

JERRY MURPHY, JD, AICP, CFM is a Faculty Consultant with the Program for Resource Efficient Communities (PREC) at the University of Florida. Jerry is a certified floodplain manager, certified urban and regional planner, and legal scholar. His work and research involve land use planning and control law, community-based planning, code and regulation drafting, floodplain management, growth and infrastructure finance, post-disaster redevelopment planning, community resiliency/sustainability. He currently works with local governments through UF to assemble teams of expert faculty, researchers, and student assistants to craft planning approaches and strategies to climate change, extreme weather, sea-level rise and the other challenges facing local governments in the 21st Century.