Dear Friend,

Our latest edition of our school magazine, "The Blue and Gold" is again presented for your approval.

Completed it is representative of an entire term's project, and, from cover design to final assemblage, and even the difficult task of stencil typing, was completed by the eighth year English classes under the supervision of their teacher, Miss Mary F. Travers.

We derived great pleasure from the hours spent in planning and organizing our book and we feel that if you, in some measure upon reading it share our enjoyment, we shall indeed feel duly rewarded.

Sincerely yours,

Editor- Angela Sellaro

Editor- James Norton

My dear Mrs. Peckinpaugh:

What you say in that very nice letter you wrote to the President and the enclosed clipping have indeed been noted with interest. The President is pleased to know that you, too, are doing your part to help in our efforts for Victory and asks me to thank you most sincerely for your prayers.

It was good of you to send the President that painting you made of Fala and, I can assure you, he is grateful for it. Unfortunately, however, a note of thanks went forward to the party whose name appeared on the package before your letter was received. I am so sorry, but feel sure you will understand.

With the President's best wishes for your future welfare,

EWS FROM ORANGE ANI

BECAUSE SHE HAD MORE TIME than she could use in reading and writing, Mrs. Susan Peckinpaugh began to paint in oils at the age of 84. She is shown above at the board she uses as an easel. In a wheel chair the greater part of the time, the octogenarian is barred from the active life she might lead and so began painting, an art she has found so fascinating she has painted more than 150 pictures. Mrs. Peckinpaugh is able to move about her home and she has an alert interest in the present. (Register photo.)

ORANGE, May 2— Life may begin at 40 for many persons, but life as an artist began for Mrs. Susan Peckinpaugh, North Batavia street at twice 40 and a few years over. Mrs. Peckinpaugh who makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. O. L. Cully, found time hanging rather heavily in her hands a year ago when she was 84, so she began to paint pictures.

In the past year Mrs. Peckinpaugh has copied in oils many famous paintings from lithographs, besides all the pictures of beautiful landscapes she can find. She never has taken any lessons but learned how to use her paints by the trial and error method. She has painted greater number of which she has given to friends.

In a sunny bedroom Mrs. Peckinpaugh spends happy hours with her paintings and in what time is left over she writes letters to the many friends she has made during her long life time. She likes to paint mountain scenery best and as yet has not attempted to copy portraits.

Every two weeks a group of friends arrive to spend the afternoon at bridge and Mrs. Peckinpaugh makes a lively member of the foursome.

/TRANSLATOR'S STATEMENT/

This is a letter addressed by Mr. Carlos G. Peraza, on the 17th day of this month, to Miss Grace Tully, Secretary to the President. It is on paper of the Hotel Capitol, at 8th Avenue and 51st Street, New York City. The letter thanks her for forwarding to the President a copy of the correspondent's book entitled "Defects and Virtues of Great Men of America." This book has just been published at Habana. The correspondent also gives some details regarding himself. He says that he is a Cuban journalist, who has written various previous books, such as "Machado. Crimes and Horrors of a Régime." That book came out in 1933, and the edition was sold out in a few weeks. In all his writings, the correspondent states further, he has praised the President. He would like very much to receive some "economic help."

The correspondent concludes by stating that his address until May 22d will remain the Hotel Capitol, and that he will be in Washington, D. C. on the 23rd or 24th. He would like very much to receive from Miss Tully any message on behalf of the President.

The clippings consist of a little notice of the writer and an advertisement of his most recent book.

TRANSLATOR'S STATEMENT

This is a letter addressed to the President by Mr. Carlos G. Peraza. The address is the Hotel Capitol at 8th Avenue and 51st Street, New York City, and the date is May 17.

The letter states that the correspondent has sent to the President a bound copy of the writer's book entitled "Defects and Virtues of Great Men of America." This collection contains a biographical sketch of the President. The correspondent then states that he is in New York for the express purpose of getting his book published in English. He is a special correspondent of the journal entitled "Prensa Libre" (Free Press of Cuba), a newspaper which displays particular zeal in the cause of democracy. The correspondent adds that the publication of the book has cost him a good deal and that he is a poor man. He is coming to Washington, D. C. with the idea of calling on Mr. Welles and the Secretary of State. The visit will take place on the 22nd and 23rd of this month.

He would like very much to have some economic aid, but in any case he would like to get an acknowledgment of the receipt of his book.

There are enclosed a card showing that the writer is an editor of the Prensa Libre (Habana). There is a clipping regarding the writer.

The letter to the President is addressed in the care of Miss Grace Tully.

TRANSLATOR'S SUMMARY OF COMMUNICATION

Language in which written: Spanish

Date of communication: June 15, 1942

Addressed to: President

Name and address of writer: Carlos G. Peraza,
Hotel Colonial
San Miguel, 62,
Habana, Cuba.

Substance of statements made by the writer:

This writer says that about five weeks ago he had sent the President from New York a copy of his book entitled "Defects and Virtues of great Men of America", in which there is a biographical sketch of the President. At the same time he wrote Miss Grace Tully , but he has not as yet received any reply. He feels rather disappointed at not having received a word of thanks.

Request made in communication: That the President be so good as to inform the correspondent whether the book referred to above has been received or not.

Mi querido Presidente:

Hace ya cerca de cinco semanas que tuve el gusto de remitirle, por special delivery, desde Nueva York, un ejemplar empastado de mi libro "Defectos y Virtudes de Hombres Grandes de América", en el cual aparece la biografía de su vida. Conjuntamente con dicho envío escribí a Miss Grace Tully, su Secretaria; pero no habiendo recibido respuesta, ni de usted ni de ella, me decido a escribirle de nuevo.

Conociendo su temperamento, la finura que le caracteriza, me ha extrañado mucho su silencio. Es verdad que yo le suplicaba, si usted tenía en ello gusto, alguna ayuda económica; pero usted no tiene necesidad de mandarme nada, si ese no es su gusto. Lo que si me extraña es que, siendo usted, como lo es, el primer demócrata del mundo, no me haya dado ni siquiera las gracias por el libro que tuve el gusto de obsequirle, y a la vez por el trabajo sentido y elogioso que he escrito sobre usted, y que aparece en mi citado libro. Ello me hace pensar que mi obra no le ha sido entregada, pues no es posible pensar que Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Presidente de los Estados Unidos, desaire injustamente a un escritor que le ha hecho justicia, elogiándolo con sinceridad emocionada.

Habana, Cuba,

Si esta carta llega a su poder,(cosa que hasta dudo, debido al fracaso de mi correspondencia anterior,) le ruego me diga si por fin el libro llegó a su poder. Yo sé que usted está muy ocupado siempre, pero un Presidente tiene o debe tener Secretarios que atiendan la correspondencia de alguna importancia; y me es doloroso y triste pensar que el Presidente de los Estados Unidos, el primer Demócrata del Mundo y el Estadista de la "sonrisa franca y el corazón generoso", no tenga Secretarios que le secunden como debieran.

Reciba, señor Presidente, con mi saludo cordial y respetuoso, el testimonio de mi más alta consideración.

PERTINENT FACTS ABOUT

THE PROTESTANT VOICE

★ The only Protestant publication of its kind in the United States.

★ Published in the interest of all Protestant churches, a group embracing more than 50,000,000 people.

★ Began publication October 29, 1941. Already has subscribers in every state in the Union. Circulation is increasing at a consistent and rapid pace.

★ Soundly organized and adequately financed by men who are successful in their professions and leaders in their respective churches.

★ Has the unqualified endorsement and support of leading officials and laymen of many denominations. A representative group of these individuals constitute its editorial board. (See editorial page.)

★ While published in the interests of all Protestants it is unalterably free from "anti-isms" or intolerance toward any other faith.

★ It has no desire to change or to break down denominational boundaries. It does endeavor to achieve unity of thought and action among all Protestants in dealing with major issues pertinent to the advancement of Christianity.

★ It does not attempt to supplant the individual publication of any denomination or religious group, but does endeavor to summarize, for the busy reader, the achievements and activities of all Protestant denominations. It presents a complete record of the trend in religious thinking.

★ News and feature services include United Press, Religious News Service, NEA, Worldover Press, and Acme Newspictures, Inc.

★ Special correspondents in all principal cities in the United States.

★ A woman's page, sports and youth activities page, news of the denominations—these, plus feature articles and world news, combine to provide a paper touching the interests of every member of the family.

★ Obviously its columns are free from sex or crime stories. Neither does it accept liquor, beer, or tobacco advertising.

★ Its steadily increasing reader family represents a cross-section of the great American Home. . . . doctors, lawyers, congressmen, bankers, ministers, business men, farmers, laborers. All are regular readers of this new and widely-discussed newspaper.

★ To the advertiser we say, Protestant Voice readers are interested in and financially able to enjoy the better things of life; travel, good books, good clothing, comfortable homes, education for their children. They live well but wisely.

★ Advertisers interested in reaching a group that is particularly receptive, and definitely responsive, will do well to tell their advertising story in The Protestant Voice. Today, thousands are watching its progress with interest.
