My dear Mr. Montell:

Thank you very much for the three tumblers of deviled ham. I shall be glad to pass them along to the President and can assure you of his very real appreciation of your thoughtfulness.

I also wish to take this opportunity to thank you in my own behalf. I think you were mighty nice to remember me.

to The President
Washington D. C.

Dear Mr. McIntyre:

Please accept from Montell Company, Cambridge, Maryland, sincere thanks for the financial assistance rendered by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

We trust you will convey to our esteemed President,
His Excellency Franklin D. Roosevelt, our gratitude, which we shall always have before us,

The financial aid has enabled us to proceed with business contracts, the result of which will more than provide for payment as agreed to.

Under separate cover we take the liberty to mail
you two six oz. tumblers, introductory samples of Montell Brand Deviled Smithfield Ham, which we hope The President and you will enjoy.

Again expressing our thanks,

Respectfully,

Montell Company,

RESPECTFULLY REFERRED

AND CONSIDERATION
M.H.M. Mendes
Ministry to the President

Honorable Franklin Delano Roosevelt,
President of the United States,
Washington, D.C.,

My dear Mr. President:

Some forty years ago I had the honor to send my poem
"England and America." to her Majesty Queen Victoria, and received her very gracious acknowledgment.

A few months ago, on the eve of your departure to Buenos Aires,
I also had the honor to send a copy to you, but evidently it never reached you. May I ask your acceptance of accompanying copy? Recently I sent to their Majesties, the King and Queen of England, to the Queen Dowager, and also to the Archbishops of Canterbury and York, copies of this poem.

I did so, not out of personal vanity - my age forbids that.
For last April marked the sixtieth anniversary of my beginning my ministry in America. I entered Holy office three years previously in Manchester, England, and I have just celebrated my eighty-fifth birthday anniversary!
I am too old for vanity.

My motive for intruding on your valuable time is best expressed in my letter to King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, a copy of which I enclose, showing historical endorsement.

The poem sets forth, on historic basis, a Divine mission entrusted to England and America to lead the world in its slow march to its highest ideals, such as, Brotherhood, Peace by Arbitration, a recognition of the three great R's, Reverence, Righteousness, and Responsibility.

Is not the time ripe for a closer rapprochement between England and America? But I do not plead for economic or political reason alone.

As far back as 1899 I published "Looking Ahead," in which I visioned an Anglo-Saxon Confederation, on the lines of our United States Constitution, each state free and independent, but united for common weal.

I pleaded not because vast markets would thus be opened for our country, but because such a union would by its strength promote Peace for the world. Peace by Arbitration, "swords beaten into plow-shares and spears into pruning hooks" as the Bible phrases it, Human Brotherhood, God's Fatherhood.

Are not these ideals worth thought?

As for myself, I am personally known to Chief Justice Hughes, Justice Brandeis, and Justice Cardozo, and am Minister Emeritus of the oldest congregation in America, founded 1655.

I have the honor to be,

Mr. President,

Very faithfully yours,

019
H. Pereira Mendes.

May 12, 1937.

To Their Majesties, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth of England,

May it please Your Majesties,

I had the honor of presenting Her late Majesty, Queen Victoria, with a copy of the enclosed poem, "England and America," and I received her most gracious acknowledgement.

The poem presents England, and America her daughter, divinely destined to be the instruments of God in human history to lead the world to Peace and Happiness.

Your Majesties: you are called to the Throne of a mighty Empire at a moment when, not merely a nation or an empire, but this whole world of ours needs Divine guidance and God-urge and leadership to Divine ideals as never before in human history.

May I ask your gracious acceptance of the enclosed copy, in the hope that England, the Land of my birth, education and love, may, during your reign, promote her Divine destiny as I vision it.

As I vision it, the British Empire-cry of "Dieu et mon Droit," means not only recognition of God in England's life and policies, but recognition by Anglo-Saxondom of Anglo-Saxondom's Right, Privilege and Destiny to fulfil that Destiny to lead mankind to World-Peace and Human Happiness.

Thus alone can be revealed the purpose of Earth's Creation, a revelation of the glory of a Creator, the God of Love and loving Father of us all.

I have entered my eighty-sixty year. I will complete next month sixty-three years' ministry, begun in Manchester, 1874.

My studies have taught me that great England was made great by Divine afflatus (the Bible). History attests that it was Bible-impulse which impelled an Alfred the Great and inspired a Caedmon, the bard, in the earliest days of England's birth, - the King to personally translate and spread the knowledge of the Bible, the bard to sing of Bible themes. These two great men laid the foundation of England's glorious history, glorious because its history has meant for the world the proclamations of that Bible; e.g., that God is the Great Power in human affairs, national and international, and man must be swayed by Bible ideals, such as the Bible sings, - "Stand for Righteousness and Justice" (Gen.xviii.19), "Proclaim Liberty throughout the land" (Lev.xxv.10), People's Rights (I Kings xii.7) and kingly rights to be king in the Bible meaning of the word, - Leader, rather than Ruler, and himself to be ruled by the King of Kings.

Your Majesties: may the ancient priestly benediction be yours; - "May the Lord bless you and keep you. May He illumine you and be gracious unto you. May He grant you His regard and give you Heart-peace." Amen.

I have the honor to remain,

Your Majesties' most obedient Servant,

Congress of the United States
House of Representatives
Washington, D.C.

330 Maryland Avenue N. E.

June 5, 1937.

Hon. Marvin H. McIntyre,
Secretary to the President,
The White House,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Colonel McIntyre:

I am a resident of Smith County, Mississippi, temporarily living in Washington. Mr. Joe Taylor, our county agent, has asked me to arrange to present to the President one of our water-melons. We will be prepared to make the presentation in two or three weeks and meantime I wish you would advise me of the procedure necessary and further if such an arrangement will be agreeable to the President.

The production of watermelons has developed into a splendid industry in Mississippi and Smith County takes great pride in its reputation of producing the finest and most delicious melons grown in that area. The County Agent, Mr. Taylor, is in charge of the marketing of melons and has been extraordinarily successful. He has suggested the advisability of announcing a contest, the largest and best melon grown to be given to the President. The attendant publicity would stimulate interest among producers and buyers alike.

In this connection I might say that melon production has been a satisfactory substitute, financially, for cotton under the Reduction Plan. Mr. Taylor has been particularly active in promoting this program.

For confirmation of my sincerity and reliability I refer you to Senator Harrison or Congressman Collins.

Please advise me through the office of Congressman Collins if it will be possible to present the melon personally to the President. I should like also to know your wishes concerning the procedure and details of the presentation ceremony.

Sincerely yours,

You have always been so considerate and kind when I have had some problem in connection with the White House that I am imposing on you to send you the enclosed magazine and correspondence with Mr. Ernest E. Martin of New York City, whom I knew in New York several years ago.

Dear Ernest:

Your letter of the 5th received and I am glad to hear of your new connection and hope you will make a great success of the undertaking.

I am very sorry to say that we cannot arrange a presentation of the publication to the President in the manner you suggest. There are so many hundreds of appeals of this nature that it is only on very rare and unusual occasions that the White House will consent. I am sure you will understand and appreciate our position.

I can easily send the magazine with the letter addressed to the President to one of the secretaries but possibly you would not like for me to do this and I will hold them intact until I hear from you.

With kindest regards, I am

Sincerely your friend,

Dear Don:

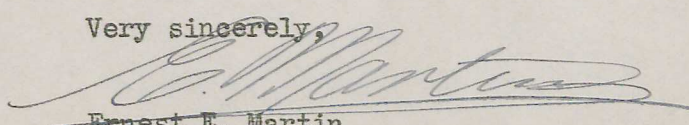

Undoubtedly you have heard through Bob Reid, that I am now connected with the Cinema Magazine, Inc. in the capacity of Treasurer.

Our magazine was placed on the newsstands today for the first time and we have had 2000 specially bound copies printed for celebrities. I am therefore sending to you, under separate cover, two of these copies, of which one will be marked Volume 1, Number 1-A. It would be a great favor to me if the Senator would present this magazine to the President of the United States at the White House. A similar copy is being sent for your office. If the Senator finds it impossible to make delivery, will you please make the presentation and have a photographer take photographs of whosoever makes the presentation to the President. However, this might be asking too much, but if it is possible you can send the bill for whatever the expense and I'll send you my check by return mail. Should such a photograph be secured, we will publish it in our next issue.

This international magazine is of a new type and we anticipate the first issue to be sold out before the end of this week. We believe these two books will be of great value within a few years and therefore suggest that you hold yours in your library.

Wishing you the best of health and happiness, I remain

Very sincerely,

Dear Sister Juliana:

I have received your letter of June twenty-ninth, with the enclosed communication addressed to the President, and want to thank you for your kind thought in sending the Sacred Heart badge.

I am sorry to have to disappoint you, but because of the numerous requests similar to the one you make it is impossible for the President to comply with them. I am sure you will understand.

I feel we shall be friends.

I wish to write to our President, but I fear that my letter may not reach him personally: so I thought by sending it through you he would surely receive it.

I hope I am not intruding on any laws

NOTICE!!

This pre-publication copy was prepared for your advance inspection and comment, and the enclosed questionnaire, for your convenience. By means of the questionnaire, your essential reaction to the book may be quickly recorded in the form of "yes" or "no" checkmarks. It is true that an hour or more of your valuable time may be required to look the book over, but I hardly think you'll be bored, or your time wasted. File
Card

Naturally enough, the ideal type of response from you would be in the form of a letter, but experience has taught me how BUSY everybody is these days, hence the questionnaire.

The important thing is that you make some sort of response, -- ^{12th} ~~4th~~ any sort. For, when this book goes out to the public on July ^{12th} ~~4th~~, it will not be presaged by the usual fanfare, nor blessed by the usual burnt offering. Only the title on the cover (and one lone ad in "The Nation") will serve to call it to the attention of the people. That is hardly enough. But you are one who already commands that public attention, and a few words from you -- even one word -- even one harsh word -- will light up the book like a Christmas tree. Well anyhow, it will light it up. And so I ask of you in the spot-light, will you kind of nudge over a little, and give the book a bow? (Or even a poke)

Yours,

Tr H Messersack

Post Script: Oswald Garrison Villard saw the original manuscript, and while appalled at the slang and the jerky style, was sufficiently impressed with the subject matter itself, and the viewpoint presented, that he has graciously agreed to supply a brief "Forward" to the first regular edition, which will be out July 4th. ↓

To His Excellency
The President of the United States

Dear Mr. President:

With the hearty compliments of "America's Raspberry Capital" and by the pretty hand of the beautiful Queen of our annual Hopkins Raspberry Festival on July 18th this year, we are putting on a plane for you this afternoon a specially-picked-this-morning case of what we feel certain you will call the most delectable raspberries you ever tasted in your life. //

They should reach Washington tonight. Our hope is Mrs. Roosevelt and yourself and the other members of the White House-hold may enjoy them smackingly as the opening number on your tomorrow morning's breakfast menu.

Northwest Airlines and American Airlines are cheerfully and carefully carrying them to you with their best wishes. Miss Ann Bocko, our Festival Queen, and William L. Mallery, our Festival Chairman, send their Sunday-best greetings also. And need I add that the press-agent hereof (an obscure fellow who, besides Hopkins raspberries, has been press-agenting with great gusto the New Deal these several years) adds his sincere hope for your continued good health and happiness?

President F. D. Roosevelt, 7/9/37
Dear Mr. President,

On June 30,

1937, today, I sent you a crocheted cover in a frame.

I would like to know if you have received it.

I am an old lady in my late seventies from County Antrim, Ireland.

W. Springs of t colored Scout at ent to be given to Carterville.

I am,

Respectfully Yours,
(Mrs.) Annie McKnight

2238 N. 2nd St.
Phila. Pa.
of Mrs. Macuskin

I wanted to make this for you when you went into office the first time, but on account of illness, I didn't begin it until this February.
This rose I crocheted as it was the one you chose on your first inauguration.

Hoping that you and the First Lady of the Land will like it and that you receive it in good condition.

My dear Congressman:

The President told me to be sure and drop you a little note of thanks for your thoughtfulness in bringing him in those Abalone steaks. He is delighted to have them and greatly appreciates your kindness. I am returning herewith the memorandum which you left with me with reference to the preparation of these steaks.

With all good wishes,

Sincerely,

PREPARATION OF ABALONE STEAKS

1. Dip in well beaten eggs.
2. Dip well in cracker meal.
3. Fry quickly to golden brown in good olive oil.
4. Serve promptly with sliced lemons, Tartar sauce, and preferably with fried shoe string or waffle potatoes. Other vegetables as desired.

A good white or red wine goes well with Abalone steaks. A Sauterne, Zinfandel, St. Julien, or Cabernet, is generally preferred.

The secret of tender Abalone steaks is cooking quickly to light golden brown in good olive oil.

Note: California law prohibits exportation of Abalone steaks because of limited supply. The Abalone is California's greatest seafood delicacy. The accompanying steaks were forwarded by special permit of state Fish and Game Commission, and were reiced en route.

Dear Sir:

I am mailing you some penwork which as you will see is your Inaugural Address of January 27, 1937. In it I have tried to make a likeness of you.

As you will notice every word is readable. It is the result of a great deal of patience and hard work.

I would be pleased to hear from you and know just what you think of it.

My dear Miss LeHand,

It was very kind of you to send me the photograph which was autographed by the President; and very kind of the President to take the time to write his name on the photograph. I appreciate both, indeed.

Let me hope that you are recovering from the phlebitis and that you will soon be able to move about with perfect health.

Will you thank the President for me, and if he is not too busy give him the enclosed note? I know he is harassed now and to his many problems there is added the poignancy of grief in the loss of his esteemed leader in the Senate, Mr. Robinson. We have heard Mr. Robinson speak over the radio and admired his calm and fearless and gentlemanly statement of the problem or the case on hand.

If the President has any time for leisure at all, will you give him the book which I am sending in your care for him? It has some thoughts which will be some consolation to him in the loss of his friend. The book was written by a learned and holy Dominican Priest in England who died recently.

es

If the President comes through Chicago any time within the near future or at any time, will you try to remember to remind him that he expressed a hope or wish to visit Rosary College? It is just about ten miles from the loop district of Chicago.

May God bless you, my dear Miss LeHand, and grant you many graces and blessings for yourself personally and for your service of our Chief Executive.

Affectionately yours in Saint Dominic,

Sister Mary Samuel, O.P.
(Mother General).

Dear Mr. President,

Please accept my sympathy in the loss of your valued friend and helper, Senator Robinson. May God be merciful to his soul.

If you have leisure for reading at all, you may find some consoling thought in a little book which I am presuming to send to you through Miss LeHand. If it gives you even a little comfort, or a wider or deeper vision of the ultimate realities, it will have fulfilled the grateful wish of those who pray for you daily, and whom I for the time being represent.

Very respectfully yours,
