

CONSUMER BANKRUPTCY

THIRD EDITION

Susan Jensen, Esq.

New York State Bar Association publications are intended to provide current and accurate information to help attorneys maintain their professional competence. Publications are distributed with the understanding that NYSBA does not render any legal, accounting or other professional service. Attorneys using publications or orally conveyed information in dealing with a specific client's or their own legal matters should also research original sources of authority.

We consider the publication of any NYSBA practice book as the beginning of a dialogue with our readers. Periodic updates to this book will give us the opportunity to incorporate your suggestions regarding additions or corrections. Please send your comments to: Publications Director, New York State Bar Association, One Elk Street, Albany, NY 12207.

PREFACE

While in the decade since the last edition of this book was published there were few substantive revisions made to federal consumer bankruptcy law, there have been significant changes to the federal procedural rules and forms as well as to certain provisions under New York law applicable to consumer bankruptcy cases. A substantial number of these revisions were likely prompted by the Great Recession and the resultant mortgage foreclosure crisis, among other factors.

In writing this edition, I want to acknowledge the assistance of the Publications Department at the New York State Bar Association. The staff there provided helpful guidance and encouragement over the course of this edition's preparation.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Susan Jensen has authored law review articles and contributed to various treatises on bankruptcy law and practice. In 2006, Ms. Jensen received the Editor's Prize for her article, "A Legislative History of the Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act of 2005," which was published in The American Bankruptcy Law Journal and which is included as an appendix to this edition.

Ms. Jensen co-authored, together with the Honorable Jeremiah Berk, the first edition of this book. Currently, she is senior counsel to the Committee on the Judiciary of the U.S. House of Representatives, where she is primarily responsible for bankruptcy and commercial legislation.

Previously, she was general counsel for the National Bankruptcy Review Commission. Before joining the Commission, Ms. Jensen was a senior attorney-advisor with the U.S. Trustee Program in Newark, New Jersey. Ms. Jensen began her career in bankruptcy law as a law clerk for bankruptcy judges in the Eastern and Southern Districts of New York. She obtained her undergraduate, law degree, and LL.M. from New York University.
