Dear Mr. President:

In the year 1900, when the transport "Grant" took the Sixth Cavalry to Tientsin, China, I got a pistol from the arsenal which I am sending to you for your Museum.

At the time I got it, General Shabby wanted it for Washington. Take off the plate on the left side and see the way it works. The shells are conveyed up the stock. I do not have any shells for I shot them away at sea.

May you have a safe trip when you leave for that happy landing.

In behalf of those disabled because of disease and disaster, I present Franky and Judy Twinklestar, my original Lesson Dolls and their story to be contributed to assist the now established annual cause. These dolls are different from other dolls in that they have everything that little boys and girls possess for training purposes.

The girl doll was made to resemble the twelve year old, tree climbing daughter of a life-long friend, I assisted several months ago, when that active youngster was converted over night through illness into possible permanent immobility.

The boy doll was honored with the name of the man, who first made the world aware of the great need of concentrated efforts and financial aid imperative for the successful and costly period of lengthy readjustment necessary for those, who win through the conflict.

Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt,
President of the United States,
Washington 25, D C

Honorable Sir:

Twenty years ago we published our first annual engineering review. We are proud to present herewith our twenty-first review--"Westinghouse Engineering Highlights".

I want to call your attention particularly to the editorial on the inside of the front cover entitled "The Basis for Industrial Leadership". It points out a very basic and important fact--that America's industrial leadership of the future depends very largely on her ability to out-think world competition. As this editorial stresses, natural resources alone will not keep us in front, nor will mass production alone. If we Americans are to maintain our world leadership in industrial things, we must carry on more and better research than our global competitors. We must exhibit more technical skill--more inventive genius. In short, we must out-think all who would challenge our position.

Only by doing that can we keep America strong and free. I firmly believe that only by doing so can we put sufficient influence behind our opinion to prevent future world wars.

The future peace of America rests largely in the hands of American industry. It is our responsibility--your company's and mine, yours personally, and mine personally, to keep America strong.

The attached review will show you some of the Westinghouse engineering highlights of last year. It is restricted because of wartime secrecy but it will, I feel certain, give you a good insight into what you can continue to expect from Westinghouse.

Sincerely,

Middle Atlantic District Manager

The President wrote expressing thanks for the supply of "liquid refreshment" which all enjoyed. Encloses a photograph which the President understands Gen. Giles expressed a desire for. The President says that it was grand to see him in Cairo and expresses his very best wishes. - - -Typed notation - Signed photograph "For Gen. Benj. Giles from his friend Franklin D. Roosevelt" - Both letter and photo given to Col. Davenport for delivery. - - -Memorandum for Mrs. Boettiger from Miss Tully dated Mar. 10, 1945, stating that she has prepared the above letter to Gen. Giles for the President's signature and also encloses a picture for the President's signature which will accompany the letter. Miss Tully also states that she has a vague recollection that Mrs. Tuck wrote her a letter asking for a picture for her husband and she has it among the hundreds of requests now waiting the President's attention and that she will dig this one out and send it along to him. Further states that in re to Lt. Conrad, she fears that this request cannot be granted and gives explanation for this. - -Penciled notation - Gift given the Pres.

WINANT, Hon. James Gilbert,
U. S. Embassy, London, England.
March 4, 1945.

Wrote to President stating that in Barrie's (Sir James Barrie) great Rectorial Address to students of St. Andrews he told them quite frankly that he could not provide them with a staff for their journey in the world that lay before them but perhaps he could tell them a little about it, "how to use it and lose it and find it again, and cling to it more than ever." "You shall cut it," he said, "as is ordained, every one of you for himself, and its name is Courage." Ambassador Winant, in trying to find an XMAS present for President found George Washington's walking stick which he gave to Jerome Bonaparte. It carries the 13 stars which symbolize the unity of the original 13 states. Cane is a gift to President personally - not for any museum - because President symbolizes to him personally the charming virtue - Courage.---3/15/45 Isadore Lubin sent letter to Mrs. Eben in re above cane which he (Mr. Lubin) brought the President from Ambassador Winant. States that the big pistol is a German Walther, 9 mm., .38 automatic, taken from the body of a German officer in a pillbox in the Trier area on 2/19/45. Little pistol was given to President by Board of Directors of Fabrique Nationale, Mr. Joassart of that Bd. made presentation in honor of his visit to WH on 4/20/44, as member of Governing Body of International Labor Organization.---3/16/45 President wrote to Ambassador Winant saying he most certainly was made happy by his gift of George Washington's cane. It is most interesting for its association, but it is also a remarkably well preserved piece of wood, considering its age. Says cane is ear-marked for his own personal things at Hyde Park and not for the Library. Concluded letter by saying: "Poland seems to be acting up again -- or, more correctly, the Russian Foreign Office."---Mrs. Eben's note says: "Mike Reilly is holding pistols and cane so they will reach H. P. ok---I am going to turn all of the attached * over to Mike and forget about it." *Original correspondence.

Dear Sir:

I write to you as vice-president of The Continuation Committee Of The Chinese Christian Convention Of America and with deep interest in world relations.

In September, 1935, I received a letter from you in Sacramento, California, as pastor of the Baptist Church there. Today in such great world trouble as this, each one of us should cooperate, encourage the allied nations to gain the victory, and to make real peace for the world. We thank God that you have foresight, wisdom and courage to lead our country, to cooperate with my country and Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek. Not only to help my country from danger to safety, from weakness to strength, but to make the Japanese to never set foot on the land of the U. S. A. Today victory is in view. My dear Mrs. Lewin:

It was kind indeed of you to send on that beautifully framed handwork to which you refer in your recent letter. I want to assure you that your friendly thought is ever so much appreciated.

It is felt, however, that you should not be deprived of the possession of this product of your own work and it is being returned to you by express.

Very sincerely yours,

The Honorable Mr. Franklin D. Roosevelt,
President of the United States,
The White House,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. President:

At the time of this writing, I am forwarding a package, addressed to you, containing a hand-knitted American Flag placed in a frame. The idea of this gift to you was conceived many months ago, as a token of our gratitude for your unselfish, loyal and devoted services towards winning this war, together with an expression of our love and sacrifice for you, our Flag, and our Country.

Last year, we had many anxious moments, when it was uncertain whether you would care to remain at the helm or not, and Oh! how we prayed on November 7th. Now we can only ask that you be granted the strength, courage, and wisdom, to bring this Nation and the world, Victory, and lasting peace.

Last week, I donated my 15th pint of blood in honor of your son, who bears your name, Lieutenant Commander Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Jr.

May you and Mrs. Roosevelt, and your family, continue to enjoy good health, and good fortune.

Respectfully,

Selene Lewin
