

Serving Physical and Spiritual Needs

Keep these ideas in mind as you study Unit 3, Session 14.

The Black Death was a deadly disease that seemed to spread without a cause. Known as the bubonic plague, we know now that it was spread by fleas on rats. The Black Death put a strain on the Church because many caretakers became ill and died while tending to others. PAGE 116

Through the Corporal Works of Mercy, the Church calls us to care for people's material needs. Through the Spiritual Works of Mercy, the Church calls us to care for people's emotional and spiritual needs. PAGE 116

Conditions in the Middle Ages, including the Black Death, caused governments, people, and the Church to struggle. In 1309, the pope moved to Avignon, France, as a result of unrest in Rome. PAGE 117

The Great Schism was the time when Christians were confused and nations took sides. Between 1378 and 1417, two or three men claimed that they were pope at the same time. PAGE 117

Some men are called by God to be sacramental priests and to receive the Sacrament of Holy Orders. Ordination gives priests the authority that Jesus gave his disciples to celebrate the Eucharist and preach the Gospel. PAGE 118

Just as the Apostles went forth after receiving the Holy Spirit on Pentecost, so you will be called to go forth after receiving the Holy Spirit at Confirmation. To become a priest, a man must first be ordained a deacon. Some men choose to be permanent deacons and dedicate themselves to serving others. They may be married. PAGE 119

The two sacraments that make up the Sacraments at the Service of Communion are Holy Orders and Matrimony. In both sacraments, God gives us the grace to serve him and others. PAGE 119

An annulment is a finding by a Church tribunal that at least some element of a sacramental marriage was not present on the wedding day. If the Church declares through an annulment that a sacramental marriage did not exist, divorced Catholics may remarry and receive Holy Communion. PAGE 119
