My dear Mr. Lopez:

Your friendly letter of December twenty-third has been received and the President wants you to know that he more than appreciates your holiday greetings. He feels, however, that he ought not to accept such a fine gift as the blanket you made for him, and it is being returned to you under separate cover with the suggestion that you sell it.

The President asks me to convey to you his very best wishes for the New Year.

Very sincerely yours,

Hon Franklin D. Roosevelt

My Dear Mr President,

I am a poor Spanish
Weaver, with a family of 7 childrens and my wife living in this city 605-E. Throat St.
Striving to make livihood, and the time I have been very hard with me and as I was thinking about you, thinking that I did not have anything worth while to send, I decided to go to my loom, and make you a present of your own picture, in this blanket. Which I am sending you as a Christmas gift. And I surely spent many nights figuring just how to make it come as near your picture as possible, as you see, there it is

I have giving this kind of work very little attention, because it is very hard, but I surely love this work, and I belive that if I had the means, I would be in X a position to do some Real work.

I started very young to do this work, weaving etc. and I do not see, if I had the means,
that I could in time do pretty well. Mr President, I wish I could shake hands with you, so as to wish you and Mrs Roosevelt a Merry Christmas and a Happy
New Year.

Your Humble Servant,

Mrs Amaded Lopez

President of the U. S. A.
Franklin D. Roosevelt,
Dear Sir: White House, Washington, D.C.

I sent every Governor, and the President of the U.S.A. a copy of my book---"AMERICAN VIGNETTES" COPYRIGHTED BY: J. MARGARET LAWSON, MIAMI, FLORIDA---1928---

I have sent this to you in order for you to see the little Salute to our Flag, that I made in 1904 in Illinois in the Public Schools where I taught for many years. The year I went to the World War, I taught this poem to many boys and girls and find that it brings success to the little boy and girl as to the Salute to Our Flag---

The little Foreign boy, now a Banker, could not understand the word, "INDIVISIBLE" as he called it and you will find that in my book "AMERICAN VIGNETTES" and what Rear Admiral says should be taught in every Primary Grade in the Public School of the U.S.A.

The happiness that this little Salute will bring to future generations of boys and girls in the Primary Grades will pay me for all the trouble it may be to any one for it will bring to their minds the meaning of these words used in this little salute I made in the days gone by... I ask nothing for its use only the facts that it may be said, as we establish this little Salute that it was made by a teacher of 40 years in the U.S.A. and who taught them in Illinois, Idaho, and Florida. The boys and girls who learned this little Salute in the days gone by, are now the Men and Women of the future in America.

Please let me hear from you at your earliest convenience, as to what you think of this little Salute being taught in the Primary Grades in every Public School in your state of the Union. When you let me know about the Salute also tell me what you think of the Geographical and "istorical sketches I have made regarding each state in the Union. Please tell me how you like my book "AMERICAN VIGNETTES".

I have been in 42 states in the U.S.A. and Canada and Mexico and I will appreciate your reply relative to the Salute some time in the Near Future. I am proud I am a Colonel in the Army of the A.S.W.D. and as you can see in the books I have served my Country during the World War.

Respectfully, Sincerely and Fraternally yours,

(Mrs.) Margaret J. Lawson.

Dear Miss LeHand:

Under separate cover am sending you a copy of a really "swell" mystery story, MURDER IN TIME, which the authors, clients of mine, autographed for the President and Mrs. Roosevelt. We thought they'd be interested since it's not only a good mystery, but has the opera as a background, and the President and Mrs. Roosevelt are sponsors of the Opera Guild.

Miss Day was for many years Walter Damrosch's secretary and knows music, and so does Norbert Lederer, who is an expert criminologist as well.

Do hope it will be enjoyed - and thank you for seeing that the President and Mrs. Roosevelt see it.

With kindest regards and gratitude.

Dear Mr. McIntyre:

We are very pleased to send you a picture of President Roosevelt, reproduced in watermark form.

There are only two or three paper mills in the world that can make such a watermark, and these are in Europe. This picture is the first of its kind to be made in the United States.

It is one of a very few experimental copies made from the mould, and the results can be greatly improved. The few blemishes from the picking of the pulp can be corrected.

It is necessary to hold before light to see the picture. No coloring matter or printing was used other than the blue color of the pulp. Similar results can be obtained in White paper.

One of these pictures is now framed and hanging in the window of my office. It has been greatly admired not only for its artistic value, but also by the admirers of the President.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. President:

May we present this booklet of Block Prints to you? It was made in Company 1501, Camp Birch Creek, at Dillon, Montana. It is the first opportunity for many to create or express themselves. Much good has come to us as a result of this work.

We send this to you to express our gratitude, in a small measure, for your constant interest and devotion to the C.C.C.

Dear Mr. President:

The press reports that you are contemplating a well earned vacation in March and that the trip is to be into the southern waters of the United States, where you will undoubtedly run into considerable sun and heat.

I am taking the liberty of sending to you, with my compliments, a Hawley Helmet--a 100% American product which we feel is superior to anything of the sort made in the world.

I am forwarding this to you in the hope that it may be of comfort on your vacation and because such use will further make the Commander of Chief familiar with an item of equipment now being seriously considered and tested by the Army and Marine Corps.

Respectfully,

FOR GENERATIONS visitors and residents in tropical and semi-tropical climates have found comfort and protection from heat and the sun's rays by wearing the so-called pith helmet. In the United States and other temperate climes this style of head-gear has never been generally used, although high summer temperatures cause real discomfort.

During 1934, Hawley Products Company of St. Charles, Illinois, in conjunction with several experienced tropical travelers, and officers of the United States Army, developed a helmet which includes many improvements upon the pith helmet. The new product is now undergoing extensive tests with a view to its adoption by the uniformed forces of the United States in place of the felt campaign hat during mild and warm weather. It is also meeting with enthusiastic welcome on the part of police forces and other uniformed persons required to spend part of their time in the heat and sun.

The new helmet is built of several layers of varying material, in the general shape of the former pith helmets, with a wide brim to provide shade for the eyes and around the head.

The center ply is special long fibre pressed into shape by patented processes. This material is then treated with a special coating to seal its external pores and preserve its valuable insulating qualities. The next layer is a thermo-plastic, on top of which is placed the finishing fabric, both inside and out. The patented Hawley processes result in a practical binding of all of the plys into one, making the helmet strong, and impervious to water, gasoline, etc. The edge of the brim is rolled in onto itself, so as to result in a seal, and to provide additional strength.

~~The chin strap and sweatband are replaceable, as they are put into place with glove fasteners.~~ The sweatband is subject to adjustment by means of elastic—so one size helmet serves for all size heads.

There is a substantial space between the helmet and the sweatband, which allows air to circulate freely over the top of the wearer's head. In warm weather this circulation is not only cooling in itself but it evaporates any moisture which may be on the head or hair, and results in a distinct additional cooling. Reports of comparative tests conducted under scientific control show that this feature results in much lower head temperatures than are possible with ordinary head-gear—in some cases even cooler than the air as it enters the helmet. Copies of these test reports are available upon request.

The crushing point of the helmet is ample to withstand all ordinary use, and to absorb the force of all but extremely hard blows. In case the helmet is dented, it may be pushed back into shape with the fingers, so that only a most careful and close examination will show any evidence of the dent.

The helmets may be cleaned either with soap and a brush, or with chemical cleaners easily available. They have been totally immersed in water for several days, and upon drying out show no ill effects. Because the thermo-plastic penetrates part way into the covering fabric, very little water is picked up—and the dry weight of about half a pound is but little increased.

The color of the fabric covering may be varied of course to meet almost any requirement. Helmets have so far been produced in various shades of khaki, blue, gray and white with inner lining of green in almost all cases, to be of maximum restfulness to the eyes. Chin straps and metal trim harmonize with the color of the outside covering.

The application of American manufacturing methods to its production have brought the price of this helmet down to but a fraction of previously available sun helmets, and has in fact made it an actual economy in many cases to adopt this comfortable and splendid looking head-gear in place of heavier unventilated types.

The helmet imparts a distinctly smart appearance to its wearer, is light, cool and comfortable, rainproof and inexpensive.

In appreciation of what you have done for the farmers, I am enclosing herewith a little Good Luck souvenir for the forthcoming Campaign.

This little horse shoe is made from a steel rod and I make them during my leisure hours. I also make a little souvenir wrench in proportion to the horse shoe and if you will acknowledge receipt of this letter, I shall be glad to send you one of them.

I was born in Throndhjem, Norway, November 3, 1860, and came to America in 1868 and in 1869, I came to Faribault County, Minnesota, and have lived here on a farm ever since. At the age of fourteen, I started to shoe horses and have shod over four thousand head in addition to running my farm.

I am very pleased to have had the few who have so far seen the portrait, comment on it very favorably - one to the extent of saying it was the best picture of the President which he had ever seen.

Will you be so kind as to advise me of the safe arrival of the picture.

Cordially yours,

Professor Ernst Linnenkamp

My dear Miss LeHand:-

I beg to advise that I am shipping to President Roosevelt, addressed for your attention, the original portrait which I have composed from the picture which you so kindly gave me and one which I obtained from the New York "Times". The portrait is framed with glass and packed in a small wooden box. With it there is a personal letter to the President asking him to accept this portrait as a gift from me.

I am very pleased to have had the few who have so far seen the portrait, comment on it very favorably - one to the extent of saying it was the best picture of the President which he had ever seen.

Will you be so kind as to advise me of the safe arrival of the picture.

Dear Mr. President:-

Will you kindly accept this portrait drawing of you as a gift from me in gratitude for the way you and the American people have received me and my work. This portrait is a composition of the picture which you instructed your secretary to give me and one that I obtained from the New York "Times".

A very good cut has been made from this original which will be used to head the group of prominent men in the States, to be published in the best magazines in Germany, England, France, Italy, Sweden and Poland. Each portrait will be accompanied by a biographical story in the most friendly way.

Will you please accept my thanks for your courtesy and kindness in helping me to fulfill my task.

Respectfully yours,

Professor Ernst Linnemann

Dear Mr. President:

The Class of 1936 of Las Vegas High School feels it is an honor to present you with a copy of the Boulder Echo. The book is sent under separate cover.

This year we used as our theme your dedication of the Boulder Dam, your visit to Las Vegas and vicinity, and the accomplishments of your administration.

Best wishes for success and happiness in the future.
