Prayer

Most holy Virgin, who wast chosen to be the Mother of the Incarnate Wisdom and who thus didst become the seat of wisdom and the Mother of good consel, and the faithful dispenser of heavenly gifts to us, thy adopted children, we supplicate thee to enlighten our understanding, to direct our steps, to console us by thy maternal protection, so that, exempt from all error, sheltered from every danger, strengthened against our enemies, we may with ardor and invincible courage walk in the paths traced out for us by thee and thy Divine Son. We do not deserve so great a favor, but we know that thou art our Mother, and dost not measure thy graces to our merits, but according to the extent of thy power and the generosity of thy maternal heart. Filled with this confidence, we are assured that thy protection will never fail us, and we hope to thank thee in heaven singing thy praises forever. Amen.

O Mary conceived without sin,
Pray for us who have recourse to thee.

Dear Miss Tully,

Several months ago, you may recall, Dr. Arthur Mandy painted for exhibit and sent an ash tray to the President, (with Mr. Roosevelt's signature in gold). files P.P.F. 9-M - 11/18/42

He has since painted a very fine portrait plate of the President. While there have been numerous requests for its purchase Dr. Mandy would prefer to send it to the President, should he desire to have it.

Miss Grace Tully
The White House
Washington, D.6.

Could you kindly tell me if the President kept the ash tray or are such gifts given ather disposal?

If these items remain in Mr. Roosevelt's possession nothing could please the Doctor more than to send him the plate. If they are not retained the plate will be sold and the proceeds given to war relief.

A reply will be sincerely appreciated.

Respectfully,
Sylvia B. Mandy

Dear Miss Tully

Mrs. Mandy told me recently of the President's desire to have the portrait plate which was on exhibit for his collection. x373

I am distressed to tell you that this plate was damaged by the department which generally packs such china for mailing. The reason I delayed in writing to you was that I was at that time painting another portrait plate of the President and one of Mr. Churchill for an exhibit to be held in the near future.

I had hoped to have it finished by this time but have been delayed by making preparations to enter the Medical Corps of the U.S.Army.

I leave for my first post December 3, but am making a heroic effort to complete this work before then. I have a recent signed photograph of Mr. Churchill which I am using for this purpose. If you could send me a similar one of the President it would help me immeasurably to complete the work early.

x72-M

In any event, with the President's permission, I shall forward it to him upon completion.

Please accept my sincere apologies for the delay.

My Dear Miss Tully

It was very considerate of the President and you to acknowledge my request. Be assured that I am deeply grateful since I know how crowded the calender must be these days.

I am now serving in the medical corps of the armed forces but hope to use every available spare hour to complete the portrait plates, for the exhibit.

Will you kindly inform the President that I shall take every precaution this time to see that he receives the plate in good condition.

Very sincerely yours,

Prayer to Our Lady Immaculate

Most holy Virgin, who was pleasing to the Lord and became His mother, immaculate in body and spirit, in faith and love, look kindly on the wretched who implore thy powerful patronage. The wicked serpent, against whom was hurled the first curse, continues fiercely to attack and ensnare the unhappy children of Eve. Do thou, then, O Blessed Mother, our Queen and advocate, who from the first instant of thy Conception, didst crush the head of the enemy, receive the prayers which, united with thee in one single heart, we implore thee to present at the throne of God, that we may never fall into the snares which are laid out for us, and may all arrive at the port of salvation; and, in so many dangers, may the Church and Christian society sing once again, the hymn of deliverance, of victory, and of peace. Amen. (300 days, once a day)

The Memorare

Remember, O Most gracious Virgin Mary! that never was it known that any one who fled to thy protection, implored thy help, and sought thy intercession, was left unaided. Inspired with confidence, I fly unto thee, O Virgin of virgins, my mother! To Thee I come; before thee I stand, sinful and sorrowful. O mother of the word incarnate! despise not my petitions, but, in thy mercy, hear and answer me. Amen. (300 days, each time)

Prayer of St. Alphonsus M. de Liguori

(To be said before a representation of Our Lady)

Most holy and Immaculate Virgin! O my Mother! thou who art the mother of my Lord, the queen of the world; the advocate, hope and refuge of sinners! I, the most wretched among them, now come to thee. I worship thee, great queen, and give thee thanks for the many favors thou hast bestowed upon me in the past; most of all, do I thank thee for having saved me from hell, which I have so often deserved. I love thee, lady most worthy of all love, and, by the love which I bear thee, I promise ever in the future to serve thee, and do what in me lies to win others to thy love. In thee I put all my trust, all my hope of salvation. Receive me as thy servant, and cover me with the mantle of thy protection, thou who art the Mother of Mercy! And since thou hast so much power with God, deliver me from all temptations, or at least obtain for me the grace to overcome them. From thee I ask a true love of Jesus Christ and the grace of a happy death. O my mother! by thy love for God, I beseech thee be at all times my helper, but, above all at the last moment of my life. Leave me not until you see me safe in heaven, there for endless ages to bless thee, and sing thy praises. Amen. (300 days, each time)

O Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee. (300 days, once a day)

Mother of love, of sorrow, and of mercy, pray for us. (300 days, each time)

Our Lady of Lourdes, pray for us. (300 days, each time)

Mary, our hope, have pity on us. (300 days, each time)

Blessed be the holy and Immaculate Conception of the most blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of God. (300 days, each time)

Sweet heart of Mary, be my salvation! (300 days, each time)

Mary, Virgin Mother of God, pray to Jesus for me. (100 days, once a day)

KIND FRIEND:

This is a little message of hope and consolation, of spiritual help as well as temporal assistance. We all need these blessings and graces in our journey through life and we all desire to store up spiritual help for ourselves when life's days are over and when we have been called by God to give an account of our stewardship. "We know not the day nor the hour," so now while we have time, let us store up for ourselves treasures in Heaven and make provision that we will be remembered after death in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

Our Divine Saviour instituted the Sacrifice of the Mass not only as a Memorial of the sacrifice of Calvary but also as a means whereby we might share in the infinite benefits of this sacrifice during life and after death. We know from our Holy Faith the great power of intercession, propitiation and expiation that is found in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Thomas A Kempis tells us: "When a priest celebrates, he honoreth God, he rejoiceth the angels,

In order that you might share not only during life but also after death in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, we have a Perpetual Membership in the Union of Masses of our Association. This means that a Perpetual Member shares for all time in the monthly Novena of Masses said at our Shrine in perpetuity. Such a Member also shares in any other Novenas of Masses that are offered for Members of this Union. At present, besides the Novena of Masses said monthly at the Shrine, we have offered two other Novenas of Masses each month for all members. Such a Member is also remembered in more than 75,000 Masses yearly because all the Vincentian Priests of our Province remember Members in their daily Mass. You can easily see from this the great spiritual benefits in which you will share not only during life but also after death by securing a Perpetual Membership for yourself.

This Perpetual Membership also makes an ideal gift to a relative or friend for Christmas, birthdays or any other anniversary. It is a kind expression of deep appreciation and affection that will last for all time. It is also a most appropriate expression of sympathy to anyone who has lost a dear one by death.

An Individual Perpetual Membership may be taken out for the offering of $10.00. Each Perpetual Member receives an engraved Certificate in a beautiful folder. A Family Perpetual Membership may be taken out for the offering of $50.00. This membership includes husband and wife, their children, their brothers and sisters and their parents. Each family taking out this membership receives a special Family Perpetual Membership Certificate, suitably engraved and enclosed in a very attractive folder.

Perpetual and Family Perpetual Memberships may be acquired by making monthly offerings of $1.00 or more. Participation in the spiritual benefits will start at the time of the first offering and when the entire offering has been received the Certificate will be sent to the donor.

Our Association is dedicated to the consoling work of spreading devotion to our Blessed Mother and of educating young men for the priesthood. All funds received through the Association are devoted to the above two-fold purpose.

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

(Special to the Los Angeles Examiner)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.

ON Thanksgiving Day, November 25, President Roosevelt vetoed two acts of Congress.

Were those vetoes constitutional?

A distinguished legal authority, a member of the Senate judiciary committee, is of the opinion that they WERE NOT constitutional.

One of the acts vetoed was the resolution designating December 7—Pearl Harbor anniversary—as armed services honor day. The other was a bill, H. R. 1155, for the financial relief, in a small sum of money, of Captain Leland M. Mower and Lieutenant Percy K. Morrison, Army officers.

It is not permissable to state when President Roosevelt left Washington for his conferences abroad. But a United Press dispatch from Cairo, dated December 2, states that on November 25, the date of the veto messages, the President enjoyed a Thanksgiving dinner in that Egyptian city, and it gives the menu. Obviously authentic.

Now, let us look at the Congressional Record of Wednesday, December 1. On page one of that issue the veto message of the honor day resolution appears. The concluding paragraph of the veto message reads as follows:

"For the foregoing reasons, I am constrained to withhold approval of this resolution. This joint resolution was presented to me on November 25, 1943.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT,
"The White House,
"November 25, 1943."

The veto message on H. R. 1155 concludes as follows:

"In these circumstances, the responsibility of the officers in question is apparent. The bill was presented to me on November 25.

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT,
"The White House,
"November 25, 1943."

An interesting feature in this record is the marvelous machinery of the White House as it operates in the absence of the President.

On Thursday, November 25, when he was in Cairo, the President interrupted his work on an international conference to examine, study and veto two relatively unimportant acts of Congress.

Six days later, on Wednesday, December 1, those veto messages have been received in Washington, and have been sent to the Senate and the House of Representatives. That's speed on anybody's cyclometer!

Since there is no provision in the Constitution under which a President could give a power of attorney to any other individual, since acts of Congress must be presented to him, and acted upon by himself alone, the perfection of White House arrangements for communicating with the President on official business becomes apparent.

But is a veto of an act of Congress, when made by a President when he is absent from the country at a distance of several thousands of miles from the seat of the Government of the United States, constitutional?

This point has been quitely debated, off the record as it were, at the Capitol. The opinion of unconstitutionality referred to above is that of a prominent DEMOCRATIC Senator.

He does not believe that business thus transacted by the President outside of the United States, is legal, or that its effect is binding.

Curiously enough, both of the veto messages here under discussion are dated, not from Cairo, Egypt, where the President was on November 25, 1943, but from the White House in Washington, where—unless he has acquired the art of shifting his astral body from place to place—the President most certainly was not, on November 25.

Thus, anyhow, the pretense that the action was taken at the capital of the United States, has been maintained, even though it is fictional.

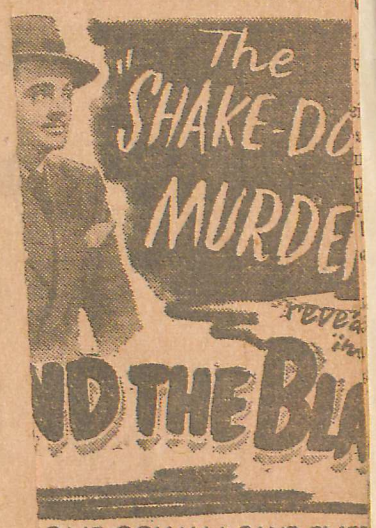

"Mr. Skidmore will see you now, sir—the guide will show you the way!"

LABEL OUT OF DATE, VIEW OF PRESIDENT

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23. — You can take it from a very good authority: The term "New Deal" is now regarded as outmoded.

You might almost say it's something that belongs to the horse-and-buggy days.

President Roosevelt, says Presidential Secretary Stephen Early, believes "New Deal" is definitely out of date, after serving as the best known label for his administration since 1932.

In its stead the Chief Executive favors another slogan, something like "Win the War," but not necessarily in those exact words.

The matter was discussed at Early's press conference today when he related that a representative of the Cleveland Press remained behind at the President's Tuesday news conference to meet the Chief Executive and a reference was made to "the New Deal." According to Early, the President commented he wanted to scrap "New Deal" in favor of something like "Win the War."

Chairman Harrison E. Spangler of the Republican National Committee promptly issued this statement:

"Can the leopard change his spots? Evidently Mr. Roosevelt thinks so when he tells the press that he wants to get away from the tattered emblem 'New Deal.'

"We have great sympathy for him in his desire to forget the record of his administration for the past 11 years. It is quite a political load for him to carry as he and his palace guard feverishly conduct their campaign for four more years in office.

"The American people the day after Pearl Harbor adopted the slogan, 'Win the War.' After two years Mr. Roosevelt has caught up with them, but the spots still remain."

again—relaxes—and there he stays for an hour.

Then he starts his afternoon schedule. At 5 o'clock he leaps back in bed again and again relaxes for half an hour. Yes, even naps.

At dinner he has many officials in to see him; much of his most important work is done

John D. Rockefeller, who made a billion dollars and lived to be 98 years old, did the same.

If possible, by all means get brief periods of rest during your working day. It will almost completely remake your life—give you a far greater zest for living.

Philosophy Of Life

Dale Carnegie

Author of 'How to Win Friends and Influence People'

Want to know how England's revered prime minister, Winston Churchill, gets so much work done? Want to know his secret of hard work? In the first place, he works from 14 to 17 hours a day, and that's a pretty long day for anybody, young or old.

Dale Carnegie

He believes that the secret of work is the ability to relax. Work, then relax. That's his secret, and it's certainly performed wonders for him.

He wakes up in the morning at half-past seven, but he doesn't leap out and plunge into a turmoil of work. Far from it. He lies in bed, reading newspapers, reports, scribbling down notes for cables—and smoking a big, black, fat cigar!

At 10:30 he gets up, shaves himself with an old-fashioned "straightback" razor, then dictates to one of his secretaries. He has six of 'em. Yes, six secretaries.

He has officials in to lunch with him. Luncheon is served at 1 o'clock, during which he carries on more of his official details. As soon as lunch is over, he hops back into bed again—relaxes—and there he stays for an hour.

Then he starts his afternoon schedule. At 5 o'clock he leaps back in bed again and again relaxes for half an hour. Yes, even naps.

At dinner he has many officials in to see him; much of his most important work is done during and after dinner. And he keeps going full steam until midnight sometimes when he crawls into the hay.

His vacations are the very epitome of relaxation. He goes out by himself in the country and paints landscapes, thus getting as far from official duties as possible. No strenuous vacation for him. He puts his strenuosity into his work, not into his vacationing.

The very secret, he says, is to work—then to rest. Rest as completely as is humanly possible.

During the first World War General Pershing was able to carry on his staggering tasks by alternating work and relaxation. His favorite place for relaxing was in his car when he was being driven from one part of the line to another. And his chauffeur was none other than Eddie Rickenbacker.

Eddie said once: "Sometimes I would feel sorry for General Pershing when he climbed into the car, for he would seem so weary. But he would go fast asleep for maybe 20 minutes. Then, when we reached our destination, I would be amazed at how rested he seemed."

General George C. Marshall, the Number One military boss of the Army, under President Roosevelt, takes a 15-minute nap every day after lunch.

John D. Rockefeller, who made a billion dollars and lived to be 98 years old, did the same.

If possible, by all means get brief periods of rest during your working day. It will almost completely remake your life—give you a far greater zest for living.

POLITICAL PARADE

New Deal to Be G. O. P. Target

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN

(Special to the Los Angeles Examiner)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.

THE President's desire to get the New Deal out of the fourth-term campaign, and to induce the voters to forget it, has only served to intensify the Republican drive against the New Deal all down the line.

From now on, beginning with the special congressional election in Philadelphia on January 18, the Administration will be hit repeatedly in its sorest spot.

This is the strategy of the prize ring, and it is equally sound in politics.

Republican speakers, in and out of Congress, will pull no punches, merely because Mr. Roosevelt would like to have them respect his plaintive moan.

From now on emphasis will be placed on New Deal inefficiency, New Deal regimentation, and the New Deal bureaucracy, with special attention to the flagrant and illegal invasion of private rights by various New Deal agencies.

Meanwhile, with utter inconsistency, the Roosevelt New Deal will seek as soon as Congress reconvenes to force through two typical New Deal proposals, the anti-poll tax bill, and the bill to provide New Deal-controlled Federal machinery to enable the men and women of the armed services, especially those outside of continental United States, to vote for President and members of Congress in 1944, this vote being counted on as heavily New Deal.

Both of these propositions are strongly backed by the Congress of Industrial Organizations and other labor organizations, and the first is an important plank of the last Communist Party platform.

Emphasis also will be laid on the fact that the present strikes and threats of even more devastating strikes in the steel industry and on the railroads, are the direct result of New Deal policies.

The Roosevelt Administration never has been able to deal adequately with organized labor, for the reason that organized labor, including those unions that have used the strike weapon against their Government in time of war, IS A VITAL PART OF THE NEW DEAL.

Hence repeated surrenders of the "little steel formula," and New Deal resistance in Congress to every proposal to outlaw the strike.

Mr. Roosevelt cannot afford to LIQUIDATE THE NEW DEAL.

All he wants to do is to remove the label from the old bottle of hooch—but he wants to keep the hooch!

Just what this vital political tie-up between Roosevelt and labor really amounts to was cynically stated by Attorney General Biddle, in an address to New Deal left-wingers at a dinner in Washington on March 5, 1942.

The Attorney General of the United States, as quoted at the time in the Washington Post—and there has never been a denial—urged the New Dealers to "keep up the political fight for liberalism regardless of the war."

That was a direct invitation by the New Deal to labor not to let the war interfere with its gains.

The New Deal, Mr. Biddle explained in his own definition and interpretation, is this:

"Not just a group of theorists and liberals, but a POLITICAL PARTY, lined up with the labor movement UNDER AN ABLE POLITICAL LEADER."

That political leader is Franklin D. Roosevelt, the President of the United States.

"A vigorous labor movement," added Mr. Biddle, still speaking of the Roosevelt New Deal, "gave it strength."

No wonder the President of the United States, on the eve of the invasion of Europe, would like to have the American people forget the name "New Deal," as he palavers and temporizes with the LABOR WING OF THE NEW DEAL POLITICAL PARTY, without whose support fourth-term ambition would be snuffed out.

Dorothy McGuire's Next Picture to Be R-K-O's 'I Married the Navy'

Mildred Cram's 'Forever,' Bought by M-G-M for $75,000, Selected to Star Joan Fontaine

By Louella O. Parsons
Motion Picture Editor International News Service

Now I can answer the many questions the fans of Dorothy McGuire have been asking—when she would make another picture. Since she played "Claudia" the fans have been interested. Well, Dorothy and Alan Marshal have been borrowed from David O. Selznick by Charles Koerner and check in at R-K-O within six weeks for "I Married the Navy."

LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Charlie, who bought the story from Emmett Lavery, says the yarn is about a man who tries to enlist in the Navy many times, but because of physical disability is rejected. He marries a WAVE thinking she will be sent overseas and he can go along. Instead, she is put in a recruiting booth at the Grand Central Station in New York. Sid Rogell will supervise the production with Richard Wallace directing.

There is a fantastic story back of Mildred Cram's "Forever," a charming tale that originally sold for $6500 and was eventually bought by M-G-M for $75,000. No book has ever had such a history and with all its changing hands it has never been seen on stage or screen. Now Sidney Franklin is getting ready to make it with Joan Fontaine as the heroine. After Mildred Cram wrote her book—a story of the reincarnation of two lovers, Owen Davis took an option on it for a stage play. That held it up for movies. Then Janet Gaynor read it, loved it and bought the story for herself. She, in turn, sold it to Ned Griffith, who later sold it to M-G-M for Norma Shearer—and now, at long last it is going to be produced with Joan.

JOAN FONTAINE

An unforgettable performance is turned in by Anne Revere as the mother in "The Song of Bernadette." Strange that Anne, whose greatest success was one of the unfortunate women in the stage play, "The Children's Hour," should have won such acclaim in a completely sympathetic part. Now she is to have another mother role at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in Clarence Brown's "National Velvet." Pan Berman did a great deal of testing for this part and he is delighted with Miss Revere. Elizabeth Taylor and Mickey Rooney have the juvenile leads.

I've worn out the sidewalk in front of the bookshops featuring window displays of my "Gay Illiterate," which goes on sale today. All the pangs of new authorship are mine—and I admit it. It is all I can do to keep from canvassing the stores and counting the copies volume by volume and sale by sale. It seems to me that getting out a book is a lot like having a baby. First, the long months of preparation and actual writing and then the "hospitalization" at the publishers when you wait on needles and pins to see whether your brain child will arrive with an attractive jacket! In spite of the "pangs" I had a lot of fun writing it—and I hope you will have as much fun reading it.

Chatter in Hollywood: A terribly funny story is going the rounds of Hollywood. A young lieutenant, who shall be nameless, and his wife attended one of the big parties given during the holidays. The butler called him by name and seemed very glad to see him. "Haven't I seen you somewhere?" the lieutenant asked the attentive servant. "Oh, yes sir," was the reply. "How do you like Hollywood?" the butler was asked. "Oh, sir," was the reply. "I think it's terrible. You take this party. Did you ever see so many dreadful people?"

Had a long talk with Ray Bolger who returned from Australia around Thanksgiving time. He certainly had some experiences overseas and from the letters received he did a marvelous job entertaining the boys. He said that he was discussing several pictures but had not yet made up his mind. The reports, he told me, that he had gone East, were erroneous. He was very upset over a Captain Henry Dick, a bombardier, who lost a leg flying over Berlin. Dick was in Bolger's show, "On Your Toes" and in many other musicals—a dancer—a thing that depressed Ray. Irving Berlin had been to see Captain Dick and brought him much encouragement.

DANCE STARS Corinne and Tito Valdez share honors with stellar figures in "Extravaganza" revue at Florentine Gardens.

FRIENDLY RIBBING of audiences by N. T. G. has provided many a laugh for patrons of the Florentine Gardens. Since Harry Richman began starring in the current hit revue, "Extravaganza," Granlund himself is frequently "on the pan."

"Granny" and Harry were associated in New York a decade or so ago. Both are masters of humorous repartee and so far honors are about even. The audience is winner in either case.

Others in the all-star cast include Georgie Tapps, Arthur Simpkins, Corinne and Tito Valdez, Jimmy Alexander, the Flying Herzogs, the Four Moroccans and Muzzy Marcellino's orchestra.

of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.—II. Timothy 1:7.

rmed Church. The text for tomorrow will be suggested by the Rev. Edwin S. Masters, pastor of Church of Christ.

Let's Stick to Our Own Job at Home!

Americans Have Plenty to Do Without Taking on Troubles of Rest of the Battered World, Says Rupert Hughes

Following is the text, in part, of a radio broadcast by Rupert Hughes on December 18:

ANNOUNCER: The National Broadcasting Company presents Rupert Hughes . . . soldier . . . novelist . . . historian and humorist. In his commentary he phrases present day history in his own entertaining style . . . Mr. Rupert Hughes . . .

HUGHES: They say that all European wars start in the Balkans. Glance at the Balkans.

At the outbreak of this war, there was one Mihailovitch, whom we hailed as a great hero and an implacable enemy of the Nazis.

Now he is being called a pro-Nazi traitor; and all our interest is in the hero we call Tito.

WHERE WAS TITO DURING THE FIRST TWO YEARS OF MIHAILOVITCH'S WAR?

HE WAS A DEVOTEE OF STALIN, WHO WAS IN ALLIANCE WITH THE GERMANS, AND TITO WAS NOT FIGHTING THE NAZIS.

Now he IS; and our people are sending him supplies and help.

That is all to the good.

I am for helping anybody who will help fight Hitler.

But now Tito's followers are setting up a government to overthrow the government in exile. Tito calls Mihailovitch a traitor and a pro-German.

Mihailovitch furiously denies the charge and his magnificent record disproves it.

Louis Adamic has written a book, "My Native Land," in which he violently denounces Mihailovitch and says frankly that it might be a good thing if "the Yugoslav or the Balkan federation would become a republic within the Soviet Union, and it would be most likely headed by Tito or Dimitroff."

That is rather startling, isn't it? He may be right. I am not pretending to know or to take sides.

The important thing is that there are sides.

There is no hope of lasting peace in Europe while feuds rage in the Balkans. They may rage for a century.

IT'S TOO BAD, BUT WHAT BUSINESS IS IT OF OURS?

WHAT I ask, have WE to do with their quarrels?

Are we going to keep the Army and a Navy and an Air Force in Europe to help police the Balkans after this war?

Is it Uncle Sam's duty to sit down on that ancient volcano to keep it quiet?

It can only mean that Uncle Sam will soon have his coattails on fire.

Take Greece. That glorious immortal people is more or less torn apart between those who want the old King back and those who want no King at all.

Are we to step in and make decisions in matters that are all Greek to us?

Take Italy. The King and Badoglio are still being upheld by us, to the delight of some of the Italians, and the wild indignation of others.

Is it our business to keep a garrison to decide Italian politics?

Take Poland. The war began in a pledge to preserve Poland.

Are we to consent to Russia's slicing off a good portion of Polish territory?

The Poles have fought the Russians for a thousand years.

Can we Americans keep them down?

OR HELP THEM UP?

A book has just been published called "The Baltic Riddle" by Gregory Meiksins. He advocates the incorporation into Russia of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania, and he has no sympathy with [illegible] land.

He believes that the capitalistic system in Finland should be overthrown by the Russian system.

Our American Communists tell us that life in Poland is evil under landholder domination.

They tell us that life is very evil here in America under capitalistic domination.

They would add the United States to the Soviets along with almost every other country.

TAKE Spain. You can have it. Who wants it?

What are we to do with Franco?

Take France. We're letting her children starve while her political wars prosper.

Take Palestine, Egypt, Arabia, Ethiopia, South Africa.

Take any place on earth and you will find feuds and political differences that verge on civil war.

What right have we to cross all the oceans and all the lands and put our fingers in every hot pie on earth?

We will get our fingers stepped on, burned, bitten and cut off. And we will howl bloody murder.

Is it our sacred duty to patrol the globe and keep the universal peace?

Nearly everybody but me seems to agree that there must be an international police force.

I say it will never work. It will never get organized.

IF IT DOES, IT WILL FALL APART ON ITS FIRST RAID.

OUR own country is in the throes of intensely bitter political wars.

We can't agree on subsidies, inflation, higher wages, taxes.

We have two or three race problems that are dangerous as dynamite.

The Democratic Party is all split up.

The Republicans can't agree among themselves.

The Prohibitionist candidate for President protests that he can't get priorities for airplane trips for his campaign, while a CERTAIN OTHER PERSON flies everywhere.

Only a few years ago our nation solved the drink problem forever by the Prohibition Amendment. We repealed that by the 21st Amendment and things are about the same.

Now we are to have a WORLD CONSTITUTION with a Prohibition Amendment forbidding war.

It will stop fighting just as the Prohibition Amendment stopped drinking.

Shortly after Columbus discovered America, Europe was devastated by a frightful plague for which this continent got the blame.

The first great wave of influenza swept Europe in the first World War right after our troop ships arrived.

We have two million soldiers over there now and the plague is sweeping that continent again.

When we attempt to bring peace to the world our beautiful influence will be called the influenza or something worse and will be just as welcome as the scarlet fever.

WHAT GETS ME IS WHY WE SHOULD GO ABROAD TO LOOK FOR TROUBLE WHEN THERE IS SO MUCH MORE OF IT AT HOME THAN WE CAN HANDLE.

When at last the day of armistice comes hadn't we better call our soldiers home from the hills, the sailors home from the seas, the pilots home from the heavens and tackle the FRIGHTFUL FINANCIAL and POLITICAL PROBLEMS we have at home?

We can be good neighbors

When at last the day of armistice comes hadn't we better call our soldiers home from the hills, the sailors home from the seas, the pilots home from the heavens and tackle the FRIGHTFUL FINANCIAL and POLITICAL PROBLEMS we have at home?

We can be good neighbors, helpful and generous.

But we didn't build the world; we didn't create mankind; and any effort to manage the affairs of all humanity is proof of nothing but delusions of grandeur.

Dear Mr. President:

I have the pleasure to transmit under separate cover a copy of the Mark III "SLIPSTREAM", the year-book published by the Aviation Cadet Regiment at this Center. This issue covers cadet activities through much of 1943 and cadets who commenced intermediate training between July, 1942 and February, 1943.

The aviation cadets shown have graduated and are now serving in the many theaters of war, on board ship and ashore, with Navy and Marine Corps air units. Many of them are making enviable records in combat against our enemies.

The six thousand aviation cadets now undergoing training at this Center join me in praying for your continued good health and strong leadership of our forces.

Supplement 1, "Lets Be Partners", February 25,1944

Since its publication several weeks ago, epochal developments, such as the Baruch Report and the pride-fight between the legislative and executive branches of our federal government breaking out into the open, have tended to indicate that "Let's Be Partners" was a "bull's eye" diagnosis of the situation (Do you not agree ?).

We consider it to be critically necessary that this abortive nullification of our constitutionally expressed intention of positive cooperation in the interest of the general welfare shall be quickly resolved ------- by injecting into the economic phase of our government a dynamically stable, impartial, non-subjective, mediating, unifying third entity not subordinate either to the legislative or executive branch but coordinate with and inter-accountable to both.

To the extent that we all (President, Congress and private citizen, alike) let this contest to see who is (subjectively) right and,therefore, dominant divert our energies from effective teamwork in the interest of "more perfect union" and "the general welfare" we are turning aside from "Our American Way" and from the freedom toward which it leads ----- and from faithfulness to our cherished traditions and to our own boys whom we have sent andare now sending to their death. We will have become traitors ---- living, irrefutable (lying) evidence to an attentive world that our system of free government is not worthy of perpetuation.

4.

Our President, unquestionably, is right. Our Congress, no less unquestionably, is also right. The question is not one of one being right and the other wrong. The trouble evolves from lack of a mutually accepted, common basis of understanding --- from our failure to apply our own basic philosophy and pattern of government.

5.

Shall we not, all of us, in recognition of the war tensions and nerve fatigues which are the real cause of our tendencies toward "raggedness" consciously adopt a conciliatory attitude toward each other and---before it is too late --- get back onto "Our American Way" The Alternative is Unthinkable.

...President:-

I would not now be writing you this letter, and expecting an acknowledgement, knowing how busy you are in these eventful war times, but for the fact that I have recently come into the possession of a magazine which I believe will be of interest to you.

This magazine, Which I am sending along under separate cover, is Vol. III,No.9, 1942 of Belgium . When you receive this magazine, you will notice an article on page 406, by Robert Goffin, 'Are the Roosevelts descendants of Walloons?' Unless you have already had this article brought to your attention, I believe that you will find it interesting.

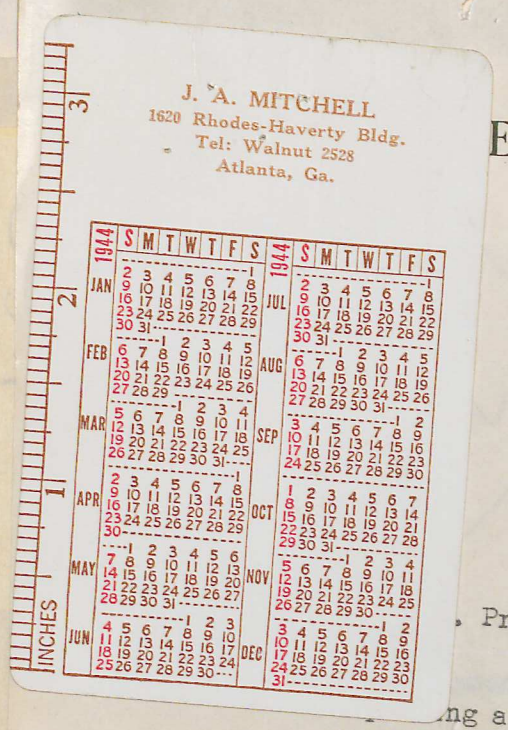

As I stated above, you need not bother to acknowledge this letter if you do not find time, but I would like to know that you received the copy of the magazine.

With best wishes for the future, and the statement that everyone down here in the South is solidly behind you, now and in the coming days, I remain,

Yours very truly, great masses of people are behind you. Whatever decisions you make, and deeds you do, that are for the benefit of the great majority, those are the decisions to make and deeds to do — who knows better, than you, what is best for the greatest number of people?

God help keep you to the straight and narrow path that leads to the "Golden Age."

Be not swerved from that path by the the opportunists and "delayists," that are all to plentiful in this great land of ours. No matter how great the perfection of anyone or deed, there are some who are dissatisfied.

Use the "Big Stick" when necessary. Fear not to be called "dictator." Already that name has been applied to you. Where as dictatorship, as is practised in other lands, is most undesireable, still I think a mild form of dictatorship as a war measure, and for some time after, till settled conditions are established here, for the purpose of doing away with so many of the injustices practiced in this country, would be proper — the right kind of dictatorship executed for the purpose of accomplishing speedily the right kind of things.

Show the dictators of other lands that this is the land of the people, by the people and for the people.

If any may question your power to gain action, and quickly, are you not the Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy to enforce your just decisions?

Dictatorship to put down crime; to curb the efforts of the high powers that exact huge profits out of the necessities of war, and to bring swift punishment upon big business criminals — and cowards.

Yours [illegible]

Signature.

Were the profits on the manufacture of war materials based on peace-time methods, the cost of the war would not be so great; the taxes would not be nearly so high; the cost of living would be much lower, and strikes would be rare.

How much power and wealth would these "big ones" have, if Mr. Hitler & Co. were over here, as he probably would be if Americans were not over there fighting against him? While Americans are over there fighting, dying and being tortured by Germans and Japanese, the big business is over here reaping fortunes and more power and plenty to carry on after the war with ideas of our enemies of today. Surely many, many there are with warped minds and twisted souls. And the members of Congress who are hampering your efforts. These are some of the ones who need the "Big Stick".

Signature.

If they do not like dictatorship, they have only themselves to blame for it.

A word from you would give the soldiers the vote and end all further arguments about it. A word from you would curb the rising prices. A word from you would stop delays and bring a speedier total unconditional surrender of all enemies.

God bless you, dear Mr. President, and keep you in the best of health and strength and courage to go forward to VICTORY!

Please keep Mr. Wallace as Vice-President. You need the help of everyone who believes in your work.

Many happy returns of the day, is the wish of these two friends

MEMORANDUM FOR MRS. EBEN:

Dear Mary:

This paper weight was accepted by General Watson from General Glen E. Edgerton, Governor of the Panama Canal.

It is a gift to the President from Captain H. B. Majilton on duty in the Canal Zone, and is made from a section of railroad tie from the Panama Railway. Gen. Edgerton says this railway was built by the President's great uncle, General Aspinwall, and that this section comes from a rail laid down about 1855.

Gen. Edgerton prepared a draft of reply for Gen. Watson's signature, which has been signed and dispatched.

Dear President Roosevelt,

I made a flag out of wool yarn, that I am sending to you, it was hard to make at first, I had to draw a flag and then figure out a way to make sure I would get the fourth red stripe in line with the blue, that had me worried for quite awhile, I had to put and extra row of blue at the top and at

La Fortaleza,
San Juan,
Puerto Rico.

the bottom, then when I had to make the stars I was worried again, but not for long, it is made like the Pom-Pom rugs, it would be nice to frame it, to make the flag, it took 988 Poms, I hope you will like it,

My husband is a lineman, on the "O.D. cones," at Timken Roller Bearing company, in the new building, he buys a Bond, every pay day, that is every two weeks, we are going to buy an extra War Bond, at Timkens, they are having their Bond drive.

Respectfully,

Mrs. William Earl Malone

P.S.

I have a cardboard on the back of the flag to keep it from getting mussed, to take it off, untie the string and pull one end out easy.

Dear Sir:

Knowing deep in my heart how much you will appreciate this water color miniature of your dear friend and ally Mr. Churchill, I have taken the liberty of making and dedicating to you this portrait of the illustrious British Premier.

Please accept this portrait, Mr. President, as a token of my deepest gratitude for all you have done in the past, and doubtless you will continue doing for the good of the progress, happiness and the commonweal of my beloved Puerto Rico, and as a tribute of admiration for the desperate effort that you and the Allied Nations are making to rid the world from the grasping clutches of modern Vandals, bent on destroying the blessings of Democracy.

Wishing you and yours a Merry Christmas and a happy, healthy and prosperous New Year, I have the honor to remain.

THE MANSKER BIG LAKE DUCK CALLER

A Mansker Big Lake Duck Caller with a Silver Reed is made of aged cedar, 100 years old; octagon or round barrel, as per order—$5.00 and $6.00 each. Engraved round barrel $8.00 each. Guaranteed for the natural life of the maker. If it fails due to workmanship return the caller with 10c return postage. I will O. K. it if instructions are followed.

INSTRUCTIONS:

Do not tamper with caller. It is in perfect tone and stays put. If dry from not being used, before going to the blind, pour a bit of water through the small hole end; blow hard through same; this action dispells the water that may rest on reed and reed seat. Then blow gently through large end till caller begins to function properly. Keep caller free from trash (tobacco, crumbs, etc.): when caller is used regularly (2 days per week) this action is unnecessary. Hard work on caller will cause it to become logy after 2 or 3 days hard service, due to saliva from mouth: rinse in water but do not keep caller too wet, working water from under the reed seat as formerly explained. Do not twist the stem or let it be done. Negligence of these instructions makes my guarantee null and void. Use Horsesense. It is a life-long instrument and should be treated as a very valuable asset to the sportsman. The callers are sealed for your protection.

Dear Jim:

Thank you so much for your note. "Off the record", the President expects to be in Hyde Park this week and if you can get about ten pounds of icefish, I know he would love to have it. If you express it, will you please address it to Mr. Guy Spaman, Nelson House, Poughkeepsie? You are grand to take all this trouble and the President is deeply grateful to you.

Dear Grace:-

I have your note. Will you please inform me whenever the President is lacking ice fish. Up to the point wherein it is the providence of God to take the ice out of Lake Champlain and you can also tell me the amount which would be equal to the occasion of family or company.

It is always so good to hear from you. All the family send affectionate regards and best wishes to all.
