

Monday a.m.

July 13, 1959.

My dear ones -

Wish that I could have the privilege of paying you a visit this a.m. it is such a long time between my nice chats with all my loved ones I get real lonely - for a visit.

Pati just called and wanted me to bring their Maltese kitten out so she could play with it. we kept while they went to Galveston yesterday. they had a boat ride & swim plus all the other enjoyable things on the beach and returned at 1 a.m.

Herbert expects to participate in a sail-boat race from Corpus to Galveston beginning next Fri. a.m. He will drive over with a man from Peru on Thursday and return with him about Sunday night or Monday. A coast guard boat is going to follow them. He is so anxious to go, I hope nothing prevents. This will be his vacation. He is having so many coke surveys he is afraid he can't get off. I hope he has finished all of them before time to go. Church was nice last night. we are both real well this a.m. Lots of love. Beulah

Like a good tapestry, a noble life is the result of small bits

Here's to you (or us)

May you (or we)

live as long as you ^(or we) want to

And want to as long as you ^(or we) live

You are a long time
Dead + in the Tomb
So while you are here
zoom! zoom! zoom!

If the road to 80 is too hard Don't travel it.

when asked how she was feeling
my grandmother, Evloe, always replied
"Just like I always am,
Just like I always am"
