LEADING OAK FLOORING MANAGER VISITS PINELAND PLANT

Pictured above at right is W. W. Miller, Jr. of Miller Brothers Company in Johnson City, Tennessee who came to Pineland July 23 to see the new oak flooring plant of Southern Pine Lumber Company. Miller Brothers, long recognized as one of the leaders among quality oak flooring manufacturers in the United States, makes a complete line of oak flooring.

"We don't miss any trick to keep abreast of the latest developments in efficient flooring manufacture," said Miller to a Pineland Star reporter. "For some months I had been hearing about this plant here in Pineland and frankly could not believe that it was so well laid out and carefuly planned to control quality. Now that I have seen it, I can truthfully say that it is one of the two or three model plants in the nation.

Miller is currently president of National Oak Flooring Manufacturers Association, to whom most quality oak flooring producers belong for the maintenance of high standards.

The first Monday in September was set as the school opening date, and holidays will be announced at a later date according to Mr. M. M. Miller, superintendent.

The public is entitled to examine at any time the school's budget. Mr. Miller stated that he would be happy to show anyone interested the school budget system and the source of income.

VISITORS COMPLIMENT PINELANDERS ON JULY 4 CELEBRATION

Box 483
Uvalde, Texas
July 12, 1958

Dear Mr. Temple,

I did not get to visit with you personally during the Open House and Homecoming program at Pineland last week therefore, I want to take this method of extending my congratulations for a good job well done. Mrs. Morris and I worked for the Pineland School for about twenty years, so you can realize the we enjoyed seeing all of the "Old Timers". It was also a special treat to visit the modern industrial plant that you have developed there. It is very different from the saw mill which we left there fourteen years ago.

We are grateful for the opportuntiy which we had of shairing in the splendid program and want to extend our best wishes to you and your associates in the industrial development of East Texas..

Sincerely,
M. B. Morris

Port Arthur, Texas
July 8, 1958

Dear Mr. Milner,

I would like to use your paper to extend my "thanks" to the people who made "Pineland on Parade" such a great success.

And to the person or persons who made the bar-be-cue, "it was delicious". I love bar-be-cue and I have bought it from many places but that was the best I have ever eaten .

The fireworks were really beautiful, and I know the children will happily remember them when they have children of their own (confidentially we adults enjoyed them just as much, didn't we?)

Again I thank each of you for the nicest Independence Day I've had in a long, long time.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Harold Adams

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS OF HOW TO GET ALONG WITH PEOPLE

The Ten Commandments of How to Get Along With People

1. Keep skid chains on your tongue; always say less than you think. Cultivate a low, persuasive voice. How you say it often counts more than what you say.
2. Make promises sparingly and keep them faithfully, no matter what it costs you.
3. Never let an opportunity pass to say a kind and encouraging thing to or about somone. Praise good work done, regardless of who did it. If criticism is needed criticize helpfully, never spitefully.
4. Be interested in others, interested in their pursuits, and families. Make merry with those that rejoice; with those who weep, mourn. Let everyone you meet, however humble, feel that you regard them as one of importance.
5. Bee cheerful, Keep the corners of your mouth turned up. Hide your pains, worries and disapointments under a smile. Laugh at good stories and learn to tell them.
6. Preserve an open mind on all debatable questions. Discuss but do not argue. It is a mark of superior minds to disagree and yet to be friendly.
7. Let your virtues, if you have any, speak for themselves, and refuse to talk of others vices. Discourage gossip, Make it a rule to say nothing of another unless it is something good.

discourage gossip, Make it feelings Wit and humor at the other fellow's expenses are rarely worth the effort, and may hurt where least expected.

9. Pay no attention to ill-natured remarks about you. Simply live that nobody will believe them. Disordered nerves and a bad digestion are a common cause of bad biting.

MAKE THE MOST OF IT

According to the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, 5 of each six new homes has a structure of lumber.

The average per house ranges from 8,000 to 10.000 board feet.

The Southern Pine Association adds that both important savings and striking visual effects can be achieved by making parts of the wood perform double duty.

For instance, the exposure of the roof structure on the house interior can give an attractive ceiling while eliminating the need for expensive finish materials. The warm, natural texture of the beams and rafters provides the decoration.

The Association also declares that all structural lumber amounts to only 10 percent of the overall house cost. This permits use of good quality material even on a modest budget. The presence of a good grade, properly seasoned, assures maximum efficiency and lasting performance by the house itself.

COUNTERACTION

If your rooms have wide, floor length windows, it's advisable to panel at least one of the interior walls with wood, the Southern Pine Association declares. The warm, relaxing effect of the wood paneling pleasantly offsets any glare from the glass.

CHANGED CONCEPT

Stark, white splashed walls that used to be traditional with hospitals hardly were conducive to the patient's peace of mind.

Recognizing this fact, hospital designers in recent years have turned to subdued greens and other less blatant colors, the Southern Pine Association declares. Also, in many cases, modern hospitals exhibit wood plank-and-beam ceilings and wood paneling to take advantage of the naturally soothing effect of the material on patient's nerves.
