When you married off your last child you were congratulated by your many friends.

I am happy as your true friend, to you and your dear family, to also send my greetings.

I wish you all the pleasure you can derive from the marriage of your children and may you live to see the marriage of your grand children.

I feel very proud that I was able to complete these statures of your son and daughter in law.

I would be overjoyed if I could leave a remembrance to the Home of the Old Aged where I am now living, from you, my beloved President.

PRAYER TO OUR LADY OF PROSPERITY

Our Lady of Prosperity, by thy powerful influence upon the Saviour of mankind, Whom thou holdest within thy maternal embrace, do intercede in our behalf in the trials and tribulations that beset us, and obtain from Him pardon for us all.

Be thou the guiding light of our lawgivers in the exercise of their difficult mission, and help us to be respectful of authority. Bring back all nations and families to the century-tried traditions of work and duty; strengthen our faith, animate our hope, diffuse our charity. Do thou obtain that God may reign over all hearts, families and nations, and vouchsafe from this day forward, peace and prosperity during this life and eternal happiness in the next.
Amen.

Our Lady of Prosperity, pray for us.

Dear Mrs. Roosevelt:-

I am writing directly to you concerning a plan I have, in connection with the enclosed picture, which I am positive will add greatly to the prestige of President Roosevelt among the Catholic voters in the Country for 1940 but especially among the Catholic voters in New York City particularly in the 16th Congressional District which is mostly composed of Irish and Italian Catholic voters.

Mr. Peladeau, who has the Copyrights to this picture and with whom I am working to consummate the above plan, has had a large oil painting of this picture made for the sole purpose of presenting it to President Roosevelt in the White House.

We thought that if this picture of "Our Lady of Prosperity," were presented to the President a few days before the Primary election of Mr. Fay against John O'Connor of the 16th Dist. the acceptance of this oil painting would work wonders among the Catholic voters in the 16th Cong. Dist. and would

in favor of Mrs. Fay, Congressman John A. Conner's opponent.
Of course, in order that this result will be effected - it would be necessary that the newspapers of the Country carry a picture of Mrs. Peladeau presenting this oil painting to the President and the picture of the President accepting the beautiful oil painting. It is also necessary that for President Roosevelt's purposes this plan be put in effect before Primary Day in New York City.

Don't you see the name of Prosperity will fit in nicely with President Roosevelt's plan to bring Prosperity to America.
I shall be pleased to hear from you, Mrs. Roosevelt, in this regard at an early date.

With every wish for your health and happiness, I beg to remain,

Respectfully yours,

STATE DEPARTMENT, The October 17, 1938

Mr. McIntyre referred to officials of the State Department, for draft of reply, letter addressed to the President October 11th from Robert C. Wallace, Ph.D., LL.D., The Principal and Vice-Chancellor, Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, Canada, transmitting a set of photographs of the Special Convocation at the University last summer, sent with the compliments of Queen's University. -- In accordance with draft submitted by Mr. George Summerlin, Chief of Protocol, State Department, Oct. 18th, the President wrote Dr. Wallace a letter dated October 17th, stating his letter brought back many pleasant memories of his visit to Queen's University, of the gracious hospitality of the Canadian people, and of Dr. Wallace's courtesy in personally presenting him for the Honorary Degree. Expressed his gratitude for the photographs, indicating they will serve as an admirable souvenir of a happy occasion.

The President wrote Dr. Wallace the same date, stating he gives his best wishes to accompany the draft, through the office of Miss Helen Miller, of the staff of the Executive Secretary, Mrs. Helen Miller, for delivery, the President's letter to Dr. Wallace, on Oct. 17th.

On above date Col. McIntyre referred for attention:-

Letter from Frank E. Davidson, 44 Glendale Ave., Highland Park, Michigan, 10/26/38 to the President. Encloses a folder containing papers which constitutes a "bona fide case of patent manipulation by the Thompson Products Company, Inc., Cleveland, Ohio, whereby a patent granted to the writer Dec. 3, 1933 is now in their possession and has been since issued, without an assignment. He hopes this information may be of some value in connection with investigation now being made by Senator Wm. King and Hon. Thurman Arnold, concerning patent shelving by monopolies.-- On Nov. 2, 1938, Col. McIntyre wrote to Mr. Davidson thanking him for the above letter, and also thanking him in the President's behalf, for his thoughtfulness in sending the photographs of the "Potomac" to him.

December 29th, 1938

My dear Mr. President:

I have just received from England the first advance copy, which is enclosed herewith, of a book entitled MORAL RE-ARMAMENT - THE BATTLE FOR PEACE, compiled by "Bunny" Austin, England's ranking tennis player, and dedicated to Lord Baldwin of Bewdley, who first voiced the program of Moral Re-Armament for England and the Empire as "the need of the day". It is a compilation of the response from political, business, labor and sports leaders in England and other European countries. It has a first edition of 250,000 copies.

You will note especially the statement of the Earl of Athlone, personal A.D.C. to the King on page 26, the proclamation of Her Majesty, the Queen of the Netherlands on Moral Re-Armament on page 49, the statement of His Majesty, the King of the Belgians on page 54, the Manifesto of British Labour on page 16, the statement of Lord Baldwin on page 9 with which the book begins, as well as that of the Scottish leaders on page 29.

After the strain and disillusionment of recent months in the international scene, the New Year presents an opportunity to voice for America such a positive and constructive program as Moral Re-Armament represents. In your first speech of the New Year at the opening of Congress, this note may be most valuable in creating for the nation an atmosphere of confidence and faith. Such a lead on your part would certainly have a world echo and would be received with gratitude by responsible statesmen in England and throughout Europe, as well as by countless Americans who hold you in highest esteem.

With heartfelt good wishes for the New Year,

Yours very sincerely,

Dear Mr. President:

Mr. B.F. Pettigrew, an aged and ill blacksmith whose business all but disappeared with the late horse age, is sending you under separate cover a carving knife of his own make. It matches a fork he sent you previously.

I am entirely familiar with the White House attitude toward precedent setting in sending money to the thousands of writers to seek to touch the President's heart-strings, knowing of course, that he both human and humane.

Mr. Pettigrew, however, has had a most difficult time with a broken leg, is behind with his rent, and while the knife he sends is a gift in every respect, he will appreciate any consideration given him.

Very truly yours
