MENTOR PROGRAM

As you begin your journey toward becoming a mentor, you will need to thoroughly understand the role of mentoring. You will act as role model, motivator, advocates, and friends. You will need to understand the need to assume a number of different roles during the course of a mentoring relationship, but successful mentors also share the same basic qualities:

➢ A sincere desire to be involved with a colleague.
➢ Respect for your colleague.
➢ Active listener.
➢ Empathy.
➢ See solutions and opportunities.
➢ Be flexible and open.

As you and your Mentee begin your relationship; exploring values, interests and goals, you will find yourself making a difference and having a positive effect on their life. What you may also be surprised to see is that you will be learning more about yourself, too. Mentoring is a shared opportunity for learning and growth. Many Mentors say that the rewards they gain are as substantial as those for their Mentees. Mentors are willing to take time to get to know their Mentees, to learn new things that are important to your colleagues, and even to be changed by their relationship. Accept the challenges and rewards of mentoring a colleague and experience the benefits that will last each of you a lifetime.
