2025 CURRICULUM RESOURCE GUIDE

About Enduring Faith® Religion Curriculum

This line of curriculum balances biblical literacy and life application in each lesson. It includes 70 lessons divided across 8 units to cover the scope of the Bible. This aligned format allows students to learn the same overarching Bible narratives across different grade levels, using spiraled reinforcement. Each level has a designated Teacher Guide, and each grade level from Preschool through Grade 8 has a Student Book.

Additional Benefits

- Lesson customization, including Lesson Support, Lesson Extenders, and Unit Extenders
- Digital tools, including teacher devotions, family notes, videos, and more
- Integrated Lutheran Religion Standards for a lifetime of growing in Christian discipleship

About Resilient Minds

Resilient Minds is a Christ-centered mental health curriculum for students in 5th–6th, 7th–8th, and 9th–12th grades. The curriculum includes 12 lessons and covers topics such as anxiety, emotions, Christian identity, and resiliency with a biblical lens.

It's important to know that this curriculum is not intended to be used to diagnose or treat mental health conditions. Resilient Minds was intentionally developed with a strength-based approach so that youth can be equipped with practical mental health knowledge and coping strategies to implement throughout life.

Curriculum Materials

Teacher Guide

The Teacher Guide provides learning objectives, contextual information, and helpful lesson extenders for instruction. Purchase of the Teacher Guide also grants access to a slide presentation for each lesson. The 5th–6th and 7th–8th grade levels include editable Family Letters that can be sent home to inform parents about topics and further communication about mental health outside the classroom.

Student Book

Each Student Book has four pages per lesson. The pages include Scripture, charts, questions, graphics, and tips for mental wellness. Books cover the same topics but are written for each grade level's specific maturity.

Christ-Centered

Where many mental health resources employ empty self-help platitudes, Resilient Minds emphasizes students' dignity and value in their Redeemer, Jesus Christ.

Strength-Based

Resilient Minds uses a proactive approach, equipping students with wellness tools so they can respond in a healthy and constructive way when difficulties arise.

Expert-Developed

Resilient Minds is created and vetted by experts in the field. Authors include leaders in Christian higher education, Belinda Dunnick Karge, PhD, and Kara Bratton, PhD, and a licensed mental health counselor, Jeremiah Stokes, EDD, LMHC, NCC.

Lay the foundation of mental health basics and strategies with younger middle schoolers.

Learning About Sex Education Curriculum

Teach children about God’s gifts of identity and sexuality with clear and age-appropriate curriculum. Learning About Sex includes curriculum for four age levels: 3–5, 6–8, 9–11, and 12–14. Materials for ages 9–14 are split between boys and girls for a more comfortable learning experience. Each level offers four lessons that appropriately address the following topics:

- Identity and calling
- Health, safety, and growth
- Family and relationships
- Creation and life

You can confidently and lovingly teach your students these important topics with the help of the included teacher leaflets, parent letters, student worksheets, slides, videos, and songs.

Curriculum Principles

- God’s Word is the basis for a true understanding of human sexuality.
- A person is more than a physical body. God created people with physical, social, mental, emotional, and spiritual aspects to our being.
- Every person has been purposefully and uniquely created by God and is loved by Him.
- Early and ongoing teaching and understanding of God’s good design for human sexuality lays the foundation for a biblically-based, God-pleasing lifestyle.

Enduring Faith® Confirmation Journal

Life is a journey, ups and downs included. As disciples of Christ, we pause on this journey to publicly confirm our baptismal faith in the Rite of Confirmation. This is not merely a formality—it's a commitment to follow Christ for the rest of our days.

The Guided by Truth: Enduring Faith Confirmation Journal is a tool for confirmation students to use along this leg of their journey. Eight units of content can be covered at any pace, providing an opportunity for students to read about and reflect upon the Christian faith. After each unit, leaders check in with each student to touch base and answer questions.
