

CentroNía – Notice of Data Event

CentroNía is providing notice of an event that may involve personal information related to certain individuals. CentroNía is providing information about the event, our response, and resources available to individuals to help them protect their information from possible misuse, should they feel it appropriate to do so.

What Happened? We experienced a sophisticated cyber incident and worked with third-party forensic specialists to complete a thorough investigation. The investigation determined that an unauthorized actor gained access to the CentroNía network between June 10, 2025 and July 6, 2025 and viewed and/or took certain files. We completed a comprehensive review of the potentially impacted files to determine the contents, and to whom that information pertained. We are notifying potentially impacted individuals based on the results of this review.

What Information Was Involved? Our investigation determined that date of birth, Social Security number, driver's license or government ID number, passport number, financial account information, medical information, and health insurance information were stored within the files impacted by this event.

What We Are Doing. We immediately took steps to ensure the security of our systems, conduct a thorough investigation and notify law enforcement authorities. We are also reviewing our data privacy policies and procedures, and are notifying regulators, as necessary.

What You Can Do. We encourage individuals to remain vigilant over the next 12 to 24 months against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing account statements, monitoring free credit reports for suspicious activity, and reporting any suspected identity theft to the appropriate financial institution. Additional information can be found in the below Steps Individuals Can Take to Protect Personal Information.

For More Information. Individuals with questions about this incident can call our dedicated assistance line at 1-833-918-1296. This toll-free line is available Monday – Friday from 8:00 am to 8:00 pm ET, (excluding major U.S. holidays). Individuals may also write to us at 1420 Columbia Road, Northwest, Washington DC, 20009.

STEPS INDIVIDUALS CAN TAKE TO PROTECT PERSONAL INFORMATION

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.
