ObjectDock™ is a program that enables users to organize their shortcuts, programs and running tasks into an attractive and fun animated Dock. By allowing users to have more control over how they organize their desktop, users can take control of their desktop icons and shortcuts to have them be available when where and how they need them. With ObjectDock, you can make your computer more usable, and more fun at the same time!

Version 2.0 beta has arrived, and includes such features as a completely redone state of the art UI, icon reflections, background blur-behind, quick-detachable tabs, system tray icon filtering and more. With ObjectDock 2.0, setting up fun custom animated docks to help your efficiency and organization has never been so easy. Upgrades from previous versions can be had for a discounted price of $9.95, and the beta is available today if you want to get started playing right away.
