For the past 20 years, Trans-Tex Software has been dedicated to the principle that software doesn't have to be expensive in order to be useful (and fun)! Apparently many of you agree, therefore a note of thanks to our registered users is in order.

Tex-Edit Plus

Tex-Edit Plus is a scriptable, ASCII text editor that fills the gap between a Apple's bare-bones TextEdit and a full-featured word processor. It's fast, efficient, and has a clean, uncluttered interface. It's also great for cleaning up text which is transmitted over the Internet.

AppleScript is a wonderful, Mac-only technology that allows ordinary people to create automated shortcuts with minimal effort. Doug Adams maintains the official AppleScripts for Tex-Edit Archives, a site filled with hints, tips, examples, and step-by-step instructions for those of you interested in saving time, impressing the boss, and avoiding repetitive stress injuries.

Tex-Edit Plus also supports Apple's new Automator, which has been drastically enhanced for Lion and Mountain Lion, the latest Mac operating systems. With 36 custom Automator actions and unrivalled AppleScript recordability, Tex-Edit allows you to create custom scripts and workflows with the push of a button. Of course, if your time is of little or no value, please feel free to ignore AppleScript and Automator.

Natural-sounding OS X voices are now available! If you use Tex-Edit's speech facilities to proofread documents (or if you want to find out what Eliza really thinks about you), check out the high quality voices produced by Cepstral. The Version 5.2 voices, including the new Callie voice, are extremely cool!

Eliza

Enjoy a rousing conversation with your Mac. Eliza will play the part of a psychologist, conducting an open-ended clinical interview. As the patient, you get Eliza's opinions and advice on a wide range of subjects. Eliza has a large vocabulary and the ability to formulate a virtually unlimited number of responses. Mac OS 10.4 or better is required. G4 or better is required. Eliza is Lion-compatible. (Shareware $15)

About Our Shareware

Please note that there are no annoying Shareware messages or "unlock codes" embedded in our programs. You may use these programs for as long as you wish (i.e., there is no time limit on the trial period). You are under no moral obligation to send in the Shareware fee and you are under no obligation to erase the program if you don't pay the fee. Simply think of the Shareware fee as a much-appreciated way to encourage future development and to say "thank you!"

You have our permission to distribute these files freely, as long as the documentation remains intact and you don't alter the programs themselves. (Please do not post the beta versions to any other sites, since that might confuse folks.)
