

Your community deserves IT that works as hard as the people who serve it.

The Problem Every Procurement Leader Knows

Your government IT needs are real, complex, and urgent — but your budget isn't unlimited, your staff aren't cybersecurity specialists, and the big national vendors treat small and mid-sized communities like afterthoughts. You need a partner who has done this before, who knows the rules you operate under, and who picks up the phone.

What We Deliver

Cybersecurity & Threat Monitoring

Around-the-clock protection for the systems your community depends on

Managed IT & Help Desk

Fast, human support — not a bot, not a ticket queue, a person

Cloud Migration & Infrastructure

Move at your pace, on your budget, without disrupting operations

CJIS & HIPAA Compliance

Sensitive data handled by a team already cleared for it

E-Rate Solutions

Maximizing federal funding for schools and libraries

IT Strategy & Roadmapping

A technology partner at the table, not just a vendor on a contract

Why Istonish Is Different

We built this company around government. Not as a line of business — as our entire mission.

- Large enough to deliver enterprise-grade security and infrastructure — small enough that you're not a ticket number.
- We understand procurement. NASPO ValuePoint means you can contract with us today without a separate RFP process.
- We know your departments — police, courts, public works, health — and the compliance requirements that come with each one.
- Our support team is in the U.S., answering calls, not triaging overseas.
- We've served communities from Paonia to the City of Denver. We scale to you.
- We bring emerging technology — AI automation, cloud analytics, predictive infrastructure — to communities that thought it was out of reach.

The NASPO ValuePoint contract is already done. The only question is what we build together.

Let's talk about your community's biggest IT challenge — and how Istonish solves it.
