.

Very sincerely yours,

George S. King

Washed And Curled Fish Scales Frame This Gift To The President

MRS. EMMA KITT is shown seated beside a large picture of President Roosevelt, which is framed in her own handiwork. The frame is made entirely of carp scales and is similar to one in which Mrs. Kitt enshrined a picture of President McKinley immediately following his assassination. The photograph was then sent to Mrs. McKinley, who in return wrote Mrs. Kitt a letter and sent her a pair of slippers.

The frame is made of scales which Mrs. Kitt first washes and curls. The work of putting them together represents, she says, twelve hours' work a day for three weeks.

The photograph of the President is scheduled to be sent to him next week.

Sir:

I have today ordered from the publisher a copy of the book

"THE FIRE INSURANCE RACKET IN CALIFORNIA", sent you under separate cover.

My reason for requesting your reading of this book is on account of reference made by you in your wonderful speech of today to Congress, particularly your reference to big business using the methods of the underworld and the paying of the bills by the general public.

The large fire insurance corporations, as you will note in this book, certainly have used racketeering methods to prevent the payment of claims, although many companies involved are reported to have received Government aid.

IN REPLY REFER TO_____

December 18, 1933

The President
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

The Nassau County N R A Committee, seeking a means of bringing the BUY NOW Campaign home to the residents of the County conducted a poster campaign in the High Schools. Twenty-four out of thirty schools competed, and more than a thousand posters were made.

A hundred were selected for an exhibition at the Garden City Hotel, which attracted many people. A committee of prominent artists judged the posters, and prizes consisting of orders on local art stores for artist's supplies were awarded the winners. The prizes were awarded from the stage of a local theatre.

The six prize-winning posters are enclosed, as the contestants were promised that the winning efforts would be sent to The President.

We believe that the contest was a success from the standpoint of creating interest in BUY NOW. The slogan was carried into hundreds of homes where other forms of publicity could not be impressed. Perhaps the idea could be used in other communities.

Sincerely yours,

H. Frazer Kammeyer

From the point of view of the writer President Roosevelt is not concerned at the present time in stabilizing the dollar. He has adopted a definite monetary policy which is well on its way toward achieving the object for which it was intended. The success of this POLICY is becoming more apparent each day in spite of the most violent opposition on the part of powerful interests both FOREIGN and DOMESTIC.

A growing distrust of further adherence to the gold standard has been noted both in Holland and in Switzerland. The Belgians have demanded a loan of 600,000,000 francs from France as a tribute for their remaining on GOLD. Last Friday the Sarraut Government fell and Chuatemps has organized a new cabinet of doubtful duration. The Bank of France has been losing gold at the rate of over one billion francs per week for the past month and when an embargo is placed against further export of the metal similar action will immediately be taken by those nations remaining on a gold basis. The BANK OF ENGLAND'S Equalization Fund will be forced to suspend operations and Foreign Exchanges will then be governed by the Law of Supply and Demand. An equilibrium of prices will result when this objective has been obtained, at which time the President will lend an ear to the overtures of other nations for stabilization - but only at a level which he deems consistent with American requirements. The success of his policy will have placed him in a position to DICTATE THE TERMS.

Expressions of doubt as to the ability of the Government to successfully refinance their maturing certificates have been heard from certain institutions and individuals. They foresee a crisis, in forecasting a breakdown of government credit which would force recourse to fiat money in the near future. From the writer's point of view their challenge to government credit is more a part of their sound money propaganda than honest apprehension based on facts. Of the $727,000,000 in Treasury certificates maturing on December 15th - $473,000,000 bearing 4-1/4% interest was put out last March at the HEIGHT OF THE BANKING CRISIS. Since that time the government deficit has been reduced about 50% - we have subsequently witnessed an increase of 80% in Internal Revenue receipts - expenditures have been reduced $220,000,000 and total revenues are 70% greater. Emergency expenditures have been only $170,000,000 larger. If borrowing was possible last March - new short term Government obligations would appear to be a BUY ON DECEMBER 15th.

Even though certain bankers and individual buyers of government bills suddenly decided they would not purchase short term government obligations, the necessity of refinancing with fiat money cannot be seriously considered while over $800,000,000 of uninvested CASH remains in the form of Postal Savings Deposits. In addition it has been estimated that approximately $200,000,000 is available at the Farm Credit Administration and similar government agencies. The Members of the Sound Money Rebellion who have challenged Government Credit compose the group whose flight from the dollar was one of the chief causes for its weakness today. The President on the other hand is not going to be deterred from his main objective. Acting with calmness and great wisdom in the face of this barrage of criticism, he will fulfill the promise repeatedly made - that a SOUND CURRENCY WILL BE MAINTAINED.

My Dear President Roosevelt,

I am writing you this letter, wondering if you can help me or be of any assistance, which I would be very appreciative of.

At the present I am out of employment. In my spare time I have collected various specimens of roots & trees from the woods & I have carved them into reptiles & animals of every description by hand. My collection consists of 62 pieces. The specimens are true to life in every form.

The Worlds Fair will be opening this summer at Chicago, would it be possible for you to write to Robert Ripley "Ripley Believe It Or Not" man, & see if there is a possible chance for me to enter my collection with his entries this year at the fair.

I have very good recommendations from several Mayors & Professors of cities & colleges. They have viewed them and regard them as very educational to the children of today.

I also have carved very strong & sturdy walking canes.

The 30th day of this month will be your birthday & a worldly celebrated day and I am asking your permission to present to you, the most Faithful and Beloved man of our Country, one of these canes. It would would make me a very happy person to present this cane to you.

I am also enclosing a picture taken by the Pittsburgh Press, of one of the small animals.

Thanking you very kindly,

Artisan Turns Tree Roots To Serpents Without Magic

Miss Ruth Korte, with one of her father's root serpents.

Workshop Has Collection of Carved Reptiles and Even Green Monkey

Tree roots are being turned into serpents in Washington County today.

This non-miraculous feat is performed by William Korte, who has developed the hobby since the depression hit his stone and brick mason trade.

Mr. Korte discovered tree roots assume crawling shapes, just as snakes. They wiggle into soft spots of soil, and squirm around embedded rocks.

All that he must do is to chop down a tree, excavate the roots and somewhere in the growth will be a potential serpent.

He deftly cuts it into the proper length, carves a head and tapers a tail. The root is ready then for painting, to resemble the skin.

In his collection, Mr. Korte has snakes ranging from a Pennsylvania copperhead to giant anacondas, the size of a man's leg and 10 feet long. Roots that can be carved into lizards, with legs, and even cluster of spreading roots for fingers, have been excavated.

Reptiles from all over the world are to be found in Mr. Korte's workship at 71 Rosewood Avenue, Washington, Pa. This unusual craftsman always has enjoyed reading natural history. He also watches the habits of living serpents, and often visits zoos.

He fashioned a green monkey from a red haw. He spent months looking for a root that was suitable for an anaconda, finding it on an ash tree.

Sometimes he buys a likely tree from a farmer. Often it costs nothing, if the farmer is clearing his land.

Dear sir:-

I am sending you under separate cover a birthday gift which is a curio consisting of a pair of miniature shoes which I made by hand. Each shoe is fashioned of a single piece of leather for the upper and another piece for the lower. Try not to squeeze them as they are hollow inside and would collapse. If you would care for more I would be glad to make them for you.

Leather work is only a side line with me as my real work is in the building line.

I am a bricklayer. plasterer, cement worker, tile worker and carpenter, all of which I learned very thorely in Europe. I made a good living up to the time of the depression as I was always industrious. When my line was slow, I worked at shoe manufacturing, painting, glazier work or anything else that could be done with the hands. I saved very carefully as it was my ambition to buy a lot and build a house all myself with the exception of the plumbing and electricity. I wanted it for a home and also as a model from which customers could judge my work and order similar work to be done for them. It is over two years since I have had steady work. In that time I have had a day's work here and there and if it were not for my savings, my wife and family would have starved.

Now we are drawing to the end of my savings and I feel desparate about the future. I donot know where to look for work any more as I have tried every means and without success.

Perhaps you can tell me where or how. I donot know which way to turn. I am willing to do any kind of work at all in any city. I hope you will pardon me for having taken so much of your time.

Yours truly.

Dear Mr Roosevelt!

In sending you the attached copy of "If" I am probably "carrying coals to Newcastle", but it seems to me that Mr Kipling must have been gifted with prevision & to have had you in mind when he wrote it.

I never expected to see the "Man" so endowed, in the flesh, and to my mind, you are the only one who does measure up to the requirements.

I sincerely trust that you will be spared to this Country for many years to come & that you will see the fruits of your labor & courage over the whole land.

My dear Mr. Kelly:

The President is in receipt of a letter dated January twentieth from the boys of Scout Troop No.33, Sharpsville, Pennsylvania, which he has read with interest. He asks if you will not be good enough to tell the boys how much he enjoyed hearing of their activities and his appreciation of their good wishes. The book-ends were duly received and the President is indeed glad to have them.

Conveying to you and the boys of Scout Troop No.33 the President's best wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the U.S.
Washington, D.C.

My Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

It is indeed a great pleasure for me to write you this letter in request of the Boys Scouts of my troop of which I am assistant Scoutmaster, Methodist Troop No.33 of Sharpsville, Pa.

Knowing how interested you are in the Boys Scout move- of America and the world at large, we boys wish to tell you we too are interested in the work and are enjoying it and benefiting a great deal by its teachings and principles. We have about thirty-two members now and are trying to keep mentally awake and do those things that will speak for scouting and the good of the community.

We take part in all the Boy Scout gatherings where there is an active display of hand work and the like. We won the President Hoover Award last year and have met all the requirements for the President's award this year and are patiently waiting to receive the President Roosevelt Award, which will be presented to us, Boy Scout Week at our Church Service. We belong to several religious denominations, but as the Methodist Church is sponsoring our troop, wee call it our Church and have our services there. They built us a new cabin with electric lights so we hold our meetings in the cabin and we are very proud of it. We cleared the ground of brush etc., and the men built it for us. We have it all paid for but about twenty-five or thirty dollars. We are helping with that too. We made book ends and wood carved pictures under the direction of Mr. Hedglin, and sold them to help get some money to help our troop committee. I wish you could have seen our display. Well, we are sending you a set of book-ends under separate cover as a present so you can see our work. I know you will like them. This is our little present to you in appreciation of the interest you are taking in the Boy Scouts of America. Our scout master, Mr. Ralph Kelly, and other assistant scout master, Mr. Louis Schmitt, are planning to hook up a radio at the cabin to receive your message to the Boy Scouts Feb. 10th at noon. We want to hear you if we can't see you. We will be listening anxiously for every word of your message. Our scoutmaster said it was a secret till then.

One of our members will receive his Eagle Badge, Boy Scout Week. He has it earned now and wants us to wait till Boy Scout Week to give it to him. He is a fine fellow. He saved a little girl from drowning a year ago and received a medal for it. His name is Joe Kenter. Joe is one of our artists. He made out invitations for us. We are very proud of Joe. Here is a copy of the invitation. Joe goes to High School, his second year.

If he gets money enough he wants to go to college. We are going on an over night hike to the Mercer County Scout Camp about ten miles away, on Jan 19th. We will have fun there passing cooking tests, fire and care, nature and many others besides the big eats and "Spooky stories" and camp fire stunts. We have a wonderful County camp, Camp Kiandashawu, with big mess hall twelve boy cabins, with eight beds in each, one staff cabin in which we have our winter activities, cooking, sleeping stoves etc. with two stories made of logs. About twenty or thirty boys can sleep in it over night each separate beds, two work shops, camp director's cabin and hospital cabin, electricity with electricity pump, fine farm and nice river to swim in besides the farm house where a family lives who cares for the camp when not in use. We are having some fine meetings now. We have four patrols and are working hard to see who wins in our contest. and to advance most in our work.

We have gone on several week end hikes to Mr. Hedglin's home, ten miles away and stayed all night, some twelve or fifteen of us. We did fire buildingand cooking and other tests and had lots of fun fishing swimming and riding horseback besides helping him to plant 1500 little trees.

He is a real freind to boys. Mr. Kelly, Mr. Smitt and Mr. Hedglin sure make us work, and have lots of fun and games for us. First we work, then we play. The meetings go too quick for us . We can hardly wait for them to come again.

We wanted you to know about our troop. We think other troops here in Mercer County should write you too. We have a number of fine troops here in Merver County Council and especially in the Shenango Valley., Sharon, Farrell, Greenville, West Middlesex, Masury, Wheatland and Sharpsville. I wish you could visit some of them and our camp at Camp Kiandashawa in the summer. Mr. W.B. Irvine , the camp director, is a wonderful man. He knows everything and when he sees a boy once he remembers his name and knows him always among a hundred. He teaches at Sharon High School. He knows boys from a to z. and is their pal. We meet him once a year at camp time and he always knows us. How does he do it? He is a scoutmaster in Sharon.

We have a boy in our troop who will never be able to become an Eagle Scout as he can't pass his life saving requirements as he had infantile paralysis. We wish there were some other tests he could take equally as diddicult but in another line instead. He goes to High School and is a fine scholar. He is our bugler and a patrol leader.

We have a fine troop committee and they are good to us and we appreciate them highly. We are planning on having a community supper to raise money for our electric light fund and fuel supply. We are presenting our Church with a flag Boy Scout Week.

We will be listening for your message Feb. 10th.

Yours for success.

The boys of Troop 33

RECEIVED

Mr President:

I am taking the liberty of sending you a copy of my book for a bed time story for Lent— It was a dream and was a hundred pages, but was cut to less than 50 for the W. C. T. U. could put it in the Hatcloons, you see I was to give it to them, but- when they read it and came to the candle, "A cry of Catholicism" and that was that.

Thru my Rector The Rev Charles K Tynon of St George, sent a copy to his Cousin Ward Wade a Critic for Metro-Goldwin, after a long time a letter came, saying "Not Suitable for the Screen." But I asked to keep the copy.

Dr Tyson was so put out Smith to asked, if he thought the Jews would glorify Christ; Then with a smile he said well we still have the Library, and after all More Young folk will read it than would see it as a picture, but no it was so thin that one copy was all they would accept, for they did not take fiction in pamphlet form.

So Mr President, I am sending this Copy to you, in Case you ever let any one talk you out of your own idea or mind. You can look over it my little book and think, No
I will never let any one make me in so thin a thing as you"
I listened to your Dear Mother on the radio. and a thought came to me of her.

About 2 thousand years ago a little boy was born, his Mother was Mary 52 years ago another little boy was born his name is Franklin, Said the

Mr President.

I am sending you a copy of the slogan I have written for you it is also a song and the words in it just do stand for the things that you are doing for the whole world. I am out of work at present time so I thought I would write this song and slogan to show you that I am with you in all the things you are doing for us people. And I do hope that you do like what I have written for you and that you would write and let me know.

Very Sincerely Yours.
