Dear Mr. President;

I am taking the liberty of sending you the first copy of a work I recently completed. I shall feel greatly honored if you will accept it with my compliments.

I intend to preserve the original writing for my son, and if it is not asking too great a favor, I would appreciate having your permission to forward it to Washington for your autograph. I can assure you that such approval will make this work invaluable to me, and to my posterity

Dear Mr. President:

Your secretary has very graciously acknowledged the aerial view of Groton, and while I appreciate her note, which may adequately express your own sentiments, it cannot possibly mean as much to me as a letter from you personally as a great deal of the sport which is derived from aerial photography is found in contacts with men of your cloth--even though it must be only by way of correspondence.

Please understand that I do not expect any extremely busy man--least of all your good self--to sit down at his official desk and pen me a note when there are so many more important matters demanding his attention, but I would appreciate it, if you might sometime at your leisure, spare a few moments to drop me a line.

Respectfully,

My dear Mr. McIntyre,-

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Rabé, artists, of Quincy, California, have sent me a photograph of a gold nugget that was found by a prospector on March 4,1933, not far from Quincy, at almost the very moment that the President was taking his oath of office. It was named "The Inauguration Nugget" by the prospector. It is reported to be the largest nugget found in that reion in many years and contains ~~some~~ $3100 worth of gold. The photograph is a live size of the nugget and has been hand painted by Mr. Rabé. This photograph has been sent to me for presentation to the President.

President,

October Mr. Daniele Roviaro of Richmond, Mass., then Gov. Roosevelt a cane which he had personally ece of native wood. The head of the cane was the emblem of the party. Mr. Roviaro also iar one to Gov. Ely of Massachusetts and his edged by a personal letter from Gov. Ely. Mr. proffessional wood carver but is a man of about his country when a young boy from Italy and has emocrat all his life.

On Oct. 22nd, Mr. Guernsey Cross wrote Mr. Roviaro the following letter, "Your letter of October 17th and the cane which you sent to Governor Roosevelt have been received in the absence of the Governor who is now away on his campaign trip. I do not expect him to return until immediately following the election but I shall be glad at that time to present the cane to him with your compliments and I am sure you will receive an appropriate acknowledgment."

Mr. Roviaro has heard nothing further and seems very much disappointed as he spent a great deal of time on it.

I realize that the President cannot acknowledge every gift he receives but in this instance I wonder if it would not be possible for you to dictate a letter acknowledging the gift and have the President sign it. It would greatly please an old man.

My only interest in the matter is a personal interest in Mr. Roviaro.

His address is Ricmond, Mass., which is about 25 miles from Albany.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Miss LeHand:

Last October Mr. Daniele Roviaro of Richmond, Mass., sent to Albany to then Gov. Roosevelt a cane which he had personally carved from a piece of native wood. The head of the cane was a carved donkey, the emblem of the party. Mr. Roviaro also presented a similiar one to Gov. Ely of Massachusetts and his gift was acknowledged by a personal letter from Gov. Ely. Mr. Roviaro is not a proffessional wood carver but is a man of about 65 who came to this country when a young boy from Italy and has been an ardent democrat all his life.

On Oct. 22nd, Mr. Guernsey Cross wrote Mr. Roviaro the following letter, "Your letter of October 17th and the cane which you sent to Governor Roosevelt have been received in the absence of the Governor who is now away on his campaign trip. I do not expect him to return until immediately following the election but I shall be glad at that time to present the cane to him with your compliments and I am sure you will receive an appropriate acknowledgment."

Mr. Roviaro has heard nothing further and seems very much disappointed as he spent a great deal of time on it.

I realize that the President cannot acknowledge every gift he receives but in this instance I wonder if it would not be possible for you to dictate a letter acknowledging the gift and have the President sign it. It would greatly please an old man.

Sir,

I have the honor and pleasure to forward you a presentation copy of my book Depression and Its Cure, which has just been published in Melbourne.

I have the temerity to assert that the chapters in my humble publication dealing with the subjects of The Gold Measure, Commodity prices, Currency and Exchange, reflect the policy which you, Mr.President, have recently enunciated.

As a remote admirer, who has been following your pronouncements with profound interest and approval, I hope that you will be able to spare an hour of your valuable time to glance at the Theory of the Gold Measure as I have endeavored to present it in these pages. It is possible that I may have presented some aspect or detail of the question which would have escaped your notice.

With great respect I desire, sir, to congratulate you on the fine courage and lofty vision you have demonstrated in your attack upon the Great Problem of World - Stabilization. It is the earnest prayer of your many admirers in this country that you may be successful in achieving your humanitarian objectives.

My literary Editor - who is the son of an American citizen and Civil-War veteran - most humbly joins with me in wishing you all the enduring and historical success your magnificent effort deserves.

I remain,

T-nappy indeed.

My father, who died of cancer New Years Eve, did the very last thing he was able to do for you. He held you in his mind as being the great man you are, and through that high opinion of you he got out of his bed where he had been ill and cast his vote for you. That was the last thing he ever did, for the next day he was taken to his bed where he lay for seven weeks before he died.

We all love you and think you have done marvels during the few months in which you have been in office.

Do you happen to recall, during your last visit to Warm Springs, a girl reporter named Miss Bricka Topham? She is from Columbus, and represented the "Columbus Daily Record." Well, she is my cousin. and has written to us all about her interview with you. She certainly thinks a lot of you as do the rest of us.

The President, I hope you will like this drawing of yourself. When I put in Lincoln and Washington's shadow in the background I think I should have added another one, that of Woodrow Wilson. It would have then been the "four greatest presidents" instead of the three greatest as I have now. However, I know that at the end of your "eight" years in office it will be "the" greatest President, F. D. Roosevelt.

I am a girl of seventeen and hope that someday in the future

Dear Mr Stahl:- Several days ago I have finished my latest invention - the Ground & Aerial unit, an object which required five years of experimentation and research work.

This devise is a complete installation of both ground and aerial and does away with the present aerial systems which add great danger to the public, for in many instances they are brought in contact with high powered electrical lines or often struck by lightening.

This invention is buried in the earth and provides a systematical reduction of static - and in reality it is the first and only system of its kind to be introduced in the world.

Therefore I think it is very fitting and proper that this first completed unit be sent to our President for his use at the White House.

I am well aware of the great strain upon the shoulders of President Roosevelt and therefore if this system will help to provide a little recreation for him through the medium of better radio reception during his spare hours away from his work I shall be very happy indeed.

My entire eight years of radio experimentation work has been devoted to the cause of static elimination and better radio reception.

The fact that I was the first individual in the world to contact every station on the five continents, I am therefore devoting my efforts to some a way so that the entire universe can benefit by my discoveries and inventions thus providing a means of better + more enjoyable recreational pastime for the people of the entire world.

I have been fortunate in the past several years by being called upon for my services in this radio work by many of the reigning families throughout the entire world.

But really my greatest desire is to insure a means whereby our own President can enjoy the best possible radio reception and it is therefore with this thought in my mind that I am presenting this ground + aerial combination to you, so as to be sure of its reaching President Roosevelt in safety.

Thanking you most sincerely I am

Yours very truly
Ollie Foss.

Dear Sir:- Several days ago I turned over to the United States Postmaster at Vallejo a ground and aerial system for President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Due to postal regulations I was unable to include in that parcel the directions for this system therefore I am sending them now.

{ The red & white covered wire is for the Aerial.
Green insulated wire is for the Ground. }

This unit is to be buried at least 3 ft. deep in the earth and can be removed without damage at all times.

However for best results it should remain in the earth at least a month so that the earth has a good chance to solidify around it, and upon burying it should be watered occasionally.

If an overhead outside aerial is to be also used why it will be found that this underground unit working in conjunction with the outside aerial will greatly reduce the effects of static.

Thanking you sincerely I am

Yours very truly

world for whom I have

Vallejo, California,
June 30, 1933.

Honorable, Franklin D. Roosevelt,
President, United States of America,
Washington, D. C.

Honorable Sir:- Some time ago I had promised to send Mr Roosevelt one of my grounding systems. However as I was just about to complete my latest invention - "a single unit comprising both a ground and aerial," I therefore decided to make the first one for our President.

This new invention will do away with outside aerials which not only are dangerous, by often falling over high powered electric wires and often being struck by lightening and very unsightly on many roofs.

I shall give this Ground and Aerial unit to our Vallejo postmaster who shall forward it to the White House so in this way I shall be sure of its prompt delivery and safeness.

I am indeed very sorry that I did not send it sooner as I had promised but truly the past four months were very busy ones for me and with an accomplishment that I am certain helped the entire United States.

During this great depression period with many millions of people gravely restless while unemployed

world for whom I have avoided if possible. aerial.

I decided to try a plan which would help to encourage the people and take up their spare time and in this way at least for awhile take their minds off the depression worries.

During my travels throughout the world I have observed that due to idleness, people can and in most cases cause much trouble in various demonstrations and other methods though of course caused by idleness.

Knowing the great interest taken in radio and in long distance reception by thousands and thousands of our American people and as I am the World's Champion and record holder in this field I decided to try and reach as many of these unemployed people as I could and also to provide them with several months employment in the construction of grounds and aerials for their own use.

I therefore secured the cooperation of many newspapers throughout the entire United States and thus was able to bring my plan in immediate operation.

I wrote articles for these papers, giving few examples of my work and exactly what made this possible. Following, I provided descriptions of various grounds and aerials and directions for their construction and which could be made by the individual set owner.

In this way each person though constantly looking for a job could in the meantime provide himself with work both interesting and of benifit to himself.

avoided if possible. aerial.

I am indeed very happy on the outcome of this undertaking for it has surpassed even my fondest imagination and in the past four months have received more than one hundred thousand letters from every corner of the United States.

Instead of the thousands of young unemployed men and boys spending their time in pool halls or such other places and perhaps getting into trouble, I have succeeded in turning their thoughts to constructive radio work and in this way, though not paid, but at least temporarily employed.

These thousands of letters carry many stories and almost each one comes from an unemployed young man and I am certain by the application of their own efforts in this radio work, great trouble and sorrows will be avoided both to themselves and the entire country.

I am sending several of the news clippings on this work I am carrying on throughout the United States.

Sincerely wishing that the ground and aerial unit arrives in good condition and trusting that through it, better and more distant reception may be enjoyed by President Roosevelt and family during the future months and wishing everyone the best of health I am

DX "CHAMP" DESCRIBES AERIALS HE DEEMS BEST FITTED FOR DISTANCE

"Ground Aerial" Declared Most Successful for Removal of Static

When it comes to DX reception, the question of proper aerial injects itself similarly to the question of successfully receiving on short wave.

Ollie Ross, of Vallejo, an acknowledged champion among DX fans, explained yesterday that only by strict attention to one's aerial can one hope to eliminate, or at least greatly reduce, the static that so often interferes with long-distance reception.

In his DX work, Ross uses three outside, overhead aerials. One of these, 100 feet long, runs east and west. The other two, respectively 300 feet and 80 feet in length, run north and south. Ross has found by long experience that some of the far-distant stations come in best on the east-west aerial, while in other cases this aerial seems useless.

TWO AERIALS BEST.

DXers are about to employ at least two aerials, each from 80 to 100 feet in length and directed, at a right angle, to the four cardinal points of the compass. By means of a switch they can be used alternately or together. Another effective method of minimizing static is, to connect a small grid condenser and leak across the aerial and ground leads. In this way some discharges of static are "by-passed," and the condenser acts as a stabilizer.

Failing to get results by the above means, you will have to use a ground antenna, or "ground aerial." Such a contrivance, declares Ross, will be found particularly satisfactory in such localities as Eureka.

For the construction of this equipment, Ross adminishes that the greatest care must be exercised.

HERE'S THE RECIPE.

It is necessary to utilize a garden hose at least 80 feet long, and a regular seven-strand uninsulated aerial wire, running through it. One end of this hose will then have to be plugged up, and well taped, so that no water or dirt gets in. The other end must run as close as possible to the place where the lead-in wire enters the house. This end must also be taped, leaving enough wire only to enter to the aerial post on the set.

This underground aerial is then placed in a shallow ditch dug expressly for this purpose, at least one foot deep, and is covered over with earth. This underground aerial, though costly, will insure excellent reception results for many years, and is unsurpassed in DX work.

TIPS FOR DXers.

2RN—Dublin, Ireland. This station has been reopened, and can be best picked up on 940 kilocycles, between 5 and 6 a. m.

LR5—Buenos Aires, Argentina. This station is again on the air, operating on 830 kilocycles.

3ZR — Greymouth, Australia. Has increased its power to 400 watts, and broadcasts on 1,300 kilocycles. Heard regularly from 1:30 a. m. to 3 a. m.

"Sabo" — Cairo, Egypt. Recently heard, during fair weather, on 600 kilocycles. Best reception at 5 a. m.

ON SHORT WAVE.

CGA — Drummondville, Quebec. Heard daily on 22.55 meters, from 6 a. m. to 11 a. m.

FZS — Saigon, Ino-China. Heard daily on 24.98 meters, from 6 a. m. to 7 a. m.

GSB — Daventry, England. Heard from 7:30 to 9:30 a. m. on 31.55 meters.

PCV — Kootwijk, Holland. Heard daily on 16.82 meters, from 3 a. m. to 6 a. m.

HBQ—Prangins, Switzerland. Sundays only, at 1 p. m., on 40.30 meters.

SECOND REVIEW OF 'ON PARADE'

Making its second appearance on the air, "On Parade" will pass in review before the NBC-KGO network audience tonight, between 8 and 9 p. m. The program will be changed slightly, retaining only those features which the public acclaims most.

Captain Don Wilkie, whose tales of the Secret Service are the high spot of the presentations, has selected for his second narration the inside story of the assassination of President McKinley. According to Captain Wilkie, few people know the incidents leading up to the shooting of the President and the various tricks of fate which momentarily threw the Secret Service men off their guard.

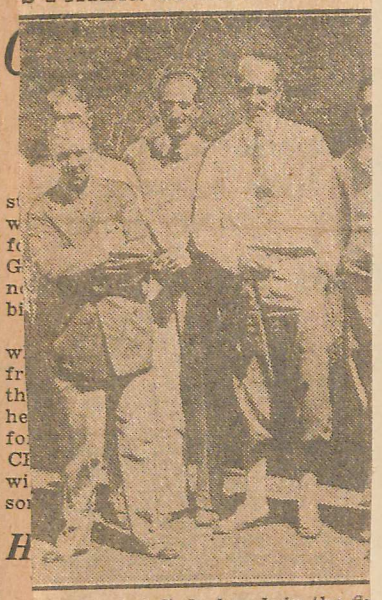

Some of the outstanding contributions to the show tonight will be "Jig Saw," a novelty musical melange based on the picture puzzle craze; "Alaska," a travesty on "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," with specially composed music.

Relief Trends Are Topic for Forum

"Relief Trends" will be discussed on the Community Forum broadcast over KPO this afternoon between 4 and 4:30. R. C. Branion, State emergency relief administrator, will open the program with a talk on "Federal and State Relief."

PENN NINE CLOSES WITH DARTMOUTH

Pitcher Jackson in Hospital With Appendix Attack—Kelly Will Face Honoverans

SHANAHAN WINS KICKING

BY ROSS E. KAUFFMAN

Captain Sonny Martens' University of Pennsylvania base ball team winds up its season today with Dartmouth on Franklin Field in an Eastern Intercollegiate league game.

The Red and Blue stands fifth in the league loop, just one notch below Dartmouth, which has split even in eight games. Penn has only won five out of eleven in the circuit. Columbia tops the loop.

This was supposed to be collegiate farewell for John L. Jackson who was scheduled to pitch but had an appendicitis attack last night and taken to the students ward of the university hospital. Physicians said there was no need of an immediate operation and he may be released later in the day, after a blood test has been made.

The pitching assignment goes to Bob Kelly, formerly of West Catholic High, a senior, who also makes his last collegiate appearance. Way Thompson is Dartmouth's pitching selection.

Jackson has been the leading pitcher all season, winning five league games in seven starts. He formerly attended Overbrook High and Staunton Military Academy in Virginia.

Several more Penn veterans are rounding out their diamond careers, including Catcher Carl Perina, three letter athlete; Bobby Jones, third baseman; Harry Hendler, left fielder; Mel Hemeon, right fielder; Nick Trerotola, and Pitchers John Paul Powhida, Bob Kelly and Charley Simons.

In Captain Buster Snow, Dartmouth has a remarkable third baseman and also leading batter in the Eastern Intercollegiate League. He has been hitting .444, while Shortstop C. L. Rich is also well up with .375.

Bill Shanahan, varsity halfback and center fielder on the base ball team, won the Penn punting contest held on Museum Field yesterday. The Staten Island athlete had an average of 59.1 points to lead the small field of six. Head Coach Harvey Harman supervised the tourney, assisted by Alex Fox, Paul Scull and Rae Graw.

Punters were judged on accuracy and distance, placement kicks, field goals and distance and accuracy in kicks-offs. Next to Shanahan was Max Forrest, formerly of Haverford

YORK RD. REGAINS PHILA. GOLF TITLE

Conquers Cedarbrook in Final of Championship Series 25½ Points to 19½

STEVENS SCORES 74-73

BY JOE DEY

It is a long golf season that hasn't an important victory somewhere in it for the Old York Road Country Club.

A fortnight after losing the Suburban championship it had held four consecutive years, Old York Road came back yesterday to win the Philadelphia team title with a final-round triumph over Cedarbrook, 25½ points to 19½. The match was played at the Philmont north course.

This was a case of sweet revenge for Old York Road, which had been nosed out by Cedarbrook for the Suburban championship by one point.

The Jenkintown club now has won the Philadelphia crown twice in the last three years and has been a finalist each of those three times. After triumphing in 1931, the Old York Roaders were dethroned by Merion in the first round last season.

In their day of vengeance yesterday they in turn unhorsed Merion, 26½ to 18½, in the opening round, while Cedarbrook was qualifying for Honorable Sir:- Shortly after the election of Mr Roosevelt for the Presidency of the United States I decided to make a radio ground for Mr Roosevelts radio.

This radio ground is of my own construction and acts as a static reducer as well as being able to bring in stations throughout the entire universe.

Radio has been my work for the past eight years and most of this time has been consumed in the making of a perfect grounding system which really means ninety per cent of good reception.

Through the use of this grounding system I have been able to tune in stations in every country in the world and have won the title of Radio DX Champion of the world after I had tuned in and verified 1310 stations.

Following this honor I was invited to Europe where I spent eleven and a half months experimenting and testing radio reception in many countries.

During my stay in Europe I had installed some of my grounds for reigning families of the continent.

Several days ago I had installed one of my graunds for his Honor, James Ralph Jr. Governor of California and it is my greatest wish to install one for President Roosevelt.

Dear Sir:- I would greatly appreciate it if you could help me with the following matter. You still perhaps remember my sending our President, Franklin D. Roosevelt one of my "Radio Grounds" sometime last July.

I am very anxious to know if this "Radio Ground" has been installed and if it is working properly, performing as I claimed it would.

The reason I am so anxious to know this Mr LeHand is because several days ago I had recieved a request from His Majesty King Fouad of Egypt to construct for him one of my "Radio Ground and Aerial" units for his palace at Cairo.

However, as President Roosevelt is the only person in the world for whom I have made this latest invention, of course aside of the one I use. I therefore am very anxious to know of its performance there in Washington.

I shall not be able to go personally to Egypt to install it but shall forward it to the Egyptian Consul at San Francisco who shall send it to His Majesty, King Fouad; so it is my desire to know exactly what may be expected of it upon installation in Egypt.

The one I am using is proving indeed very satisfactory and if the one I sent to President Roosevelt is working well, then I can go right ahead and construct the same kind for King Fouad.

I do not mean to be bothersome in any way and sincerely thank you for any consideration or any information that you may give me.

With every best wish I am

Yours very truly

Ollie Rose.

My dear Mr. President:

I have asked Mr. Delano to present you with a copy of a report just published by our Association, and he has kindly consented to do so.

This volume, entitled "From Plan to Reality", is a concise record of the progress that has been made toward the realization of the Plan for the New York Region, which as you know was prepared under Mr. Delano's chairmanship, in the brief period of four years since its principal features were made public.

I feel confident that you will find much of interest, if you have a few moments to glance through this volume, both because it furnishes evidence that substantial achievement may follow the preparation of such plans, and because of the light it throws upon the need for numerous projects which may be advanced under the National Recovery Act.

It would be a pleasure to furnish additional copies, if they would be of service, to any members of your administration that you might designate.

We all remember with pleasure the occasion on which you graciously addressed the friends of our Regional Plan project at the dinner, a year ago last December, marking the publication of the final Plan volume.

Faithfully yours,

Dear Sir: I am writing you and sending you a picture that I had prepared of one of the most beautiful places in the Ouchita National Forrest, and since the service is now completing a road to it and byit I feel assured that it will be a place that will make thousands of people visit the place as it is near Hot Springs and Mena, both as you can see by consulting the map of the Ouchita National Forrest.

The President Mr Roosvelt is a Scottish Rite Mason, and If he has not already saw one of them, he will be glad to see it, and also if he wishes a copy of the Magazine the MASONIC LIGHT, the original story was published in will send you one for him or send it direct to him if would care to peruse it as the story with the characters in it, form one of the most interesting stories in Scottish Rite Masonyyas it applies to Albert Pike.

It cost me a lot of money to make this as you will see, during the time of Mr A.B.Plymell was on duty at Hot Springs, they started to beautify this place by the Masons, and I was abused because I contended for the Forrest to remain so instead of a National Park, as it did at appear to me that there was enough in it to make a National Park of it, and Thee was a number of visitors in the National Forrest Service, who came to look it over. but not one of them ever saw this spot, Now that the roads will be completed it will make a pretty place, as you can see by the picture, attaced. enclosed in the tube, I am sending this to you to let it come to Mr Roosvelt thru the Forrest Service, and hope you will hand this to him with the Message I ask you,

I dont know if you are a Mason or not, and you may not wish to hand this to the President, if you are not will then send him one direct, but it is my wish that it go to him thru the Forrest Service, as it is to their efforst this is being put in position to allow the outside world to see the notable place.

My dear Friend:

I read in the newspapers that later in the month you are to cruise in the Astor Yacht. I located several packages of the self-lighting Camel cigarettes, similar to those I sent you when you cruised last February.

In these days when gales are blowing, making it difficult to strike a light aboard ship, it occurred to me that these cigarettes may be useful, so I am sending them separately by parcel post special delivery, and hope you will enjoy them.

With renewed expression of my profound regard, I am, as always

Faithfully yours,

GUSTAVUS A. ROGERS

Dear Mr Early:

Your of 5th inst apparently received. This tea which I am making is a real energy food fitted for those leading stressful strenuous lives. Kindly inform the President that if he likes it I will send him a package at any time he wishes and no strings whatsoever attached - just that I know it will aid him in keeping his strength in this terrible battle he is fighting for us and that I do so admire him for the earnest effort he is making

My side-line has been the study of history and it seemed to me that our country was headed the way of all the republics of past times but I now truly believe that he will save us if properly backed Otherwise it will have to be technocracy or something else. Sincerely yours
