My dear Mr. Morani:

October 16, 1933.

Your letter of October sixteenth has been received and called to the attention of the President.

He requests me to thank you warmly for writing and for the two bronze busts of himself and Mrs. Roosevelt which you were good enough to send him. He is glad to accept these fine products of your art and greatly appreciates the spirit which prompted your act.

Assuring you that the President is indeed grateful for this evidence of your good will, I am

Dear Mr. President:

This is to inform you that following your letter of acceptance of recent date, I am shipping you the bronze bust of yourself recently made by me from newspaper photographs of you. I have also taken the liberty to include one of Mrs. Roosevelt, made also in the same size and of bronze, which work I have just completed.

I trust you will accept these tokens as the simple expression of an unemployed artist in his admiration for your fine work with the present administration.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. President,

I am very much enthused over your recent admirable enterprise, namely, THE NATIONAL RECOVERY ACT.

To show my intense appreciation, I have made a small bronze bust of you, which I think is a living likeness of yourself.

My works as a sculptor have taken me throughout Europe, but I am now temporarily located at the above address, after maintaining a studio in Philadelphia for many years. It may interest you to know that my productions in the past include such figures as that of Woodrow Wilson, Marshall Foch, and numerous others. During the war I donated a number of small statues to the Red Cross movement, and also had the privilege of making a replica of the Statue of Liberty for the Fourth Liberty Loan Drive of Philadelphia.

As one of your ardent followers, I am at present interested in offering you my study of yourself. Kindly inform me if you wish to accept this token of my appreciation, as I would deem it an honor to send you the bronze bust with small marble pedestal.

Respectfully submitted,

Salvatore Morani

Your letter of October twenty-fourth has been received and the President has asked me to thank you heartily for writing and for the two fine Electric Motorized Coupes which you were good enough to send to his grandchildren. The toys arrived in good condition and you may be sure they have been much enjoyed by the children. The President is indeed grateful for this evidence of your interest and good will.

Very sincerely yours,

There will also be two toy Siren Police Cars following them at a little later date which are just being produced, and which I think the children will likewise enjoy.

Dear Mr. Roosevelt:-

I am taking the liberty of sending to you, under separate cover, two Electric Motorized Coupes for your two grandchildren, which I think they will enjoy greatly and I hope you will accept them with my compliments and best wishes.

This is the first time that toys have been made with motors that are actually electrically driven -- propelled by means of dry-cell batteries -- and I think the kiddies will have a great time with them.

There will also be two toy Siren Police Cars following these at a little later date which are just being produced, and which I think the children will likewise enjoy.

My dear President Roosevelt:

Under separate cover I am mailing you the Year Book and Directory of the Minnesota Council of Catholic Women. In this Year Book I have secured the best picture I could find of one of the greatest presidents we have ever had in our United States, "President Franklin D. Roosevelt".

This picture portrays courage, character and love. Your charity for depressed humanity will bring a great blessing from dear Jesus to you, as it was He who fed the multitudes nineteen hundred years ago. The untiring and unselfish spirit you have shown in giving food thru the government, especially butter, which has the highest vitamin content, so essential for the under-nourished poor and their children, is commendable. Many prayers will be said by these poor people for you thanking God and their President Roosevelt for their daily bread.

Opposite your picture in the M.C.C.W. Year Book, you will see a page written by our Congressman, Einar Hoidale, a brief outline of the NRA. I have heard him at meetings and over the radio. Congressman Hoidale attracts his listeners by his well modulated voice, filled with expression and sympathy which reaches the heart. The people of Minnesota can be proud of their representative, Einar Hoidale, whose intellectual mind and character of integrity stand out in his manhood.

I feel I should mention the breweries who contributed the money which made it possible for these two pages to be printed in our Year Book: Schmidt's, Hamm's, Minneapolis Golden Grain Belt and Glueck's. I feel grateful to these breweries for their generosity.

The Minnesota Council of Catholic Women are affiliated with the National Council of Washington, D.C., of which organization they have five million Catholic women members.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt #2.

I want you to know, President Roosevelt, how glorious your talk was Sunday evening over the radio. It was a masterpiece. Your articulation was perfect, the expression in your voice assures one of sincerity and love for mankind, and makes us feel that your heart pulses with sympathy for "one and all" who are in need.

With every best wish and asking God's choicest blessings on you, President Roosevelt, your good wife, children, and last, but not least, your dear mother, believe me,

Sincerely,

Mrs Julia M. Hall.

My dear Mr. Martin:

I want you to know that your kindness in presenting the etched portrait by Bicknell is deeply appreciated. We did not have any record of your presenting it and an acknowledgment was directed to Mr. Bicknell. This negligence on our part is a source of keen regret to me.

This incident would not have occurred, I am sure, had we not been completely swamped with official business ever since the Fourth of March.

It seems to me your Bicknell

If you think favorably of this

Dear Mr. President,

I saw one of your many pictures on the inside of the back cover of one of this month's issues of a Literary Digest, along with a discussion given by you on the "mobilization for human needs". They both appealed to me very much.

Then an idea struck me of sketching that picture and writing to you. You will find the sketch enclosed and though it does look like a man I am not sure that it looks wholly or even partly like you do.

I have never been able to take an art course of any kind. But with a little training I have hopes of developing my artistic talent, if only for a hobby. When asked what

Mrs. Morris

I expect to do when I graduate from high school next may I always say that I hope to earn money in some way and take an art course.

I wish you the best of luck in every thing you undertake in your administration and I know that you'll be successful. I have no ideas of the duties you have to perform, but they must be enormous and require most of your time. But if you could spare a few moments to write to me, I should greatly appreciate it and treasure the letter most highly.

PEIPING, CHINA

My dear Mr. Roosevelt:-

3 October 1933.

As we citizens of the United States of America living in the far places of the world watch the progress of your administration we realize to some extent some of the many great and perplexing problems with which you are coping, since many of the problems of these foreign countries will depend upon the success of the prosperity program in the United States.

From: The Naval Attache.
To: The Director of Naval Intelligence.

The Chinese have a very interesting custom of expressing their good wishes by the use of scrolls, or the Chinese characters which stand for Happiness, Long Life, Success, etc. It occurred to me that since your administration is concentrating on prosperity a talisman in the form of a scroll would be a very fitting gift.

Subject: Transmittal of package addressed to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Washington, D.C.

Enclosure: (A) Subject package.

1. Miss Madge Mulchay an old American resident of China has requested that the above enclosure be forwarded to the President of the United States. The contents of this package is a silver Chinese ring the value of which is about $1.50. This gift is being presented in appreciation of the efforts our President is making to restore prosperity in the United States.

This ring was made especially for you of Chinese silver by a Peking silversmith. The dragon, as you know, is the symbol for the "Son of Heaven."

C. McCAULEY.

Please do not use the time or energy to acknowledge the ring. It is only a small token of my great admiration for the way you are handling the most difficult situation any man has ever faced. If only your secretary will let me know it has been received I shall be obliged to him.

The parcel is being sent direct to you through the kindness of my friend, Commander Cleveland McCauley, Naval Attache of the Legation here.

The Chinese have a very interesting custom of expressing their good will towards family and friends by the use of scrolls, or presents prominently marked with the Chinese characters which stand for Happiness, Long Life, Success, etc. It occurred to me that since your administration is concentrating on prosperity a talisman in the form of a seal ring featuring the Chinese character "Fu" - meaning PROSPERITY - might be acceptable to you. Dear Mr. President:

+ P P Taking advantage of finding you in "home" territory, away from the direct straits of Government affairs, I am taking the liberty of offering my small greetings & welcome by sending, under separate cover, a book that I feel will be of interest in your spare hours - if such can be.

A story of the life & high lights in the career of your illustrious cousin (Theodore) Roosevelt & the Old Guard, impresses me as a volume that would be welcomed as a part of your library - whether or not you agreed altogether with his views & policies. References to his courage & stamina may even open a train of thought that might help buoy you up, to carry it with the great courage you have already shown in your short term of office.

The author - How. Hampton Moore - the present (for second time) Mayor of Philadelphia, happens to be my dad,
& he doesn't know why I requested mother to send this copy to me - some months ago. Now does she!

I doubt whether dad would be presumptuous enough to offer it to you himself - due to personal reticence - maybe politics - and would surely wouder at my "nerd" in offering his work to the President.
But I'll give my reasons - "I will take the consequences" - the volume is on its way. I trust, Mr. President, that you will accept it in the interest that prompts me to "chisel" a little on "Hauk" Moore - dad.

I have become somewhat of a "Georgian" in the past four years - married to a "peach" (who helps me to hold down old man Jefferson by carrying on as a registered nurse at our Veterans' Hospital #48). So, Mr. President, feeling that I fairly belong to the South, I beg to let my offering be ^{my part in} sort of "welcome back home," with the hope that it affords you some pleasure in its reading.

With deepest respect for the impression that your efforts have already made for good on the nation, and World at large - with best wishes for your health & courage to "follow thru" to the end, I am, Mr. President,

Very respectfully yours,

Duff Moore

Dear Sir:

You have probably received at Warm Springs a box of Satsuma oranges, which I had sent to you without any card. It was not my intention to send a card, but on second thought it occurs to me that you would want to know something about what you are supposed to eat. I hope you will enjoy the oranges.

It might please you to know that now no one who comes to this Bank is more courteous than the Federal Agents with whom we have come in contact.

My dear Mr. Early:

At the suggestion of my good we are sending for the use of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt ten gallons of Stone Mountain Spring Water.

This water has been pronounced by authorities the purest in the world. It is soft, bland, and very delightful - wonderful for table use and a decided diuretic - in fact it's as perfect as the great rock through which it percolates. I know you all will relish it.

"I could give you some idea of the number of people who for decades on end paid annual visits to the radioactive baths at Gastein. They only lived to a great age, but showed common sense and activity at a very advanced period of life. William the Great, Elizabeth, the Empress Joseph and others are among the number. On the basis of clinical observation hundreds of years old, and on scientific data only recently acquired, we must conclude that radium exercises a certain rejuvenating influence on man."

"There can be no doubt that a great many of the actions ascribed to mineral waters are actually to be attributed to the minute dose of radium the effects produced may be ascribed to their high radioactivity."

"It was observed a long time ago that persons taking the baths at Gastein often looked younger, more vigorous and fresher after their visit than before. When the radioactive properties of these springs were demonstrated a clear line was drawn in the special action of the water."

"Secondly, in the case of persons suffering from the rheumatism of the joints, the Gastein springs are due to the special action of these springs on the articular system. It is variously ascribed to the radium in the basis of persons' observations."

My Dear Mr. Metz:

After making an intensive study of your springs at Stone Mountain, I am forced to say that you have a most extraordinary table water, medicinally possessing decided diuretic properties.

From the report of the Analytical Chemist I find a remarkably pure water, which is lower in solids than any water analyzed so far in the world.

However, purity is not the only quality of this water. It is highly radioactive.

"I could give you whole lists of names of modern people who for decades on end paid annual visits to the radioactive baths at Gastein. "Steinach, in his monograph, draws special attention to the rejuvenating effects of Joachimstahl and Gastein, ascribing them to the special action of these springs on the sex glands. I can entirely subscribe to this opinion on the basis of personal observation."

Radioactivity due to gaseous emanations in a natural water is highly beneficial and absolutely harmless.

"The granite at Stone Mountain, Georgia has a radium content nearly four times as great as all others examined."

"Radium content varies considerably in various rocks. The exception is granite from Stone Mountain, Georgia, where uranium minerals were found in considerable quantities and where the spring waters have been found to be highly radioactive." (Geophysical Laboratory, Carnegie Institution, Washington 1931.)

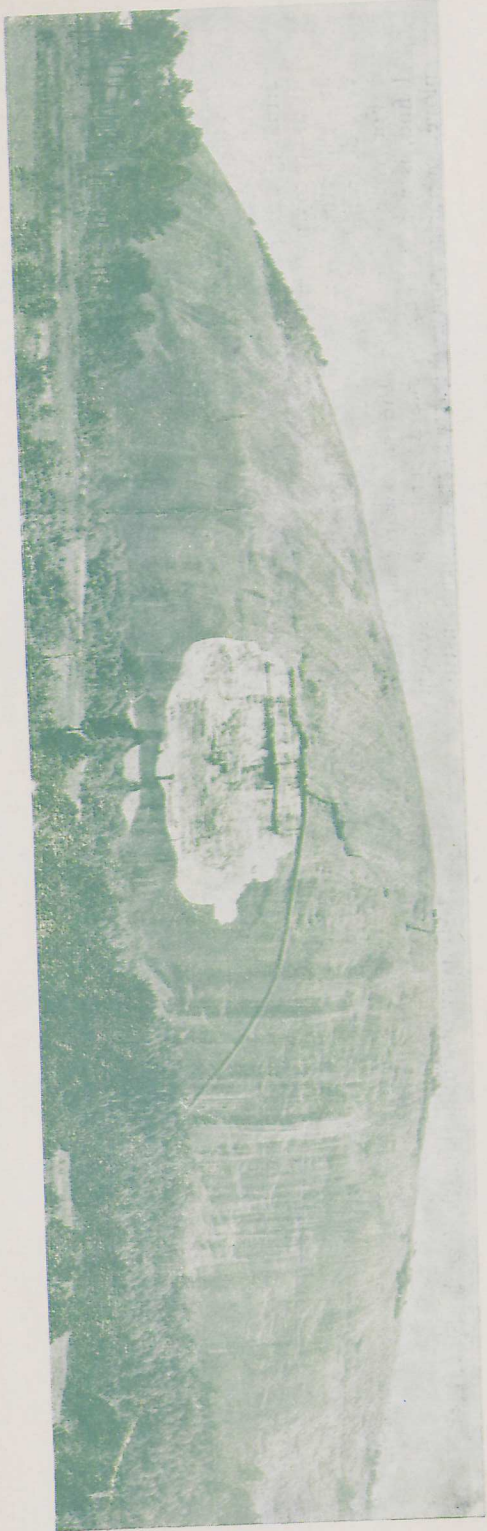

"Although the radium buried somewhere within the solid granite of Stone Mountain may not itself become available, nevertheless, radium emanation, its active, useful product, is being constantly absorbed and brought to the surface in the spring waters which issue from its base. The radioactivity of the best of these springs is far in excess of that of the majority of the resort springs in this country and compares favorably with that of even the best of the famous springs abroad."

Gentlemen:

This letter is to thank you for the Stone Mountain spring water that you have so kindly allowed us to use in our training room this fall. We appreciate this very much. It has been a welcome addition to our training facilities.

We have found this water to be a water that is much appreciated by the men when they come in from practice. They like it warm, whereas in hot weather the other water requires cooling to be palatable. In addition we have found a man can drink more of this water without feeling any ill effect than he can of the hydrant water. It also has a very marked effect on the kidneys and is thus of aid in flushing poisons caused by fatigue.

I think this is very much the best water that I have ever found for the use of football teams on trips. It does not deteriorate when bottled for several days and is always palatable, and of course absolutely pure.

With kindest regards, I am

Sincerely,

W. A. Alexander

My dear Mr. Murphy:

Your letter of October twenty-eighth has been received and called to the attention of the President. He was much interested in the clippings you enclosed and has asked me to thank you for your courtesy in letting him have the benefit of your thoughts and suggestions. He is indeed grateful for this evidence of your interest in his Recovery program.

Honorable Franklin Delano Roosevelt
President United States
White House, Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. President:

Backing up the wire I sent you on last Saturday night, stating that the criticisms of your program by Governor Bryan, ex-governor Neville, and your National Committeeman from Nebraska, Arthur Mullen, was meeting with severe condemnation by the jobbers, retailers, and commercial travelers thruout the state of Nebraska, as well as elsewhere, I am enclosing an editorial from the World Herald of Omaha, and also a press comment from Arthur Mullen, and although I can appease my feelings somewhat by the remarks of Bryan and Neville, I do resent the sarcasm of Mr. Mullen, namely, "our well intentioned President" and so does every other red blooded loyal American citizen who had faith and confidence in you long before Mr. Mullen had, and if I recall it correctly, when I talked over the situation of the Nebraska delegation with Mr. Mullen, and advocated an instructed delegation, I found that he was rather lukewarm to a deal of that kind, as it is my guess that he much preferred to go to Chicago with the Nebraska delegation and do a little trading, and if you will recall, I requested of you to write me a few lines regarding the importance of an instructed delegation, which you did, and which, thru the good offices of our mutual friend, ex-senator Hitchcock, his paper the World Herald, of Omaha, gave it a wide publicity, therefore, I believe that you will agree with me that after all you have done for Mr. Mullen I am perfectly within my rights in criticising his remarks.

HOME OF K-L-Z

Permit me to say further, my dear Mr. President, that wherever I travel and I find a real breaking down of the N. R. A., I find that the person or persons to whom the state authority was delegated, have proved not to be big enough to do a real honest-to-goodness job, because he was of a cheap political, petty larcening politician type and was afraid he would lose, a little prestige politically if he attempted to carry out the program of the N. R. A., and in that class I place ex-governor Neville of North Platte, Nebraska, Governor Bryan of Lincoln, and Mr. Mullen of Omaha, who backed up the criticism of Bryan and Neville when he should have been standing back of you and your program four-square, and in this same class I place Governor Floyd Olson of Minnesota, as all the time he was four-flush-ing about the N. R. A., his lieutenant governor and every other member of the Farm Labor party, was talking in every corner of the state of Minnesota against the N. R. A., and Governor Olson never made a move to curb any of them, but now, when it takes a real man to do the job that is necessary to make the N. R. A. a success (and it is going to be a success), Governor Olson, like ex-governor Neville, tenders his resignation with a lot of cheap alibis.

I plead with you, Mr. President, to appoint men who will carry out the principles of the N. R. A. and who are not afraid of any group of petty politicians, men who will back up General Hugh Johnson in the manly fight he is making to make the N.R.A. a success, and I say, more power to him and in the controversy that he has started with Mr. Ford, I, as well as your other million of supporters, am for him four-square.

Now, my dear Mr. President, that I have this load off my chest, let me say I hope you and your friends will enjoy the Habanello cigars my factory has informed me they have sent to you at my request, as I must confess I feel that I have neglected you in the matter of smokes, and let me say further, I shall never forget the city from which I am writing this letter, as it was here that you slowed your train down that I might get aboard and have the pleasure of chatting with you and of meeting your wonderful helpmate, Mrs. Roosevelt, as well as your fine son, James.

In closing let me renew my pledge of loyalty to you, and may God bless and protect you and spare you to us, your people, for many years to come, As always,

Your traveling ambassador of good-will from Omaha.

The Honorable Franklin Delano Roosevelt, ^{add} 11-29-33 President of the United States. in

My dear President Roosevelt:

The members of the Maryland State Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, desire to present you with a copy de luxe of the recently published book "The Founding of Maryland" by Matthew Page Andrews, an historian of the State.

We hope that this volume will find a place in your library, and be a source of interest and information to you concerning the founding of the Province of Maryland on March 25th, 1634, which event is to be celebrated throughout the State of Maryland the coming year.

It would be a great satisfaction to the Maryland D. A. R., if you would allow me, accompanied by two of the Society's State officers, to present the volume to you in person.

Awaiting your pleasure in the matter,
I am

Very sincerely yours,
