OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

3/6/35 LPB

February 28, 1935

To the President of the United States
Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt
White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

This year brings to us the Centennial of the Birth of Samuel Clemens.

The esteem in which Mark Twain is held by the Literary World has prompted a few of his friends to commemorate this Anniversary with a memorial medallion. We are taking the liberty of sending to you under separate cover one of the first of these medallions to be struck, which we would appreciate having you accept with the compliments and highest esteem of the sculptor and the producers of this memento.

This medallion is the work of the New York Sculptor, Julio Kilenyi, who, among many other similar creations, designed the George Washington Bridge Dedication Medallion - an original of which was presented to you when, as Governor of the State of New York, you opened this Bridge to the public.

Most respectfully yours,

My Medal

'Tis only a scrap of silv'ry ore,
Yet more than treasure trove,
For Mary herself has giv'n to me
Freely this sign of love.
Her image is there with outstretched arms,
Cross and the Hearts Divine,
A Heart that is pierced with sharpest blade,
Thorns do the Other twine.

'Tis only a scrap of silv'ry ore,
Mark of a Mother's care;
And on it she graved in simple words,
Simply a Mother's pray'r:
"O Mary, conceived without a stain,
Void of our sin's decree,
Pray for us now and ever more
Having recourse to thee."

'Tis only a scrap of silv'ry ore
Hanging upon my breast;
But with it come peace and golden joy,
Mercy and final rest.
So leave to the world its tinsel wealth,
Power and groping lore;
But let me retain my tiny scrap,
Scrap of the silv'ry ore.

Mrs. Cecilia Owens.

Beloved Mr. President,

Through the kindness of your son James, and the courtesy of Mrs. Roosevelt, I have been granted a visit with the First Lady. Incidentally, I have prayed a kind Fate that I may be selfishly awarded the privilege of simply shaking your busy hand.

Please accept this tiny token of affection from my four admiring Bostonians who are as thrilled as I with the fact that I am visiting Washington at the moment, we are with you and your desires-100% .

A red letter day in my varied existence as singer and Mother, was the evening I stood on the platform with you at Symphony Hall Boston, substituting--inadequately--for the Grand Mother of all aspiring Contraltos, Madame Schumann-Heink. These memories are so treasured.

A Gracious Deity grant you strength and courage to carry on in the face of harassing conditions--I'm sure somehow, that He will.

If ever I may be if assistance in the State of Massachusetts, please call upon me.

Mr. Roosevelt

I am sending you a little saddle which I made. People seem to think it is quite a novelty. I have made four and mother says this is the best. I though it would be great to say I had given something to the President of our United States. Although I don't care for publicity.

I realize you are very busy. Probably alot more than I could be able to understand. If you could find a spare moment in which to drop a line to let me know if you received the saddle and what you think of it. I shall feel honored and that my time was well spent.

I shall soon be Nineteen and graduated from high shool last year. I am living on my fathers farm & it certainly is dry here.

I thank you.

President Roosevelt
White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear President Roosevelt:

I am a boy of sixteen years of age, and I feel greatly honored and pleased in presenting to you a picture of yourself which I have made. Your portrait is a free hand sketch and the background is a rainbow design of the American Flag which includes the Blue Eagle. Over twenty-two thousand lines and three hundred fifty stars compose this unique design. Over four weeks of steady work was required in making this picture.

The slogan I have printed at the bottom of the picture is, I believe, in the mind and heart of every citizen of our great nation.

I have never taken any lesson in art of any kind: I use my own imagination. My past school teachers tell me that I possess great talent for art and music. I graduated from junior high school last year. Unfortunately, it is impossible for me to go to high school because, for the past eight years, I have been afflicted with the dreaded trouble of epilepsy which becomes more serious as I grow older. Since there is no line of work that I could hope to obtain with this trouble, and since no college would accept me even if I had the means to pay my way, my father would like to hire an art teacher to come and teach me at home, as he believes I could earn my own living with art work. Unfortunately, my father has been out of work most of the time, for the past four years. My mother died over two years ago of a broken heart over my trouble, and so, unless something unforeseen happens, my father will never have the means to give me any lessons in art and I fear that I will remain a burden to him for life.

This is not a pleasant thought for me, so I have decided to try and do something to get art lessons. One of my past teachers told me that the Associated Press and other press organizations sometimes pay high prices for pictures or news which they sell to newspapers throughout the country. I am enclosing herewith, a large photograph of the picture which will facilitate matters for you, should you decide to give the picture to the press with the understanding that whatever money will be paid for the use of the picture, will be sent to me to acquire an education in art so I can earn my own living.

I hate to ask you this favor, Mr. President, but I know that you will sympathize with me since you know by personal experience, how it feels to be physically handicapped. But I believe as you do, and I am therefore fighting this disease with faith in God, will power and the best medicine known to medical science and, thank God I am winning the fight.

Hoping that you will like the picture and slogan and that I will have the honor of hearing from you. I beg to sign as

Boy Who Bought First Stamp At Post Office Writes To President

The following letter has been sent to President Franklin D. Roosevelt by Gerald R. Morin, 16, of 129 Walnut street, telling the Chief Executive of his purchase of the first stamp sold at the opening of the new post office Monday morning, and which he used to mail to the White House a large scroll he had drawn, which included a picture of the President:

office at 7, so that he might be the first customer.

Gerard spent a month on his design, he said. It contains 22,000 lines. As a background for the picture of the President, Gerard put 350 stars in red, white and blue, with ornamental curved lines surrounding every star. He mailed the scroll to the White House at exactly 7 A. M.

Business was dull at the post office this morning. Everything was in place, the old furniture detracting somewhat from the appearance of the work-room and offices. Much new furniture ordered has not yet arrived. The building will look much better in six months when the decorating is done. This must wait until the plaster hardens on the walls and ceilings.

The first man to register a piece of mail this morning was Charlie Sang, 146 High street, a Chinese laundryman. The first to get a money order was Stanley Lazarus, 22 Lawler street. One gentleman has the distinction of having mail box No. 1 but the names of box holders are kept confidential by the post office. The White and Wyckoff Mfg. Company was the first to send for mail this morning.

The big feature of the new quarters is the lighting. The men worked this morning in daylight from the great skylights, although it was a dull day. In the old building they always had to use artificial light. The cramped quarters in the old mezzanine floor of the Main street building were a strong contrast to the spacious workroom in the new building.

Assistant Postmaster James N. Murray today has a big room all to himself. Postmaster Horace D. Prentiss shares his large front room with the only Holyoke female postal worker, Miss Margaret Loughrey, secretary to the postmaster.

Rooms assigned to other government services on the second floor have not yet been occupied. The change to the new building, incidentally relieves a congested parking situation on Main street.

Some mail carriers who trudged up the Dwight street hill to their beats for 20 years were saved that extra journey today. Of course those with the beats in Ward 1 and South Holyoke, have their daily walk increased.

Dear Mr. Secretary.

In my haste to dict you the brief note from Rutledge, Tenn. this afternoon expressing the sympathy of my wife and myself for the President and Mrs. Howe in the serious illness of the Secretary, by error I said I had met him at a play in which his daughter participated. Instead it was Secretary McIntyre. Pardon the mistake, to which my wife called my attention on reaching home.

I am sending to President Roosevelt, thru you, a wonderful little volume entitled "Historic Northern Neck of Virginia, Land of George Washington and Robert E. Dear Mr. Roosevelt:

Last week
I sent you in care of Mr. Forster, a book on naval ordnance during the war. It was in the late Prince Kuhio Kalanianole's collection and in it are several pictures of yourself that remind me of our intention in buying it was to keep it out of the wrong

hands as it contains plans

1. Registration + indexing of all ex-service men in Hawaii.

2. A thorough census of Hawaii's civilian population. Carte d'identité if feasible. (There are thousands of aliens here who have entered the country illegally).

3. Investigation (done quietly) of the japanese schools here for subtle propaganda.

4. The insertion of a clause in all contracts for navy yard and army post work, making it mandatory that citizen labor only be employed. (I know of a case where an alien (not an oriental) working for a contractor in the navy yard entered the country illegally & is an active communistic progandist.)

L'AMOUR A HONOLULU 93

Mais ces Yankees-là s'habillent à la japonaise; mangent de la cuisine japonaise; vénèrent leurs dieux japonais (ils ont leurs temples); envoient leurs enfants aux écoles strictement japonaises.

Aux écoles américaines aussi, bien sûr; mais, le soir, après avoir appris l'anglais, compté en anglais, les pauvres gosses vont encore passer deux ou trois heures sous la férule d'un maître nippon.

Qui leur inculque l'histoire et l'amour de la patrie. De la vraie.

En cas de guerre, ce ne sont pas les Japonais de l'extérieur que je crains pour Honolulu; c'est ceux qui y sont.

← It wouldn't be French if it didn't have something about amour in it, but the French logic asserts itself in the last paragraph.

5. No visiting of the "general public" to the fleet when it comes here next month. Also the reminder by local newspapers that photographing U.S. fortifications (battleships included) is against the law.

You no doubt know the propeller is used to-day on ships. I want you to have this miniature to add to your nautical collections. I have prized it for its rarity having received it at the time it was made and because of my personal acquaintance with the Major. I hope it may act as an inspiration to propel you onward against your enemies who are trying to rob you of the credit of what you have and will accomplish in leading us out of our depression. Dear Mr. Luckey:-

There is a German saying, I am good to them that good to me. Lets try it on our very good President.

I will make the offer you check my letter as to correctness of inferences.

First statement when I was thirty six years of age, I knew for the first time by actual experience just what infantile paralysis can and does do to a person.

The present support for the President I infer is a strong brace for both legs from the waist down.

He uses a ramp and canes this will indicate a shuffle instead of a stride.

PRIVATE SECRETARY

Christopher Morley, Esq.,
c/o Gotham Book Mart, Inc.,

New York, N.Y.

This does two things it makes locamotion slower and far more unsafe than it would be if the President would use crutches Now if you will go to the President and have him give you his under arm measurements, I will have a pair of plain crutches prepared for him. I feel confident that if the President will try to use crutches he will not go back to ~~xxxxx~~ canes. The crutches will aid nature return the flow of blood more naturaly andprevent leg swelling and in time I very truely believe he can take the braces off. I am trying to check my own experience with the Presidents Trust me I am willing to h elp any one who has suffered with a terror like the infantile paralysis.

I hope through you good efforts we can help our President and I firmly believe our prayers are awnsered in the way that is best when we pray andwork for others. Very truely yours,

Geo.O. McLanahan

My dear Mr. President,

On this Mothers' Day, when you, our President, like all of us, have thoughts only for mother – I should like you to have a likeness of your charming mother, which I have sketched from a picture.

It is merely the humble effort of an untrained pencil, but in all sincerity meant for you.

Through your splendid achievements you have won the hearts of all of us. My admiration for you is profound; coupled with that is the regard for your dear mother, to whom I am sure a great deal of credit is due for having raised so noble a son to serve his people.

My wife joins me in the wish that our Lord grant your mother many more years of health and happiness.

With every hope that we will be privileged to have you serve a second term in office, I am, Yours respectfully, Sigmund Mandl D.C.

Dear Mr. Roosevelt,

I hope that you and ever one is feeling fine. I am sending a painting that I painted of you. I would appreciate it very much if you will except this picture. I painted it a year and half ago and had it hanging in my room. I intended to send it long ago, but my school work took my mind of it. I am fifteen years old and like art and swimming best of all sports. I would to become a sailor and sail on one of the U.S. Battle Ships. My brother Frank is fourteen years old and is always with me no matter where I go. He does the same as I do in sports only he is more lively and doesn't like art.

I wish you will like the painting and in case I make another and it turns out better I will send it to you.

One of your best friends
