My dear Captain Northrup:

The President thanks you ever so much for the wood carving to which you refer in your letter of July fifteenth. He more than appreciates your friendly thought in sending him this product of your own handiwork.

The President has noted with interest that you will soon celebrate your eighty-fourth birthday. He asks me to convey his cordial greetings and good wishes to you on this happy occasion.

Very sincerely yours,

Meyers, Chief of the

of April 28th, File 19:1, Employment Office, which

I forthwith went to said office and met with some very nice people, and particularly the Interviewer there, Mr. Roy E. Flagler.

Mr. Flagler was very courteous, kind, considerate and understanding. He told me my age being 84 was somewhat against me for general work, but if I was good enough for President Franklin D. Roosevelt I was OK with them. Mr. Flagler gave me money so I could make this carving which I am sending you to place with your other models of art.

I will be 84 years of age the 17th of August, and I am still going strong. I am getting Social Security and so greatly appreciate your having made these benefits possible for people like me.

Thank God for us having such a humanitarian as you in office, and I pray He may give you extra health and wisdom in our present crisis. We are mighty proud to have you as our champion and leader and your biggest monument is that which is carried in the hearts of us all. You gave us new courage and a chance to live, and especially the many of us who are along in years.

Please accept this small token of appreciation which I carved out myself to add to your collection at Hyde Park.
It isn't so much but I know with your magnificent understanding you will know that my heart went into the making of it, and you loving boats and the water as you do, and my having been a Captain on both salt and fresh waters for the past 57 years, we both have things in common which possibly some of the landlubbers cannot feel as we do.

I salute you President Roosevelt. May God bless and protect you.

Sincerely and Respectfully yours,

Captain William Northrup,

Dear Mr. President: ^{Ady 7/11/1915} with this letter I am sending to you, for your lovely Grand-children,
two scrap books, made
from the Holiday cards
you so kindly sent to me in February.

In trying an original idea,
the musical titles, I wish to see if the children react favorably - Then I will send the books to the Hospitals

children, in all the different states, as I wrote
you in previous letters.

Just a brief sketch, Mr.
President about my idea
and love of music.

My Grand-mother sang
in Old Father Ballou's Church in Boston, Mass.
at the time Charlotte Cushman was in the same choir - and I inherited a belt buckle which she gave to my Grandmother at that time.

my Grand mother's brother, my

Hoping you will receive the books in good condition, and hoping for your speedy recovery.

made it possible for me
to make this lovely musical (titled) Historic scrap book, from their

Sir,
In this communication it is respectfully desired to bring before your notice, Sir, a recent publication entitled AN ILLUSTRATED ANNOTATION ON THE WORKING AND DATING OF CHINESE JADES, being a record of a lecture delivered by the writer in the University of Florida before the President of that University and the General Public on the evening of October 20th, 1941. It is further believed, Sir, that the fact that the publication has received the gracious patronage of Her Majesty Queen Mary of England, in that Her Majesty bestowed special permission on the Author, and writer of this communication, to reproduce within the pages of the book a coloured reproduction of one of Her Majesty's most treasured Jade Possessions, and that of current date the Author has received a Royal communication from Her Majesty Queen Mary in which Her Majesty conveys special tribute to the skill portrayed in the reproduction of Her Majesty's jade and further graciously sets on record the Imperial hope that "the book will have a big circulation".

In that the writer is privileged and bears the honour as a British subject domiciled in the United States of America to set on record the above information it is further humbly desired and with due deference wished that a copy of the work referred to may be presented to you, Mr. President. With these thoughts in mind a copy of the work is forwarded with this communication.

I have the honour to remain, Sir,
Most respectfully yours,

Mr. Nott holds the world wide reputation of being the leading International Authority on Chinese Jade. He is the only living Occidental who has devoted an entire lifetime to the research of Chinese Jade. During the past fifteen years he has been responsible for numerous publications detailing the interesting results of his research efforts; one of which writings, "CHINESE JADE THROUGHOUT THE AGES" is to-day held to be the Standard work on the intricate subject of Chinese Jade. Little wonder then that in all climes this Research Worker, Traveller, Collector, Lecturer and Writer is lauded as the greatest living exponent of Chinese Jade. The present publication is a record of a lecture given by him to the Public and Students in THE UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, GAINESVILLE, FLORIDA.

UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIALS AND PRESS APPRECIATIONS

Of Mr. Stanley Charles Nott's various published works on "Chinese Jade", confirm the universal interest which this Author's writings hold for Collectors and students of CHINESE ART throughout the world.

Of those contributed in the United States of America the following extracts were taken at random from over a thousand similar testimonials jealously preserved in the Author's Scrap Book.

THE NATIONAL LIBRARY OF PEIPING, CHINA

"... the descriptive catalogue compiled by Dr. Nott serves as a permanent record of his unique knowledge of Chinese Art in general and Chinese Jade in particular. Dr. Nott's profound learning in Chinese Jade is unparalleled. He, therefore, is held in high esteem by Chinese scholars..." T. L. Yuan.

THE NEW YORK TIMES

"... Mr. Nott's method of handling his subject immediately recommends itself to the serious student... Throughout the book, interspersed with Mr. Nott's discussion, we have a complete survey of the best works, both Chinese and Western, not only on the subject of jade but those as well pertaining to the religious, historical and superstitious elements which inspired the various jade forms. Of equal importance are the superb illustrations. The examples reproduced were obviously selected with the greatest care, they are numerous and they represent the last word in expert photography and printing..."

THE NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE

"Mr. Nott has produced not only a masterly review of jade but a veritable jewel among books... His text is bound to take precedence over all preceding books on jade as a standard work of reference. His style is both readable and clear and his facts are supported by a host of footnotes, many of them giving citations from Chinese classical sources... As to the illustrations nothing approaching them has, to my knowledge, enhanced a work on Jade." Herbert P. Whitlock.

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

"Mr. Nott's expert knowledge and exhaustive research will make this book the standard authority on this vast subject for many years to come... it is sumptuously illustrated."

THE CONNOISSEUR

"... Before commenting on their material aspect, we must pay our tribute to the scholarship of the author, to his full knowledge of his subject based on first-hand acquaintance with the finest examples of jade carvings extant, gained through his exhaustive travels in the country of their origin and through his exhaustive researches... Mr. Nott's experience and learning in the matter of Jades is unparalleled. A lifetime, much longer than his own, given to the study of jades, as he has given his, would have been as nothing without the possession of a natural flair for the subject and without extensive and prolonged travel in the remoter parts of China in search of the rarest specimens, studying the lore and history of jade until it has become something of an obsession with him. Mr. Nott has a profound knowledge of the elaborate symbolism of this wonder stone and of the almost miraculous properties with which the Chinese invest it". H. Granville Fell.

THE GEMMOL

"... this work goes to prove that the man who knows down, in other words adds no frills, can make a very dignified reference..." Clyde H. Burroughs.

THE DETROIT

"... an authoritative and scholarly contribution to the chosen illustrations and attractively printed text, it is a reference..." Clyde H. Burroughs.

HARVARD UNIVERSITY

"... the geographical distribution particularly interesting that your researches may have solved some of the questions..." Werner.

YALE U

"We already have your book 'Chinese Jade Through the Ages' put beside it. It is not often that one finds such a valuable work."

SMITHSON

"... it will be a welcome addition to the library of distinguished works on jade, such as, for example, the 'Catalogue of Chinese Jade Carvings in the Collection of Mrs. Georg V. Schnitzler' in the Collection of Mrs. Georg V. Schnitzler, Secretary."

THE WASHINGTON

"... I would also congratulate you upon the thoroughness of the graph and description. As a reference work, this is a most valuable contribution to the field." Kenneth E. Hu.

PRINCE

"... I am much impressed not only by the excellence of the illustrations but also by the beauty of the original suggestions to no small extent the beauty of the original illustrations."

CORN

"... the Catalogue of Chinese Jade Carvings in the Collection of Mrs. Georg V. Schnitzler, Secretary."

MOUNT

"... the intrinsic beauty of the book in the photographs so splendidly taken, make it a most valuable contribution to the field of authoritative information but delightful in its so fortunate as to see the book. In this letter to the Archaeology..." Florence W. Foss.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, MUSEUM OF ART

" . . . this fine book will be a valuable addition to our collection of books concerning the Far East. Our copies of 'Chinese Jade Throughout The Ages' have been very popular with our readers, who will, we are sure, be delighted with this new acquisition." Mrs. Gertrude B. Warner.

THE AMERICAN ACADEMY OF ART, CHICAGO

" . . . this is without question the finest book of its kind I have ever seen. The reproductions are splendid and the typography is excellent." Frank H. Young.

THE ENOCH PRATT FREE LIBRARY

THE UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

" . . . this volume will contribute to our International-mindedness, adding to our already keen interest in and appreciation of—The Chinese." Ruth Raymond.

THE BIRMINGHAM PUBLIC LIBRARY

Dear Miss Tully:

Thanks for your letter of December 19th, 1941. I am sorry for the delay in answering it, but I returned to Mother's home in Boston on the 23rd and your letter was in the mail being forwarded to my home here in New York, so I did not catch up with it until this morning.

Please be advised that the present you received was meant for the President, and that the mistake made by Dunhill's was in enclosing the wrong card. I feel quite embarrassed that this should have happened to you, of all people, when you are undoubtedly so terribly busy.

Please tell the President that this carries my very best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

With kindest personal regards, I remain

Very sincerely yours,

PERSONAL

My dear Mr. President:

I am sending you a copy of "John Hanson And The Inseparable Union", and am especially urging you to read it now so that you may know all of the history of the beginning of our Union, even that part which has been forgotten. It gives me great pleasure to do this, especially in view of the wonderful exactitude and precision which you have shown in the face of the turbulent situation confronting us.

This story is true, that I have written, and I am sure that you will like it. I read the publication connected with the Bill of Rights, and noticed your acknowledgment of its timeliness, and I feel that this particular story involving the very beginning of the establishment of our nation, its history and government is at this particular period entitled to a light recognition. It does all our people good to know the true facts, and I am, therefore, taken steps to have a wide distribution of this publication.

It was a great pleasure to hear Winston Churchill yesterday in the Senate Chamber and it has always been a pleasure to me to see and hear you.

May I have your recognition of this little volume which has taken both time, energy and fortune.

With best wishes for the holiday season, I am,

Sincerely,

J.A. Nelson
