Lufkin Lions Club Sponsor of Many Worthy Projects

Organization Has Been Active in City Since Charter Was Issued 16 Years Ago

Granted its charter on Oct. 4, 1920, the Lufkin Lions club has since its foundation been one of the most active civic organizations in the city, sponsoring numerous worthwhile events and contributing financially toward many other activities.

For three years the club, with the cooperation of the Angelina County Child Welfare board, has purchased and given classes to 75 children.

It has also contributed toward the betterment of livestock in Angelina county.

K. W. Denman, now president of the Lions club, was also the first president of the organization. The charter members, of whom eight are still active, were Denman, Rev. S. O. Landis, Rev. H. M. Kellum, W. D. Newsom, C. A. Pate, W. M. Glenn, W. C. Binion, Dr. R. T. Canon, J. E. Peavy, J. C. Carter, T. M. Sherman, R. W. Kurth, B. L. Zeagler, N. D. Shands, C. W. Falvey, W. C. Trout, W. R. The eight who have remained active throughout the 16 years are Denman, Shands, W. C. Trout, E. L. Kurth, Henderson, Coston, and Dr. Sweatland.

The local club will be host to the district convention in May, 1937, with Jean Shotwell in charge of general activities for the meet. This district includes Houston, Beaumont, Port Arthur, and Corpus Christi, and other clubs in this territory.

Quarterly meetings are held by clubs in the subregional district, which includes Trinity, Groveton, Lufkin, and Alto. The next meeting will be held in October in Alto. Shotwell is district chairman.

One of the most worthwhile accomplishments of the Lions club is the organization of a student loan fund, the purpose of which is to provide assistance to students who desire to go to college or to enable those who have started to complete their college work.

The club has helped 50 students since the loan fund was put into operation in 1929.

The Lions loan fund committee is composed of N. D. Shands, chairman, C. C. Trevathan and J. B. Cauthen.

Present officers of the club are: President, K. W. Denman; first vice-president, Kenneth Hoskins; second vice-president, Howard J. Trout; secretary-treasurer, J. B. Cauthen; lion tamer, E. L. Corson; tail twister, A. R. Vinson; and directors, W. C. Trout and C. S. Boyles, Jr.

University Has Odd Display of All Kinds Of Oil

AUSTIN.—Vials of plant oils, oils of every kind and every color and with sweet odors that creep out even through the tightly closed cracks of the exhibit case—these make up the latest addition to the botanical division in Gregory gymnasium, main exhibit hall of the University Centennial Exposition.

The oils were prepared by Fritzsche Brothers of New York City and have been lent to the Exposition by the department of Pharmacy of the University.

Types of oils in the exhibit are medicinal oils, perfume fixatives, true flower oils, synthetic flower oils, oils from the fruit of the citrus family, true fruit flavors, two groups of volatile oils from spices, and chemical bodies isolated from volatile oils. There are 144 of the vials in the exhibit case.

State's Only Indian Colony At Livingston

Federal Reservation For Alabama Tribe 75 Miles From Lufkin

297 INHABITANTS

Nephew of Chief Sunkee Is New Head of Redskins

The only Indian reservation in Texas lies within 75 miles of Lufkin, this village being located 14 miles east of Livingston on State Highway No. 45.

The Alabama Indians settled near the present site of Indian Village in the year 1832, and the Coushatta Indians settled a few miles south of the Trinity River in the same year. Both tribes lost their original land in 1836, when Texas gained her independence from Mexico. In 1854, through the influence of General Sam Houston, the two tribes of Indians were given jointly a reservation of 1210 acres of land to compensate for their loss. On this comparatively small tract they lived, raised their crops, and did not interfere with the white people who were rapidly settling that section of the state.

In 1928 the federal government purchased 3071 acres adjoining the west side of the reservation, and presented the new land to the two tribes. The present Indian reservation, although governed by the Indians, is under the control of both the state and federal governments, but is under the direct supervision of the state board of control.

Charlie Thompson, known to the Indians as Chief Sunkee, was selected chief of the two tribes of Indian Village on January 2, 1928. Chief Sunkee died in October, 1935, having lived to be almost one hundred years old. Bronson Cooper Sylvestine, whose Indian name is Ti-ca-i-che, of the Alabama tribe, was elected to succeed Chief Sunkee. The new chief is a nephew of Chief Sunkee, and a grandson of Chief Colah-he, the Alabama chieftain in 1836, and a personal friend of Sam Houston. Chief Ti-ca-i-che was installed at an impressive ceremony on the council grounds of the village on January 1, 1936, before a throng of 4,000 people from all parts of Texas. One of the outstanding and pertinent features of the installation program was the induction of six-year-old Mudge Thornall into the tribe. Mudge is the great granddaughter of Sam Houston, to whom not only the Indians, but all Texans owe a debt of gratitude for their freedom. Sam Houston, it will be remembered from Texas history, was adopted by the Cherokee Indians, and christened "The Raven."

There are, at present, 297 inhabitants in the village, the population having increased slowly in the past twenty years. Improvements in Indian village consist of two school buildings, gymnasium, hospital, industrial shop, teachers' home, agent's home and South Presbyterian Church building. Dr. See COLONY Page 6

Knights of Pythias Lodge in City Was Organized in 1887

By MATT G. JOHNSON
The Lufkin Lodge No. 73 of the Knights of Pythias, from its organization in 1887 to the present time, has had a successful growth and is today recognized by the Supreme Lodge, as well as the Texas Grand Lodge, as being one of the most live subsidiaries in this domain. Only a few of the charter members whose names appear in the original document are still living.

After several preliminary meetings, the lodge was organized on September 1, 1887, with the following charter members: L. W. Thomas, J. A. Ewing, J. C. Fitzgerald, T. C. Mantooth, H. D. Weaver, Simon Abram, C. M. Noell, Dr. J. A. Abney, W. L. Moore, J. D. Smith, W. R. Henderson, J. J. Powers, W. S. Carter, J. E. McPherson, W. M. Vinson, J. Henderson, C. A. Weaver, and J. C. Coupland, eighteen of the town's substantial citizens. Of the aforementioned names, only eight are still living, including Thomas, Fitzgerald, Noell, Dr. Abney, Smith, Carter, Vinson, and Coupland.

The charter was not officially signed, however, until April 19, 1888, which by right should have included the names of W. G. Chancey, A. Chancey, J. P. Kerr, and H. H. Smith, who had joined during the interim before the charter was issued at the next meeting of the Grand Lodge.

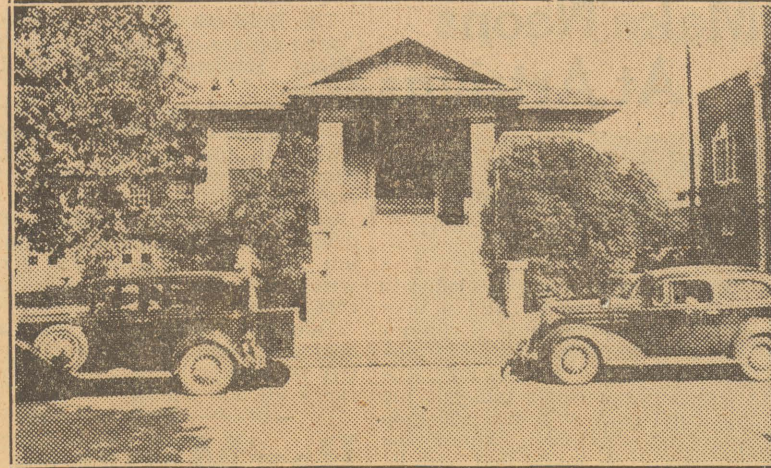

The first application for membership by initiation after the charter was received was the late well-known contractor and builder, R. B. Shearer, affectionately called "Uncle Bob" in later years by his numerous friends and acquaintances. "Uncle Bob" erected the present house of No. 73 in 1901. An active member for nearly 40 years, he passed away on Jan. 26, 1928.

The first meeting of the lodge was held on Thursday night, Sept.

It is now 49 years old and not a leaf is missing, containing a number of humorous items, including one argument which dealt with improving the lighting system in use at that time— the old standard coal oil lamp. After a heated discussion it was decided to purchase the kind with tin reflectors which could be hung on the wall. This was followed on July 9, 1900, with the installation of electricity and another stride for the modern element.

After meeting for several years on different days, the lodge voted

Members Own Building; Mooney is Master

A group of Lufkin citizens banded together back in 1888 to organize the Lufkin Lodge No. 669 of the Masonic order, and during the intervening years the membership of the lodge has increased to approximately 300.

W. W. Dunn was elected first worshipful master of the lodge and served from Jan. 1 to June 24, with W. S. Matthews as senior warden and T. L. Moffett as junior warden.

The lodge was granted its charter on Dec. 14, 1888, by the Grand Lodge of Texas, and during the first few years meetings were held in a building on Cotton square. Later the lodge rooms were moved to what is at present the Hicks grocery, where they remained until the present Masonic building was constructed in 1916.

During that year the beautiful brick structure, which is occupied by stores on the first floor and offices on the second floor, was erected by the Masonic Building Association, of which Eli Weiner was president; W. M. Glenn, vice-president, and G. R. Thompson, secretary. Directors were S. M. Morris, A. F. Cruse, G. A. Kelley, and J. H. Kurth.

On the second floor of the building is the lodge's banquet hall, and the third floor is reserved for the lodge hall and reception room.

Today the temple is free of indebtedness and owned entirely by the local Masonic lodge. An expenditure of $1,000 was made recently redecorating and refurbishing the reception room.

Steve J. Mooney, worshipful master of the lodge this year, heads the following list of officers: senior warden, B. W. Lang; junior warden, G. A. Lynn; senior deacon, C. F. Wade; junior deacon, John D. Hart; secretary, Ernest P. Medford; treasurer, J. A. Cooke; an business and professions, the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society; the application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life; and the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

Officers and directors for the first two years were: 1934-35, See ROTARIANS Page 2

Two other Masonic bodies, the chapter of Royal Arch Masons and the Knights Templar, were later organized, the first of which was chartered on Dec. 3, 1903. B. W. Lang is the present high priest, and officers are S. J. Mooney, Morris Hood, W. O. Greene, Coy F. Wade, Fred Lloyd, J. C. McKinney, R. E. Schuller, Ernest P. Medford, Etra Barington, and G. A. Lynn.

Lufkin Rotarians Enter Third Year With Fine Record

Young Club Has Lusty Growth and Plays Leading Role in Progress of Community

At the end of its second year of active organization, the Lufkin Rotary club has experienced a phenomenal growth and its success is largely due to the executive ability and faithful service of its officers and board of directors.

In the summer of 1933, Charlie Ashcroft, at that time Rotary governor of Texas, visited Lufkin for the purpose of organizing a club here. Jack McDermott, then secretary of the local chamber of commerce, called a conference of prospective members to discuss the formulation of a club in this city.

On Nov. 6 of that year a meeting was called at the Angelina hotel, in reality the first luncheon meet of the Lufkin club.

Charter members of the organization were L. D. Barrett, Etra Barington, L. A. Brauer, D. A. Campbell, A. E. Cudlipp, C. L. Du Puy, E. C. Durham, Curtis M. Everts, Jr., Curtis W. Fenley, Ross Gipson, Allen W. Henderson, R. E. Henry, R. L. Herbert, T. E. Huffman, J. W. Kennedy, Harry Kerr, Frank Moffett, Steve J. Mooney, Jack Mott, J. H. Murrell, R. C. Musselwhite, Jack C. McDermott, J. W. Pinkerton, George N. Richardson, W. L. West, and Pete Walton.

The Lufkin Rotary club No. 3641 was officially recognized on Feb. 18, 1934, at which time the Jacksonville club sponsored the official charter presentation.

Regular luncheon meetings are held every Monday at the Angelina hotel.

When the club was scarcely more than a year old, they were hosts to the district convention, which proved a huge success and was attended by state and district officials from all parts of the state.

Ever observant of its motto, "Service Above Self," the local club has as its objects to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster: The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service, high ethical standards in business and professions, the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations, and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society; the application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life; and the advancement of international understanding, good will and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

Officers and directors for the first two years were: 1934-35, See ROTARIANS Page 2

Officers of the graduation class of 1918, the first year of the club, were: Allen Robb, Beula Gooden, Agnes McMickle, Rosalie Townsend, Lora Brookshire, Mabel Singleton, Ruth Peden, Hattie Lawrence, Willie Jordan, Thelma Scarborough, Vie Swank, Sherman Hill, Horace Treadwell, Winnie M. Hicks, Crockett Campbell, Evelyn Abram, Yancy Hinson, and Della Jumper.

Although the graduation records for the 14-year period before he acceded to the role of city school superintendent are not complete, I. A. Coston has made a count of those receiving diplomas since he came here in 1917. Approximately 1,212 students have graduated from high school during the past 18 years.

Members of the graduation class of 1918, the first year of the club, were: Allen Robb, Beula Gooden, Agnes McMickle, Rosalie Townsend, Lora Brookshire, Mabel Singleton, Ruth Peden, Hattie Lawrence, Willie Jordan, Thelma Scarborough, Vie Swank, Sherman Hill, Horace Treadwell, Winnie M. # City School System Boasts 46 Affiliated Units in Coming Term

By LUCILLE HOLLAND

In 1905, the date of the earliest Lufkin school records, the judge ex-officio filled the position of school superintendent, and the Lufkin schools were not in an independent district. Today the Lufkin schools are organized into an independent district of six schools with 2,900 enrollment.

The progress made through the years is remarkable. The buildings have been changed from crude wooden structures to well-constructed brick buildings, providing a place for all of the children of Lufkin to attend elementary and high schools.

During the course of 31 years the curriculum of the high school has been broadened until the school has 46 affiliated units, an unusually large number for a school of its size, and it is on the Southern List of the Association of Colleges of Secondary Schools.

The course of study offered enables the student to better train himself for the line of work he intends to follow when he completes his education. A unit each of art and music, and a half unit in commercial arithmetic were added the past year. When the fall term opens the student will have the advantage of an extra half unit in bookkeeping and a unit in band. The school will also be equipped with a full-time librarian, thus giving the students the use of a well-organized library in which to read and study.

The negro high school has 16 affiliated units, and is fully accredited with negro colleges of the state.

The six buildings include a high school, four elementary schools, and an elementary and high school combined for the negroes. There are approximately 750 students enrolled in the high school, 1,600 in the elementary schools, and 500 in the negro school.

The school buildings are valued at about $400,000. The bonded indebtedness is less than $200,000, which means there are possibilities of erecting a building in the near future which will be used either on February 2, 1900, to fix the permanent date to Monday and April 16, 1900, the lodge moved from its original quarters to the Kerr building, and a short time afterward plans were discussed and put into action to purchase a lot and build a Castle Hall of their own. A two-story brick building was erected and has been the home of the local lodge ever since.

The triangular cornerstone was laid with elaborate ceremony on December 27, 1901, with the Hon. John C. Box of Jacksonville the

Piney Woods Club is Formed by Aggie Exes

The Piney Woods A. & M. club, organized April 21, 1936, is an outgrowth of the old Angelina County A. & M. club.

This club meets on the second Tuesday of every month, the place of meeting designated at the previous meeting. The next meeting of the club will be at the Angelina River on Highway No. 35 north of Lufkin, on the second Tuesday in September.

The purpose of the A. & M. club is to bring together in a social way all the old and new ex-students and graduates of the school in order that they may become better acquainted with each other, and to keep alive the spirit of Aggie land. Students of A. & M. feel that there is a closer tie among the cadets and class mates of their school than among other schools due to the close association while they are in school. The aim of the ex-student association is to keep in touch with all ex-aggies, and offer them assistance in case they should need it.

Members of the Piney Woods A. & M. club are ex-students living in Nacogdoches and Angelina counties, with visitors from other adjoining counties in which there is no organization.

M. C. Spivey is president of the club; Bob Matchett of Nacogdoches is vice president, and Robert Herbert, secretary.

The meetings are usually in the form of a dinner or picnic, with some former A. & M. student, who has achieved success in his chosen field, as the guest speaker. Such outstanding men as E. E. McQuillen, secretary of the former students association of A. & M., and "Dough" Rollins of the athletic staff of A. & M. college have been among the speakers on the program during the past year.

There are now 40 active members in the club.

'Fords Go By' in Ever Greater Number Here

Lufkinites have been watching the Fords go by in greater numbers ever since A. M. Glass took charge of the agency for that automobile here 10 years ago.

Glass purchased the agency from C. A. Pate, who was located on Cotton Square. The firm remained there a year before moving to its present location.

The present Ford building was constructed at a cost of $40,000 and offers the largest floor space of any firm in the city.

Other officials of the company besides Mr. Glass are Ulen G. Medford, vice-president and sales manager, and Paul Hayden Smith, secretary-treasurer.

A corps of salesmen under the direction of Medford include E. U. McMullen, H. G. Stubblefield, J. B. Walker, Hulen Weaver and L. H. Knighton.

Glass contends that the 1936 model Ford is the best machine ever manufactured by the great organization in Detroit. Its performance, he says, has surpassed even the dreams of engineers who constructed it.

In handling adjustments on new cars, I have found that the 1936 model has caused a minimum of trouble to buyers and not only in Lufkin, but in every section of the nation, Ford buyers are satisfied car owners," Glass added.

The $25 per month payment plan has proven to be the most popular thing ever offered by Ford since they offered a new era in motor cars with the V8 engine in a low priced car, the sales manager says. And for this plan of finance he attributes the increase in sales of Fords.

In the bookkeeping department of the Glass Motor Co., customers will find Dan Martin and Mrs. A. Bresie, whose business-like handling of accounts makes it a pleasure for satisfied Ford owners to deal with.

Make Neons At Artsigns

Hawkins Menefee Specializes in Modern Signs

With two years of experience in electrical engineering and a love for the work, Hawkins H. Menefee, at the youthful age of 21, opened in Lufkin in May, 1934, the Artsigns Shop, which today is the only neon plant within a 100-mile radius of this city, where the signs are both made and installed.

The workshop is located at 109 Cotton Square.

When he first opened the shop, his business consisted of lobby display work for all three theaters in Lufkin, window display work and commercial bulletin board. About eight months later, he added the neon signs to his other business.

Making his first neon sign for the Adams' Shoe store, Menefee has since installed about 35 new signs in Lufkin and surrounding territory. He has installed signs on practically all of the leading business establishments in Lufkin, and almost as many in other towns in this territory as he has here. He has also neonized a large number of old electrical signs.

"Business Goes Where Neon Glows" is his slogan.

Menefee took a course in electrical engineering at Rice Institute in Houston and also obtained practical experience working in a neon plant in that city. He does all the designing and glass work for the signs personally. The raw glass is purchased, heated and bent into the form of the letters and borders in making the neon signs. All air is pumped out of the glass and neon gas inserted and the glass sealed.

Artsigns has the only commercial blue print plant within a radius of 65 miles, the nearest ones located at Tyler and Henderson. They handle blue print work for both the U. S. and Texas Forest services and the local highway department. Work is also done at the shop here for firms in Nacogdoches, Livingston, Huntsville, Trinity and Groveton.

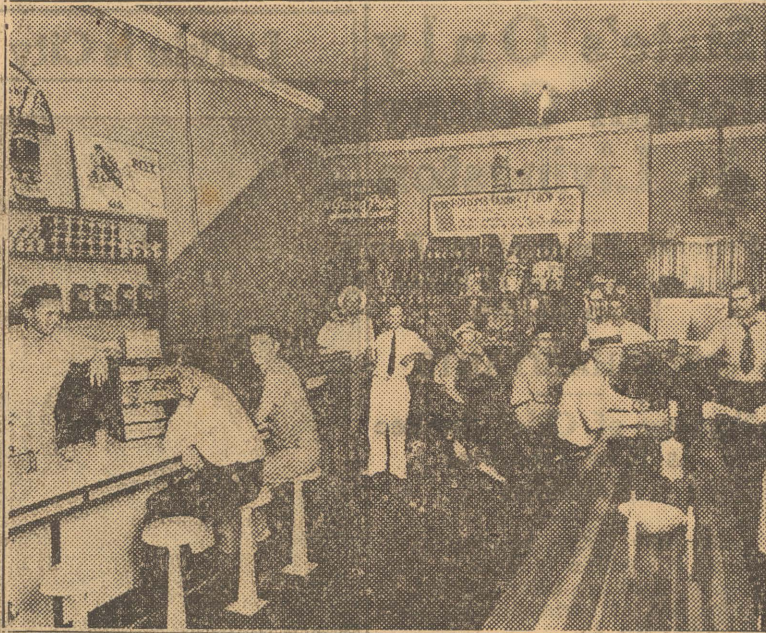

Assisting Menefee in his shop are Durwood Witherspoon, Melton Scogin, and L. W. Rowe.

Menefee is an enterprising young Lufkin business man, and is active in local civic affairs. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the Lufkin Rotary club.

Cromwell Is Firm Owner

Operates Court House Drug Store and Lunch Room

During the three years the Court House Drug store has been established, the business has grown rapidly under the management of E. V. Cromwell and son, A. G.

When the business began in 1933, the owners were the sole operators, but today the business boasts six employees, including the owners. They are Mrs. E. V. Cromwell, Mrs. Ida Jay, Miss Beatrice Short, Frank Spiller, and E. V. and A. G. Cromwell.

The store is located on Lufkin Ave., near the court house, the new post office, and the city hall. The store carries a complete line of drugs, drug sundries, and has modern fountain service.

In February, in connection with the drug store, Cromwell added a lunch counter, where the public is served delicious meals at a low cost. The business of the lunch counter has made a rapid increase. At one time, Cromwell

Eat-A-Bite Is Popular

Quick Service Brings Growing Business to Place Here

The motto of the Eat-A-Bite is "quick, courteous service," and in the six years the establishment has operated here the management and his assistants have given that kind of service.

The Eat-A-Bite is owned and operated by C. E. Griffin, a resident of Houston before coming here in 1930. In Houston Griffin was with the Brook's System Sandwich shops.

The shop, Griffin said, has enjoyed a good business, and business has improved with the years.

The five waitresses assisting him are Miss Faye Brown, Miss Jimmie Brown, Mrs. Ruth Frye, Mrs. Pat Austin, and Mrs. Alpha Jaroe.

The motto, which has been the guide of the owners, is "Quality and Service."

Lufkin's Religious Life Is Served by Numerous Churches

HE PROFITETH MOST WHO SERVETH BEST

Lufkin people are served by many churches and denominations which represent the field of religion as we see it. We feel that our city is quite generally represented by our church life. Probably the church people of Lufkin represent the best cross-section of Lufkin life of any institution among us. People of all ranks in life go in and out of our doors and feel themselves cordially welcome to our services of worship.

However, the church life of Lufkin is not without its difficulties. We find ourselves operating in the midst of a tripod of interests—commercial, governmental and social. The commingling of these interests proves sometimes more worthy than we churches feel we have inspiration to command.

What seems at times to be difficulties may prove ultimately to be advantages. We have in Lufkin some of the finest citizenship of the state, some of the best public leaders, some of the best commercial and industrial minds. The strength of such people is naturally reflected in the leadership of the churches. The business life of Lufkin is upon such a level that it reflects consecrated strength in all financial phases of the churches.

A dispassionate observation of our church life will prove that the religious interests of Lufkin have developed quite commensurately with all types of development in the community.

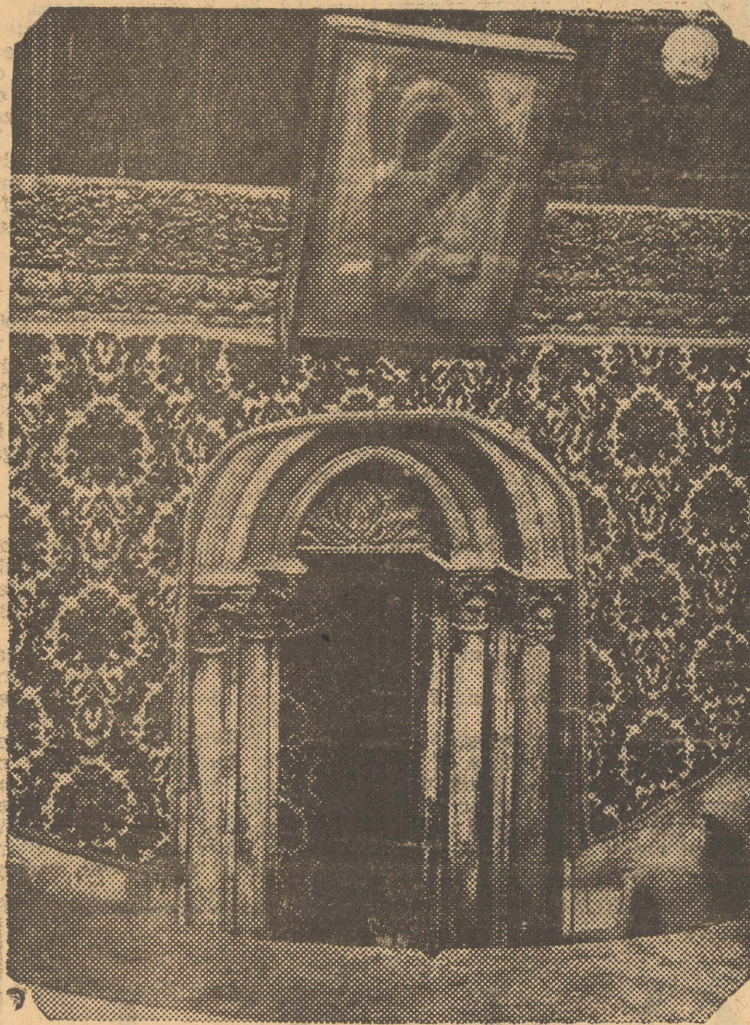

It may not be immodest to claim for us that the religious attitude of Lufkin has a peculiarly deep and broad and high outlook. Trivialities do not divide us, minor matters do not disturb our sense of unity. The church life of Lufkin has a genius for going to the heart of a problem and solving it impartially, impersonally and satisfactorily to all.

Considering the numerical strength of our churches and the number attending the various public services, we feel that the churches of Lufkin are the actual ways of life to our people. They offer something which meets the craving of the human heart. They meet that need so well that crowds are in constant evidence at all our services.

Since the day the first church was established in Lufkin no one has sounded a call of need who has not been ministered to as quickly as the Christian people could ascertain where and how to serve. Search back through her records, converse with her constituents from generation to generation, and one will find that every sorrow which Lufkin has made known has been met by the consolation of the church; every poverty which Lufkin has felt has been met by the riches of Divine Grace; every tragedy which Lufkin has suffered has been ministered to by the healing hand of the church. Should the history of our city be minutely written, words of merit and praise for the churches would appear frequently upon every page of the entire volume. Should the garment of Lufkin's well rounded life be held up before the gaze of any dispassionate critic, threads of beauty and strength representing the church would adorn the garment throughout.

Truth to tell, the church life of Lufkin realizes that science has made the world a neighborhood and that it remains for us to teach people how to live together. From pulpits and church school class rooms the message is sounded each Sabbath that the meaning of any man's life is that he shall serve, and that "he profiteth most who serveth best." Life is not a repository into which material things are poured for selfish ends, but a medium throughout which spiritual phenomena are received and passed on to others.

BRING THE FAMILY TO CHURCH!

The Church of the Nativity, in Bethlehem, showing the Virgin on Calvary: one of the world's most inspiring sites of worship.

MEETING THE NEEDS OF HUMAN LIFE

The more recent view of our church life is that Christianity is not some sector of the world's life, but the underlying principle of the sum total of all normal life. It is not something that occupies the center and radiates life itself. The contention of the leaders of religion in Lufkin is to the effect that life is a direction and not an objection; not an arrival, but a series of arrivals and departures; not an arrival, but a journey through time and eternity. The constituency of our churches crave this vein of preaching and urge this outlook on life.

A survey of the whole outlook brings in the following facts:

First, that our churches are preaching the essentials of salvation. Our people are urged to live their lives upon that basis. Many things are pleasant, many attractive, many charming. All these are placed upon life's counter and humanity passing by may each take what he will. But the fact that Jesus was born into the world, lived a perfect life, was crucified, and the third day rose to live the life everlasting, his spirit animating, inspiring and motivating all life for all time—this we believe to be the fundamental of our Christianity. Of this urge we preach, and the conscious response is that such preaching meets the needs of human life.

Second, that our gospel emphasizes positivism rather than negativism. If religion stands for anything today, it is that Christian goodness obtains in what a man is and does. Achievements count. Nothing succeeds like success. It is not our separation from humanity, but what we do for humanity, that shall bring to us the glad acclaim, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Third, it is the general feeling that optimism crowns our altars. We believe that we are here to save the world, and it would be unjust to render a decision before all the evidence is in, and all the evidence is not in until every living Christian has expended his every energy to present the realities of religion to all of his fellow men. The testimony of the church, clear, strong and fine as it is today, is an evidence that must be in before we make a pronouncement upon the final spiritual state of the world. Christians believe in the efficacy of God's saving grace. The gospel does make a difference. Christianity changes things. Some of us are determined to give Christianity a fair chance before we pronounce it a failure. And to the degree that we give it this chance in the laboratory of human experience, we have evidence of the soundness of our position.

Fourth, the church life of Lufkin agrees that Christianity consists not always in "either or" but often in "both and." We no longer denounce a thing because it has one undesirable feature, or separate ourselves from the world because it is less than our ideals for it. Our religion has come out of the clouds and the shadows and made to walk on common earth with men. The bleach of the monastery is gone. With sunny-faced naturalness we have set up shop on Main Street in the market place of human affairs.

Fifth, we feel that we are entering upon larger avenues of service, pleading for a fairer distribution of wealth, for the justice of a single social standard, and the necessity for a world-brotherhood which would forestall the atrocity and the inhumanity of fratricidal strife. We feel that when the world comes to see life through the lens of a just and equitable regard for all men that war shall be no more.

Berry Motor Expands As Car Sales Climb

Dodge - Plymouth Dealer Occupies New Building

A record year in sales of Dodge and Plymouth cars is indicated for the Berry Motor Co., if sales during the first six months of 1936 mean anything. Already, Owner E. L. Berry says, the firm has sold more cars than it did in all of 1935.

It was in June of 1923 when Berry purchased the agency from A. L. Acker of Nacogdoches, who had the Dodge agency in that city as well as in Lufkin.

After assuming the business Berry ordered four cars. He had them sold before they could be delivered. Another quartet of orders sent him hurrying to Nacogdoches where he obtained the cars and made the deliveries.

When he first opened, Berry was located at the present site of the Red Ball transfer offices. Later he moved to what is now Gibbs tire store and then again he transferred the business to its present location in the 100 block on Shepherd street and the 200 block on South First street.

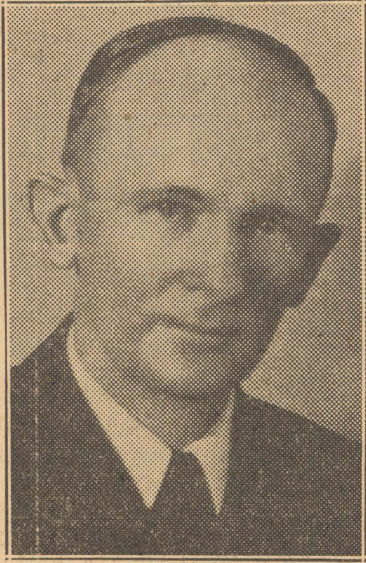

In 1928 when Walter Chrysler turned out the first Plymouth, Berry obtained the agency for this car also. In obtaining the sale contract for this low priced car, Berry feels that he has made many friends due to their purchase from him of this automobile with its hydraulic brakes, all steel body and other safety features, along with its 90-mile-an-hour and better speed.

Next week Berry plans to have a formal opening of his new showroom, which faces Shepherd street and forms an L with the old building which fronts on South First street.

In addition to the sales department, the Berry Motor Co., offers a complete repair service even to the worst wrecked car, storage, washing, greasing and polishing. The personnel of the organization besides Berry, consists of Forest Parker, bookkeeper; C. D. Renfro and C. A. Hill, salesmen; Melvin Gibbs, shop foreman; Clarence Holland, mechanic; and F. J. Jenkins and Sidney Parks, both negroes, helpers.

Seventy-one automobile plants in Michigan had 272,481 employees as of May 15, 1936, an increase of 1.2 per cent over the number employed on the same date last year.

He has a large payroll, being assisted in the operation of the plant by seven employees.

Taylor Firm Is Growing

Popular Hardware Store Among Best in State

Serving Lufkin and surrounding territory with the highest grade of merchandise since the store was opened in 1928, Taylor Hardware Co. is one of the most modern and up-to-date hardware stores in East Texas today.

Herman Taylor, who in that year bought out E. E. Woods, general merchandise, has successfully operated the establishment in the same building on First street since that date. Under his management it has grown from a personnel of three to seven employees and developed a wide trade over a large area in this section.

During the last year the store was enlarged and remodeled, with a large space upstairs providing a special department for children's toys.

Taylor Hardware carried one of the most complete lines of sporting supplies on the market, furnishing equipment for hunters, fishermen, and all standard ball games. The implement display presents an ideal spot for farmers of the surrounding country to make a careful selection of their equipment.

In addition to the regular lines handled by hardware stores, a complete stock of building material, and wire fences are carried.

Taylor is especially proud of the fine quality and variety of selection in the china and glassware departments of the store. It is in these departments that the brides select their pattern to enable their friends to choose gifts with ease, knowing that what they give will be appreciated.

Lawyers' fees amounting to a total of approximately $2,400,000 were awarded by the courts to counsel for litigants over the estate of the late Z. Smith Reynolds, heir to the Reynolds tobacco millions. As seems appropriate in a case employing such fancy legal talent, all the claimants won a share of the big fortune.

This is under the supervision of the Hunting and Fishing club.

The entertainment committee arranges for social functions, assisted by the Pythian Sisters.

Present officers of the local lodge are as follows: Chancellor, commander, Sam Robinson; vice-chancellor, Granville Wright; prelate, DeWitt Fenley; master of works, Joe Kerr; keeper of records and seal, Matt G. Johnson; master of finance, Homer Rogers; master of exchequer, W. O. Ricks; inner guard, Jack Storey; and outer guard, Kit Barley.

Entering business in Lufkin in 1917, the late D. A. Campbell, who during his lifetime developed the company from a small store with a small cash capital into one of the finest furniture establishments in East Texas, began his almost 19-year career in the business.

Campbell was the first furniture dealer to initiate the service of delivering and setting up furniture in the customer's home in Lufkin, and this feature has been enlarged upon until today this company's trucks travel this section in all directions from Lufkin delivering their furniture.

Lufkin Typewriter Co. Is Serving 9 Etex Counties

D. C. Satterfield Heads Fast-Growing Firm Here

The Lufkin Typewriter Co., serves nine counties exclusively with its machines, D. C. Satterwhite, owner and manager of the institution, said as he looked back over seven years of successful business deals with the public.

Handling not only typewriters, but adding machines and cash registers in addition to a complete line of office furniture and supplies has made the firm known throughout the territory it serves.

The most modern and best equipped repair shop in East Texas is regarded as an asset to not only Lufkin but to other cities in the remaining eight counties served by this firm which are Nacogdoches, Polk, San Augustine, Sabine, Tyler, Trinity, Walker and Houston.

Satterwhite began his business here in the late summer of 1929. The remainder of that year saw him sell 20 typewriters. The following year he boosted sales to 75 machines.

In 1931 he moved from the 200 block on Lufkin avenue to his present location at 14 Shepherd avenue.

Royal typewriters, National cash registers, R. C. Allen, Monarch and Addindex adding machines are handled by the company.

Indications during the first six months of this year point to Satterwhite's doubling the sales record he hung up last year when he sold 450 machines. Already he and members of his force has placed 350 new machines since the first of the year.

The personnel of the organization is composed of Miss Irene Howe, cashier; D. S. Hill, shop foreman; J. W. Story, service man; and Joe Story, mechanic.

Last spring the typewriter concern took over the entire building they are now located in, remodeled it and made it modern in every way. Its appearance would do credit to a city much larger than Lufkin.

Lively Furniture Steadily Increasing Business Here

Bert Lively, owner and manager of the Lively Furniture Co., has steadily increased his business since he opened his store in April, 1933, with a gain of over 300 per cent during its three and a half years of operation.

The store has a complete line of furniture in all departments, and boasts the largest display of stoves and kitchen furniture of any furniture establishment in Lufkin.

With 10 years of experience as an employee of the Campbell Furniture Co., Lively went into business for himself at 10 Cotton Square during the early part of 1933. His business ability is evidenced by the fact that he has developed the store, which was opened in the midst of the depression, into one of the best in this section.

When he moved into his new business, Lively refinished the front of the building and repainted the interior. On July 21 of this year additional display space was added by securing part of the adjoining building, and in the near future a large shipment of new furniture will arrive and a complete living room display arranged on the mezzanine floor of the store.

Lively features Mohawk rugs, Gold Seal and Birds Neponset floor covering, Nesco-Perfect and Royal oil stoves, and in the bedding department is featured tailor-made Sani-Spring mattresses. Lively is also local distributor for Crosley radios.

Buick Firm In New Home

V. W. Barge is Expecting Record Sales Year During 1936

V. W. Barge, dealer in Buick and Pontiac automobiles and the International line of trucks, has just moved into his new building located on Shepherd avenue. The structure, not yet completed, offers floor space suitable for the brisk business done by the firm.

A formal opening of the new home will be held in about 30 days, Mr. Barge said. Commenting on the new building he credited it to his customers, whom, he said, made it possible.

"I am not unmindful of the fact that my friends who have been my customers are the ones who made this possible," he said, as he stood in the new building and gestured at its four walls. Barge entered the automobile business in 1933. At first he handled only the Pontiac line. Later he obtained the Buick agency and still later the International truck line.

Business, declares Barge, is definitely on the upturn. He commented on June's business and said that in that month the Barge Buick Co. delivered eight of the highest priced Buicks that the company builds, in addition to the Pontiacs and trucks that were sold.

The first six months of this year, Barge says, have been 50 per cent better in business than the corresponding period of 1935, and indicates that this 12 months will see an all-time sales record hung up by the firm.

J. T. Barge, brother to the owner of the company, is sales manager for the concern. In charge of the repair shop, which is able to take care of any type of automobile work, is Jess Allbritton, who has only recently assumed that duty, but whose record, during the many years he has serviced cars, is outstanding.

Painting and body work repair is included in the service offered by the Buick concern.

SPORTS FOR RIENDSHIP

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 15.—(AP)—General Juan Vaccarezza, Buenos Aires chief of police, has ordered the cops to stop playing soccer football.

CALCUTTA, India, Aug. 15.—(AP)—P. H. Gose, a Bengali swimmer, has set a new endurance record for handcuffed swimming. ## Attractive Store Front Here

MIZE BROTHERS, Frequently termed the most beautiful store in East Texas, is one of the recent additions to the retail picture in Lufkin.

Mize to Show Fine Collection of Fall Fashions for Lufkin Women

Mize Bros. will have their fall showing of the latest styles for the new season shortly, when they present to Lufkin their complete new line of ladies' ready-to-wear and all matching accessories that go to make a smart autumn outfit.

Climaxing a year and a half of steadily increasing business, marked by the presentation of the best available lines, this comparatively new Lufkin store is striving to please its customers by offering them the best for the most reasonable prices.

Mize Bros. store was opened here on April 8, 1935, after an extensive remodeling job had made the building into one of the most modern department stores in East Texas. Complete interior refinishing and new up-to-date fixtures were effected in the improvement work on the spacious establishment.

L. N. Mason was manager of the store when it opened, and was succeeded in October of 1935 by M. L. Brooks, present buyer and general manager of the store.

The store has enjoyed a good business since the start, steadily gaining every month over the preceding one.

"All our success has been brought about by the fine people of Lufkin and our good department heads," Brooks said.

When the store is running at full force, it assists in the support of as high as 12 families in Lufkin in the employment of local citizens.

The store is divided into distinct departments, offering complete lines of ladies' ready-to-wear, piece goods, hosiery, shoes, notions, cotton and other wash dresses, and all clothing accessories.

L. G. Tomlinson is in charge of the store's advertising and displaying, in addition to handling the shoe department. This department has always had a large business because of the variety and popular patterns selected in the stock of shoes. All types of shoes, including oxfords, evening, street, and sandals, are sold by the store.

The ready-to-wear department is in the very competent hands of Mrs. S. W. Cockrell, who has developed this division from infancy through her constant interest and courteous greeting of customers. She is ably assisted by Mrs. Vina Sanders, who is in charge of all alteration work, in addition to assisting with the sales of dresses and coats.

One department which is the pride of the store is the piece goods and notions department. The stock in these departments is as complete as can be found in any department store in East Texas. In this department Mrs. J. E. Peavy is in charge of the piece goods. She knows every article available and is very gracious and willing to make suggestions when the customer so desires.

The hosiery and notions department, which has shown a wonderful increase and good business gain since it was installed at the store's opening, is handled by Miss Lois Cochran. In this department may also be secured bags, handkerchiefs, corsages, lingerie, and other such articles.

Wash dresses and cotton frocks are featured in a variety of styles and colors, both in prints and solid colors. All sizes are available, and varied types to suit the individual personality. Miss Margaret Dickerson is in charge of this department.

The cashier's booth, which boasts of competency, is handled by Miss Nannie Sue Mantoath. In addition to handling payment for purchased goods, package wrapping is also handled at this booth.

The fall showing of merchandise, which will include every department of the store, will begin in the next few days. All items have been bought early to take care of fall advances. Patterns and materials were bought and selected with special care to give the Lufkin people the advantage of the newest and best merchandise available.

The modern shoe department will show the most authentic of the new fall shoes, a charming array of footwear, including a brown calf, rough suede trim, high-cut step-in style ideal for suits and coats. This shoe belongs in every school girl's wardrobe.

Designed especially for swagger suits and swaggar coats is the gray calf, alligator-trimmed, high cut gore pump with a practical walking heel; while another shoe in smooth kid styles and colors to wear with any of the season's blue materials and an all-over brown alligator that is an ideal match for any color of brown is the exact shoe for sport, dress and street.

The season's newest design in high-cut imitation button, combination rust and brown suede, is perfectly adapted to the snappy style needed with brown and rust fall ensembles. A new heel and a new color, Chauderen, are featured in the season's best shoe with sandal effect. The color in this shoe contrasts remarkably with wine, brown, eggplant, plum and other distinctive new fall shades.

Fur coats have become a necessity for the modern woman and are now a part of the wardrobe you must have, because everyone is buying them. The markets now show nine fur coats to every one good cloth or fur-trimmed cloth coat.

Swaggers are featured in the 1936 fall and winter fur coats, which are being shown at Mize Bros., in a variety of furs. A new collar and sleeve treatment for this season gives the new fur coats distinction and added smartness.

The popular priced fur coats for the new season will be shown, as they are everywhere else, in the larger cities, in swaggar lengths. Included in the assortment are a lapin swaggar in taupe with ombre stripe and block lapin swaggar in either brown or black.

There is only one material that is safe to buy in fur coats, according to Brooks, who personally purchased the complete new line of coats for this fall showing, and it is the new lapin, featured in Mize Bros. autumn 1936 displays.

The latest and most chic dresses for all occasions have been purchased for the fall showing, and will please particularly the college girl who will need a variety to complete her school wardrobe. All the seasonal colors and fashions are ready for your selection at Mize Bros. The millinery department of the store, located on the mezzanine with the ready-to-wear, has also been bought with particular care as to the latest tilt of the brim and the new extremely shallow crowns.

For those who like individuality and economy of home-prepared clothes, there is the piece goods department, which has been restocked for fall in the newest patterns of silk and woolen materials. A final collection is available, including varieties of crepe, satin, wool crepe, woollens, and bright plaids.

The public is cordially invited to attend Mize Bros. new fall showing, the opening date of which will be announced soon. Some of the new offerings are already on display in the store's show windows, and sales have already started on their new line of fur coats.

arts as weaving, dyeing, and leather work, for which the tribes were one noted, are practically lost, and now only a few baskets and blankets are made by the older Indians. These baskets and blankets are made from Spanish moss, which grows around the village.

Although the older Indians refuse to give up the old customs, the younger members of the tribes, as all youths of today, have gone modern. Two boys from Indian village are known in athletic circles throughout the state.

Chevrolet Output Is Now Past 12 Million

Du Puy Concern Has Part in Big Sales Record

C. L. Du Puy, owner of C. L. Du Puy Chevrolet Co. of Lufkin, announced he had received word from J. B. Hancock, Houston zone manager, of the production of the 12,000,000th Chevrolet following up a series of record-breaking sales of cars and trucks in South Texas and throughout this section.

The production brought to 1,182,000 the number of cars and trucks put out by Chevrolet since the manufacturing and assembly plants began on the 1936 model. Sales in the Houston zone, in the month of July, were 2,705 units, as compared with 1,943 in July, 1935.

The Du Puy concern took a prominent part in this record-breaking output, carrying forward their previous progress. Business has advanced with the years, since Du Puy bought out the Chevrolet business here in 1924.

The company was bought by Du Puy from R. P. McKewen in March, 1924, and during the same year the Chevrolet plant of Nacogdoches was purchased. The latter plant was sold in September, 1926. For five years the Lufkin company was situated on Shepherd avenue between the post office and the Longino Furniture store. In 1929 the new building was erected on the present site, opening for business there in May of the following year.

The present plant is one of the most modern and complete service establishments in East Texas, where all makes of cars may be completely rebuilt. A first class up-to-date body department is also maintained.

The 1936 model Chevrolet, both De Luxe and Standard makes, is one of the best ever put on the market, the first of which is equipped with all the latest appointments.

Courteous and efficient treatment is accorded customers and visitors at all times, by an excellent staff of salesmen and workers.

New Orleans had three different mayors in an hour one day recently. Mayor Walmesley resigned to accept a federal job; Commissioner Pratt became acting mayor; he resigned and the commission council then elected Commissioner Cave to serve until a special election is held.

Joel McCrea and Gary Cooper are the tallest stars. Each measures six feet three.

Chevrolet Head

C. L. DU PUY, President of the Lufkin agency for Chevrolet, is an ardent follower of the foxhounds. His kennel is noted throughout East Texas, and he imported a stock of foxes here several years ago to insure good hunting.

Gary Eaves Sets Style

His Store Regarded as Authority on Men's Clothes

When Lufkin men and young men think of good clothes they automatically associate that thought with Gary Eaves, the city's leading clothier.

Located in the heart of the business district, Eaves always presents the latest styles and customers have long regarded him as an authority on selection of patterns for suits of the various seasons.

At Eaves one may be clothed from tip to toe as he carries a stock of clothing that includes hats, shirts, socks, underwear, and shoes.

His men's furnishings are of nationally advertised brands which assure the buyer of maximum service.

Although Eaves offer exclusive patterns and quality merchandise their prices could not be classed as expensive.

Their display windows keep customers posted as to the latest style in men's dress.

Despite the fact that Eaves is an exclusive men's shop, many women of the city patronize the establishment especially on occasions of birthdays, anniversaries and special dates when they wish to both surprise and please father, brother, husband or sweetheart with an appropriate gift.

Firm Enters 21st Season

Roberts-Chamberlin Reorganizes Dry Goods Store

The Roberts-Chamberlin Co. recently was incorporated under the new name, when P. C. Chamberlin, experienced dry goods dealer, purchased an interest in the firm which was formerly the B. T. Roberts store.

The business has operated successfully for the past 21 years under the management of the late B. T. Roberts and Mrs. Roberts, and with the opening of the new corporation, Mrs. Roberts retired from active service. Her son, J. D. Roberts, is secretary-treasurer of the new business.

Chamberlin, who is president and general manager of the store, has been in the dry goods business for the past 25 years in Port Arthur and Jacksonville.

The interior of the store has been remodeled, and in the near future improvements will be made on the exterior of the building. Additional fixtures were added and the building refinished and repainted.

New lines of merchandise are being added in ready-to-wear, millinery, and other departments, featuring the latest styles and the highest grade of goods.

Some 60,000 crippled children have received aid from the Shriners during the last 14 years, each Shriner making an annual contribution for the purpose. The order now has 12 hospitals in the United States and three in Canada.

The body of the Aztec god, Quetzalcoatl, was consumed by fire on the summit of Ozizaba.

F. F. A. Prexy

LUFKIN WAS Signally honored when Joe Roper was elected president of the state organization of the Future Farmers of America at their convention held in Stephenville last month.

Civic Leader

WHEN THE District convention of Lions meet in Lufkin next spring they will be greeted by K. W. Denman, president of the local club. Mr. Denman, a Lufkin attorney, is also president of the First State Bank & Trust Co.

Kenneth Hoskins Ranks With Top Salesmen of Insurance

Kenneth Hoskins, agent for the Franklin Life Insurance company, with offices in Lufkin, is ranked in the top section of the company's agents throughout the nation.

Hoskins took over the agency in 1916, and has been with the company over 20 years.

He has been a resident of Lufkin 27 years, and in that time he has always worked for progressive movements pointing toward the development and growth of Lufkin and Angelina county. He served as city commissioner during the term when the sewage system was enlarged, the present disposal plants were constructed, and the treating of the water installed.

The city accorded him the honor of choosing him mayor, an office he is now holding. An underwriter he is known and recognized throughout the country by insurance companies and agents' organizations as a well informed and successful agent. He was elected the first president of the Piney Woods Association of Life Underwriters when it was organized in 1933.

Each year the Franklin Life Insurance company awards to its agents a free trip, and every year since his connection with them, Hoskins has won a trip. He has gone to Canada, various national parks, and has taken trips to all sections of the United States.

In 1928 Hoskins represented the company at the national convention in Milwaukee as the all-star salesman. An agent is not allowed to compete more than once, or perhaps our local citizen would have held the honor more than once.

Franklin Life Insurance agencies are located in 22 states in the union, with Texas claiming seven. The Lufkin agency ranks first of these.

The territorial coverage of the Lufkin agency includes Jasper, Rusk, Tyler, Cherokee, Nacogdoches, Shelby, Houston, Trinity, Angelina, Gregg, and San Augustine counties, and extends from Livingston to Louisiana, and from Jasper county to Tyler county. The entire oil section of East Texas is within this territory.

Shortly afterwards Asher bagged his ace. The next day he holed another.

His friends plunked down $200 each and announced their withdrawal from the agreement. "The way he was going we might have been working for him all summer," one said.
