EDITORIALS

A WEEKLY IN PINELAND

With this first issue of "The Pineland Star" we bring you Pineland's own newspaper.

We appreciate the enthusiastic response we have received thus far in our efforts to establish this newspaper. The people we have met, the businessmen, Mrs. Sanford at the Post Office, our reporter, Mrs. Smith; all have helped make this publication possible.

The success of any venture depends mostly on the support of the people. We intend to put out the best paper possible and we earnestly solicit the continued cooperation of all the people of the Pineland area.

IS PINELAND PERMANENT?

Old-timers at Pineland this week heaved a sigh of happy relief. A 48 year old question had been answered once and for all. Is Pineland permanent?

With the completion of the new power plant and completely modern sawmill the answer is definitely "Yes."

A sawmill operation that began as Temple Lumber Company in 1910 was thought during its early years to be a ten to fifteen year proposition. Thanks to the bounty of Deep East Texas forests carefully conserved and protected, the people of Temple Lumber Company, now Southern Pine Lumber Company, can look to a perpetual future.

A multi-million dollar building program at Pineland which commenced with a new yard for air-drying hardwood, now includes a brand new nationally recognized oak flooring plant and a molded toilet seat plant. The program was made possible by the promise of an unending supply of timber.

The plants themselves, designed to use completely the forests' harvest and to provide maximum outlet for the forest products skill of Sabine County people, offer further assurance of permanence and stability.

Newly re-built dry kilns, cooling sheds and stacking and handling facilities have also been provided.

Temple Wood Parts Division, the manufacturing operation which produces fully machined precision wood parts for the national furniture industry has for many years had a leading place in its field.

Greater efficiency in the plants of Southern Pine Lumber Company in Pineland make possible greater job security and more ample benefits for people in the plant.

SABINE THEATRE CHANGES WEEKLY SHOW SCHEDULE

B. A. Alford, owner of Sabine Theatre, announces the following schedule for the theatre, effective May 1:

Three shows will be shown each week. One movie will be Scheduled Saturday night, Sunday and Monday; one for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday; and one for Friday and Saturday, making a total of three changes for each week.

Bonds Would Purchase New Water, Gas, Sewer Systems

An election will be held at the Community Hall Saturday, May 3, with voters deciding whether or not they wish to give the City Council authority to issue revenue bonds that will make possible the construction of a sewage system, a gas system, and a waterworks system. All qualified voters of the City of Pineland, who own taxable property, previously rendered for taxation, will be eligible to vote.

The City Council of Pineland, composed of Carl H. Sanders, Mayor; Louis Bell, R. S. Rasbury, W. S. Burch, Halbert Jordan, and Orville Crocker, Aldermen, at a meeting April 9, 1958, passed a resolution that the issuance of revenue bonds was advisable. With the exception of Mr. Crocker, who was absent at this meeting, all votes were affirmative.

The Council voted that the election should be held on the above mentioned date at which time the proposal of various revenue bonds should be submitted to the residents for vote.

Resident qualified voters will receive ballots at the Church of Nacogdoches; Vice Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias Lodge 106 of Nacogdoches.

May 3 election prepared in conformity with Chapter 6, V.A.T.S. Election Code, as amended, with the following propositions submitted thereon:

Proposition Number 1. "For the issuance of $64,000 revenue bonds for purchasing, constructing and improving a waterworks system and pledging the net revenue of the waterworks, gas and sewer systems to the payment thereof; and authorizing the mortgage and encumbrance of such systems."

Proposition Number 2. "For the issuance of $21,000 revenue bonds for purchasing, constructing and improving a gas system and pledging the net revenues of the waterworks, gas, and sewer systems to the payment thereof; and authorizing the mortgage and encumbrance of such systems."

Proposition Number 3. "For the issuance of $115,000 revenue bonds for purchasing, constructing and improving a sewer system and pledging the net revenues of the waterworks, gas and sewer systems to the payment thereof; and authorizing the mortgage and encumbrance of such systems."

The votes authorizing the City Council to issue the revenue bonds will in no way raise the rates of taxation in the city of Pineland, Mayor Carl Sanders points out. The bonds which will mature serially over a period of not to exceed 30 years from their date, will bear an interest rate of 4 3/4% per annum, payable annually or semi-annually.

Both principal and interest on the bonds will be paid from the revenues derived from the waterworks, gas works, and sewer systems. The City Council will have the right to mortgage and encumber the systems, or the revenues from them, or both for the payment of principal and interest on the bonds, after the deduction of the reasonable expense of operating and maintaining the systems are decided.

Mayor Sanders stresses the fact that the bonds issued will be special obligations of the city, not the voter. Votes cast will be solely in order to authorize the City Council to issue Revenue Bonds.

Presiding election judge will be Mrs. A. B. Clark. Assistant Judge will be Mrs. B. C. King, and Mrs. J. H. Coody will act as clerk.

Lindsey, Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. Harold Roberts; historian, Mrs. Burnis Graham; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harry Low, and parliamentarian, Mrs. Ben Smith, Jr. Installation to be at the May meeting.

Out-going president, Mrs. J. W. Bertrand reported that $700 had been donated to the school library during the year. She reminded the members that $100 was being donated next month for the annual junior-senior banquet, a motion unanimously voted at a previous meeting.

Mrs. John Lindsey introduced Judge Joe Fisher who was speaker of the afternoon.

New Sawmill Put Into Operation at Pineland

Officials of Southern Pine Lumber Company were pleased for many reasons when the new Pineland sawmill went into operation this week. Not the least of these is because it will furnish the raw material for Southern Pine Lumber Company's new insulation board plant at Diboll.

The "bark edges" and slabs from the hardwood logs sawed at Pineland will be processed into four to five million dollars worth of exterior sheathing, roof insulation, acoustical tile and other products in Southern Pine Lumber Company's new Templebord plant at Diboll.

The chips from bark edges and slab will have an estimated value for the Pineland operation of one-half million dollars per year.

Most old-time lumbermen know that hardwood bark edges and slabs have been wasted until now for a lack of use for them. The new product of Southern Pine Lumber Company creates improved markets for low grade hardwoods and more than one hundred new jobs all based on this "waste" product, according to officials.

The worth of the new product will go into greater timber utilization, payrolls, plant costs, return on investment and will represent additional wealth for the Deep East Texas economy.

Mrs. Ben Smith Is Star Reporter

Farm Housing Loans Now Available Here

An expanded farm housing loan program, designed to speed up farm building construction improvement as well as an additional anti-recession measure, was announced today by Walter T. McKay, Farmers Home Administration State Director, according to C. Windrow Payne the agency's local County Supervisor.

Now an owner of a farm in agricultural production and on which the operator plans to produce at least $400 worth of farm commodities for sale or home use may qualify for 4 per cent long-term housing loan provided that he meets other standard eligibility requirements.

Formerly an eligible applicant had to own a farm that produced a more substantial part of the operator's annual cash income.

Loans may be made to build, improve, or repair farm houses or other essential farm buildings, and to provide water for farmstead and household use. Mr. Payne said that in addition to financing major construction, the loan funds can help meet many other needs for farm and farm home modernization such as adding bathrooms, utility rooms, better kitchens, and many other improvements to the home as well as to farm service buildings. While tenants and farm laborers are not eligible, the owner may borrow to do the construction work or make improvements for them.

The loans are made to farm owners who need credit to finance building improvements or repairs, but find that adequate credit is not available through banks or other regular credit channels. The interest rate is 4 per cent and loans may be authorized over periods up to 33 years.

Eligibility for loan assistance is determined by the three-member County Farmers Home Administration Committee, and applications are now being accepted in FHA county offices.

Traffic Laws On Your Side

"Traffic laws are on your side -- you should know and obey them!"

J. O. Musick, General Manager of the Texas Safety Association, made this statement today as he urged the public program currently being conducted by TSA and the National Safety Council as a part of the nationwide Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents campaign.

"You can't afford to be careless or thoughtless in traffic," Musick said. "Your life depends on your behind-the wheel behavior."

The safety expert urged the citizens of Texas to obey traffic laws to the letter. He said that some drivers knowingly play dangerous angles and short cuts -- they jump red lights at intersections, never really stop at stop signs and overdrive the speed limit. He said that these drivers too often end up paying a high price for their lawlessness -- a serious injury and sometimes death.

"If every driver would realize that the traffic laws are on his side, he wouldn't think of disregarding them," Musick said. "When you drive faster than the speed limit, make wrong turns, go through red lights or stop signs or pass improperly, you run these risks -- pairs, towing costs, medical bills, lost wages, damage suits, lawyer's fees and loss of your driver's license. Add to these the suffering and anguish even a minor traffic accident causes and you have a real case for safe driving."

He emphasized that every Texan should make it his personal project to get behind traffic officials and help make 1958 the decisive year for traffic safety.

Sabinetown Philosopher

Says Scientists Are Fire But They Don't Have All The Answers

Editor's note: The Sabinetown Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on the Sabine River gives an unscientific discussion of science this week, his letter reveals.

Dear editor:
Last night I was reading in a copy of a magazine which a friend handed me, I've heard you're not supposed to look a gift horse in the mouth or a used car under the hood, but still I figured a magazine is put out to be read and what attracted me in this one was an article on the school system.

According to it, the American school system is far behind the Russian system, and the main trouble with ours is that we're not turning out enough scientists.

Now I know that everybody is talking about science today, about how we've got to develop more, pay them more, pay teachers better to turn out more, etc., and how the future of mankind rests in the scientist's hand.

In fact, some people are saying that what this country needs is more scientists in positions of leadership. Maybe a scientist for President.

Well, now, I'll tell you. I'm in favor of scientists, and I'm especially in favor of scientific results, like a flat-proof tractor tire, but science isn't everything and the scientific attitude doesn't answer all the problems. I'm not acquainted with any live scientists, at least there aren't any living out here, probably not the right kind of soil, but I have a notion that even the purest scientist must have his common troubles.

Don't scientists have unpaid bills, don't they get bad colds, don't they occasionally turn up with a delinquent child the same as other human beings? How would a scientist go about fighting a recession? Is there a scientific formula for arranging for the nations of the world to get along with each other? Can a scientist figure out a scientific system for getting elected to Congress? How's he stand on taxes?

Some day scientists may even grow all the world's food in test tubes, providing us unscientific people will keep them in laboratories, but until they do somebody's got to go up one row and down another if the world is going to keep on eating. For every man launched into space, somebody's got to launch a good many tractors up and down the rows of America.

Maybe the Russians can order a thousand new scientists to be turned out every two weeks in their school system, but over here we sort of let things turn out as they will. I don't mean we shouldn't offer more science courses, but what a boy turns into in this country is mostly the boy's choice. It may not be very scientific, but freedom, like a session of Congress, is no exact science anyway. I don't know whether our school system is behind Russia's or not, but if it has to produce a Stalin or a Khrushchev to catch up, it's just as soon it slid along like it is.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Seniors Honored With Banquet

The W.M.S., First Baptist Church, honored graduating seniors and high school teachers Friday evening at 7:30 with a banquet at the church.

Theme of the banquet was "Good Luck", and flower arrangements were centered in golden horse shoes.

Rev. Bill Gurthie of Jasper was speaker for the evening, using as his subject "What the Best Dressed Woman or Man Wears", and defining under this topic the moral characteristics of integrity, sincerity, and determination. His Bible text was Romans 13:13-14.

The East Texas Baptist College male quartet from Marshall furnished entertainment for the evening.

BRYANT HIGH

The Bryant High School has made it a custom through the years to show courtesy and appreciation to the school board of the Pineland Independent District. We feel at this time that it is fitting after the kind consideration this organization has given us, to extend to them on April 25th an invitation to a 7:00 dinner. The menu will consist of the following: southern fried chicken, fluff potatoes, creamed asparagus, glazed carrots, pear salad, hot rolls, lemon pie alamo and coffee.

Mrs. Belle B. Adams, English teacher, attended the fifth annual English Language-Arts Institute on March 22 at Prairie View Agriculture and Mechanical College, Prairie View, Texas. Institute theme was "Mid-Twentieth Century: Launching a Language Arts Program for a New Age."

Those visiting in the home of Mrs. Eunis Whitehead over the weekend were Sid Dickerson and family of Groves and two daughters, Mrs. C. B. Jacks of Sour Lake and Mrs. C. F. White of Hemphill with their respective families.

Lumber Ass'ns To Advertise Wood Products

When the great regional lumber associations who comprise National Lumber Manufacturers Association voted individually this month to underwrite a $1,250,000 advertising program for wood, the forest products industry moved into a new era.

Southern Pine Association and Southern Hardwood Producers Institute, who represent the interests of the Deep East Texas producers, actively participated in conceiving, shaping and finalizing the program. The object of the national advertising and promotion program will be to educate the using public on the superior merits of wood over such war-expanded substitutes as gypsum, aluminum, steel, brick and concrete.

Forestry practices which have given the southern forest industries leadership in a nation of timber growers have made necessary the expansion of markets to absorb the increased timber supply, according to officials of NLMA.

The forest products industry is now a permanent, expanding and constantly improving modern industry because of the permanent nature of its source of raw materials.

Payrolls in East Texas alone exceed $200,000,000 per year from this source, it was announced.

The new production program will commence appearing in national magazines and other advertising media in the fall of '58, according to present estimates.

The Nation Pays a Premium for the Lumber We Produce Here ...

PREMIUM VALUE!

This premium value lumber is right here at your doorstep — and it's called Texas Grown, Kiln Dried, SPIB Grade-Marked Southern Yellow Pine.

The strong, properly seasoned, well manufactured lumber produced by Southern Pine Lumber Company goes to all parts of the nation and brings a higher price. Why? Because it is recognized for its premium value.

This quality southern pine made here at home bears a minimum freight cost so it comes to home folks as a better buy than anywhere else in the nation. It stands to reason that imported lumber, which commands so poor a market nationally that it can bear in many cases a 50% mark-up in price for freight alone and still sell here in the same price range, cannot match the value of what folks here in this area produce.

The prospective home owner should pay particular attention to the KIND of lumber which goes into his home. One good way to protect your home investment is to ask your retail lumber dealer for Texas Grown, Kiln Dried, SPIB Grade-Marked Southern Yellow Pine from Southern Pine Lumber Company. It is identified by SPIB No. 77!

Egg Coolers A Hot Weather Must

College Station—When temperatures soar upwards, egg quality and price drop unless poultrymen provide refrigeration equipment for their operations, says F. Z. Beanblossom, extension poultry marketing specialist.

A mechanically refrigerated egg-holding room provides the most satisfactory method for farm holding and cooling of eggs, says Beanblossom.

He points out the cost is relatively low for commercial producers. For example, on a unit that would handle a 2,000-bird flock laying 20 to 24 cases per week, the fixed costs (depreciation, interest on investment and maintenance and repairs) would be $60 per year, or five and three-fourths cents per case.

Studies on operating costs indicate that one and one-half and Sharon visited relatives in Lufkin Sunday. Mr. Culbertson attended an annual bankers convention in Huntsville Monday.

kw-hr. of electricity per case of eggs cooled is required. The electric rate determines the actual cost, but for the average producer this will be three to five cents per case.

So, the total cost to operate such a cooler would be eight and three-fourths to 10 and three-fourths cents per case, or about one-third per cent per dozen eggs, says the specialist. For maximum efficiency the cooler should be operated as near to capacity as possible. For more information and assistance regarding this problem, Beanblossom suggests obtaining a copy of B-810, "Environment Affects Market Value of Eggs", from local county agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Jasper Rodeo Set for May 7-10

The 11th Jasper World Championship Rodeo May 7-10 will have as its star attraction Dale Robertson, motion picture actor and depicter of TV's Jim Hardie, Wells Fargo agent in NBC's "Tales of Wells Fargo" series seen Monday evenings on Channel 9.

Mr. Robertson, who stands a tall six feet, was born in Oklahoma City and attended grade school there. At Oklahoma Military College, Claremore, Oklahoma, he won 28 letters and was voted the college's outstanding athlete. Besides playing halfback on the football team, he played guard on the basketball squad, was pitcher on the baseball team and won trophies for boxing, tennis, golf, swimming and polo. He also studied law.

During the summers Mr.

Robertson worked as a shipping clerk, pack-hammer operator, and as a cowpoke on the family ranch, where besides the usual fence riding, he trained horses for polo playing.

In September, 1942, Dale joined the Army as a private. He rose to first lieutenant with the 332nd Combat Engineer Battalion with General Patton's Third Army.

On leave one weekend when he was stationed at San Luis Obispo, Robertson went into a Hollywood photographic studio to have a picture made for his mother. The photographer put the picture in display window and soon found himself turning away movie agents hunting Dale. Ironically, after the war - when he was free to pursue movie agents - Dale found no one wanted him.

Deciding to go to Hollywood - wanted or not - Mr. Robertson enrolled in night classes at UCLA to study film editing, stage designing, and writing to learn all he could about the background of the acting profession.

In June, 1949, Robertson landed in "The Fighting Man of the Plains" which Nat Holt was producing. When the movie was previewed, Dale was mobbed when he left the theater.

"It was one of the most enthusiastic demonstrations in movie history," Nat Holt commented, "and it was valid. No young man could have that many relatives."

Darrel F. Zanuck called Dale to Twentieth Century Fox for a screen test and signed him to a 7 year contract where he starred in such movies as "Two Flags West", "Call Me Mister", "Take Care of My Little Girl", "Lydia Bailey", "O'Henry's Full House", "The Farmer Takes A Wife" and many more.

Dale has appeared on practically every top dramatic television program, although "Tales of Wells Fargo" is his first try at a series. Next to acting and roping he likes to write while photography and music, particularly classical, are his favorites.

Mr. Robertson has four horses stabled at his home in Seunlveda, 3 dogs and 13 parakeets. He raises polo ponies for racing and owns one of California's showiest saddles - a $5000 silver-mounted one given to him by Bill Likins, owner of the Flying L Ranch at Davis, Oklahoma, in appreciation for the fame Dale has brought to that state.

HOW MUCH IS BROILER LITTER WORTH AS FERTILIZER?

Every broiler grower or farmer who has used much broiler litter does not have to be told that it is an excellent fertilizer. But do you know just how valuable it is?

Did you know that the broiler, which is our most efficient farm animal in turning feed into meat, returns 81% of the nitrogen, 88% of the phosphoric acid and 95% of the potash in that feed to the growers in manure? Therefore, in general, every time you buy 1000 pounds of broiler feed you get back in the manure the equivalent of 100 pounds of 24-15-7 fertilizer, which would cost more than $5 when bought as chemical fertilizer.

The broiler grower who feeds out four batches of 6000 broilers each in a year (assuming a 4 per cent mortality and 3 pounds selling weight at 9 weeks of age and assuming a loss of 30 per cent of the nitrogen voided in the manure) would have the equivalent of 20 tons of 10-8-6 fertilizer with of value of approximately $11.00 This litter would have the same fertilizing value as 600 pounds per acre of 10-8-6 on 66 acres of land.
