Soft Skills are vital for a successful career. Being able to communicate effectively is one of the most important skills. Communication is defined as transferring information to produce greater understanding. It can be done vocally (through verbal exchanges), through written media (books, websites and magazines), visually (using graphs, charts) or non-verbally (body language, gestures, pitch of voice, and tone). All means of communication are essential. Interpersonal skills are the skills required to effectively communicate, interact, and work with individuals and groups. Those with good interpersonal skills are strong verbal and non-verbal communicators and are often considered to be “good with people”. Having strong communication skills aids in all aspects of life – from professional life to personal life.

Soft Skills is a very popular term nowadays, used to indicate personal transversal competences such as social aptitudes, language and communication capability, friendliness and ability of working in team and other personality traits that characterize relationships between people. Soft Skills are strategic to be successful in personal and professional life and also essential for the students when they try to obtain any kind of job.
