

Best Practices

Optum Rx follows the PMI best practice methodologies throughout the lifecycle of a project. The project team is equipped with PMP certified projects managers that will work with the project team to align activities to the PMBOK best practices. The Project Management team has also worked through lessons learned activity to create in-house best practices that will benefit this implementation and drive high quality through the project.

The Project team is equipped with reusable and standardized documentation that will be leveraged and adapted appropriately to align with the State. While a best practice and standardized process is the preferred approach, we also understand that strategic thinking can be useful to ensure adaptability across teams.
