

A Bountiful Offering

Challenges

Dušan Jarošík, a self-employed developer, had been using another component vendor's Silverlight controls, but they needed more when building a client-server web application on Blazor with a connection to a database server.

That's when they turned to Essential Studio® for Blazor by Syncfusion®.

Solution

Dušan longed for a wider range of components. With Syncfusion, they found all they needed. In addition to standard components, they also found components for working with PDF documents, Word documents, and Excel spreadsheets.

Results

Before Syncfusion, lack of variety was a major problem for Dušan. With thousands of tested components, Syncfusion gave Dušan a wider array of options. Syncfusion components were easy to work with, had excellent documentation, and were supported by a professional team.

Benefits

- User-friendly UI
- Easy to integrate
- Comprehensive and feature-rich UI framework
- Prebuilt, customizable themes
- Scalable components
- Trusted support team
- Wide selection of prebuilt tools and controls

Pull Quote

"I recommend it, I have had very good experiences with it."

—Dušan Jarošík, independent developer