Mr. President, you have somehow or rather all been a responsive chord in everyone's sense of duty to our country. You have come a bit closer to the common weal of us and have before ever dared to do, or even thought of doing. You have renewed our fondest hopes, not only in our wonderful country, but you have given us new faith in ourselves, in our future. With you, Mr. President, holding the torch of burning torch of renewed hope, our breasts now glow with pride, and we can not lose faith in ourselves, in our beloved country, neither in the principles upon which this Democracy was founded, nor, above all, in you.

January 27th, 1934

Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt
President of the United States, White House,
Washington, D.C.

Honorable Sir:

I am taking this opportunity to ask your kind indulgence, and allow me a few moments of your most precious time.

To begin a letter, or even attempt to write a satisfactory introduction, so that you may not lose any interest before coming to the theme, or before there is that thought, "here is another waste of time, I wish my secretary would keep these things away from me" ----- is indeed a task which I hope by now I have surmounted. To allow me this unheard of privilege, can be spelled out to be an effort of a life time.

I hesitate to go into a detailed discussion of the probabilities, problems and potentialities of N.R.A., because that is something that can not be done in this letter.

The test of time will clearly show that you have formulated a new working system, which has and will continue to receive the heartfelt cooperation from everyone of us; there is no other alternative to insure a sane, steady and positive flow of recovery than thru your plan.

Mr. President, you have somehow or rather hit upon a responsive chord in everyone's sense of duty to one's country. You have come a bit closer to the common masses as no one man before ever dared to do, or even thought of doing.
You have renewed our fondest hopes, not only in our wonderful country, but you have given us new faith in ourselves, in our future. With you, Mr. President, holding the brightly burning torch of renewed hope, our breasts once again swell with pride, and we can not lose faith in ourselves, in our beloved country, neither in the principles upon which this Democracy was founded, nor, above all, in you.

We will awaken the patriotic spirit not for money gain -

I am able to create a helpful way for a happy housewife to prepare a wholesome meal not so costly it will fit every purse.

I will make this a speedy spread to every State. It will not require more than a year.

My life's experience has been on close terms to the need of money and as I promised God Almighty to help the needy and worthy old and the child of the street and its mother.

So this is the purpose of my linking the good work for the country and the people.

--00--

Albert M. Meyer
112 Greenwich St N.Y.C.

Roselle, N. J., May 11, 1909.

Board of education, Mr. Principal and teachers, fellow citizens and children, we all feel this is God's work. I couldn't have thought 6 yrs. ago this coming November when I walked over that historical spot, the same ground our beloved Geo. Washington occupied as his home, that it would result in so much pleasure as we face to-day.

Those walnuts that I brought from Mt. Vernon and planted on Thanksgiving day of 1903, have pleased me so much I felt I must send some of the trees to different parts of the world and I did.

The history of all countries are not able to show a man like the Father of our Country. The words, "First in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen," are the most fitting for this great man. He stuck to it when the hopes of ever gaining the liberty for this beloved country was so little no one would have blamed him for giving up, but in this dark hour he sought help and strength from Heaven, and gained it in prayer all alone outside of the camp of that little band of faithful patriots clad in ragged uniforms at Valley Forge he knelt down in that noble motive and prayed to the Ruler of it all, so his will was God's will to be done and it was he is today our example in peace and as a gentleman should be, an example for us. Now in honor of this great man's memory may the planting of these trees be the pleasure of generations to come.

A. W. MEYER

Now there are trees in Roselle grown from those walnuts, which trees have been bearing nuts. From these walnuts, there have been offsprings fifteen feet high.

*Fromed Birthdays
Greetings
To House*

Fond du Lac, Wis. Jan, 25, 1934

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt,
Washington, D. C.,

My dear Mrs. Roosevelt:

Greetings from Wisconsin!

I am sending in your care a Greeting and Tribute to your beloved husband on his Natal day.

You meet so many people, perhaps I would better explain that I am the Mrs Martin who met you at the Schroeder Hotel in Milwaukee at the reception given in then Gov Roosevelt's honor. I also extolled President Roosevelt in verse, and I greatly cherish his kindly letter acknowledging the effusion, also your letter to me. Never has an U. S. President been so near to the hearts of the people, at home and abroad as is Franklin D. Roosevelt. We pray that he may carry out his great plans, as we feel he will, for a suffering Nation.

Last year I met with a great sorrow in the loss of my beloved son Judge P H Martin, ill but seven days with pneumonia. So young to die, his family needed him and he was doing such good work. I am a broken-hearted mother, in the hospital and just now trying to regain my health from the nervous collapse caused by my sons death. You, a real, kindly mother, will understand.

I follow your work and talks and marvel at your endurance. Please take care of your health, for all, not only your family, but the world at large, need the splendid example of unselfishness and true womanliness, which can only come from a great heart, throbbing with noble impulses.

I am visiting in the city where my son Judge Martin resided, Fond du Lac, and shall be here until April.

My work as a Campaign speaker for the democratic Party was a pleasure, and I have been asked to again speak for them.

Yours sincerely

Mary Martin

My dear President Roosevelt:

In honor of your birthday the pupils of the printing class of the Christopher Gibson School take great pleasure in sending you this calendar with congratulations for a happy birthday and a successful term.

We were one of the first public schools to receive a bust bearing your resemblance, which now occupies a conspicuous place in our school hall. In the principal's office we have a plaque of you, and one of the teachers has a likeness of you under which, on a brass plate, is printed the motto "Together we cannot fail". All the children of our school try their utmost to fulfill it.

Again, I personally congratulate you and hope you will have the happiest birthday there ever was.

Sincerely yours,
Mildred Magate.

Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

Once more, the wheels of time turn to January the thirtieth, and though the problems of the nation that confront you are as many as the spokes of the good wheel, may this coming birthday find you happier than ever.

Although there are some seven hundred miles between us, I sometimes feel that there is something which brings you, The President of the United States nearer to the hearts and minds of your loyal citizens of Boston. As I pass through our school hall and glance at your inspiring head, on those two well-set shoulders, I pause for a moment, and wish that in the years to come

I might do something worth-while for my country.

May each of these three-hundred-and-sixty-five days, marked on these calendars by the boys of our printing class, bring you as much joy as this next Tuesday; I in behalf of my worthy principal Miss MacDonnell, my teachers and classmates of the Christopher Gibson School, wish you, "Many Happy Returns."

Very truly yours

Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

In commemoration of the fifty-second birthday of one of the finest, noblest, and most courageous presidents the United States has ever had, we the pupils of the Christopher Gibson School, send our best wishes accompanied by calendars made by the boys' printing classes of our school. We hope that they may serve you as well as you have served our country and its people.

In many ways, you have been tested and tried, but always the inhabitants of this, your country and mine, have found you to be staunch, loyal, and true to your vows. The long dreary hours you have spent, trying to better the situation we are in, will certainly be a shining example for your successors to follow.

We hope that the Greatest Leader of all, may provide you with all you need, and grant you many more happy birthdays.

Sincerely yours,

President Franklin D. Roosevelt:

The White House;

Washington D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

It gives me great pleasure, on behalf of the pupils of the Christopher Gibson School, its principal, Miss McDonnell, and also of its teachers, to be able to congratulate you on your fifty-second birthday. We are all hoping that you will be able to enjoy your future birthdays in the best of health.

We have been looking forward to a time when we would be able to help in a way, the great "N. R. A." and its famous saying, "We Do Our Part." Accordingly Mr. President, we are sending to you six calendars. Each calendar has engraved on it a picture of yourself. In this way we are doing our part. As the days and months pass, and from these calendars you tear the monthly leaves off, may these dates go down in history as months of joy-giving fulfillment on your part.

The eyes of the nation, for the past two years, have been turned towards you. Your name is lighting those dead fires, put out by the storm which has for these last two years, hovered over us. Now that storm has almost passed. The damage done is gradually being repaired. The people of these United States have all shown their true colors in good sportsmanship. The nation's population has selected a leader to lead them from the pit of destruction, on again to the road to recovery and that leader is you. Yes, Mr. President you have led this nation on to the road to recovery though that path is long and hard to walk on, you have put courage into the hearts of all true Americans.

Yours sincerely,
Jerome Cohen.

Dear Mr. President:

On behalf of the Christopher Gibson School may I extend my sincere congratulations on your fifty second birthday. May your next one and every one to come find you in perfect health.

I am only a small boy and my opinions and views may not amount to much, but I think from all the talk and comment that I have heard that your projects will be the chief factors in placing us on the road to prosperity. Your work up to date has been excellent and I wish you success in your undertakings in the future.

As a small token of appreciation for your untiring efforts in the interest of the United States, we send to you these calendars which will be distributed in our school. We feel greatly honored to be able to put the portrait of one of our greatest presidents on our calendars.

Dear Mr. President:

It is quite futile, Mr. President, to even attempt to express our sincere wishes for a happy birthday, but as a token of our sincerity we are sending calendars that the boys of our school, the Christopher Gibson School of Dorchester, have printed in your honor. It is equally impossible to express our admiration of your courage, perseverance, comprehension, and capability.

In our school is a remarkable portrait of your likeness, in which are shown all those marvelous characteristics. Engraved on wood, it bears a brass inscription of your words, words that will ring through the ages as an indication of your character: "Together we cannot fail." This quotation we are endeavoring to follow.

We appreciate your courage, as shown by your intrepidity in your fight against infantile paralysis, your perseverance, as shown by your repeated battle in the face of innumerable obstacles, your comprehension, as shown by your knowledge of this ill, and last, but certainly not least, your capability, as shown by your conquest of your affliction.

May I congratulate you once more, Mr. President, and may you have a multitude of happy and prosperous birthdays.

Sincerely yours,

It is indeed a pleasure to congratulate you on this very happy occasion of your birthday. I am sure you do not regret that you are one year older considering the amount of service you have given to your country.

During the past year my parents have given me permission to stay up beyond my usual bed-time in order to listen to your speeches which were so simple and sincere that even children might understand them. We children are you have made every effort to secure for

Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

I have been one of your most ardent admirers since you became our President, and was very happy to be chosen by my teacher to write you this personal letter of congratulations on your fifty-second birthday.

Although I am only thirteen years old I can well appreciate and realize the wonderful work you are doing and have done since you entered the White House. I think your latest interests and efforts to fight the dreaded infantile paralysis is one of your most commendable achievements. May success crown your efforts

On behalf of myself and fellow

May we of the Christopher Gibson School congratulate you upon your splendid administration in which you are trying to do your part. We also are trying to "do our part," and, "Together we cannot fail."

Might we also congratulate you upon your birthday which falls on the 30th of this month. We hope that you attain your goal for the Warm Springs fund. To do so the proceeds from the balls given over these United States must and will exceed your demand.

Please accept these calendars, with our compliments and congratulations and our sincere good wishes for a successful termination to your

Dear Mr. President:
Congratulations!

Hard work ceases to be hard work when one loves it as reflected in the interest you have shown in our great and promising country, the United States.

I have watched with eagerness and anticipation how you have tried to help our parents. In many cases you have succeeded.

Your thoughtfulness and consideration in the birthday plan produced is indeed a great one. And when others should have given to you on your birthday, you have given to others; therefore, I do appreciate your kindness and thoughtfulness of giving to human mankind.

We send this little token of appreciation in thanks for all you have done, and I sincerely wish you
