

Test Paper Generator

Merit students allow institutions to store the repository of questions in a secured and encrypted form. The application allows generating the question paper based on various parameters like total marks, weightage on each chapter/topic, difficulty level of questions etc.

Merit Students allows corporations and institutions to create question bank with various choice of question types. Instructors can set the type of questions like single correct choice or multiple correct choices (more than one correct), or subjective type questions. They can pick questions manually from the question bank and set the test paper. Instructors can use embedded graphics/images as well as text as questions. The test module also helps students take tests on computers and will evaluate as soon as the submit button is clicked. The test scores are stored in the application for future references.
