The BITE of the BIT

DO WE HAVE CAMPUS OR GARBAGE DUMP?

One of the first things people look at when they visit our school campus is its cleanliness. The janitorial staff does an excellent job of keeping the school buildings and the lawn in top shape.

It takes more than custodians to do the job. The cooperation of each student in Diboll High School is needed to do this job. When you drink cokes or eat candy be sure you throw your litter in the nearest trash barrel and not on the ground.

When you do throw your litter on the ground, you are causing excessive work for the custodians. They could be doing more constructive work but they have to spend valuable time cleaning up after a student's inexcusable laziness. So please, take respect in our school campus and do not be a LITTER-BUG!

THINK BEFORE YOU CRITICIZE AN EDITORIAL

The basis for learning is said to be criticism, but for criticism to be helpful, it must be given in the right Manner. Knowing how to direct criticism is just as important as knowing how to accept it. A problem with our students criticize others about everything, often unjustly. When criticism is needed, it should be offered, but it should be offered with tact. However, if you can not do a better job than the one you criticize, don't be so hasty in your criticism. Remember when you criticize, that offensive criticism hurts more than it helps. In the future if you can not give constructive criticism and if you can not be tactful, do not offer your criticism.

DESTRUCTIVE HALLOWEEN AGAIN?

Halloween is coming up soon. It is a time for good, clean fun? Halloween brings out the witch in quite a few people. This might be the time of year to play a few tricks, but everyone should use good judgement in the tricks they play. It is not necessary to tear things down and paint every sign in town to have fun. Remember that things like this cost people a great deal of money to repair. Destruction is not necessary. Let's have fun this Halloween, but good, clean fun. This year, remember that what a few may do will reflect upon all of our D. H. S. students.

JACKS LOSE TO TIGERS

The Dunbar Tigers overpowered the Lumberjacks, 28-6 in last Saturday night's game. Although the Tigers won the game, the Lumberjacks showed the fans at the game that they could play football.

Tommy Joshua scored Diboll's only touchdown on a 25 yard run. The score at half-time was 6-0, but the Tigers scored 14 points in the third and 14 points in the fourth quarters.

Dunbar and Crockett are now leading district with 2-0 records; Diboll, Rusk, and Coldsprings with a 1-1 record are now in second; Corrigan and Madisonville with a 0-2 are in last place in district play.

The Lumberjacks will be hosting the Rusk Eagles here Friday night. This game is important to the Eagles and the Lumberjacks. If the Jacks were to beat the Eagles, the Jacks would be in second place, with the Eagles dropping to third place. Some predictions of the game between Rusk and Diboll are:

FIRST ASSEMBLY BOOK REVIEW OF THE MONTH

The assembly that was held on the Bounty characterizes the hard life of sailors on British ships during the late 1700's and early 1800's.

The assembly, Thursday Roger Byam tells of his exploits as a midshipman on the Bounty. While on the return voyage from Tahiti, part of the crew mutinied and gained control of the ship.

Future assemblies will give Captain Bligh was the tyrannical captain of the Bounty. He starved the men, accused them of stealing, and flogged several of them.

Fletcher Christian was the kind-hearted first mate of the Bounty. He lead several sailors in mutiny against the Captain Bligh.

Captain Bligh and several of his men were cast adrift on the high seas. The mutineers and the remainder of the innocent sailors returned to Tahiti. In Tahiti, a number of mutineers and those not involved in the mutiny including Byam stayed. The other mutineers decided to search for an uncharted island.

To find out what happened to Captain Bligh and his party; Christian and the mutineers; and Byam with his group on Tahiti, read this exciting novel.

POET'S CORNER

"EARTH"

O ur earth was one time Eden.
God's presence was joyfully near.
He gave to us of joy and cheer,
And Fully hoped that we could steer
A life of love, and not of fear.

Today our earth's still Eden, Though her features are slightly beaten
With mechanized rails of mangled fear.
She's locked in a man
made prison,
While hidden so painfully
near.

Men boast of prosperous
wealth,
And affluent indeed they are!
They're rich with hate and paper bills
That claim God's kingdom
With foolish frills.

The lock that holds her prison lies here.
Man is rich in nothing
so dear.
Her beauty is flaunted
each day to hear,
Yet seems merely wasted
in frivolous play,
While her whispers are drowned by six-lane
highways.
She is rarely seen by men today.
"Progress" has ruptured her timeless yen
To cure mankind of selfish sin.

And the key to her prison
isn't so clear
While the lock is strengthening more each year.

"FURRIES IN THIS YEAR"

Fake furs and shiny coats are in! Cozy and warm, the "furries" are really coming on strong
for those cold winter months ahead. Lightweight "furries" can go many places and with many things, but they look especially good with slacks.
Shiny coats are also great
for an on-the-go girl.
These coats don't have to be cleaned, they can just be sponged off and come out looking like new.

Did you know that scarves are still in?
Well, they're in, and stronger than ever for Winter 1970! These scarves come in bright
bold colors and a variety of patterns. They are a great look when tied to a little "mini purse."

FIRST ASSEMBLY HELD WEDNESDAY

The assembly that was held in the gymnasium last Wednesday is a first in a series sponsored by the Student Council.

The assembly, Thursday, enabled the clubs to acquaint the student body
with their officers, purposes, and requirements for admission.

Future assemblies will give the clubs an opportunity to announce coming events and activities. The as-semblies will also feature
various guest speakers, occasionally.

BONFIRE IS FLAMING SUCCESS

The traditional bonfire
was held Thursday, October,
2. School spirit was high in high hopes that the Jacks
would beat Cold Springs.

Wood was furnished for the fire by Temple Associates
Temple White, and Temple Industries. The outhouse was contributed by Ricky Maynard and Danny Bowman.

SCHOLASTIC RECOGNITION WHY NOT?

High schools throughout America are sponsoring extracurricular activities as a vital part of campus life. Athletics, especially, is emphasized as an important role in most High Schools. Athletics has become imbedded, as a tradition, into most High Schools. Athletes are praised, encouraged, recognized and rewarded for their actions with letter jackets. This is good, this is how it should be.

However, scholastic achievement is another issue. Students who excel scholastically are offered relatively nothing for their pains, other than an occasional "pat on the back."

It seems only right that students who achieve grade wise should be recognized as equally as athletes. Why can students not be awarded letter jackets for maintaining a continuously high grade-point average? This, it seems to me, would encourage all students to be more studious, and at the same time would help to bolster school spirit. Would not the cost of these be well worth the production of better-educated students? How about it Student Council?

MRS. LAWRENCE WILL BE REMEMBERED

Last week D.H.S. students lost a true friend when Mrs. Gerdie Lawrence passed away at age 61. Mrs. Lawrence was always available to help a student find the material he needed to get in that rush assignment. Mrs. Lawrence long-time public librarian, always insisted in the library, but with the discipline came order and the order and the atmosphere of study. Mrs. Lawrence has established this tradition, and students of the future will benefit from the pattern she set. Mrs. Lawrence is gone, but every person will remember her either for what she has done for the individual, or what she has done for our community as a whole.

SCHOOL EXPANSION SPREADS TO ELEMENTARY

As a result of an increase in the Diboll Student population, a Building expansion program has been initiated. A portable classroom is now under construction to accommodate the overflow of the first grade. Mr. Hogue Forrest, Building and Trades instructor, and his students are in charge of construction with Andy Anderson of Texas Education Agency as consultant to assist in developing long range building plans for Diboll Public Schools. Other buildings of this type will be added as the need arises.

"M.E.T." TO MEET DIBOLL

The federal Manpower Educational Training (M.E.T.) now has an immediate effect on Diboll High School. Eleven families have moved here so far. These families have come from a similar organization in Harlingen, Texas. This is an Adult Class again from 19 to 55. Most of these families are Mexican and must have had experience with farming. These families take vocational classes such as drafting and Nursing Air. They will be here about eight months before moving to another place. They can also get a diploma through M.E.T. This is sponsored by the government and Mr. Forward is in charge of this specific organization.

The new building is located between the elementary gymnasium and Hendrix Street. Completion of the building is expected by mid-November. It will house approximately 33 students.
