BBN Technologies' OpenMap<sup>TM</sup> package is an Open Source JavaBeans<sup>TM</sup> based programmer's toolkit. Using OpenMap, you can quickly build applications and applets that access data from legacy databases and applications. OpenMap provides the means to allow users to see and manipulate geospatial information. OpenMap is under constant development - the latest version is OpenMap 4.6.5, released March 5, 2009. Note that with v4.6, you need to be using Java 1.4.

You can download a copy for free, use it, and make changes to it. Be sure to read the license before you do.

Since OpenMap is open source, we welcome additions and changes from the user community. We've incorporated a number of contributions, with plenty of submissions available to the user community separate from the official distribution.

BBN Technologies is an innovative research and development company, providing both advanced research and custom, research-based solutions for our customers.
