My dear Captain Remington:

Your letter dated July twenty-ninth and the copy of your book entitled "World States of the Machine Age" have just come to hand.

I shall be very glad to bring them to the attention of the President upon his return to the city from his vacation at Hyde Park. He will, I am sure, be most appreciative of the kind thought which prompted you to send the book to him.

Very sincerely yours,

LOUIS McH. HOWE

My dear President Roosevelt

It is my understanding that the officers of the regular services -in matters not involving their profession- have the same privilege of approach to the Chief Executive as another citizen. If I am in error in this I am willing to accept such criticism as may due me. I have, accordingly, requested the publishers to mail you a copy of my book "World Strife & the Machine Age."

That the project outlined there is not wholly visionary is evidenced by events now recorded as history – such as the Economic Conference at London which I suggested two years ago limiting participation to the English speaking peoples.

If the project suggested is considered based on sound principles and deserving of any consideration then I know of but two men in the English speaking world who are able to substantially further it – yourself and Mr. Bennett of Canada.

Please accept Sir, my assurance of the most sincere respect and esteem.

My dear Mr. Ross:

The President has read your letter of August seventeenth with much interest. The corn which you were good enough to send him arrived safely and he has noted what you say with reference to changing the name of this variety to "New Deal". He is pleased to have the corn and is grateful to you for your courtesy in sending it to him.

Dear Col Howe

Private Secty
President Roosevelt

I am sending you Five Ears of My New Rainbow Ninety Day Corn
To Present To Hon Franklin D Roosevelt
President United States. I am changing
The Name of This Corn To The Name
(New Deal) Corn. In Honor of The President and His New Deal
I Hope The President will Be as Tickled over This Corn as I am and will Plant It on His New York Farm. as It will Develop In Ninety Days and Can Be Planted Early, along with sweet Corn. I Plant
It Here The 15th of April. This is absolutely a New Corn at It Took me 7 yrs Two get it where It is now. of Course It was Developed

By me For its Beauty and all Color
Grains spaced almost Perfect
It Has several More Colors That what is In The Ramboro. The Main Thing about it is That It is a Field
Corn and Has The same Feeding Value as our other Field Corn and is a 90 Day Corn. and will Throw under Poor Conditions and Drouth
we only Had Two Rains Here since The 26 of May up To This Date one was on 26 June and The other 8 th July So you see This Corn Developed and Thrived under Those Conditions
While our other Corn Right Beside It Consisting of 8 acres. will only make 12½ Bushel To The acre. I Just Planted 30 Hills of This Corn

In a single Row on Top of The Ground. and only Use a Hoe To Cultivate It. I only went over It once with a Hoe. I only Raised 30 Ears of This Corn as It Has Taken the 7 yrs To Develop This small amount of Corn - The Different Color Grains were. Freak Grains Found In Different Fields of Corn and I Planted These Grains Each year so They would Pollenize and set on the Ear Like I wanted Them Two. No Body Else In This County or any other County Has any Corn Like This only Myself and The President will Have Corn Like That. This Corn Has Interested The People very much at the State and County Fairs on account of Its Beauty and Color of Grains and The way They are Divided and spaced on The Ear. also The Earliness of The Corn. and The Condition it will develop under. It is my desire and Hope That The Hon Franklin D Roosevelt will Plant some of This Corn on His Farm In The North or south. Even only if

For a Novelty. as I took Lots of Time and Patience To develop
This Corn. and I Doubt if anybody Else. would of Tried To accomplish 19
it. Especially on account of getting The Different Color Traits In it and spaced Right on The Ears.
I Do Not Intend To sell any seed from The Corn. if I Raise any more I will Give it To The People. Trusting and Hoping That The Corn will Be appreciated By The President Even More Than I am Expecting. The Real

Reason I am sending you the Corn
To Present To the President. and the Real Reason I am Giving the Corn To the President. and also That He will Be the First one To Raise any Corn From this New Deal Corn. is For what yourself and the President Have Done To Help Me with My Claim and To get Justice and a Square Deal From the U.S. veterans Bureau. and Thanking You and the President For your sympathy and Kindness For Me and what you Have Done To Help Me with My Claim. of Course you already

after The Corn Has Been Presented To The President It will Be Necessary To Hang It up By strings To Dry In Some Kind of Building or on Covered Porch out of weather. Please Dont Let any body Tell you The It Not a New Corn as They are No Corn Like It In This County or any other County. Just Tell Them To send you or get you some Like It Then you will Believe It. if They should Be any Body Dont what I am saying or Telling you about The Corn. of Course some People wont Think much of The Corn or appreciate
It. That is Natural with some People of This County. Hoping you will Receive The Corn. O.K.

Dear Mr. Early:-

I am enclosing you a miniture reproduction of our good friend James Farley. I believe you and others who will look this over will agree it is a beautiful piece of work.

The large life-size portrait of Mr. Farley will be ready in about ten days and as I stated in my previous letter if you want a few of these it will be indeed a pleasure for me to send them on to you, as a matter of fact the first that are ready,

I am sending a few of the minitures for your distribution with Jims Biography. If you see Farley tell him his good friend Chauncey Yockey assembled his biography and blue penciled some of the things he new he would not like. With best wish, I remain,

Very Sincerely yours,

President Franklin D. Roosevelt
Washington, D.C.

Sir:

David Lloyd George once said that "Premier Mussolini of Italy was the greatest statesman in Europe. I now say that you, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States, is the greatest man in the world. I adored Theodore Roosevelt and I adore you. Long live the name of Roosevelt. You have done everything that you said you would and some more. The millionaire's millions mean nothing to you. May God protect and keep you always.

Although I have been following you since you were Secretary of the Navy and know your worth, I did not think that a man could be found to be as fearless and courageous as you are.

I am the doorman of the 1000 room Hotel Times Square on 43rd St. west of Broadway and have been for the past seven years. This hotel is one of the busiest anywhere, but since the depression was never full until Friday, Sept. 1, 1933. On that day and on Saturday and Sunday, the 2nd and 3rd, we turned away enough people to fill another hotel of its size and I understand that every hotel in the city was full -- a sure sign the depression is over.

On Sunday evening, the 3rd, at about 7 o'clock I assisted fifteen young ladies into three taxicabs for the Hollywood Restaurant, one of New York's most popular, located at Broadway & 48th St., and about 9 P.M. they returned and asked me where they could get some good beer. I pointed out to them the cafeteria across the street and they walked over and had their beer. I said to myself, isn't it wonderful!

Please accept a copy of my little book, "The Thriller". I wrote it after my return from the world war and give them away to my friends and others. I hope you will find a little time to look it over and will pardon my errors therein as I edited it myself. In it you will see pictures of myself and will note that I am a Jamaican. I hope to return and settle in Jamaica just as soon as it is possible to do so. Unfortunately I am one of those who invested all my little savings in worthless stocks and now have only the golden edged certificates to look at.

By the way, did you ever visit Jamaica? If not, why not do so some time? Jamaica as you might know is known as the Garden of Eden of today and is the home of rich Americans, Europeans and others. There are mineral baths there that you would undoubtedly love.

As a sapper in the Signal Service of the Royal Engineers, British Army, world war, skilled in every kind of signals used in war, I had the honor to be invited to windsor Castle where I met

Their Majesties, King George and Queen Mary. I still have the King's invitation card which I treasure.

There is always something to tax your marvelous brains. Now it is the Cuban situation again. I fear for the safety of my sister, her husband, their children and a brother who are there.

I am glad that the kidnappers are receiving due attention. Were they active in T. R.'s time, he would shoot them like he did the beasts of the jungle.

With sincere best wishes for yourself and family, I have the honor to be, sir,

Yours respectfully

Jack Cecil Reid.

My dear President,

This pencil sketch of you is sent in appreciation for what you have done for this nation. The steel industry, the coal industry, the oil industry, the garment industry, the automobile industry and others are all marching in a big parade towards prosperity under the National Recovery Act banner, yet it seems that someone is left behind. It is the construction industry.

The construction industry is conspicuous by its absence on this parade. This industry is in the darkest part of the depression and is still going down. The reason why I mention this is that my father is a carpenter and a member of the United Carpenters' and Joiners' Union. He, among the many members of the building trades, is feeling this slump.

During the months of May and June, construction began to show a little life and we thought we had seen the bottom of the building slump. We thought that the construction industry was marching along with the others, but we were sadly mistaken. This important industry went on a slide during the months of July and August and we do not see can be bought without money.

My parents expected all my life to send me through college to take up art. Since I graduated from the Mount Vernon High School last June, this was the year that I was to start on my way through college. Well, it is lucky there is a college in New York City that offers free tuition. This college is Cooper Union. I am about to take my entrance examinations and if I do not pass I will have to wait at least another year to start my art education. That shows the financial conditions of a typical worker of the building trades. There are some members of this industry in this village that are even in more dire conditions than we are.

I am writing this letter to ask that the Public Works Program, our only hope, be speeded up so that the construction industry could join the parade that is marching towards prosperity.

Respectfully yours,
Saul B. Goren

the bottom yet. Yes, the building industry seems to be sinking.

My parents are beginning to feel bitter towards the National Recovery Act. In fact, personally, the N.R.A. seems to have done us harm. My father is earning less than ever before while the prices of food and other necessities are shooting upwards. We find it increasingly difficult to use the few dollars that are brought into the house. At least when prices were low a dollar could go pretty far.

Another reason why my parents are getting bitter towards the N.R.A. is their keen disappointment. They read in the newspapers that the Administration expected a million people to be directly employed by the Public Works Program by the beginning of October. When my parents read the tiny figures of the number of people employed in the Public Works Program, they laughingly said that the only people who have obtained jobs under this program are the many political favorites who are supposed to run the program that shows so little actual construction. We are beginning to believe that the Administration is not going to spend the huge Public Works Fund.

My folks see plenty of irony in the present "Buy Now" campaigns. The newspapers are asking us to buy now, when we can not even buy necessities now. This would be funny if it were not so tragic. Maybe it can be explained how things

Dear Mr. President:

You will hardly take the time to read this little volume, but if you will, both you and the authors will appreciate it.

Within its covers we pay occasional tribute to the most progressive President the United States has enjoyed.

Not that we have enjoyed him fully as yet for "Prosperity" has not appeared around that famous "corner," and the people experience little enjoyment when there's even the slightest contraction of the digestive apparatus -- or of the circulating medium of this great country of ours.

Here's hoping that the greatest measure of success will crown your plans for the stabilization of our nation's progress.

We are, sir, your humble servants,

Hon. Franklin D. Roosevelt, President,

Dear Sir:-

That Southern furniture manufacturers are wholeheartedly in accord with your recovery program is shown in the September issue of FURNITURE SOUTH which is sent you herewith.

Immediately following your radio appeal to industry, Southern manufacturers, almost without exception adopted your Re-employment Agreement. On August 1, 1933, new wage scales and working hours were adopted by these manufacturers.

Present wages to labor are fifteen to twenty per cent above 1929 levels and have also shown an average increase of eighty per cent over the scales in effect July 1, 1933.

Employment in the Southern branch of the furniture industry has increased about twenty per cent since your Re-employment agreement was adopted.

We, in the South, feel that your program for business recovery will be a success. At great personal sacrifice, the men who comprise the Southern furniture industry have voluntarily followed your leadership. This industry, which has been wracked by depression a good deal longer than other industries is willing to shoulder increased burdens that your program may succeed and that this country shall emerge from the depression of the last four years.

Very truly yours,
FURNITURE SOUTH

My dear Mr. Early:

On March 25th you addressed a letter to me as follows:

> "I have your letter of March twentieth and have been glad to present the drawing to the President. He asked me to thank you for your thoughtfulness."

In the letter to which you referred I attempted to show the alliance between art and politics, and my choice of the particular drawing that I sent the President, was based upon the parallel between its details, brought I hope, to a consistent whole, and the political complications of that time, out of which the President and those working under him, are endeavoring to create an ordered and happier condition for the American people.

The stressing of the need of national unity by the President in his speech before The American Legion yesterday, reminded me of this incident and correspondence, and it seems to me that events are making more and more apparent the need of art as a powerful force in bringing about that unity of which the President spoke. In making a vivid and moving fact in peoples consciousness, the wealth of our resources in forest, field and waterway and our activities therein, the artist can accelerate with him the results for which he is striving, which are in no way incompatible with the artist's aims. Further, the artist's results would announce to foreign countries the reality of our efforts and of a common impulse with theirs.

I trust it is not improper to mention that in connection with The Cleveland Press, I am trying to emphasize local values by means of drawings of the local Metropolitan Park System, of which Mr. Wm. Stinchcomb of the Government's Ohio Public Works Commission is the head. The Cleveland Press is a member of The United Press, and it seems to me that it is through the newspaper chain that the works I have mentioned, made suitable for newspaper reproduction, can best be carried on.

While President Theodore Roosevelt in the variety of his associations, was in friendly and beneficial relations with artists and sculptors - I call to mind particularly the sculptors, Augustus

St. Gaudens and David Chester French - the present time, it seems to me, calls for a more definite and distributive working relation betweenthe artist and his government.

I trust that my ideas are of sufficient significance to be brought to the attention of the President, and that my drawing gives a little promise that they are so.

Sincerely yours,

Bluma H. Rosenbaum

Dear Mr. President:

The enclosed N. R. A. quilt is sent you by Mrs. J. A. D. Robinson, 157 Burr Road, San Antonio, Texas, who is known as "Aunt Bettie" to all who have had the pleasure of her acquaintance during the seventy-four years of her life. It comes with her love and respect to you as her President, and as a token of her confidence in your efforts for the rehabilitation of our Country.

Every stitch was made by her own fingers, and your attention is invited to the symbolism which her active mind has thought and her hands expressed in this work. The eagle has the fire of determination in his eye. In one talon he grasps the lightning of an awakened public conscience, and in the other an emblem of industry which will cause our economic life to function effectively. Beneath his wings is prosperity, represented by the dollar sign. Above his head are the initials which she interprets "National Religious Awakening".

Between the Eagles is the Wheel of Fortune with prosperity on every spoke. On the background appear the diamonds of mental and moral recovery, interspersed with the signs of economic prosperity. The entire design is on straight lines, symbolic of your own direct methods of dealing with your people; while the bordering fringe of National Colors indicates that your efforts are within the bounds of true patriotism.

This work of art was made for you alone, and you were ever in the thoughts of "Aunt Bettie" during the weeks of it's creation. It was loaned to the San Antonio Mission and Training School and used to inspire a gift campaign, by means of which much needed revenue was secured for the School. As promised to the donors, a list of those subscribing to this worthy charitable enterprise is enclosed herewith.

Most of "Aunt Bettie's" life has been spent in doing things for others, and the photograph shows her "doing her part" in the way she knows best. She hopes that, as you are so earnestly working under the Blue Eagle, you may also rest under it in comfort and in happiness.

Sincerely yours,

W. B. Todd

On October 2nd. the City of Providence, Rhode Island, held the largest demonstration in it's history,- the NRA parade. Pharmacy was represented by the officers of the Corporation, the Board of Trustees, Faculty, Students and Alumni of the Rhode Island College of Pharmacy and Allied Sciences from all over the State. We were proud to be given an opportunity to help the NRA and we thought that even in busy times like these, our President might be interested in seeing a picture of the float, with Dr. Roosevelt's prescription being compounded for fully 300,000 persons along the line of march. During 1925 business conditions became such that I discontinued the manufacture of cigars, but conditions are now improving to such an extent that I feel justified in starting the factory again.

I am sending you the first cigar as a token of my great esteem and my appreciation of your efforts for national recovery, which have made possible the re-opening of this cigar factory. We manufacture the "Elk" cigar, which retails at 10¢ - truly a cigar for the people.

Dear Colonel Howe:

There is in the Town of Warwick a family named Roy, consisting of father and five or six grown sons, who are engaged in the turkey business and they want permission to ship a real Rhode Island turkey to the President either for Thanksgiving or Christmas and they have asked me to try to find out whether such a thing would be possible.

I do not think the Roys have any idea of an advertising stunt in connection with the proposition. They are militant Democrats and great Roosevelt men. They organized what I think was the first Roosevelt Club in this State and largely support it on their own premises.

May I hope for a line that I may pass on to the Roys saying whether in your opinion it would be wise or otherwise for the Roys to make the shipment.

The Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt
President of the U.S. of A.

Dear Sir!

Again I have listened to your Broadcast at the Legion Convention in the Chicago Stadium, as I have heard nearly all the talks over the Radio wich you delivered during campain and after. Every one of them was full of vigor, courage, confidence and thruth and all of those who followd you, must have felt like I did: Unlimited faith in you.

The first time, some years ago, when I had the great pleasure of hearing your voice, wich sounded so confidential and thruthfull, I said to my better half: I wish some time this Gentleman would be elected as our President of the U.S. of A., I thank the Lord my wish came true and just in time to save this country from a calamity.

A more courages, inspiring and capable Leader could not be found in the whole Universe: A Captain, who can steer the good ship through storms and hurricans and land safly on the calmly shore. I am convinced you will in time lead this country out of the depression into slowly rising prosperety, if everybody is doing his part.

I have been trying to make an honest living for the past fifty years in the upholstering business and had fairly succeeded up to 1929, when the crash came and the drepression started, through wich (which) I nearly lost everything. I am three scores and ten years and three quatre blind, so I have not much hope for me to prosper again, but for the Citizens of this Country, my children and Grandchildren I pray: That you may succeed, what you have begun; I know you will.

About 38 years ago I came in possion of a cane, wich was carved on the Tomb of our long diseased great President Thomas Jefferson, with the following inscription: Thos. Jefferson of Va., born April 13th 1743. Was President of U. S. of A. 1801-1809. Wrote Declaration of Independence. Founder of University 1910. Died July 4 - 1826. This cane was cut near Jefferson's Tomb.

I am sending this cane, which I packed in a small wooden case.
I sincerly hope you will except this small token for the high esteem I have for you.
May it bring You and Yours, this Country and my Family: Luck, Happiness and Succes.
This wishes you an ardent Admirer for what you have acomplished in this 6 month
you were our Leader and gave us a new Deal.
Hoping, I live long enough to see you elected

Dear Mr. President:- At the request of my late husband Augustus L. Rogers, am sending you a walking stick, which grew on the bank of a small stream, on his little farm. Would have sent it when you were inaugurated. but you were so pressed with things of more value., decided to wait untill your visit to warm Springs. will give you a little history of the Rogers family, so you may know something of the one who was so interested in a democrat for president. His father and Will Rogers (Comedian) grand father were brothers, sons of John Rogers. an Englishman who married a half breed Cherokee Indian and settled on Chattahoochee River over one hundred years ago. My husbands father built the house she inherited in the year 1839. Augustus L. was born in 1849 in this house. which at that time was Forsyth County.

afterward Milton, now Fulton
So he was born in Forsyth, reared in Milton, and was living in Fulton, at the time of his death in the same house. He thought it was wonderful and wanted every body to know it. His father (William Rogers) married a niece of Chief Joseph Vann and belonged to the Ridge party who made the treaty with the U. S. For that reason he bought land from the government and remained here. The Ross party killed every man connected with the treaty, so I have been told. My husbands mother was German decent and the daughter of a Moravian minister and teacher in girls college in Salem N. C. and a very devout christian my husband and two brothers were

Lieutenant in air service. so you see they were not slackers.

So Mr. President in sending you this little token of esteem my husband had for you I hope you will get as much pleasure as he anticipated in sending it. He was very much interested in your nomination and would have voted for you but died the 19th of July 1932 at the age of 83 years. My dear Mr Roosevelt, I have decided several times I would and I wouldent send you this big fat possum, which I caught in my hen-house at midnight one week ago - This is the first possum I ever caught, it will be your first Thanksgiving with us - I may never have an opportunity to say I am more than willing to trust your judgement and do heartily endorse your Methods - To me this possum symbolizes many N.R.A. people who signed the Code and pledged their cooperation and support in this much needed drive to stamp out depression and restore prosperity - for, they are only "playing possum" "Delays are dangerous" So I hop to time to land this chicken thief in a safe cage - He had already ravished many henneries in the neighborhood - I hope that you can use him and that the "possum and Taters" will add some variety to taste and food for thought at your enjoyable feast - "A little fun now and then is relished by the greatest of men" I hope I have not taken too much of your time - Truly yrs - (Mrs. Pauline Dunlap Rubi

Dear Mr. President,

I have taken the liberty of writing a book on your magnificent program of reconstruction which has brought relief and well-being to millions of Americans, and the splendid prospects of an international revival of trade, in these critical times.

My admiration for your masterly handling of these vital problems, has been the inspiration of my work.

I would be proud and happy if it meets with your approbation,

Dear Miss Le Hand:

Will you do a little kindness for me as you did when in Albany?

I am sending you under separate cover, a nice pair of gloves for President Roosevelt. When they have their Christmas doings, kindly put same on the tree without his knowing anything about them.

You will find also a pair of gloves for Miss Le Hand, which please accept. This gives me great pleasure in doing this for both of you the first Christmas in the White House.

In case I have not guessed the correct size for yourself or you prefer some other style or color, be sure to let me know just what you like best.

I trust you will pardon me for the liberty I have taken in requesting you to do this for me.

With my best wishes to all for a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year, I beg to remain,

Yours very truly,

The Honorable Franklin Delano Roosevelt
President of the United States of America
The White House
Washington, D. C.

My dear Mr. Roosevelt:

In the Chicago Sunday Tribune of December 3, 1933, there appeared an article concerning the family of Roosevelt.

This brought to my mind a local interest, which I read in Perrin's History of Alexander, Union, and Pulaski Counties, which are at the extreme southern end of Illinois, bounded by the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers.

In 1811, two years after Robert Fulton successfully navigated the Hudson River, Captain Roosevelt commanded the New Orleans, the first steamboat to navigate the Ohio and Mississippi from Pittsburgh to New Orleans. It passed Cairo on December 18, 1811, 122 years ago. The trip was made more memorable because of the great earthquake which happened at the moment that Captain Roosevelt passed into the waters of the Mississippi.

This experience is graphically described in Perrin's history, published in 1883.

I have two copies of this history, and I think you should have one of them. It will reach you in a few days. Please accept it with my compliments.

Faithfully yours,

JJR:LH
