

Thomas E. K. Cerruti, OStJ, is primarily a lawyer and a foundation executive. He was a managing member of a major Western U.S. law firm, where he practiced corporate law. He has also served as an adjunct professor of law, and on numerous bar committees. Tom has served on the boards of, and has held major leadership roles in private charitable foundations, including The ALSAM Foundation, The Geraldine & Emory Ford Foundation, The Skaggs Foundation and The Shiley Foundation.

He has also served on the boards of public institutions, including The Graduate Theological Union at Berkeley, The Scripps Research Institute, The Scripps Clinic, The Skaggs Institute for Research and the Timken Museum of Art.

Tom is a graduate of The College Preparatory School, Claremont McKenna College, and the University of California. He lives in San Diego County, California.