VLC engine relicensed to LGPL

2011-12-21

As previously stated, VideoLAN worked on the relicensing of libVLC and libVLCcore: the VLC engine.

We are glad to announce that this process is now complete for VLC 1.2. Thanks a lot for the support.

VLC 1.1.13

2011-12-20

VideoLAN and the VLC development team present VLC 1.1.13, a bug and security fix release.

This release was necessary due to a security issue in the TiVo demuxer.

Source code is available.

DVBlast 2.0 and bitStream 1.0

2011-12-15

VideoLAN is happy to announce DVBlast 2.0, the fourth major release of DVBlast. It fixes a number of issues, such as packet bursts and CAM communication problems, adds more configuration options, and improves dvblastctl with stream information. It also gets rid of the runtime dependency on libdvbpsi thanks to bitStream.

VideoLAN is also happy to introduce the first public release of bitStream, a set of C headers allowing a simpler access (read and write) to binary structures such as specified by MPEG, DVB, IETF, etc... It is released under the MIT license to avoid readability concerns being shadowed by license issues. It already has a pretty decent support of MPEG systems packet structures, MPEG PSI, DVB SI, DVB simulcast and IETF RTP.

libaacs 0.3.0

2011-12-02

The doom9 researchers and the libaacs developers would like to present the first official release of their library of the implementation of the libaacs standard.

libaacs 0.3.0 source code can be downloaded on the VideoLAN ftp.

Nota Bene: This library is of no use without AACs keys.

Jean-Baptiste Kempf: VLC 1.2: nouveautés

Un an et demi après la dernière version majeure (1.1.0), VLC revient avec une nouvelle version: 1.2.0, disponible en pré-version de test. L'occasion de revenir sur les nouveautés de cette version. Avec près de 8000 changements fait p[...]

Jean-Baptiste Kempf: VLC 1.2.0 features: part 2, formats

VLC 1.2.0 I've spoken already about VLC 1.2.0, especially about video, video again and authoring. However, I haven't spoken about the format supported in VLC 1.2, even if there were some hints in my last post. Discs and devices Blu-Ra[...]

Jean-Baptiste Kempf: Disc libraries releases: bluray, aacs, dvdcss

So, we are working quite actively on VLC 1.2. Many improvements were merged into VLC 1.2, notably for DVD and Blu-Ray playback. Therefore, there were a few releases of libraries used by VLC, lately. libbluray 0.2.1 A contrario of this [...]

Jean-Baptiste Kempf: Who wrote VLC 1.2?

VLC 1.2 So, VLC 1.2.x is approaching. But who wrote it? Here are some statistics computed by Rémi. You need iframe to read this.[...]
