OATES AND DUBOSE PLACE FIRST IN STATE

Linda Oates and Tom DuBose win 1st in State University Interscholastic League on April 30.

Linda went to State in Shorthand. Linda was competing with seven other regional champions. Linda went and was dictated a letter at 100 words for 5 minutes. Then Linda transcribed her letter into typing. Her time was 24 minutes and 20 seconds, which was almost half the average contest time.

Tom went to state in Ready Writing. Tom was competing against 7 other regional winners from all over the state. Tom's thesis was the American Concept of Love. Tom was given 2 hours to read the topic and write his story. Tom chose for his topic, "Love: The Ultimate American Status Symbol". Tom completed his essay with 875 words. Three judges graded the papers. The results were announced the next day and critique was given.

Congratulations to our State Winners!

THREE STUDENTS WIN IN REGIONAL COMPETITION

Tom DuBose, Gayle Saxton, and Linda Oates won places in the regional interscholastic meet in Brenham on April 23.

Tom won a first-place trophy in ready-writing competition. This is his second year to advance to state competition in this event.

Gayle and Linda won first and second places respectively, in the shorthand contest.

All three went to state on Saturday, May 1.

TWO VICA STUDENTS WIN FIRST AT STATE MEET

TEACHERS FREAK OUT ON IMAGINED REVOLUTION

There seems to be an extremely bizarre theory enjoying popularity among the DHS faculty.

It seems that several teachers have voiced the opinion that students get together outside of class and plan disruptive activities for each period of the day.

What paranoiac implausibility!

Some teachers have even gone so far as to believe that the entire thing is planned on a massive scale and carried out like a small revolution. Next, the teachers will be asking us which division we belong to: Gum Chewing Corps, Harassment Division, Giggling Squad, etc.

Really now!

Honestly, if we planned for three years with the aid of an experienced revolutionary, we could never plan things as disruptive and wild as those that occur naturally in some classes!

--Tom DuBose--

WINNERS ONE AND ALL

At this writing, Diboll High School has three student representatives going to state UIL competition in Austin.

These students, Tom DuBose, Gayle Saxton, and Linda Oates, deserve our thanks for their time and effort spent to make Diboll High a better school. Actually, they deserve more, much more, than our thanks and well wishes because they have made all of us stand a little taller and made us prouder of our school.

This point could be open for debate, but let's be honest with ourselves for a moment--Aren't we really thrilled that DHS has produced three more winners?

Naturally, DHS can't take all the credit for producing these champions. We can't discount their personal incentive. We can't ignore the fact that these three people have driven themselves to new goals of creativity and to new heights of accomplishment to meet their personal standard of satisfaction.

They're at the top. They've come a long way but so have we, by giving them our support.

Thanks, and more than thanks, to Tom, Gayle, and Linda.

--Terry Dossett--

WHO'S DROPPING OUT?

The number of dropouts at Diboll High is high and gradually increasing. If one would stop to wonder and think about how many have actually quit in the past eight months that we have gone to school, he would be shocked.

The following number of students have quit:

Senior class: Two boys quit to go to work, and a girl quit for reasons that are not known.

Junior class: Three girls quit to marry, one quit because of bad health and one went to another school. One boy went to another school, onejoined the Navy and one got married.

Sophomore class: Two girls got married, and one went to work. Four boys quit to work.

Freshmen class: Seven girls quit for unknown reasons, and seven boys quit for unknown reasons.

Eighth grade: Three girls quit for unknown reasons. Four boys transfered to other schools.

The total number of dropouts at Diboll High is thirty-nine so far.

BOY-SHORTS, SPORTED AS NOW SUMMER WEAR

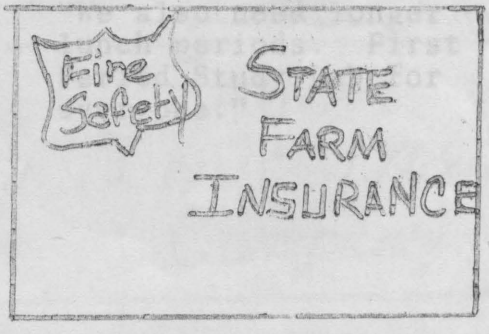

You won't be boy short this summer if you hit the beach sporting your little-boy shorts! This summer show a little less, and move around more in the splashing-est fun-in-the-sun look.

You've got what it takes to win the race in your champion track suit made from shiny bicycle-racer's cloth in sunny orange piped with purple. Also super terrific terry pops up again this year as a two-piecer that plays at being a tomboy! It's a navy and white striped suit, with tow brass buttons at the waist.

WHAT HAPPENED TO THE TREE?

Over the weekend of May 1 and 2, a strange disappearance occurred on the DHS campus. A revered example of our state tree, the pecan tree, was mysteriously spirited away during the night. The tree, located behind the Ag building, was deftly severed at ground level. Through scientific research and logical deductive reasoning, expert researchers have arrived at the following possibilities:

It was...

1) blown away by a gigantic hurricane called Turtle.

2) Paul Bunyan came by with Babe and used it for a match stick.

3) dynamited by one of the campus student radicals who are advocating the student rebellion that the teachers have been supporting.

4) sacrificed in a diabolical ritual by a secret cult in worship of the ancient Mayan tree god, Birchbark.

5) kidnapped by alien beings in a flying saucer from the planet Zorkio which took the tree and Sandra Havard to make a study of living sap.

6) stolen by a pecan-freak who desperately needed a fix.

7) rubbed out by an embittered East Texan gangster named Al Cornpone (alias Bobby Murry), who held the tree responsible for the death of his car.

8) the gunfight at Shady Grove with Pine Cone Pete.

9) it signed a contract with a Hollywood producer who took it to star in his latest production "Gone With the Pecans."

10) it died of old age.

The reader is left to make his own choice as to which of the above possibilities to embrace. However, we can safely say that it was not a Communist Plot!
