The design expresses contemporary Egyptian identity that has been actualized along a rich architectural heritage, strongly attached to the ground, inward looking and comprehensive design.

Year: 2000
Owner: Ministry of Foreign Affairs
Location: Berlin, Germany
Cost: 7,000,000 D.M.

Program: Ground floor; reception and office + gardens
Upper floor; living area, 4 bedrooms, guest suite + services

The document includes diagrams of the first, second, and ground floor plans.

The text in Arabic translates to "The Egyptian Ambassador Residence in Berlin.

The design expresses the contemporary Egyptian identity that has been actualized along a rich architectural heritage, strongly attached to the ground, inward looking and comprehensive design.

Year: 2000
Owner: Ministry of Foreign Affairs
Location: Berlin, Germany
Cost: 7,000,000 D.M.

Program: Ground floor; reception and office + gardens
Upper floor; living area, 4 bedrooms, guest suite + services

The document includes diagrams of the first, second, and ground floor plans.

The Arabic text translates to "The design expresses the contemporary Egyptian identity that has been actualized along a rich architectural heritage, strongly attached to the ground, inward looking and comprehensive design.

Year: 2000
Owner: Ministry of Foreign Affairs
Location: Berlin, Germany
Cost: 7,000,000 D.M.

Program: Ground floor; reception and office + gardens
Upper floor; living area, 4 bedrooms, guest suite + services

The document includes diagrams of the first, second, and ground floor plans."