Agenda No.-2. To discuss about agencies for granting a patent.

Agencies for granting a patent.

Sr. No.	Details of Agency for granting patent	Type of Patent
1	Controller General of Patents, Designs, and Trade Marks, Government of India	The two types of patents can be granted • Provisional Application • Ordinary Application • Convention Application • PCT International Application • Pct National Phase Application • Patent Of Addition • Divisional Application For details Visit https://ipindia.gov.in/
2	IP Australia	For details Visit https://www.ipaustralia.gov.au/patents
3	US patent and Trademark Office	For details Visit https://www.uspto.gov/patents
4	UK Patent	For details Visit https://www.gov.uk/topic/intellectual-property/patents

- Type of Patent to be filled in the specific country

Patents should be obtained in each country where the applicant requires protection of his invention.

A) PROVISIONAL APPLICATION

Indian Patent Law follows first to file system. A provisional application is an application which can be filed if the invention is still under experimentation stage. Filing a provisional specification provides the advantage to the inventor since it helps in establishing a —priority date of the invention. Further, the inventor gets 12 months' time to fully develop the invention and ascertain its market potential and to file the complete specification.

B) ORDINARY APPLICATION

An application for patent filed in the Patent Office without claiming any priority either in a convention country or without any reference to any other earlier application under process in the office. Such type of application is known an ordinary application.

C) CONVENTION APPLICATION

An application for patent filed in the Patent Office, claiming a priority date based on the same or substantially similar application filed in one or more of the convention countries is known as a convention application. In order to get convention status, an applicant should file the application in the Indian Patent Office within 12 months from the date of first filing of a similar application in the convention country.

D) PCT INTERNATIONAL APPLICATION

An Application filed in India as Receiving Office (RO) under Patent Cooperation Treaty is an international application which can be filed in more than 150 countries by a single application.

E) PCT NATIONAL PHASE APPLICATION

When an international application is made according to PCT designating India, an applicant can file the national phase application in India within 31 months from the international filing date or the priority date, whichever is earlier.

F) PATENT OF ADDITION

When an invention is a slight modification of the earlier invention for which he has already applied for or has obtained patent, the applicant can go for patent of addition if the modification in the invention is new. One of the benefits of filing patent of addition is that there no need to pay separate renewal fee for the patent of addition during the term of the main patent and it expires along with the main patent.

G) DIVISIONAL APPLICATION

When an application claims more than one invention, the applicant on his own or to meet the official objection on the ground of plurality or distinct invention may divide the application and file two or more applications, as the case may be for each of the inventions. This type of application, divided out of the parent one, is known a Divisional Application. The priority date for all the divisional applications will be same as that of the main (the Parent) Application (Ante-dating).

- Type of Patent to be filled in the specific country

Patents should be obtained in each country where the applicant requires protection of his invention.

A) PROVISIONAL APPLICATION

Indian Patent Law follows first to file system. A provisional application is an application which can be filed if the invention is still under experimentation stage. Filing a provisional specification provides the advantage to the inventor since it helps in establishing a —priority date of the invention. Further, the inventor gets 12 months' time to fully develop the invention and ascertain its market potential and to file the complete specification.

B) ORDINARY APPLICATION

An application for patent filed in the Patent Office without claiming any priority either in a convention country or without any reference to any other earlier application under process in the office. Such type of application is known an ordinary application.

C) CONVENTION APPLICATION

An application for patent filed in the Patent Office, claiming a priority date based on the same or substantially similar application filed in one or more of the convention countries is known as a convention application. In order to get convention status, an applicant should file the application in the Indian Patent Office within 12 months from the date of first filing of a similar application in the convention country.

D) PCT INTERNATIONAL APPLICATION

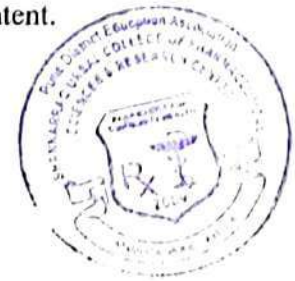

An Application filed in India as Receiving Office (RO) under Patent Cooperation Treaty is an international application which can be filed in more than 150 countries by a single application.

E) PCT NATIONAL PHASE APPLICATION

When an international application is made according to PCT designating India, an applicant can file the national phase application in India within 31 months from the international filing date or the priority date, whichever is earlier.

F) PATENT OF ADDITION

When an invention is a slight modification of the earlier invention for which he has already applied for or has obtained patent, the applicant can go for patent of addition if the modification in the invention is new. One of the benefits of filing patent of addition is that there no need to pay separate renewal fee for the patent of addition during the term of the main patent and it expires along with the main patent.

G) DIVISIONAL APPLICATION

When an application claims more than one invention, the applicant on his own or to meet the official objection on the ground of plurality or distinct invention may divide the application and file two or more applications, as the case may be for each of the inventions. This type of application, divided out of the parent one, is known a Divisional Application. The priority date for all the divisional applications will be same as that of the main (the Parent) Application (Ante-dating).

About the Seminar :

Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) protection plays a key role in gaining an advantageous position in the competitive technology world for achieving economic growth. Pune, the city of the state of Maharashtra is an acclaimed information technology center of the world repute. Thus information on various technological advancements should be disseminated to the users of technology in order for our country to develop faster. Thus a culture to make aware of development of technology to pertinent users is essential. This has become more pronounced in the globalized economy with international agreements and obligations in the fields of IPR in the WTO regime. Huge information is to be provided while filing a patent application in order to ensure full disclosure of the invention.

Intellectual property is a "Product of Mind". It is similar to the property consisting of movable and immovable property which can be used by the owner along and not lawfully by others. Without owner's permission. World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) states that "Intellectual Property includes rights related to works in literary and artistic fields, performance of artists, broadcasts (in the form of CD, DVD, tape recording etc.), inventions in science and technology, industrial designs, trademarks, service marks, etc. It also includes inventions in all fields of human endeavor and protection against unfair competition and all other rights resulting from intellectual activity in the industrial, scientific or artistic fields.

Objectives :

- To create awareness about IPRs, especially patents and copy rights among faculty members of institute of Pharmaceutical sciences.
- To guide researchers/inventors in respect of patenting their inventions.
- To provide insight into practical applications of IP such as patent drafting, patentability search, freedom to operate search, validity invalidity search, evidence of use analysis.

Resource Persons :

Eminent experts from academia and research organisation will address the delegates.

Participants / Eligibility :

The teachers from all colleges and PG, Ph.D students as well as people working in research organisation can attend this programme. The number of participants being limited to 50, registration of candidates will be on the first come first serve basis.

About the Seminar :

In Research Methodology, researcher always tries to search the given question systematically in our own way and find out all the answers till conclusion. If research does not work systematically on problem, there would be less possibility to find out the final result. For finding or exploring research questions, a researcher faces lot of problems that can be effectively resolved with using correct research methodology

The seminar aims at imparting the knowledge of scientific research to integrate qualitative and quantitative approaches in research so that to orient the budding researchers to the new and recent trends in research methodology.

This program will provide an opportunity for participants to enrich their knowledge about selection of research topic, types and techniques of research, research funding, research ethics & application oriented research. The eminent personalities in the concerned fields will be invited to share their views and knowledge.

Objectives :

- Understand some basic concepts of research and its methodologies
- Select and define appropriate research problem and parameters
- Literature survey
- Data collection and data analysis tools for research
- Selection of appropriate statistical and mathematical tools for data analysis
- Organize and conduct research in a more appropriate manner
- Research proposal writing and research funding
- Awareness of plagiarism

The institute is approved by the All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE), Pharmacy Council of India (PCI), recognized by Government of Maharashtra and affiliated to the Savitribai Phule Pune University. The college is conducting B. Pharm. and M. Pharm with specializations in Pharmaceutics and Quality Assurance Techniques. The College is dedicated towards providing quality education to its students through its magnificent infrastructure, well stocked and updated library, spacious computer lab with all facilities, modern labs containing latest equipments and class rooms with LCD projectors. The college has highly qualified and experienced teaching staff to guide the students and embraces an integrated and problem based educational philosophy, hybridizing traditional and modern teaching-learning approaches that stresses heavily on outcome competencies of the graduates.

About the Seminar :

In pharmaceutical & other industries analytical chemistry provides the means of testing raw materials and for assuring the quality of finished products whose chemical composition is critical. Nowaday's instrumental methods of analysis are widely accepted over the classical chemical methods. These methods are extremely sensitive providing precise and detail information from small samples of material. For the most part they are rapidly applied and amenable to automation.

The theme of this national level workshop is "Emerging Trends in Analytical Techniques" which will provide a platform for the discussion of current trends in Analytical techniques. This event gathers all the eminent persons, professors, professionals, students, and industrialists all over the country to exchange their ideas, researchers and to exhibit their novel instruments. The seminar provides an opportunity to discuss and learn about the innovative ideas and technologies inherited in various analytical techniques such as chromatography, spectroscopy, mass spectrometry, characterizations and many more.

Objectives :

1. Faculty members and researchers will have exposure to the emerging trends in analytical chemistry.
2. Researchers engaged in different areas of pharmaceutical research & development will get a platform to discuss various approaches and their viability.
3. Research scholars in the field of analytical chemistry will highlight on the current ongoing in the field to add in the knowledge of participants.
4. Scholars working in this area will address the queries of the participants.
5. Resource persons will emphasize on the various aspects of spectral methods like UV-Vis spectroscopy, IR, NMR, Mass spectroscopies, separation techniques like GC, HPLC, LC-MS, GC-MS.

Resource Persons : Eminent experts from academi... will address the delegates.

Poster Presentation :

Research/review papers are invited for poster presentation at the seminar. Posters will be evaluated by eminent experts. The abstracts for the same can be mailed to barjevijaya2016@gmail.com The last date for submission of abstracts is 14th September 2018. Authors of the selected abstracts will be intimated by e-mail. Registration is compulsory for submission of abstracts.

Note : Abstract should not be more than 200 words.
Poster size should be 1m x 1m.

Participants/eligibility :

Interested teachers of diploma, degree pharmacy colleges and science colleges, P.G./Ph.D. students as well as people working in pharmaceutical & other industries can attend this programme. The number of participants being limited to 50, registration of candidates will be on the first come first serve basis.

Accomodation : Accomodation will be provided to the outstation delegates.

About the College :

Pune District Education Association's Shankarrao Ursal College of Pharmaceutical Sciences & Research Centre, Kharadi, was established in 2009 with the prime aim of providing quality education in the pharmaceutical sciences. The institute is approved by the All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE), Pharmacy Council of India (PCI), recognized by Government of Maharashtra and affiliated to the Savitribai Phule Pune University, Pune. The college is conducting B. Pharm. and M.Pharm with specializations in Pharmaceutics and Quality Assurance Techniques. The college is dedicated towards providing quality education to its students through its magnificent infrastructure, well stocked and updated library, spacious computer lab with all facilities, modern labs containing latest equipments and class rooms with LCD projectors. The college has highly qualified and experienced teaching staff to guide the students and embraces an integrated and problem based educational philosophy, hybridizing traditional and modern teaching-learning approaches that stresses heavily on outcome competencies of the graduates.

About the Seminar :

The pharmaceutical sciences represent an evolving and highly dynamic field for which innovations in the formulation development continues to be driven by the need to improve drug bioavailability and efficacy.

Many therapeutics with their distinct physical, chemical, and biopharmaceutical attributes demands new drug release technologies to diminish barriers for drug delivery, poor bioavailability, instability in GI tract and poor absorption.

In addition, innovations in excipients as well as advances in processing and manufacturing technologies are also impacting formulation development. Need for safer and more consistent drug products are shaping how formulators approach the creation of new products.

So the Recent trends in the formulation and development have overcome these problems and have achieved plasma concentration of drugs within the therapeutic window for a longer period of time in a targeted tissue thereby to ensure uniform therapeutic action with lesser side effects and toxicity, better stability, greater accessibility, ease of administration and most importantly the best patient's compliance.

In this seminar, the issues of formulation development & regulatory affairs will be discussed by eminent resource persons.

It will not only gives an idea on the pharma industries but also creates a unique approach towards novel strategies on formulation development and will focus on the several aspects requiring implementation of novel ideas to improve oral drug delivery systems.

Objectives :

1. To boost collaborative research activities amongst academics and industries by providing knowledge and latest updates in the pharmaceutical field.
2. To uncover the opportunities and challenges in the field of drug delivery system.
3. To identify drug related problems relative to specific patient cases.
4. To provide evidence-based drug information that meets the needs of patients and other health care providers.

Resource Persons :
Eminent experts from academia and industry will address the delegates.

Poster Presentation :
Research/review papers are invited for poster presentation at the seminar. Posters will be evaluated by eminent experts. The abstracts for the same can be mailed to trusha_p10@rediffmail.com and sujitkakade@gmail.com. The last date for submission of abstracts is 17th September 2018. Authors of the selected abstracts will be intimated by e-mail. Registration is compulsory for submission of abstracts.

Note : Abstract should not be more than 200 words.
Poster size should be 1m x 1m.

Participants / Eligibility :

About the Seminar :

Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) protection plays a key role in gaining an advantageous position in the competitive technology world for achieving economic growth. Pune, the city of the state of Maharashtra is an acclaimed information technology center of the world repute. Thus information on various technological advancements should be disseminated to the users of technology in order for our country to develop faster. Thus a culture to make aware of development of technology to pertinent users is essential. This has become more pronounced in the globalized economy with international agreements and obligations in the fields of IPR in the WTO regime. Huge information is to be provided while filing a patent application in order to ensure full disclosure of the invention.

Intellectual property is a "Product of Mind". It is similar to the property consisting of movable and immovable property which can be used by the owner along and not lawfully by others without owner's permission. World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO) states that "Intellectual Property" includes rights related to works in literary and artistic fields, performance of artists, broadcasts (in the form of CD, DVD, tape recording etc.), innovations in science and technology, industrial designs, trademarks, service marks, etc. It also includes inventions in all fields of human endeavor and protection against unfair competition and all other rights resulting from intellectual activity in the industrial, scientific or artistic fields.

Objectives :

- To create awareness about IPRs, especially patents and copy rights among faculty members of institute of Pharmaceutical sciences.
- To guide researchers/inventors in respect of patenting their inventions.
- To provide insight into practical applications of IP such as patent drafting, patentability search, freedom to operate search, validity/invalidity search, evidence of use analysis.

Resource Persons :

Eminent experts from academia and research organisation will address the delegates.

APTI Celebrates 52 Golden Year

OFFICIAL DESK

S.K. Kulkarni
Emeritus Professor
skkulkarni46@gmail.com

Professor Harkishan Singh- a man with a mission*

In 1967-68 I was studying in the final year (1967-68) of the B. Pharmacy course in the Government College of Pharmacy, Bangalore (now Bengaluru) in Karnataka. There was so much of halla gulla about Medicinal Chemistry practical examination that our teacher told us read Morrison & Boyd's Organic Chemistry book. We had only one copy of the book in the library and we used to get it issued turn by turn for overnight home reading. There was a sigh of relief on the day of the examination when we came to know that the examiner who was to come from North India could not make it. The examiner was none other than Professor Harkishan Singh!

It took some years before I would have a close encounter with Professor Harkishan Singh. As destiny would have it I ended up serving Panjab University under his stewardship. When I joined Panjab University in January 1979, Professor Harkishan Singh was the Head of the Department. He was responsible for my joining the University as a teacher.

The man with a mission:

Developing Pharmacology Research at PU:

Professor Harkishan Singh had taken a calculated risk in importing me from America. An unknown entity, South Indian- not sure how long he would stick in an unknown territory and always in the lookout for an opportunity to move back to USA or to some other place (I was appointed to a senior position by the University without an interview, which was constantly questioned by political academics on the campus!). I could see this anxiety playing on his (Professor Singh's) mind. But he had a mission to accomplish, i.e. to establish 'Pharmacology research' in the department. Within months of my joining advancement in area of medicine coupled with consumer demand promised impressive result at exorbitant prices to satisfy the need of brighter and healthier future.

The technical sessions of the seminar started with plenary lecture by Prof. (Dr.) Tejal Mehta, Head, Pharmaceutics, Institute of Pharmacy, Nirma University, Ahmedabad. She delivered lecture entitled as "Prognosticating Approaches for Effective Delivery of Natural Agent in Management of Breast Cancer" followed by session lecture by Dr. Pranav Shah, Professor, Pharmaceutics, Uka Tarsadia University, Surat. He talks about "Diabetes Management through Nanoparticles - Case Study"

On second day, technical session was started with plenary lecture by Prof. (Dr.) Sanjay Kumar Jain, Head, Dept. of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Dr. H. S. Gour, Central University, Sagar, (M.P) He delivered the lecture on topic "Potentials of Nano-constructs for Colon Targeted Drug Delivery" After his interactive talk, the gracing to the event was boosted by presence Dr. Ajay Khopade, Senior Vice President, Sun Pharma Advanced Research, Company Ltd., Vadodara, he addressed the audience on interesting topic "Small is a New Big : A Nanotechnology Products Case Study from Lab to Market".

The session was proceeded further by Prof. (Dr.) Krutika Sawant, Principal, Head, Dept. of Pharmacy, M.S. University, Vadodara. She spoke about "Ultrafine Emulsions: Nano emulsions" followed by session lecture by Dr. Gayatri Patel, Associate Professor, Dept. of Pharmaceutics, Charotar University of Science and Technology, Changa, Anand. She brief on topic "A Science Perspective on the Regulatory Challenges of the Nano-pharmaceuticals" Further the session was proceeded by poster presentation by participants which were judge by team of jury members. The panel of Jury members consists of Dr. Nazneen Surti, Vice Principal, Babaria Institute of Pharmacy, Vadodara, Mr. Rahul Pokharna, Sr. Executive, Global Manufacturing Science and Technology, Sun Pharma, Vadodara and Mr. Deepak Khatri, Manager, Global Manufacturing Science and Technology, Sun Pharma, Vadodara. (57) Abstract :
The present invention relates to the development of predictive QSPR models by correlating the physicochemical properties of varying grades of cellulose ethers (Hydroxypropylmethylcellulose, HPMC) with those of Nateglinide (NTG) containing tablets (in-vitro and in-vivo properties). This led to the generation of several QSPR models, out of which a model with a high coefficient of determination and significant impact of the individual descriptor on the formulation property was selected as the best predictive model for the desired property. The predictability of developed QSPR models was subsequently validated by an accurate external validation method. In-vivo studies showed limited absorption of the NTG. Developed QSPR models showed promising validated predictability for formulation characteristics. The applicability of present work in formulation development could significantly reduce the time and cost expenditure on design trials without actually formulating a delivery system.
