Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt
The White House
Washington, D.C.

My dear Mr. President:

I am sending you a copy of a pamphlet which the New York City Housing Authority has published, in the hope that you will find time to read it. It was inspired by two very intelligent letters I received from a banker friend of mine in Wall Street and I hope it is at least a partial answer to the questions he raises.

Sincerely yours,

Writes Miss LeHand that on a recent visit to Campobello Island he obtained a picture, which was being taken down from the Post Office at Wilson's Beach. This picture is a poster with the President's head on it and a welcome from Canada. Is sending this poster to the President in a tube. Does not want the President to take time to thank him. States he has no doubt of the President's re-election. Knows of President's interest in old books and pamphlets and thought he would like to have this.- President's appreciation of this poster was expressed to Mr. Tuttle in a letter from Miss LeHand, under date of Sept. 16th.

This picture was drawn in appreciation of the numerous things you have done for our country in the past three and one half years.

I am old enough to vote for the first time and, together with the majority of young America, am hoping for you whole-heartedly.

If this inadequate token can be utilized to any advantage by the Honorable President, it would be considered the greatest of honors.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mrs. Roosevelt;

I have just shipped, by express, an oil painting to the President. I painted and donated this picture to the ladies of our local church. We were having a benefit supper, with the county candidates as guests. This picture was to be given to the one who had the lucky number. My husband wished to boost the President, so he bought a ticket for him. "Believe it or not", the President won the prize.

Then the question arose, What will become of such a picture after it reaches the White House? Some say the President will never see it. Others say he will be "tickled to death" to get it. I hope you will write and tell us what is done with it and other unusable things sent to the President.

I have spent most of my 42 years of life on the farm in Kansas. Only last summer I began painting, without any training, for pleasure. Naturally, I couldnt paint a good picture. Anyway I can appreciate the finer things of life.

I enjoy your column, "My Day"; and admire the whole Roosevelt Family. I hope the President is re-elected and that during his next term of office you will ~~at~~ visit Kansas City and the Nelson Art Gallery.

Yours Truly,

This magnificent picture I have illustrated from more than 1000 pieces since my 83rd birthday, on July 12, 1936, for a token and remembrance to our very beloved, highly respected and admired President of the United States, Franklin Delano Roosevelt; to his reelection in November, 1936.

I pray to the Almighty and hope He will fulfill my prophecy; because on it depends not only the peace and recovery of our Nation, but also that of the European Nation as well.

The Lord may bless and guide you to achieve again the greatest majesty, as in the first election in November, 1932.

Truly yours forever,

Oct. 25, 1936.

My Dear Honorable President;

I humbly beg your pardon for taking this libedy of writing you. I realize how valuable your time is, and further more I'm a stranger to you, but I feel you are not a stranger to me or my family, because you are the only President who speaks our language, which makes us feel you are one of us, that is the reason why I have the courage to take such a privilege.

For years my husband belonged to that army of unemployed. Despondency and in fact everything but happiness was hovering over my door, and there was no good path to choose and no one to save us or guide us, till you came.

I'll never forget that day of March 4th and your eloquent address, which gave us confidence, courage and new hope. I was so inspired that I visualized you as daring captain upon a stormy sea and you at the helm to rescue us. My heart beat so rapidly and I could not help but cry with joy.

With this picture of you as a daring captain before me, you gave me an idea for a exclusive pattern for a patriotic quilt in red white and blue, and I called it "The Spirit of 1933".

Over three years ago when I was embroidering these the privilege of using your picture as a guide. (over) words, New Deal, action, confidence, courage, fearless and faithful on that quilt and you appliqued in a Captain uniform at the wheel, I often wondered if all of this would come true, and whether you shall save us. But now I know it is true.

The C.W.A. just came in time to save us, because the strain has broken down our nerves. My husband is now employed for small wages but we see a future as things are improving rapidly and health and happiness again at our door, which after all we feel is real life.

Almost all my friends and neighbors are back to work and houses all around me do not look as if they were haunted.

Our mayer just told us at the last democratic meeting that were hundreds of men each day loafing, begging and trying to keep warm in our town hall, and now that pathetic sight is gone.

We have a democratic organization in Maple Hgts. (a suburb of Cleveland Ohio) which is directed by our Mayer John J. Pekarek and auditor Gerald Mansell, and I'm sure this little city is at least 90% for you dear president. Enclosed is a clipping from a Cleveland paper showing the poll just from a few streets.

I'm sure most of the people of Maple Hgts. were in the same misery as I were, and no one can not change our minds on Nov. 3rd. because seeing is believing.

I know many people voted republican four years ago, but after they saw what you accomplished in a short time after you took office they told me they are really ashamed to admit the privilege of using your picture on a quilt. (over) they voted for Mr. Hoover, and now they are a 100% for you.

Since most of my friends were interested in you four years ago they followed up that quilt I made which was exhibited in 1933. Repeatedly I had been asked what did the president and Mrs. Roosevelt say about that quilt.

I sent it to Mrs. Roosevelt in 1933 because I believe in showing my gratitude while both of you are living, and it was such a poor way to pay you back after all you have done for the whole nation.

Now three years have passed and your name again is the main subject and I'm again reminded of that quilt and asked the same questions about you.

It seems very strange to say that men ask me what happened to a quilt and what did our President think of it. Well I often wondered myself if you ever saw it, or if the picture resembled you. But I can plainly see why they keep asking these questions not only because this quilt had a certain meaning and was patriotic, but the fact is this, that they still have you at heart, and did not forget the good you have done and that you are not the kind to high hat the poor people.

So dear preaident I hate to burden you with such trifles, but may I take the permission of asking you to write me few lines expressing yourself frankly, if you saw it and give me yours and your families opinion.

Sometimes I wondered if I offended you because I took the privilege of using your picture on a quilt.

I'm enclosing a picture of the quilt because I know Mrs. Roosevelt has received so many, and also a letter for refrence which Mrs. Roosevelts secretary wrote me.

I'm sure if you send me a few lines I will consider it a great honor and I'll cherish your letter be it good or bad and keep it as history for my children.

I can not find words to express my thanks for taking your precious time and pardon me for taking such privileges. The best of luck and wishes I have the honor to remain,

Respectfully yours
Mrs. Wilma Pfeffer.

P.S.

May I have the pleasure and Honor of congradulating you in advance for Nov. 3rd.

I see many signs "Sunflowers die in November".

Poll Chagrin, Maple Heights, Bedford

Gaining votes in two of three suburbs from which returns are printed today, President Roosevelt continues to increase his margin over Gov. Alf M. Landon in tabulation of votes from Cuyahoga County municipalities in the Plain Dealer straw poll.

Only in Chagrin Falls did Gov. Landon show a decisive majority. In Maple Heights and Bedford the president was given large pluralities.

Most of the ballots in those suburbs indicated considerable straight ticket voting, the gubernatorial candidates showing approximately the same vote comparatively as the presidential candidates.

Attorney General John W. Bricker continues to hold a wide lead over Gov. Martin L. Davey in the gubernatorial race in the suburbs.

Returns from Ward 7 in Cleveland, also printed today, give the president one of the largest majorities he has yet received in the city. Not so much straight ticket voting was evident here, Bricker receiving 70 votes while Landon got 19.

House-to-house canvassers will soon visit farm territory near Cleveland, and their reports will appear as well as returns from the city.

de TESSAN, Hon. Francois
Under Secretary of State to the President of the Council
Paris, France,
November 7, 1936

Writes the President, transmitting picture representing the Statue of Liberty, stating that this is the work of Bartholdi and until now has been kept in the Museum of Colmar. Says this aquarelle is sent in behalf of the City of Colmar and Mr. Richard, its Mayor. Mr. de Tessan's letter was translated by the State Department and returned to Mr. McIntyre on Nov. 14 by the Acting Chief of Procotol, who says he understands that Mr. de Tessan left at the White House a photograph of the President, to be autographed, and stating that if the President's reply, draft of which is attached, is returned to the State Department with the autographed photograph of the President, they will be forwarded to the French Embassy for delivery. -- Inaccordance with draft submitted, the President wrote Mr. de Tessan on Nov.17, thanking him for his letter by which he transmitted the generous gift of the City of Colmar, Is grateful for this handsome present, the more so when he realizes the great feeling of affection for the American Nation which must have prompted the citizens of Colmar in depriving themselves of this priceless aquarelle from the hand of Bartholdi himself. Asks Mr. de Tessan, who is charged by the French Republic with the affairs of Alsace and Lorraine, to convey to the citizens of Colmar and to their Mayor, M. Richard, an expression of his appreciation and thanks. Says he would be honored if this letter were hung in the Museum of Colmar at the spot where the Bartholdi water color did, as a testimonial of his gratitude. -- Mr. McIntyre, on Nov. 17, sent the President's reply to the Acting Chief of Protocol, State Department, and stated that the photograph referred to was sent from the White House to the French Embassy.

Re: Mr. B.F. Pettigrew

Thanks Mrs Pettigrew

Dear Mr. President:

I of course realize that a letter such as this is inappropriate, but yield to an aged gentleman of the old school whose sincerity of purpose is unquestionable.

Mr. B.F. Pettigrew, typical of the man Longfellow was thinking of in his "Village Blacksmith," whose trade vanished down the gasoline trail of motor mechanics, recently sent you a pickle fork he fashioned from an old crosscut saw. He makes almost every pattern of knife from the same material, vending them about town.

An ardent "Roosevelt" man in the recent campaign, he feels, as most political workers do, that the President ought to make him some little contribution. I mention this merely to keep faith with his simple faith and the boundaries which limit his understanding of the fact his request is but one of thousands.

His gift will be acknowledged, and the possession of a White House letterhead, I believe, will please him immensely.

Very truly yours

Dear Mr. President:

Permit me again to express and convey to you my hearty congratulations and good wishes because of your recent success at the polls. Four years ago I was candidate for Assembly 60th District on the Democratic Party ticket in Los Angeles County, Los Angeles and at that time was defeated by a small margin. After the election I sent to you my good wishes accompanied by my essay entitled "Life". Not having received an acknowledgment of same I again take the liberty of sending you another copy in the hope that you receive it.

On last Friday while in Chicago I wired you in care of the Madison Square Gardens a telegram, which in view of recent events I take pleasure at this time to repeat. The message read as follows:

"Dear Mr. President:-

The eyes of the blind have been caused to see out of obscurity; the ears of the deaf have been unstopped; so that now all true Americans may now see, hear and understand the true principles of Democracy which you have so ably expounded.

Please tell the Kansan that there are none so blind as those who will not see and none so deaf as those that will not hear."

Will you kindly accept my essay together with my hearty and sincere good wishes.

To our dear President,

I am sending this little ecketch of you. I tried my very best to succeed, and I finally did. I am only 12 years of age and will be 13 on November 29th 1936. I hope it shows a great deal of talent for a young boy with no lessons. Two years ago I send a few sketches to the Federal Art School, they appreciated it very much, but I was a little too young to enroll in their school for the average in their school had to be fifteen years of age.

I am sending my letter to you to prove to you. I ask you with great dignity to return this letter and answer me if you like this picture I drew for you so I can show my teachers in school.

I will be very proud as to have a picture of me in the newspapers like all the other boys and girls.

I will graduate next year and try to go to art school.

Very truly Yours,
John Capitone

My dear Mr. McIntyre:

The three communications enclosed, from Aziza M. Helmy of New York City, Rupert Pahl of Buffalo, and Dr. Fanny Robin of Brooklyn, were recently received in the Department of State by reference from the White House.

I gather that the interests of the writers lie in domestic matters rather than in international relations. Since it would appear that the Department is not actually concerned with the matters discussed therein, I am returning herewith the three communications, together with the woodcarving which accompanied Mr. Pahl's letter.

My dear Mr. Smith:

I greatly appreciate the friendly spirit which prompted you, in your letter of December first, to bring to my attention the desire of an acquaintance of yours to present a magnificent Persian rug to the President.

If the President were here I know he would want me to thank you for your courtesy and to assure Mr. Philibosian of his appreciation of the generous spirit which prompts his desire to make such a gift. May I, however, say to you quite frankly that the President tries to discourage the bestowal upon him of gifts of great value. I am sure that you will understand the motive which prompts the President to take this attitude. He simply feels that he ought not, while holding his present office, to accept valuable gifts.

×P.P.7

Miss Marguerite LeHand,

My dear Miss LeHand:

An acquaintance of mine in Atlanta asks advice upon the propriety of presenting a magnificent Persian rug to President Roosevelt, and I turn to you for the answer because I am unfamiliar with such things.

Mr. G. E. Philibosian, a native Armenian and a rug merchant in our midst of several years standing, is perhaps the best known and leading authority of the South on orientals. He holds President Roosevelt in great esteem, and desires to register his admiration with the presentation of a Persian rug - not so much for the White House as for the Roosevelts themselves. Among his stock there is an unusually fine Persian piece, about three by five feet - too beautiful, I think, for the floor, and worthy of any wall. It is this rug that he desires to send to Mr. Roosevelt, provided, of course, it is the proper thing to do.

Mr. Philibosian turned to me for advice because of a column I wrote a couple of years ago about the Warm Springs Museum, in which countless gifts to the President are cluttered pell mell. I agree with him that the rug he has in mind merits different treatment. What do you think?

With kindest personal regards, and expressions of deepest sympathy for the death of Gus Gennerich, of which I have just read in the paper.

Sincerely yours,

Ralph Smith

At the suggestion of Mrs. Roosevelt, Mrs. Stoddard write for a five minute audience with the President to present to him for his collection of marine views a water color picture of an old battle ship, the Tallapoosa, which was the flag ship of the South Ame Atlantic Squadron in the harbor of Buenos Aires in 1890. -On 12-21-36 Mr. McIntyre advised her that he could receive this gift for the President.

MEMORANDUM FOR FILES - 2-19-37. "R.B. advised Mrs. Stoddard on Feb. 18th that we have not yet received the water color of "The Tallapoosa". Mrs. Stoddard said she would look the matter up and see why it had not been delivered as she had promised the President on Inauguration Day that she was going to make him a present of this painting."

MEMO. FOR FILES 2-24-37 "The painting of the TALLAPOOSA has not been located bur Mr. Kannee recalls that a Miss Mae Vance did bring it in some time ago."R.BMr. Nesbit at the house said the picture was not sent to him". R.B.

2-24-37 Mrs. Stoddard wrote to Mr.McIntyre asking him to present to the President the Memorial of the Tallapoosa which Miss Vance left with him. - Mr. McIntyre ack. this letter 2-24-37 thanking her for the Title Tablet which she forwarded to be hung below the picture of the Tallapoosa.

There is also attached an envelope w ich says "Greetings and Congratulations from Buenos Aires to Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt on his Second Inauguration as President of the United States, 1-20-37"; a picture showing a number of boats, a memo. from Miss LeHand to J.R. "Do you know what picture this is?" and his answer 1-26-37 "Don't understand. I wasn't borne until late in 1907".

Dear President Roosevelt,

I am sending you this Christmas present hoping you will like it.

Mother and Dad said they liked you, sod like you too. If I was a man I would vote for you, I am glad you are president again.

I am only eleven (11) years old and in the sixth (6th) Grade.

I wish I had money to come out and see you Christmas but I have none.

yours truly,
