

Jayne Lynch

Principal

Jayne serves as a strategic advisor to fast-growing, innovative technology companies in need of great talent as principal at TEG Consulting. To every engagement, she brings an impressive 20-year track-record in the search industry and an intense focus on building long-term, collaborative relationships with clients and candidates alike.

Bringing people together and achieving high client satisfaction has always been a part of Jayne's career. She previously held various sales management, sales, and account development positions with MCI and Cable & Wireless, where she built and trained sales teams. Jayne graduated from Adelphi University with a master's degree in business management.
