Top 5 reasons to start logging your Smart Trips today:

- 1. Challenge Yourself
We often commute on autopilot. Logging your Smart Trips is a simple reminder that every trip is a choice—and that sustainable options can be easier and more enjoyable.
- 2. Inspire Others
Over 25,600 participants have avoided over 84 million driving miles and prevented more than 33,000 tons of carbon emissions. Your logged trips help show that individual actions add up.
- 3. Encourage Investment
We share Smart Trips data with elected officials, employers, and local media. Logging your trips demonstrates that walking, biking, and transit matter—and supports future investment in sustainable transportation.
- 4. Motivate Your Friends
Log five or more trips each month to qualify for $250 and $1,000 prize drawings. Winning is fun—and a great way to inspire others to join you.
- 5. See Your Impact
Everyone wants to know they make a difference. And everyone likes to save money. Track how much you're saving—money, miles, and emissions—and watch your impact grow.
